Halleck Lists 5 Major Topics For Congress

Farm Prices 1st Lawmaking Task Next January

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (AP)—House Republican Leader Halleck of Indiana today listed farm prices, taxes, foreign trade, social security and revision of the Taft-Hartley Act as major problems that must be tackled when Congress returns in January.

Just what shape farm legislation will take he would not predict. But he said his recent travels indicate there is "a noticeable slackening" of criticism of Secretary of Agriculture Benson and a growing feeling among farmers that "Benson has kept his feet on the ground and wants to work out a good program for the farmers."

Halleck, en route to Florida for a vacation with his family, conceded that the foreign trade problem will be "a tough one." The issue will come to a showdown when Congress decides what to do

Canada Perturbed By U. S. Request In Spy Inquiry

OTTAWA, Nov. 21—UP—External Affairs Minister Lester B. Pearson said Saturday U. S authorities already have all information given Canada by Igor Gouzenko, and indicated Canada would refuse a second U. S. request to question the former Russian cipher clerk.

Pearson said the U. S. State Department's second request that Gouzenko be made available for questioning by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee was being considered by the Canadian cabinet.

He said a reply probably would be made "sometime next week."

Pearson told the House of Commons earlier this week that the second request would be rejected unless it was accompanied by New information or new factors. This was taken to mean Canada would resist U. S. pressure implied by the second request.

U. S. authorities consider their request to question Gouzenko vital since the former Soviet embassy clerk's testimony led to the arrest of such kingpin saboteurs as Julius and Ethel Rosenberg and Britons Klaus Fuchs and Alan Nunn May.

The Gouzenko matter added to a strain placed on U. S. — Canadian diplomatic relations by the release in Washington of a once-secret letter crediting a high Canadian official with information about the late Harry Dexter White.

The letter was written by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to Brig. Gen. Harry Vaughan, military aide to former President Truman. It was made public last Tuesday by Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., before the same subcommittee that wants to question Gouzenko.

Canadians have been critical of U. S. congressional investigations and Pearson's concern over the new request to interrogate Gouzenko was shown by his cancellation of plans to go to New York after being informed of its receipt.

In a hastily-called press conference, Pearson declared that "everything" Gouzenko has told Canadian authorities since he fled from the Russian embassy here eight years ago "has been made available to U. S. authorities."

INSURE YOUR FUTURE, PROTECT OUR FORESTS

Social Security Tax Hike Splits GOP Lawmakers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21—UP—Two influential Republican House members Saturday turned down President Eisenhower's bid for support of his request that a scheduled social security tax increase be cancelled.

But other equally important GOP members confidently predicted Congress will vote early in January to freeze the old age insurance tax at the present 1½ per cent rate on employes and employers each for another year.

In the closely-divided Congress, the Democrats will hold the balance of power on the politically-sensitive issue. Some are in favor of the freeze; others are not.

Mr. Eisenhower received the rebuff from Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-N.Y.) of the tax-writing House Ways and Means committee and Rep. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb.), chairman of the Social Security subcommittee.

Both held a 90-minute conference at the White House with Mr. Eisenhower and Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey. The social security tax is scheduled to be increased by one-half per cent on employes and employers on Jan. 1.

"Personally, I don't want my party to be charged with depleting the reserve social security fund which is for the protection of the people," Reed told reporters.

Curtis said he believes the tax hike is necessary "to do justice" to the social security program. He added that he "is in no sense rebellious." He said that of last spring, when he last made a sounding, the committee was fairly evenly divided on the matter.

But many Republicans are fearful of the political effects if the tax goes up. Such an increase would more than offset for many taxpayers in the low income brackets the 10 per cent cut in personal income taxes also scheduled to become effective Jan. 1.

Mr. Eisenhower first asked Congress last May to postpone the social security tax hike. No action was taken. Now leading GOP members, such as House lealer Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, and Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.), want early approval of the request. Simpson is a member of the House Ways & Means committee and chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee.

Halleck said he hoped the House would approve the social security tax freeze "quickly." He expects the proposal to be about the first business to come before the House when it returns in January.

Simpson cited some examples of taxpayers who will lose more through a social security tax increase than they would gain through a 10 per cent personal income tax cut.

"A married man with two children with an annual income of $2,500 pays no income taxes, yet his social security taxes will increase by $12.50," Simpson said. "Similarly, such a taxpayer with annual income of $3,300 will find his income taxes reduced by $14.25 but his social security taxes will be increased by $16.50, a net increase in taxes of 72.25."

Actual studies of the Social Security Administration show that if the tax is kept permanently at the three percent level the present $19 billion fund will be depleted around 1965.

District Championship Highlighted In Rayville By 'Barefooted Boy'

Rayville's Hornets won the championship game against Oakdale Friday night, 33-0, but an 18-year-old Oakdale player captured the spectator's eye and the game's color was attributed to his "bare toe playing magic on the pigskin."

In the district clash Johnny Willis, senior member of Oakdale's team, kicked the ball on an average of 65 to 70 yards for approximately 15 times with his bare foot.

With near frost on the ground Willis walked onto the field and punted the football for his team with a determined force which sent it through the air so clear and straight that Rayville's coach, "Red" Campbell, said it appeared to have been shot from a gun.

Nicknaming the six - foot one player as a "barefooted bass who could kick the devil out of a football" Coach Campbell further exclaimed "had he kicked the ball with both feet we would never have found it."

Willis' only action for the team was kicking the ball. While sitting on the bench he wore house shoes which were easily discarded when he was called into the game.

A. W. Durham, principal of Oakdale High School, said that Willis "couldn't kick the ball if he wore shoes." He has been the leading kicker for Oakdale for the past two years.

With shoes on he has no control over the ball, but when the shoes are discarded Willis can place the ball in a hat, Durham said.

Campbell's Hornets had to play in deep safety to catch Willis' kick.

With the victory tight in Rayville's lap and the team looking toward its next championship clash, the barefooted boy will be no obstacle except to remind the Hornet's if things get too bad they can try taking off their shoes.

The shoeless kick was a wonder to behold and no reports were received here of injured toes from a 65 to 70-yard kick.

Many East Germans Are Sent To Prison

BERLIN, Nov. 21 (AP)—Border crossers reported in West Berlin tonight that the Russians have deported scores of East Germans, convicted of leading roles in the June 17 riots, to prisons in the Soviet Union.

Refugees brought to West Berlin additional signs of continued unrest in the Soviet zone, including a mutiny of prisoners in Bautzen and a widespread hunt for Russian army deserters.

President To Receive ADL's Legacy Award

In ceremonies in Washington, D. C. Monday evening, President Dwight Eisenhower will receive the American Democratic Legacy Award from the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith.

The presentation will be made during an hour-long program (7 P. M. to 8 P.M. EST) at the Mayflower Hotel, in which such personages as Bernard Baruch, J. Edgar Hoover, Herbert Brownell, Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., and Henry Ford II will take part.

Climaxing the program, which will be televised direct or by Kinescope by all major networks, will be the president's speech of acceptance. The program will be produced under the direction of the team of Rodgers and Hammerstein.

DEATH PROMPTS PLEA—Thirty-three persons have drowned in the unfenced Contra Costa Irrigation canal near Martinez, Calif., in the past few years. The last to die was 3½-year-old Joe Anderson last Monday. Yesterday the boy's grief-stricken father, Warren, had sent an appeal to President Eisenhower to have the canal properly fenced. The community in which Anderson lives has wished to build a fence, but was prohibited by law from building a fence on government property. (AP Wirephoto)

White Case To Aid Fight For Security Laws

Brownell Seeks Strengthening Of Statutes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (AP)—Friends of Attorney General Brownell said today he feels the Harry Dexter White affair provided a major assist in his effort to have changes made in the laws relating to wire-taps and immunity for reluctant witnesses.

Brownell called White, an assistant secretary of the Treasury in the Truman administration, a Russian spy, and bitterly criticized his retention in government.

But he also indicated before a Senate Internal Security subcommittee last week that the previous administration could not have proceeded with an espionage prosecution against White because some of the basic evidence against him and others alleged to have been associated with him was obtained by FBI tapping of their telephone connections.

He pointed out that evidence so obtained is not admissible in the federal courts.

It was only after White's death in 1948 that documentary evidence, in White's own handwriting, came to light among the famous Whittaker Chambers "pumpkin papers."

The attorney general was reported to feel that his testimony, at a time when national attention was focused on the White case, dramatized more than any academic legal argument ever could, the contention made by numerous attorneys general that the government frequently finds its hands tied in dealing with alleged spies.

As his predecessors did before him, Brownell has asked Congress to legalize the use of wire-tapped evidence in espionage prosecutions and other internal security cases. He believes he may get action in the next session.

The present administration in the Justice Department believes that the 1949-50 convictions of Judith Coplon, former department employe, as a spy for Russia, are a dead letter unless the wire-tapping law is changed. The higher courts held that guilt was established, but questioned the use of wire-taps in the case and granted a new trial.

This has never been held, presumably because the government would have to rely on the same evidence it had in the first place. Miss Coplon is now a Brooklyn housewife, married to an attorney associated with her defense.

Justice officials say it would be possible to try her again if wire-tapped evidence were legalized.

As a companion piece to legalized wire-taps, Brownell has asked Congress to give him the power to grant immunity from federal prosecution to witnesses who refuse to testify on grounds of pos-

Italy Assents To Plans For 5-Power Talks On Trieste

ROME, Nov. 21 (AP)—Italy gave a conditioned assent today to Western plans for a five-power conference aimed at settling the future of Trieste once and for all.

The next move apparently is up to Yugoslavia, which is expected to approve such a conference with qualifications of her own.

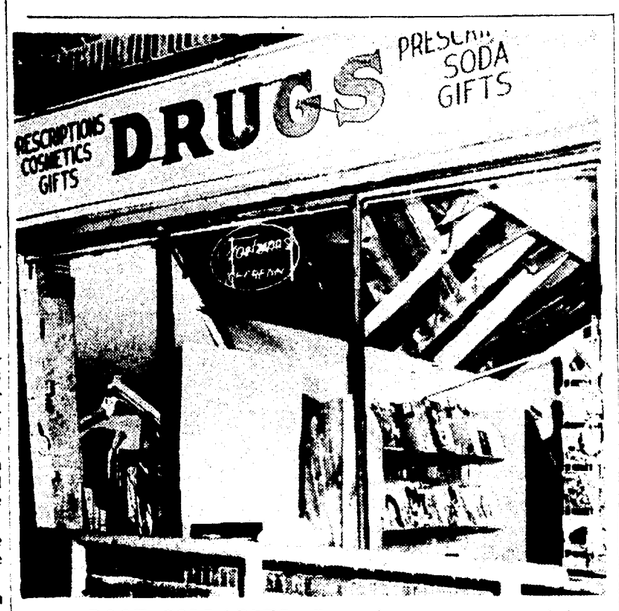

Diplomatic informants, though pleased by today's progress, cautioned that desires of Italy and Yugoslavia must be reconciled before representatives of those nations, the United States, Britain and France can sit down together to discuss the issues of the Free Territory.

The turbulent port of Trieste, center of the dispute, was the scene of demonstrations by job-

Red Infiltration Big Issue In '54, GOP Leaders Say

Hunt For Spies To Be Pressed, Senator Warns

House Spokesman Says Issue Will Go Before Voters

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21—UP—House Floor Leader Charles Halleck (R-Ind.), served notice Saturday that Communist infiltration in past administrations will be a big campaign issue in 1954, despite President Eisenhower's hopes to the contrary.

Chairman Alexander Wiley of the powerful Senate Foreign Relations committee, took a similar stand in a statement asking United States Allies to be "understanding" of congressional spy hunts. But in any event, Wiley said the investigations will continue "full speed ahead."

Wiley described as unjust foreign and domestic critics who accused the government of "witch hunting or hysteria."

Wiley's statement was a temperate document with advice to both sides. He said congressional investigators should remember how their activities look overseas and the Allies should remember that Americans are "shocked by disclosures of Communist penetration in high offices of our land and laxity in failing to clean out the Soviet agents."

As the national uproar over the Harry Dexter White "spy" case simmered down, congressional Republicans showed no inclination to take as counsel Mr. Eisenhower's expression of hope that communism in government will be history before the 1954 political campaign is rolling.

"I am not sure what the President meant in his comment about the White case not being an issue in 1954, but it is going to be important in 1954.

"It is our duty to give the people a choice—to ask them 'Do you want to give up this sound, forward-looking program and go back to what we had, a situation where the government had been infiltrated by Communists and Communist spies, a situation of which the Harry Dexter White case is but a manifestation?'"

"What we will have to do is

Quick Action Averts Tragedy Here

Occupants Make Dash To Safety As Roof Of Drug Store Collapses

Several persons escaped injury and possible death when the roof of Aron's Pharmacy, located at the corner of Third and Pine streets, collapsed shortly before 7 p.m. yesterday.

David Aron, proprietor of the store, said four or five people were in the building, but escaped seconds before the roof crashed to the ground.

Aron said employes had heard strange "popping" sounds for several days, but believed them to be caused by expansion of the rafters due to heat within the building. Yesterday evening, however, the "popping" sound became extraordinarily loud.

Realizing the danger, Aron and his employes left the building seconds before the walls bulged outward, and the roof crashed to the floor with an earthquake-like roar. The accompanying cloud of plaster dust and shower of rainwater, all but obscured the interior of the store from outside view.

The proprietor immediately alerted firemen to the possible danger of ensuing fire. Truck 103 was dispatched to the scene, where assistant chief, P. A. Snider shut off all utilities within the building. Electricians later cut all power lines leading to the building.

Firemen roped off the area to protect passers-by from possible falling bricks.

Aron said the building is owned by a Mrs. Krell, of Houston, Tex. The pharmacy had occupied the building since last March.

Tight Security Curtain Drawn Around Killers

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 21 (AP)—Bright sunshine streamed into the death row cells of Carl Austin Hall and Bonnie Brown Heady today as the Greenlease kidnap-killers awaited their Dec. 18 execution.

The sunlight and the sight of their silent guards were their only contacts with the outside world. All other access was cut off by a tight security clamp imposed by U.S. Marshal William B. Tatman.

He made it clear they're already dead as far as the outside world is concerned. The last news pictures of them were made last night as they passed behind the grim gray limestone walls of the Missouri penitentiary to pay the final penalty for kidnaping little Bobby Greenlease last Sept. 28 and killing him in a cold-blooded quest for $600,000 ransom.

From now on, Tatman said, the condemned pair will see no one but their guards, close relatives or spiritual advisers.

Superintendent of the State Women's Prison, Mrs. Bertha Nan Carroll, quoted Mrs. Heady as being resigned to her fate.

"She said, 'I got what I wanted—I couldn't have stood a life sentence,'" Mrs. Carroll said.

Mrs. Carroll, checked the pasty faced Mrs. Heady into the penitentiary last night. She said she had seen a lot of women come to prison "because they got tied up with some no-good man. And that was this woman's trouble."

Wind Driven Rain Drenches Area

More than a half inch of wind driven rain drenched the Twin Cities yesterday. Although no damage was reported to have been caused by the water, the accompanying wind smashed a plate glass window in the 100 block of South Grand Street.

CAA officials at Selman Field recorded 75 mile-an-hour winds at the height of the storm. Unconfirmed reports stated that an out building on highway 80 east of Monroe had been demolished by the wind and another damaged. State police received a report of a barn near Swartz also being demolished.

A Monroe man said a boat was blown from the top of his car as he returned from duck hunting at Wham Brake. Other hunters stated that large limbs were being torn from trees in the area.

The government weather bureau has predicted partly cloudy and cooler weather in Louisiana and Arkansas today and Monday. Showers are forecast for the eastern portion of Arkansas this morning.

The maximum temperature in Monroe yesterday was 64 degrees, the minimum was 36 degrees.

Auto Crashes In Lafourche Swamp As Driver Sleeps

William N. Oden of Henson, Fla., was slightly injured when he fell asleep at the wheel of his 1948 GMC panel truck and his vehicle crashed into LaFourche swamp, about eight miles east of Monroe, on U. S. Highway 80, it was reported Saturday morning.

Oden was taken to St. Francis hospital by a Mulhearn ambulance, where he was treated for lacerations of the skull and knee.

Oden stated that he was on his way to Shreveport at the time the accident occurred.

British Scientists Assert Deception Was Deliberate

Celebrated Piltdown Prehistoric Man A Hoax

LONDON, Nov. 21 (AP)—Three British scientists cracked down on the Piltdown Man today as an unscrupulous hoax.

And for 40 years, they declared, the Piltdown Man has been making monkeys out of anthropologists with the jawbone of an ape.

Someone had put over the most outrageous fake in paleontological annals, they said.

Charles Dawson, attorney and amateur antiquary, dug the Piltdown relics out of a Sussex gravel pit between 1911 and 1913. After a few initial doubts, many anthropologists hailed them as a historic pointer to man's early history—the practically complete skull of man who stalked the earth 100,000 to 600,000 years ago.

The Encyclopedia Britannica, with reserve as to some discrepancies, has called the relics the second most important known to science, beaten only by Javanese "missing link" turned up in 1891.

"The discovery at Piltdown," it said, "shows that a race of mankind had come by a brain that had reached human estate and that this race still retained certain definite simian characteristics in its jaws, teeth and face."

"Simian" was the right word according to the information today from Dr. K. P. Oakley of the British Museum and Oxford University professors J. E. Weiner and W. E. le Gros Clark. They reported up-to-the-minute chemical tests prove beyond doubt that the vital jawbone of Dawson's discovery was a deliberate plant faked up from the skull of an ape.

That ape, they wrote in the "Bulletin of The British Museum,"

President To Receive ADL's Legacy Award

In ceremonies in Washington, D. C. Monday evening, President Dwight Eisenhower will receive the American Democratic Legacy Award from the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith.

The presentation will be made during an hour-long program (7 P. M. to 8 P.M. EST) at the Mayflower Hotel, in which such personages as Bernard Baruch, J. Edgar Hoover, Herbert Brownell, Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., and Henry Ford II will take part.

Climaxing the program, which will be televised direct or by Kinescope by all major networks, will be the president's speech of acceptance. The program will be produced under the direction of the team of Rodgers and Hammerstein.

DEATH PROMPTS PLEA—Thirty-three persons have drowned in the unfenced Contra Costa Irrigation canal near Martinez, Calif., in the past few years. The last to die was 3½-year-old Joe Anderson last Monday. Yesterday the boy's grief-stricken father, Warren, had sent an appeal to President Eisenhower to have the canal properly fenced. The community in which Anderson lives has wished to build a fence, but was prohibited by law from building a fence on government property. (AP Wirephoto)

White Case To Aid Fight For Security Laws

Brownell Seeks Strengthening Of Statutes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (AP)—Friends of Attorney General Brownell said today he feels the Harry Dexter White affair provided a major assist in his effort to have changes made in the laws relating to wire-taps and immunity for reluctant witnesses.

Brownell called White, an assistant secretary of the Treasury in the Truman administration, a Russian spy, and bitterly criticized his retention in government.

But he also indicated before a Senate Internal Security subcommittee last week that the previous administration could not have proceeded with an espionage prosecution against White because some of the basic evidence against him and others alleged to have been associated with him was obtained by FBI tapping of their telephone connections.

He pointed out that evidence so obtained is not admissible in the federal courts.

It was only after White's death in 1948 that documentary evidence, in White's own handwriting, came to light among the famous Whittaker Chambers "pumpkin papers."

The attorney general was reported to feel that his testimony, at a time when national attention was focused on the White case, dramatized more than any academic legal argument ever could, the contention made by numerous attorneys general that the government frequently finds its hands tied in dealing with alleged spies.

As his predecessors did before him, Brownell has asked Congress to legalize the use of wire-tapped evidence in espionage prosecutions and other internal security cases. He believes he may get action in the next session.

The present administration in the Justice Department believes that the 1949-50 convictions of Judith Coplon, former department employe, as a spy for Russia, are a dead letter unless the wire-tapping law is changed. The higher courts held that guilt was established, but questioned the use of wire-taps in the case and granted a new trial.

This has never been held, presumably because the government would have to rely on the same evidence it had in the first place. Miss Coplon is now a Brooklyn housewife, married to an attorney associated with her defense.

Justice officials say it would be possible to try her again if wire-tapped evidence were legalized.

As a companion piece to legalized wire-taps, Brownell has asked Congress to give him the power to grant immunity from federal prosecution to witnesses who refuse to testify on grounds of pos-

Italy Assents To Plans For 5-Power Talks On Trieste

ROME, Nov. 21 (AP)—Italy gave a conditioned assent today to Western plans for a five-power conference aimed at settling the future of Trieste once and for all.

The next move apparently is up to Yugoslavia, which is expected to approve such a conference with qualifications of her own.

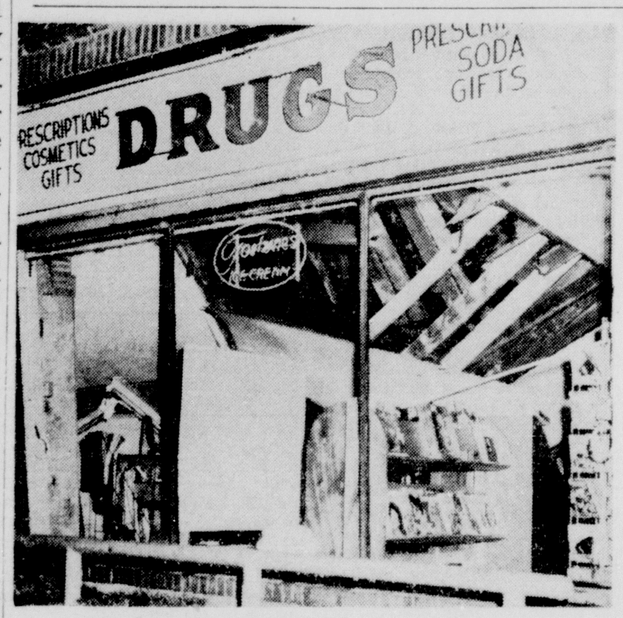

Diplomatic informants, though pleased by today's progress, cautioned that desires of Italy and Yugoslavia must be reconciled before representatives of those nations, the United States, Britain anl France can sit down together to discuss the issues of the Free Territory.

The turbulent port of Trieste, center of the dispute, was the scene of demonstrations by job-

Quick Action Averts Tragedy Here

Occupants Make Dash To Safety As Roof Of Drug Store Collapses

Several persons escaped injury and possible death when the roof of Aron's Pharmacy, located at the corner of Third and Pine streets, collapsed shortly before 7 p.m. yesterday.

David Aron, proprietor of the store, said four or five people were in the building, but escaped seconds before the roof crashed to the ground.

Aron said employes had heard strange "popping" sounds for several days, but believed them to be caused by expansion of the rafters due to heat within the building. Yesterday evening, however, the "popping" sound became extraordinarily loud.

Realizing the danger, Aron and his employes left the building seconds before the walls bulged outward, and the roof crashed to the floor with an earthquake-like roar. The accompanying cloud of plaster dust and shower of rainwater, all but obscured the interior of the store from outside view.

The proprietor immediately alerted firemen to the possible danger of ensuing fire. Truck 103 was dispatched to the scene, where assistant chief, P. A. Snider shut off all utilities within the building. Electricians later cut all power lines leading to the building.

Firemen roped off the area to protect passers-by from possible falling bricks.

Tight Security Curtain Drawn Around Killers

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 21 (AP)—Bright sunshine streamed into the death row cells of Carl Austin Hall and Bonnie Brown Heady today as the Greenlease kidnap-killers awaited their Dec. 18 execution.

The sunlight and the sight of their silent guards were their only contacts with the outside world. All other access was cut off by a tight security clamp imposed by U.S. Marshal William B. Tatman.

He made it clear they're already dead as far as the outside world is concerned. The last news pictures of them were made last night as they passed behind the grim gray limestone walls of the Missouri penitentiary to pay the final penalty for kidnaping little Bobby Greenlease last Sept. 28 and killing him in a cold-blooded quest for $600,000 ransom.

From now on, Tatman said, the condemned pair will see no one but their guards, close relatives or spiritual advisers.

Superintendent of the State Women's Prison, Mrs. Bertha Nan Carroll, quoted Mrs. Heady as being resigned to her fate.

"She said, 'I got what I wanted —I couldn't have stood a life sentence,'" Mrs. Carroll said.

Mrs. Carroll, checked the pasty faced Mrs. Heady into the penitentiary last night. She said she had seen a lot of women come to prison "because they got tied up with some no-good man. And that was this woman's trouble."

Wind Driven Rain Drenches Area

More than a half inch of wind driven rain drenched the Twin Cities yesterday. Although no damage was reported to have been caused by the water, the accompanying wind smashed a plate glass window in the 100 block of South Grand Street.

CAA officials at Selman Field recorded 75 mile-an-hour winds at the height of the storm. Unconfirmed reports stated that an out building on highway 80 east of Monroe had been demolished by the wind and another damaged. State police received a report of a barn near Swartz also being demolished.

A Monroe man said a boat was brown from the top of his car as he returned from duck hunting at Wham Brake. Other hunters stated that large limbs were being torn from trees in the area.

The government weather bureau has predicted partly cloudy and cooler weather in Louisiana and Arkansas today and Monday. Showers are forecast for the eastern portion of Arkansas this morning.

The maximum temperature in Monroe yesterday was 64 degrees, the minimum was 36 degrees.

Hunt For Spies To Be Pressed, Senator Warns

House Spokesman Says Issue Will Go Before Voters

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21—UP—House Floor Leader Charles Halleck (R-Ind.), served notice Saturday that Communist infiltration in past administrations will be a big campaign issue in 1954, despite President Eisenhower's hopes to the contrary.

Chairman Alexander Wiley of the powerful Senate Foreign Relations committee, took a similar stand in a statement asking United States Allies to be "understanding" of congressional spy hunts. But in any event, Wiley said the investigations will continue "full speed ahead."

Wiley described as unjust foreign and domestic critics who accused the government of "witch hunting or hysteria."

Wiley's statement was a temperate document with advice to both sides. He said congressional investigators should remember how their activities look overseas and the Allies should remember that Americans are "shocked by disclosures of Communist penetration in high offices of our land and laxity in failing to clean out the Soviet agents."

As the national uproar over the Harry Dexter White "spy" case simmered down, congressional Republicans showed no inclination to take as counsel Mr. Eisenhwer's expression of hope that communism in government will be history before the 1954 political campaign is rolling.

"I am not sure what the President meant in his comment about the White case not being an issue in 1954, but it is going to be important in 1954.

"It is our duty to give the people a choice—to ask them, 'Do you want to give up this sound, forward-looking program and go back to what we had, a situation where the government had been infiltrated by Communists and Communist spies, a situation of which the Harry Dexter White case is but a manifestation?"

"What we will have to do is

British Scientists Assert Deception Was Deliberate

Celebrated Piltdown Prehistoric Man A Hoax

LONDON, Nov. 21 (AP)—Three British scientists cracked down on the Piltdown Man today as an unscrupulous hoax.

And for 40 years, they declared, the Piltdown Man has been making monkeys out of anthropologists with the jawbone of an ape.

Someone had put over the most outrageous fake in paleontological annals, they said.

Charles Dawson, attorney and amateur antiquary, dug the Piltdown relics out of a Sussex gravel pit between 1911 and 1913. After a few initial doubts, many anthropologists hailed them as a historic pointer to man's early history—the practically complete skull of man who stalked the earth 100,000 to 600,000 years ago.

The Encyclopedia Britannica, with reserve as to some discrepancies, has called the relics the second most important known to science, beaten only by Javanese "missing link" turned up in 1891.

"The discovery at Piltdown," it said, "shows that a race of mankind had come by a brain that had reached human estate and that this race still retained certain definite simian characteristics in its jaws, teeth and face."

"Simian" was the right word according to the information today from Dr. K. P. Oakley of the British Museum and Oxford University professors J. E. Weiner and W. E. le Gros Clark. They reported up-to-the-minute chemical tests prove beyond doubt that the vital jawbone of Dawson's discovery was a deliberate plant faked up from the skull of an ape.

That ape, they wrote in the "Bulletin of The British Museum,"

Douglas Skyrocket Flies At 1,327 Miles An Hour, Setting New Speed Mark

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Douglas Skyrocket shot to a sensational new speed mark yesterday: 1,327 miles an hour, twice the speed of sound.

Test pilot Scott Crossfield told reporters today he corkscrewed the research ship at top speed, testing her strength and power to maneuver.

"I rolled her around 360 degrees twice—and that was about all the maneuvers we had time for," he said.

The flight, high above the Southern California desert, lasted 11 minutes from the time the tiny Skyrocket dropped from a B29 mother plane, at 12:01 p.m., until it glided down onto the dry lake that is Edwards Air Force Base.

The swept - wing plane was launched at about 32,000 feet, and climbed to an altitude "in excess of 60,000."

Crossfield said it burned up its three tons of fuel—liquid oxygen and alcohol—in three minutes, at the rate of about 200 gallons a minute.

The remainder of the flight, back to Edwards, was an eight-minute glide.

"It showed Mach 2 (twice the speed of sound) or better on the machometer for 5 or 10 seconds," Crossfield said.

The National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics (NACA), which is using the plane for high-altitude, high-speed research, said the actual top speed was Mach 2.01, or slightly more than twice the speed of sound.

The speed of sound varies from 760 miles an hour at "standard temperature"—68 degrees above zero Fahrenheit—to 60 miles an hour at 67 degrees below zero.

Crossfield said he was so nervous before and during the flight that he felt as though had "the flu and a stomach ache" together.

But as to whether he expected to do so well in the light of apparently unfavorable flying weather yesterday, "I'm human enough so that I thought it would be awful damn nice to set a record".

Crossfield said the Skyrocket is never flown merely straight and fast, just to see a new record. He said all the speed marks have been achieved in research flights in which the plane is maneuvered to test all possible reactions.

He added that yesterday's mark was achieved in almost level flight. At first he climbed the Skyrocket at an angle of 30 degrees, then at 45 degrees, and then "nosed over to reach level altitude or a slight dive" in making the record run.

Because the angle of flight varied, he said, it is impossible to estimate the distance covered, other than that it was "hundreds of miles."

An NACA spokesman calculated that if the Skyrocket had had fuel for a transcontinental flight and had maintained the speed of 1,327 m.p.h., it could have left New York at 8 a.m. and reached Los Angeles at 7 a.m. Pacific Standard Time—actually, a two hour flight.

about the reciprocal trade program due to expire next June.

There is no doubt, Halleck said, that a 10 per cent cut in income taxes scheduled for Jan. 1 will go into effect and that the excess profits tax will die on schedule the same date.

Scheduled cuts in corporate and excise taxes will have to be reviewed, he said, and present rates probably will have to be retained in some form beyond April 1.

Halleck opposed suggestions that Congress enact a general manufacturers' excise tax but said he favors an excise tax on some articles.

In keeping with a party promise, he said, Congress will revise the Taft-Hartley labor-management relations law "but the fundamental purposes of the act will not be destroyed."

One of the earliest matters that must be settled by Congress, he said, is what to do about an increase in social security tax rates scheduled for Jan. 1. Existing law provides that the tax paid by employers and employes into the social security fund be raised to 2 per cent from 1½ starting with the new year. President Eisenhower has asked that the present rate be retained next year, and Halleck predicted that Congress would go along with the request.

An opposite stand was taken by another influential republican, however. Rep. Daniel A. Reed, chairman of the tax writing Ways & Means Committee, said he still favors allowing the increase to go into effect as scheduled.

Reed, Rep. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb) and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey reviewed the whole social security program with Eisenhower at a one-hour conference in the White House today.

2 Persons Hurt In Auto Accident North Of Delhi

DELHI, Nov. 21 (Special — Two persons were injured in an automobile accident two miles north of here on highway 16 Saturday evening.

Daisy Johnson, Negro, eight-year-old step-daughter of Rev. E. D. Smith Route 2 Delhi, was believed to have received a brain concussion, when the car in which she was riding with her step-father collided with a car driven by Thomas McTucker, Oak Grove. McTucker's wife, Bertha, 29, who with her month old baby was riding with her husband when the accident occurred, suffered a scalp laceration and a hip injury.

Both Mrs. McTucker and Daisy Smith were taken to a Delhi clinic. The extent of the Negro girl's injury had not been ascertained late tonight.

According to state police both vehicles were traveling north. When Smith attempted to make a left turn his car was rammed from the rear by McTucker. No charges were filed against either driver. Police added, however, that charges may be placed against both.

Smith, McTucker, and the McTucker infant were uninjured.

was a modern ape that died an untimely death at 10. The ape's jawbone and its canine tooth found with it, they said, had been artificially stained to match the appearance of skull fragments found earlier. In addition, they said, the tooth had been artificially pared down to disguise its original shape.

They urged the experts taken in not to be too hurt.

"The faking is so extraordinarily skillful and the perpetration of the hoax appears to have been so unscrupulous and inexplicable as to find no parallel in the history of paleontological discovery," they said.

The Piltdown Man has been recorded with varying degrees of acceptance in encyclopedias, books on anthropology, and other reference works for many years.

The investigators said the cranium itself still stands as a genuine fossil. But they put its age at 50,000 years, half the previously widely held minimum.

The exposure started a bitter controversy raging over Dawson, who died in 1916. A monument to him stands near the gravel pit in which he found fame.

The London Times declared that if a scientist turned out to be the hoaxer "it would be but one more instance of desire for fame, since money was certainly not here the object, leading a scholar into dishonesty."

less workers today for the third straight day. Shouting "Hunger, Hunger," they stormed the city hall to demand more relief work.

Police said Communist or pro-Yugoslav troublemakers instigated the outbreak.

Today's big development was in Rome. Premier Giuseppe Pella separately advised ambassadors of the United States, Britain and France that Italy takes "a positive and constructive attitude" toward their Nov. 13 suggestion for a five-power conference.

Diplomats said more informal soundings must take place before things firm up. The major points on which compromise is necessary:

1. Italy's demand for "parity" before sitting down at a conference with Yugoslavia—that is, Yugoslav withdrawal from Zone B of the disputed territory or Italian occupation of Zone A, which Britain and the United States decided Oct. 8 to turn over to Italy.

2. Yugoslavia's insistence that the conference be undertaken before any changes.

Rudely interrupting her efforts as she was preparing to dress for her wedding. Mrs. Doris L. Moreau, Jonesboro road, West Monroe, last Wednesday was suddenly involved in a life and death struggle that concerned a huge chicken hawk and a chicken in the family's henhouse.

The desperate squawk of the rapidly weakening, feathered bird attracted the bride-to-be as she was donning her marital finery and hurling her ornate gown onto the bed, she rushed to the rescue of the chicken. Grabbing a mop from outside, she attacked the marauder with well directed blow after blow. The desperate hawk sought to save the day for himself but a few more blows caused him to be hurled to the ground and there after a few final twitches and kicks he straightened out and gave up the fight for life.

He was found to measure just four feet.

The bride and her groom, the latter Shirley Fowler, were married a few hours after the battle and are now on their honeymoon in Hot Springs.

A man down the street, hearing of the battle, declared that the bride may not be a rolling pin-battler like Maggie Jiggs, but she does have some skill with the family mop.

Johnny Johnson, Monroe student, found a fat billfold in a Louisville avenue restaurant, shortly after a party had left the place. He went into the container and found the name of the owner, who was a woman living some distance from Monroe.

There were many bills in the purse and when counted they totalled $300.

Johnny, like the honest chap he is, mailed them all to the owner and he is seeking no reward for he was simply doing his duty.

It is refreshing to find a fellow whose honesty is so firmly implanted in his makeup and it indicates that the world isn't half bad anyway.

The Shreveport chapter of the Progressive Men's Club is today formally dedicating, with Mayor Fant speaker, its $150,000 clubhouse in that city. One thousand guests and civic leaders are expected to attend and some will represent the Monroe group.

Incidentally the Monroe chapter of this club has already purchased a site for the clubhouse for Monroe east on highway 80. It is expected that shortly there will be announcement of plans for a building to be erected there.

Don't forget that the Altrusa Club is going all out with a benefit turkey dinner at Bond's Bakery, 331 Harrison street, from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. today. Mrs. Bond assures that all will receive first class service and a dinner long to be remembered. She is hopeful to net, for the cerebral palsy fund, a sizeable sum.

It is a worthy object and all who patronize the dinner will have assurance that the money they expend will do great good to the cause that deserves all possible aid.

sible self-incrimination. His belief is that the grants could be used to get needed testimony from small fry in order to catch "big ones," the small fry going free.

In his testimony before the Senate committee, Brownell listed eight alleged close associates of White who he said had at one time or another refused testimony on self-incrimination grounds.

His point was that in a large-scale operation, such as he charges existed in the White case, a grant of immunity to one or more persons might break the matter wide open.

The grants, he said recently, would "only be resorted to where full disclosure by witnesses is deemed of greater importance than the possibility of punishing them for past offenses."

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Douglas Skyrocket shot to a sensational new speed mark yesterday: 1,327 miles an hour, twice the speed of sound.

Test pilot Scott Crossfield told reporters today he corkscrewed the research ship at top speed, testing her strength and power to maneuver.

"I rolled her around 360 degrees twice—and that was about all the maneuvers we had time for," he said.

The flight, high above the Southern California desert, lasted 11 minutes from the time the tiny Skyrocket dropped from a B29 mother plane, at 12:01 p.m., until it glided down onto the dry lake that is Edwards Air Force Base.

The swept - wing plane was launched at about 32,000 feet, and climbed to an altitude "in excess of 60,000."

Crossfield said it burned up its three tons of fuel—liquid oxygen and alcohol—in three minutes, at the rate of about 200 gallons a minute.

The remainder of the flight, back to Edwards, was an eight-minute glide.

"It showed Mach 2 (twice the speed of sound) or better on the machometer for 5 or 10 seconds," Crossfield said.

The National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics (NACA), which is using the plane for high-altitude, high-speed research, said the actual top speed was Mach 2.01, or slightly more than twice the speed of sound.

The speed of sound varies from 760 miles an hour at "standard temperature"—68 degrees above zero Fahrenheit—to 60 miles an hour at 67 degrees below zero.

Crossfield said he was so nervous before and during the flight that he felt as though had "the flu and a stomach ache" together.

But as to whether he expected to do so well in the light of apparently unfavorable flying weather yesterday, "I'm human enough so that I thought it would be awful damn nice to set a record".

Crossfield said the Skyrocket is never flown merely straight and fast, just to see a new record. He said all the speed marks have been achieved in research flights in which the plane is maneuvered to test all possible reactions.

He added that yesterday's mark was achieved in almost level flight. At first he climbed the Skyrocket at an angle of 30 degrees, then at 45 degrees, and then "nosed over to reach level altitude or a slight dive" in making the record run.

Because the angle of flight varied, he said, it is impossible to estimate the distance covered, other than that it was "hundreds of miles."

An NACA spokesman calculated that if the Skyrocket had had fuel for a transcontinental flight and had maintained the speed of 1,327 m.p.h., it could have left New York at 8 a.m. and reached Los Angeles at 7 a.m. Pacific Standard Time—actually, a two hour flight.

about the reciprocal trade program due to expire next June.

There is no doubt, Halleck said, that a 10 per cent cut in income taxes scheduled for Jan. 1 will go into effect and that the excess profits tax will die on schedule the same date.

Scheduled cuts in corporate and excise taxes will have to be reviewed, he said, and present rates probably will have to be retained in some form beyond April 1.

Halleck opposed suggestions that Congress enact a general manufacturers' excise tax but said he favors an excise tax on some articles.

In keeping with a party promise, he said, Congress will revise the Taft-Hartley labor-management relations law "but the fundamental purposes of the act will not be destroyed."

One of the earliest matters that must be settled by Congress, he said, is what to do about an increase in social security tax rates scheduled for Jan. 1. Existing law provides that the tax paid by employers and employes into the social security fund be raised to 2 per cent from 1½ starting with the new year. President Eisenhower has asked that the present rate be retained next year, and Halleck predicted that Congress would go along with the request.

An opposite stand was taken by another influential republican, however. Rep. Daniel A. Reed, chairman of the tax writing Ways & Means Committee, said he still favors allowing the increase to go into effect as scheduled.

Reed, Rep. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb) and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey reviewed the whole social security program with Eisenhower at a one-hour conference in the White House today.

2 Persons Hurt In Auto Accident North Of Delhi

DELHI, Nov. 21 (Special — Two persons were injured in an automobile accident two miles north of here on highway 16 Saturday evening.

Daisy Johnson, Negro, eight-year-old step-daughter of Rev. E. D. Smith Route 2 Delhi, was believed to have received a brain concussion, when the car in which she was riding with her step-father collided with a car driven by Thomas McTucker, Oak Grove. McTucker's wife, Bertha, 29, who with her month old baby was riding with her husband when the accident occurred, suffered a scalp laceration and a hip injury.

Both Mrs. McTucker and Daisy Smith were taken to a Delhi clinic. The extent of the Negro girl's injury had not been ascertained late tonight.

According to state police both vehicles were traveling north. When Smith attempted to make a left turn his car was rammed from the rear by McTucker. No charges were filed against either driver. Police added, however, that charges may be placed against both.

Smith, McTucker, and the McTucker infant were uninjured.

was a modern ape that died an untimely death at 10. The ape's jawbone and its canine tooth found with it, they said, had been artificially stained to match the appearance of skull fragments found earlier. In addition, they said, the tooth had been artificially pared down to disguise its original shape.

They urged the experts taken in not to be too hurt.

"The faking is so extraordinarily skillful and the perpetration of the hoax appears to have been so unscrupulous and inexplicable as to find no parallel in the history of paleontological discovery," they said.

The Piltdown Man has been recorded with varying degrees of acceptance in encyclopedias, books on anthropology, and other reference works for many years.

The investigators said the cranium itself still stands as a genuine fossil. But they put its age at 50,000 years, half the previously widely held minimum.

The exposure started a bitter controversy raging over Dawson, who died in 1916. A monument to him stands near the gravel pit in which he found fame.

The London Times declared that if a scientist turned out to be the hoaxer "it would be but one more instance of desire for fame, since money was certainly not here the object, leading a scholar into dishonesty."

Police said Communist or pro-Yugoslav troublemakers instigated the outbreak.

Today's big development was in Rome. Premier Giuseppe Pella separately advised ambassadors of the United States, Britain and France that Italy takes "a positive and constructive attitude" toward their Nov. 13 suggestion for a five-power conference.

Diplomats said more informal soundings must take place before things firm up. The major points on which compromise is necessary:

1. Italy's demand for "parity" before sitting down at a conference with Yugoslavia—that is, Yugoslav withdrawal from Zone B of the disputed territory or Italian occupation of Zone A, which Britain and the United States decided Oct. 8 to turn over to Italy.

2. Yugoslavia's insistence that the conference be undertaken before any changes.

"It is impossible to ascertain how great is the good that this money can do in ridding of the ravages of the white plague . . . Much has already been accomplished but there is still more to be done. I surely do recommend the Seal Sale one hundred per cent."

Rudely interrupting her efforts as she was preparing to dress for her wedding. Mrs. Doris L. Moreau, Jonesboro road, West Monroe, last Wednesday was suddenly involved in a life and death struggle that concerned a huge chicken hawk and a chicken in the family's henhouse.

The desperate squawk of the rapidly weakening, feathered bird attracted the bride-to-be as she was donning her marital finery and hurling her ornate gown onto the bed, she rushed to the rescue of the chicken. Grabbing a mop from outside, she attacked the marauder with well directed blow after blow. The desperate hawk sought to save the day for himself but a few more blows caused him to be hurled to the ground and there after a few final twitches and kicks he straightened out and gave up the fight for life.

He was found to measure just four feet.

The bride and her groom, the latter Shirley Fowler, were married a few hours after the battle and are now on their honeymoon in Hot Springs.

A man down the street, hearing of the battle, declared that the bride may not be a rolling pin battler like Maggie Jiggs, but she does have some skill with the family mop.

Johnny Johnson, Monroe student, found a fat billfold in a Louisville avenue restaurant, shortly after a party had left the place. He went into the container and found the name of the owner, who was a woman living some distance from Monroe.

There were many bills in the purse and when counted they totalled $300.

Johnny, like the honest chap he is, mailed them all to the owner and he is seeking no reward for he was simply doing his duty.

It is refreshing to find a fellow whose honesty is so firmly implanted in his makeup and it indicates that the world isn't half bad anyway.

The Shreveport chapter of the Progressive Men's Club is today formally dedicating, with Mayor Fant speaker, its $150,000 clubhouse in that city. One thousand guests and civic leaders are expected to attend and some will represent the Monroe group.

Incidentally the Monroe chapter of this club has already purchased a site for the clubhouse for Monroe east on highway 80. It is expected that shortly there will be announcement of plans for a building to be erected there.

Don't forget that the Altrusa Club is going all out with a benefit turkey dinner at Bond's Bakery, 331 Harrison street, from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. today. Mrs. Bond assures that all will receive first class service and a dinner long to be remembered. She is hopeful to net, for the cerebral palsy fund, a sizeable sum.

It is a worthy object and all who patronize the dinner will have assurance that the money they expend will do great good to the cause that deserves all possible aid.

sible self-incrimination. His belief is that the grants could be used to get needed testimony from small fry in order to catch "big ones," the small fry going free.

In his testimony before the Senate committee, Brownell listed eight alleged close associates of White who he said had at one time or another refused testimony on self-incrimination grounds.

His point was that in a large-scale operation, such as he charges existed in the White case, a grant of immunity to one or more persons might break the matter wide open.

The grants, he said recently, would "only be resorted to where full disclosure by witnesses is deemed of greater importance than the possibility of punishing them for past offenses."

Harper of 1609 Jackson Street, Monroe, Louisiana, has entered the USAF Technical School for Aircraft Mechanics at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, the largest school of this type in the world. Upon graduation, he will be awarded the rating of Airplane and Engine Mechanic. Along with the majority of graduates in his class, he will enter a course for advanced training or will be assigned to one of the major Air Force commands for on-the-job experience with first-line operational aircraft after completion of his schooling here. Airman Harper is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School. He served in the Civil Air Patrol prior to his enlistment in the Air Force on April 8, 1953.

Talent Show To Be Given In Jonesboro

WINNSBORO, Nov. 21. (Special)—Louisiana Tech's student talent show is scheduled to present a program in the Jonesboro - Hodge High School, in Jonesboro at 7:30 p.m. on Monday.

Patsy Twilley of Mooringsport, representative of the student senate at Tech, who is in charge of arranging the performance, has announced the following tenative cast:

Roy Windsor of Mer Rouge, announcer; the Dixie Land band of the students; Pat Young of West Monroe, tap dancer; Glenda Canady of Olla, singer; Ann Boyd of Collinston, dancer; Kathryn Temple of Winnsboro, piano skit; and Gwen Thomas, Jonesboro, acrobatics.

Miss Twilley also said the program probably would include either a juggling act by Dr. John A. Moore, botany professor at Tech, or a clarinet specialty number by Joe Sheppard, band director at the college.

The Jonesboro - Hodge appearance of the Techsters is under the auspices of the Jonesboro-Hodge Sportsman's Club.

Short Story And Poems Read At Writers Session

Reading of a short story written by Richard Tyler and several poems by Lawrence Lipson, both Northeast State students of Monroe, highlighted the meeting of the local college Writers Club.

A major point of discussion was that of a forthcoming student literary contest sponsored by the College Writers Society of Louisiana. Prizes will be awarded at a dinner of the organization to be held March 19, 1954.

Any student engaged in a full-time study curriculum may submit a maximum of two manuscripts in each or any of the four categories—short stories, feature articles, poetry and one-act plays.

A first prize of $10 and a second of $5 will be given winners in each classification. A grand prize of a $100 government bond, given by the Shreveport Times, will be awarded to one of the first-prize winners whose manuscript is selected as the best of the four first-place entries.

Information regarding the contest may be secured from Dr. Willa Claire Cox of the English faculty and sponsor of the local society. Students are requested to submit manuscripts in compliance with regulations to Dr. Cox before February 1, 1954.

Traffic Safety Conference To Convene Dec. 7

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 21—UP—The traffic safety section of the Louisiana Safety Conference will convene here Dec. 7 for a two-day program including an address by Earl F. Campbell, field organization director of the National Safety Council.

Bernard J. McCloskey, chairman of the Governor's Highway Safety Committee, will be the conference chairman.

Col. Chester B. Owen, state public safety director, will preside at the first afternoon session, at which Campbell, McCloskey and Dr. W. A. Eggert, chief psychologist with a national insurance company, will speak.

State Police Supt. Francis C. Grevemberg will preside at the Tuesday morning session and panel discussions on traffic safety will conclude the conference Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 8.

85 Million Dollars Are Needed By Red Cross

WASHINGTON, D. C. Nov. 21, (Special)— To meet its extensive responsibilities for humanitarian service at home and abroad, the American Red Cross will seek $85,000,000 in its annual campaign next March, E. Roland Harriman, ARC chairman, announced here today.

"This will be a campaign for both members and funds," Harriman said, "and we hope to make every American realize that through his membership he participates in every Red Cross activity just as surely as if he had extended a helping hand himself.

"This year our goal, in addition to securing the funds needed, is to enroll 30,000,000 active Red Cross members who will exercise their privilege of helping direct Red Cross work and assist as volunteer workers. The theme of the campaign will be 'Answer the Call —Join and Serve.' "

National chairman of the campaign is William W. Overton, Jr., chairman of the Board of the Texas Bank and Trust Co., Dallas, and long - time member Red Cross volunteer governing body. He is being assisted by a group of prominent business and civic leaders, each serving as a regional vice-chairman. At community level thousands of volunteer leaders will head local chapter campaigns.

Explaining that the truce in Korea has neither lessend the need for Red Cross services abroad nor decreased burdens at home, Harriman pointed out that the fund goal had been set by the Red Cross Board of Governors after careful study of next year's requirements.

"Again during the coming year," Harriman stated, "a major portion of our bulget, $31,100,000 will be needed to finance Red Cross services to the armed forces and veterans. The nation's military force now is at a peacetime peak and the end of fighting in Korea has given us an important new assignment in that theater, undertaken on direct request of the military — providing supplemental recreation activities for our security troops. We also must budget for a similar program for isolated troops in Europe."

Another major item on the budget, he added, is $12,500,000 for the blood program, which must collect more than 3,000,000 pints for all purposes in 1954. Red Cross supplies nearly 40 per cent of all blood used for treatment of civilian patients in the U. S., Harriman pointed out. "The quick and sure availability of blood and blood products means life to thousands of men and women and children each year," he said.

For its disaster relief and preparedness program the Red Cross has budgeted $4,900,000. "We know that Red Cross help for disaster victims will be needed on an average of six times a week," Harriman stated, "and in the event of an unusually severe catastrophe such as the series of tornadoes that smashed a dozen American cities last spring additional funds may be required."

A/3C GEORGE W. HARPER, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Harper of 1609 Jackson Street, Monroe, Louisiana, has entered the USAF Technical School for Aircraft Mechanics at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, the largest school of this type in the world. Upon graduation, he will be awarded the rating of Airplane and Engine Mechanic. Along with the majority of graduates in his class, he will enter a course for advanced training or will be assigned to one of the major Air Force commands for on-the-job experience with first-line operational aircraft after completion of his schooling here. Airman Harper is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School. He served in the Civil Air Patrol prior to his enlistment in the Air Force on April 8, 1953.

Talent Show To Be Given In Jonesboro

WINNSBORO, Nov. 21. (Special)—Louisiana Tech's student talent show is scheduled to present a program in the Jonesboro - Hodge High School, in Jonesboro at 7:30 p.m. on Monday.

Patsy Twilley of Mooringsport, representative of the student senate at Tech, who is in charge of arranging the performance, has announced the following tenative cast:

Roy Windsor of Mer Rouge, announcer; the Dixie Land band of the students; Pat Young of West Monroe, tap dancer; Glenda Canady of Olla, singer; Ann Boyd of Collinston, dancer; Kathryn Temple of Winnsboro, piano skit; and Gwen Thomas, Jonesboro, acrobatics.

Miss Twilley also said the program probably would include either a juggling act by Dr. John A. Moore, botany professor at Tech, or a clarinet specialty number by Joe Sheppard, band director at the college.

The Jonesboro - Hodge appearance of the Techsters is under the auspices of the Jonesboro-Hodge Sportsman's Club.

Short Story And Poems Read At Writers Session

Reading of a short story written by Richard Tyler and several poems by Lawrence Lipson, both Northeast State students of Monroe, highlighted the meeting of the local college Writers Club.

A major point of discussion was that of a forthcoming student literary contest sponsored by the College Writers Society of Louisiana. Prizes will be awarded at a dinner of the organization to be held March 19, 1954.

Any student engaged in a full-time study curriculum may submit a maximum of two manuscripts in each or any of the four categories—short stories, feature articles, poetry and one-act plays.

A first prize of $10 and a second of $5 will be given winners in each classification. A grand prize of a $100 government bond, given by the Shreveport Times, will be awarded to one of the first-prize winners whose manuscript is selected as the best of the four first-place entries.

Information regarding the contest may be secured from Dr. Willa Claire Cox of the English faculty and sponsor of the local society. Students are requested to submit manuscripts in compliance with regulations to Dr. Cox before February 1, 1954.

Traffic Safety Conference To Convene Dec. 7

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 21—UP—The traffic safety section of the Louisiana Safety Conference will convene here Dec. 7 for a two-day program including an address by Earl F. Campbell, field organization director of the National Safety Council.

Bernard J. McCloskey, chairman of the Governor's Highway Safety Committee, will be the conference chairman.

Col. Chester B. Owen, state public safety director, will preside at the first afternoon session, at which Campbell, McCloskey and Dr. W. A. Eggert, chief psychologist with a national insurance company, will speak.

State Police Supt. Francis C. Grevemberg will preside at the Tuesday morning session and panel discussions on traffic safety will conclude the conference Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 8.

85 Million Dollars Are Needed By Red Cross

WASHINGTON, D. C. Nov. 21, (Special)— To meet its extensive responsibilities for humanitarian service at home and abroad, the American Red Cross will seek $85,000,000 in its annual campaign next March, E. Roland Harriman, ARC chairman, announced here today.

"This will be a campaign for both members and funds," Harriman said, "and we hope to make every American realize that through his membership he participates in every Red Cross activity just as surely as if he had extended a helping hand himself.

"This year our goal, in addition to securing the funds needed, is to enroll 30,000,000 active Red Cross members who will exercise their privilege of helping direct Red Cross work and assist as volunteer workers. The theme of the campaign will be 'Answer the Call —Join and Serve.' "

National chairman of the campaign is William W. Overton, Jr., chairman of the Board of the Texas Bank and Trust Co., Dallas, and long - time member Red Cross volunteer governing body. He is being assisted by a group of prominent business and civic leaders, each serving as a regional vice-chairman. At community level thousands of volunteer leaders will head local chapter campaigns.

Explaining that the truce in Korea has neither lessend the need for Red Cross services abroad nor decreased burdens at home, Harriman pointed out that the fund goal had been set by the Red Cross Board of Governors after careful study of next year's requirements.

"Again during the coming year," Harriman stated, "a major portion of our bulget, $31,100,000 will be needed to finance Red Cross services to the armed forces and veterans. The nation's military force now is at a peacetime peak and the end of fighting in Korea has given us an important new assignment in that theater, undertaken on direct request of the military — providing supplemental recreation activities for our security troops. We also must budget for a similar program for isolated troops in Europe."

Another major item on the budget, he added, is $12,500,000 for the blood program, which must collect more than 3,000,000 pints for all purposes in 1954. Red Cross supplies nearly 40 per cent of all blood used for treatment of civilian patients in the U. S., Harriman pointed out. "The quick and sure availability of blood and blood products means life to thousands of men and women and children each year," he said.

For its disaster relief and preparedness program the Red Cross has budgeted $4,900,000. "We know that Red Cross help for disaster victims will be needed on an average of six times a week," Harriman stated, "and in the event of an unusually severe catastrophe such as the series of tornadoes that smashed a dozen American cities last spring additional funds may be required."

Editorials

Man Of The Year

Through a fog of slander, confusion, prevarication, partisan politics and degeneracy, comes a man who has done a service for his nation so great as to merit some reward. To him, the greatest reward would be the general appreciation of his work. His exposes this year have resulted in the elimination from strategic positions in and out of government and have thrown the Communists into frantic fear.

The reference is to Senator Joseph R. McCarthy. He has served his God and he has served his nation in his great fight against the Communists. His committee, dealing with people whose FBI records would throw the average American into quakes of fear and indecision, has been both patient and lenient with those who are brazen and who throw invectives at the Senator and his committee.

Senator McCarthy may well be termed a product of the times. He is a man who has found out what it takes to fight a creed which in the short span of some thirty-six years has spread to dominate one fourth of the earth's surface, and some 800 million people. Joe McCarthy is absolutely fearless. The Communists, who know how to hate, realize that this is one man who is out to ruin them in the United States. McCarthy realizes that if they are not ruined in this nation, they will destroy it, the last roadblock in their path of conquest.

The record of the times is indeed clear. There is not a man or a woman in this nation who does not now realize that the Communists, obscure people in most cases, were able to weigh tremendous influence in the policies of this nation. From the time of recognition, it is a fact that Communists were infiltrating the government. Mr. Roosevelt laughed them off and assumed the attitude that there was no great danger. How great was the danger? The Communists infiltrated the Department of State where they determined policies which wrecked the peace in Europe and in Asia. Policies made by those people were clearly responsible for the loss of Eastern Europe and the Chinese Republic. They made the Korean war a reality.

Policies made by Communists in the Treasury Department determined the fiscal and economic ideas of the nation. The United States economic policy was largely determined by the culprit White, who saw to it that policies detrimental to the better interests of the U. S. were put into action by this government. Communists in the atomic project gave the Soviet Union the atom and hydrogen weapons. Communists in the armed services gave the Soviet Union the radar secrets so vital to U. S. defense. The list is long.

This year, the American people have seen the Wisconsin Senator snatch the Communists out of Government printing office, out of the United States overseas information services, and out of the army signal corps radar center at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey. Time and time again, he has struck a blow for your liberty against the Communists and their associates. Time and time again he has defended you and your loved ones. The record is clear. If the Senator removed only one subversive from the government, would that not be a meritorius deed? More than one; out of the original list of some 87 names he mentioned, more than three quarters of these people have been evicted from the government either by force or resignation.

The slander of "McCarthyism" first sponsored by the Communist news organ, "The Daily Worker" has spread across the nation as a plague, but it has not bothered the Senator. Many unwitting politicials of a partisan nature have picked this up and spread it without thinking of the great value of the services rendered by this man who is first a public servant and then, a politician. Alas, even certain members of the Louisiana delegation have denounced what they term "McCarthyism." Have they fought the Communists as has the Senator from Wisconsin? Are they qualified to assert a denunciatory phrase which was first sponsored by Communists and then spread by their associates?

It has come time for the people of this great republic to calmly sit down and consider this man who has rendered you a valuable service. Be you Democrats, or Republicans, that has no bearing on the case, consider the man, the American patriot, McCarthy. Consider what he has done for you. Consider these "tactics" mentioned by the forces in alliance with the Communists and those who unwittingly follow their tone of conversation.

Who are his greatest critics? The Communists, the Socialists, the Americans for Democratic Action, the British leftists, the French leftists, the "American Association for the U. N.," the Civil Rights Congress, the Italian Communists, and others of this order. Are these people out to protect you, the people of this republic? Are they out to help the United States remain a free and sovereign nation?

The Senator has come across another product of the times. That is the new idea that it is not good to be patriotic. He was surprised as were many other people who actually thought they were doing good work for their nation. However, they were soon to find out that in these days, partisan politics, internationalism and collectivism plus class warfare comes before patriotism. Senator McCarthy realizes that these policies will spell destruction for this nation if allowed to continue.

Is it wrong then for him to assert his patriotism? Is it wrong for any American to assert patriotism?

Apparently it is.

It is wrong to the extent that you are denounced for being a "super patriot" and a "reactionary." If that's what patriots are, there is a distinct need for more "reactionaries" and "super patriots." On this Sunday morning, consider the man for what he is, not what his enemies, your enemies, say about him.

Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, American, man of the year.

Thanks

The department of streets and parks which operates on what might be termed a financial shoestring is hard put to keep the streets of this community in any kind of repair. A careful study of the situation will point out that conditions cannot improve unless more funds are allotted. With the funds at hand, however, the department does what it can.

Last week, in certain sections of the city, trees were planted by the department in an effort to help beautify the community. It would help if all the people in the city would cooperate instead of throwing paper along the streets, using the culverts as waste disposal centers and generally causing the city more work than it already has at present.

The appearance of one's community is a source of great pride in many sections of the nation. Can the same be said for Monroe? The department of streets and parks is attempting to help the situation and you can help also. For the trees planted in the city last week, this newspaper says thanks, and keep up the good work.

New Businesses

During the fall season of the year, there are new businesses springing up all over the Twin Cities. There is an unusual thing about these businesses, generally, they all succeed. They called church bazaars. The business lasts one day. The articles sold by the ladies of all the churches in the community represent a great amount of work and tireless effort. The articles sold are generally not expensive, but of the very best quality. The money gathered goes to the aid of the church and these whom the church in turn aids.

At the church bazaars, food of the very tastiest quality, and of the best ingredients is sold. The ladies make these cakes, cookies, pies and other things. By their efforts, the ladies serve God. When you buy from the bazaars, you are helping the churches and yourselves. There are bargains galore to be had and it would indeed be a shame to miss them.

The church bazaar, as American as the stars and stripes, is a great series of events in these and other communities each year. To the churches yet to hold their bazaars this fall, this newspaper wishes you great success.

To those who have already held them, congratulations on a job well done, and wishes for even more success next year.

Do They Actually Work For You?

There is a group of people in this nation today who thinking of themselves and their personal benefit, seek to alienate large segments of Americans from other Americans. It is only a small, almost minute group, but the power wielded by them is enormous. They operate on the idea given to the people that they are doing their job in the hopes of "benefiting" certain sections of the American people. They are spreading wrong information and they know it. They spread class warfare. Specifically referred to are some of the labor leaders of the nation.

There is absolutely no doubt whatsoever that in days gone by, the industrialists, many of them, operated their plants without regard to the safety and the benefit of those employed and they are reaping the bitter fruits of their own wretched harvest. The workers of this nation, contrary to the propaganda which would have you believe otherwise, are no different from any other American. They are you, the citizens. They have the same hopes and dreams of all Americans, because they are Americans first, partisans of class warfare last.

The rank and file of the labor organizations of the nation deplore Communism with a ferocity not matched by many other Americans. Why? Because they know how the Communists operate in their unions, and they know that Marx was a false prophet who declared on more than one occasion, that "workers were born to be led by their masters". In every election, the workers of the nation, no matter how they might be employed, show that they are independent. Never before in the history of the nation was so much money poured by labor leaders into the election of 1952. Never before was so much emphasis put on partisan politics as regards one "segment" of the American people.

You hear that the labor leaders are "for" the workers. Consider how they go about this great help. The majority of them support foreign aid, support unlimited immigration, support the "U. N.", and support the "point four" programs. Does that help the worker? If it does, it is unusual help.

Foreign aid builds up foreign industry which hurts the American worker. Unlimited immigration builds up the already crowded working force, the "United Nations" would turn this government over to a group of nations certainly not working in the interests of the American worker as the records clearly prove. The point four programs have seriously hurt sections of the American industry by building foreign markets where none formerly existed. The list is long. Never before in the history of the nation have the pockets of the labor leaders been filled by the fruits of a man's labor. Now, the labor leaders own as much if not more corporate stock than many of the company officers themselves. They are becoming what they many times preach against, the "capitalists".

The facts are clear as new glass. Propaganda to the contrary, think; do these people actually work for you? Nobody works for you better than yourself. The American worker, the giant which has made this nation what it is, continues to show his left leaning leaders that he will work in his own interests.

As other segments of American society, he is an American first, something else last.

Calm Facts Over Wild Statements

The Harry Dexter White case, a real political explosion, was fought purely along party lines until two things happened to throw a hitch into the Democrat camp and produce many "no comment" statements. These things are simple to enumerate. They were first the hysterical and slanderous diatribe of Harry Truman on Monday night of last week, followed by the excellent presentation of facts presented in a calm and fair manner by Herbert Brownell and John Edgar Hoover on Tuesday before Senator Jenner's committee.

The Democrat "fire eaters" can rave and rant, those who slavishly follow partisan lines, but the calm presentation of the facts never fails in the end run. The partisans who supported Truman until Tuesday, are now forced to say "no comment" and "let's get together, the fight's over". The fight isn't over and the subversives are going to be run out of the government no matter who objects.

There is a clear necessity for the Southern Democrats who are real Democrats, to be allowed to head some of the Committees in congress. There is no reason to keep Martin Dies stalked out on some small committee because he is not a Republican. There is a necessity to handle the entire situation in a calm, factual manner with capable men at the helm no matter the party label they wear if they represent their nation first, their party last.

Public Forum—Voice Of All The People

Senator Answers Critic

Monroe, La.

Mr. James Ewing:

Some months ago, you attacked me editorially with regard to the so-called Bricker Resolution. At that time I replied by letter defending my position and pointing out the respects in which I considered you to be in error. You did not see fit to show me the courtesy of printing my reply. This was the first time I have ever had the experience of being editorially attacked by a paper that did not print my reply. I trust that you will not again limit the expression of opinion to your own youthful views on this occasion.

On Sunday, I appeared on your weekly television program at your invitation. You opened the program with a prepared paper which you read for about seven minutes, discussing the corrupt nature of American government, even under the new Republican administration Your paper dealt generally with the fact that our "Ship of State" was almost hopelessly infested with rates, vermin, snakes, and the like.

Then you invited me to take a seat in front of two recording machines to answer some questions which were calculated to give a false impression that certain things were true when they were actually false.

Inasmuch as I did not agree with your views, I was subjected to an unfavorable editorial on Tuesday. The effect of that editorial is to suggest that it is unfortunate that the State of Louisiana is represented by such a misinformed senator.

Now let us get a thing or two straight. I don't claim to be an expert on everything. That is your prerogative. Nor did I have the choice of the subjects we were to discuss. You were careful not to tell me what you wanted to ask about. Nor did you accord me the privilege of an opening or closing statement to assure the public that the nation would survive with Gods help, even in spite of your gloomy view of the situation.

Nevertheless, I would not have complained about your methods used on your television program. I have appeared on programs before where some of those present have tried to take advantage of me.

I do, however, object to your editorial in which you accuse me of knowing nothing while you assume unto yourself the knowledge of the Almighty concerning the difficult and complicated problems of world affairs.

Let us look to some of the actual issues involved. You asked me why this nation never accepted Chiang Kai shek's offer to send some of his troops from Formosa to Korea. I answered that Chiang's troops were poorly equipped and poorly trained. You argued that Chiang had 700,000 "crack" troops on Formosa. I told you that Chiang had only one first class division on Formosa. That was the basis of your first charge that I know nothing.

My opinion is based upon my two years of service upon the Senate Armed Services Committee. Much of the information is based upon advice of the highest military authorities in this nation, including those in charge of the training mission on Formosa itself. You have mentioned something to the effect that "everybody knows" that I am wrong. The fact is that so much of the advice was classified "top secret" at the time it was given to the committee that "everybody" could not possibly know much of the secret advice given to the members of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Chiang's forces on Formosa have undoubtedly been strengthened with better equipment and more training since I left the Armed Services Committee in January; however, a few months thereafter the fighting stopped in Korea. Nevertheless this nation consistently found it cheaper and more advantageous to arm and train South Koreans to defend their own homes and loved ones than to equip, train and import Chiang's Chinese Nationalists from Formosa. Don't blame me for that advice now, Jim. Just say that you know a lot more about it than did General Ridgeway, General Van Fleet and General Eisenhower.

Your intimate study of General McArthur's views undoubtedly have well prepared you for a career as a military strategist. For my part, one of my chief regrets is that I only had the opportunity to hear that great military man discuss the far eastern military situation for a period of three days while I served as a member of the committee investigating his dismissal from command in Korea.

Now, as to your impression that the U. S. Seventh Fleet was in the Formosa Strait to "shield" Communist China against a possible attack from Formosa. It is my understanding that the Seventh Fleet never made a single move to prevent Chiang's Nationalists from attacking the mainland, and that some raids by Chinese Nationalists were actually carried on against the China mainland while the U. S. Seventh Fleet was in the area. Since President Eisenhower gave his famous order in January that the fleet was not to "shield" Red China, I have not heard of any significant Nationalist raid on the mainland by your "700,000 crack troops." However, you would undoubtedly be the best authority on that subject, so I will take your word for it.

Now, Jim, I was really surprised to learn from you that the United Nations already has the power to come right here to Monroe and deprive you of all your freedoms under the United States Constitution. As an attorney who has given some study to the field of foreign affairs, I had never dreamed such a thing possible, but, in view of your learned opinion in this matter, I am now alarmed.

The people of Monroe are fortunate to have a newspaperman, young in years, who has already given much study and thought to the problems of the world. During these troubled years, they can look forward to a constant stream of profound advice.

RUSSELL B. LONG.

On Sen. Long's Views

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Senator Long certainly gave the Democratic Party a jolt when he complimented President Eisenhower on his knowledge and understanding of military and foreign affairs. The Senator tried unsuccessfully to cover this costly political blunder when he stated that President Eisenhower was not familiar with domestic affairs.

Unwittingly the Senator summed up the situation that led to the big change in the thinking of voters which was physically demonstrated in the last Presidential election. The American people realized that our domestic affairs were in such poor shape because of the incompetence of the Democratic Party with regard to the handling of our military and foreign affairs. The whole inflationary status of our country's economic system which is the proper wording for our domestic affairs is the responsibility of the Democratic Party. The fact that the farmers can no longer be kept in the manner which they have become accustomed is due entirely to the fact that the cash to keep up this program is no longer available in the same generous quantity as it was in the past. The same goes for all the other branches of our economic society in the United States.

The voters thoroughly understood the stand of President Eisenhower when he said that we did not have to have an economy based upon war. Senator Long stated that we were no longer in war and yet the same conditions prevailed. The Senator failed to note that the truce has only been in effect a short while. The Senator gave the Democratic Party another jolt when he gave the present status of the national debt. Certainly the Republicans are not responsible for the present national debt. If memory serves me correctly, more money was spent in the Truman administration than was spent by all Mr. Truman's predecessors in office.

All of our huge national debt can be directly charged to the incompetence of the Democratic Party for the last twenty years. President Roosevelt and President Truman knew little or nothing about military matters or foreign affairs. The voters considered their records when they voted for the man who is cleaning up the mess in Washington. Since the tranquillity of our domestic affairs and the stability of our economic system has been proven to depend upon the competence of our President and his aides with respect to military matters and foreign relations then it is easy to see why the voters disregarded party lines and elected President Eisenhower to clean up the mess in Washington.

The early American concept of government has been restored in the minds and hearts of our citizens and voters.

That we can only achieve a stability in our economic system if and when every part of our economic system is adjusted to meet the law of supply and demand. War entirely disrupts domestic affairs in any nation. There is an unusual demand for every commodity and in some cases the need exists in such extremity that rationing becomes necessary. This causes an unstable mushrooming of the particular part of our production supplying this need. Farming suffered more than any other endeavor because an unlimited market was opened to the farmer by the wars and new farmers were created almost over night. Every government aid was made available to the farmer because our domestic affairs were thrown out of balance due to the turmoil in our military and foreign affairs. The end of the wars necessitated an adjustment in farming and all industry. The real farmers appreciated this situation and they were the ones who voted for President Eisenhower and they are still supporting him and will continue to support him.

The Democrats tried to convince us that we needed an airbase in every major city in Louisiana as well as a military force superior only in numerical force. The Korean war with its shortages of ammunition, Presidential high command, pitiful understanding of foreign affairs and complete blundering by the Democratic President who can't tell the truth even when he is not obligated to speak under oath is solely responsible for the present status of our domestic affairs.

Yes, President Eisenhower is an expert on military affairs and foreign relations. The President, however, did not seek office as did the late President Roosevelt who told the mothers of the United States that no more American boys would die on foreign soil. The military genius of the Democrats failed in Korea, they have failed on the domestic front and the present status of the Korean war proves that they failed on the diplomatic front. Such failures are the sole responsibility for the present state of the farmers' and every other citizen's place in an economic society which is contrary to every proper standing possible under stable conditions.

Mr. Hoover spoke under oath which is the only way for an American to answer questions that may impugn his loyalty and Mr. Hoover respecting the fact that a man's conscience is his only earthly connection with his God, told the truth. Thus it will always be with God fearing men who serve our country so well.

Editor, Morning World:

Although in all instances I do not agree with your editorials, I still appreciate your point of view and seriously consider it. I have read each one carefully and think they are well worth preserving in your file for future use. Some day I would like for you to write one on the power of the written word as is evidenced in history. Every worthwhile movement had some book or books or pamphlets to introduce it. To enumerate some: The Bible, Koran, The Talmud, Uncle Tom's Cabin, The Adventures of Marco Polo, and finally such editorials as yours which color the thinking of a community. It is my prayer that you will continue to use your effective pen for the good of the people of the south.

We are just as anxious to promote the American newspapers in this country as you are to disseminate your editorials.

Enclosed are two of our reprints ("The Dowager Empress" and "Daughters of the American Revolution") which will go to a 3,200 mailing from this committee to every state in the union. Many of our subscribers in this mailing are men and some 30 other organizations look to us for guidance.

Over the week end, I read the copies of your papers and, may I extend the commendations of this committee to an independent newspaper which prints the news impartially, supports what it believes and opposes that which it believes to be wrong without regard to party politics.

Party Ideals Above Men

Farmerville, La.

Editor, Morning World:

As I recall it, your papers, one Shreveport paper and a splendid New Orleans daily, were all the product of a great newspaper man, a statesman and a political leader, who once headed the party in Louisiana as national committeeman upon my nomination and suggestion, and who was a personal friend of my father, both in the newspaper business, and one of them fifty - one years in office, and so I am very much amazed and surprised to read one editorial which practically placed hundreds of thousands of democratic voters in the State of New York in the ranks of Leftists, etc. because they followed young Wagoner in his successful race for mayor of New York and because they were in the ranks of Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. I am wondering if that is the way that we will ever bring party leaders together. Is that the Jeffersonian style? That was not the method followed by Col. Robert Ewing, who was a leader in Democratic ranks in this state as long as he lived, and though twenty-eight years older than I was, I loved to train with him and under him and then after that, two of his sons, leaders in Monroe and Shreveport and in north Louisiana largely followed in his footsteps, so I am a bit surprised at your editorials.

The only thing that has outclassed it is the speeches of a man at a Democratic committee meeting in Baton Rouge recently who suggested that they read the governor of the state out of the party.

I am not in accord with some things this administration has done, but I consider party ideals and principle above men. You cannot read a man out of his party, the right of suffrage and the exercising thereof, no more than you can read a man out of his creed and his church belief in this country. You can tell him that he cannot come back into a certain church building, or suspend or expel him from membership from a little local organization, but you cannot deprive him of his belief and his affinity to any creed or church as an institution, and so it is with the right of suffrage and the right of party affiliations.

So we have two schools of extremists, one wanting to read everybody out of the party where they differ or where the voter went astray and the other attacking any Democrats who agreed with Franklin Roosevelt Jr. or Senator Wagoner's son, and yet we in Louisiana, who are real Democrats and believe in Jefferson ideals are stating that we do not want a two party system and that we want the Democratic Party to prevail, and I belong to that group who believes that the Democratic party is the poor man party, the farmer's party, small business man's party and the party of the laboring man, even if some of our leaders did go astray, because I know that the Republican party has never shown through its leadership and highest officials a sympathetic tendency for the average man, except in two instances, Abraham Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt.

So Mr. Editor, let's try to bring them back together and not be led by factional politicians who are dividing the party further apart every day and let us follow the same old policies of James A. Farley, Col. Robert Ewing, Gov. Newton C. Blanchard, Henry L. Fuqua and many others in this state who always adhered to the Democratic party, the party of the people of the south.

This letter is written in a spirit of friendliness by one who has more or less agreed in many instances with your paper but not in all, and yet respected the founder as the owner of your dailies. Consider again and go softer, Mr. Editor, and don't be influenced by gold spangled commentators, and remember, Mr Editor, that you can catch more bees with a little cup of honey than you can with a whole barrel of vinegar.

Respectfully,

HARVEY G. FIELDS.

Man Of The Year

Through a fog of slander, confusion, prevarication, partisan politics and degeneracy, comes a man who has done a service for his nation so great as to merit some reward. To him, the greatest reward would be the general appreciation of his work. His exposes this year have resulted in the elimination from strategic positions in and out of government and have thrown the Communists into frantic fear.

The reference is to Senator Joseph R. McCarthy. He has served his God and he has served his nation in his great fight against the Communists. His committee, dealing with people whose FBI records would throw the average American into quakes of fear and indecision, has been both patient and lenient with those who are brazen and who throw invectives at the Senator and his committee.

Senator McCarthy may well be termed a product of the times. He is a man who has found out what it takes to fight a creed which in the short span of some thirty-six years has spread to dominate one fourth of the earth's surface, and some 800 million people. Joe McCarthy is absolutely fearless. The Communists, who know how to hate, realize that this is one man who is out to ruin them in the United States. McCarthy realizes that if they are not ruined in this nation, they will destroy it, the last roadblock in their path of conquest.

The record of the times is indeed clear. There is not a man or a woman in this nation who does not now realize that the Communists, obscure people in most cases, were able to weigh tremendous influence in the policies of this nation. From the time of recognition, it is a fact that Communists were infiltrating the government. Mr. Roosevelt laughed them off and assumed the attitude that there was no great danger. How great was the danger? The Communists infiltrated the Department of State where they determined policies which wrecked the peace in Europe and in Asia. Policies made by those people were clearly responsible for the loss of Eastern Europe and the Chinese Republic. They made the Korean war a reality.

Policies made by Communists in the Treasury Department determined the fiscal and economic ideas of the nation. The United States economic policy was largely determined by the culprit White, who saw to it that policies detrimental to the better interests of the U. S. were put into action by this government. Communists in the atomic project gave the Soviet Union the atom and hydrogen weapons. Communists in the armed services gave the Soviet Union the radar secrets so vital to U. S. defense. The list is long.

This year, the American people have seen the Wisconsin Senator snatch the Communists out of Government printing office, out of the United States overseas information services, and out of the army signal corps radar center at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey. Time and time again, he has struck a blow for your liberty against the Communists and their associates. Time and time again he has defended you and your loved ones. The record is clear. If the Senator removed only one subversive from the government, would that not be a meritorius deed? More than one; out of the original list of some 87 names he mentioned, more than three quarters of these people have been evicted from the government either by force or resignation.

The slander of "McCarthyism" first sponsored by the Communist news organ, "The Daily Worker" has spread across the nation as a plague, but it has not bothered the Senator. Many unwitting politicials of a partisan nature have picked this up and spread it without thinking of the great value of the services rendered by this man who is first a public servant and then, a politician. Alas, even certain members of the Louisiana delegation have denounced what they term "McCarthyism." Have they fought the Communists as has the Senator from Wisconsin? Are they qualified to assert a denunciatory phrase which was first sponsored by Communists and then spread by their associates?

It has come time for the people of this great republic to calmly sit down and consider this man who has rendered you a valuable service. Be you Democrats, or Republicans, that has no bearing on the case, consider the man, the American patriot, McCarthy. Consider what he has done for you. Consider these "tactics" mentioned by the forces in alliance with the Communists and those who unwittingly follow their tone of conversation.

Who are his greatest critics? The Communists, the Socialists, the Americans for Democratic Action, the British leftists, the French leftists, the "American Association for the U. N.," the Civil Rights Congress, the Italian Communists, and others of this order. Are these people out to protect you, the people of this republic? Are they out to help the United States remain a free and sovereign nation?

The Senator has come across another product of the times. That is the new idea that it is not good to be patriotic. He was surprised as were many other people who actually thought they were doing good work for their nation. However, they were soon to find out that in these days, partisan politics, internationalism and collectivism plus class warfare comes before patriotism. Senator McCarthy realizes that these policies will spell destruction for this nation if allowed to continue.

Is it wrong then for him to assert his patriotism? Is it wrong for any American to assert patriotism?

Apparently it is.

It is wrong to the extent that you are denounced for being a "super patriot" and a "reactionary." If that's what patriots are, there is a distinct need for more "reactionaries" and "super patriots." On this Sunday morning, consider the man for what he is, not what his enemies, your enemies, say about him.

Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, American, man of the year.

Thanks

The department of streets and parks which operates on what might be termed a financial shoestring is hard put to keep the streets of this community in any kind of repair. A careful study of the situation will point out that conditions cannot improve unless more funds are allotted. With the funds at hand, however, the department does what it can.

Last week, in certain sections of the city, trees were planted by the department in an effort to help beautify the community. It would help if all the people in the city would cooperate instead of throwing paper along the streets, using the culverts as waste disposal centers and generally causing the city more work than it already has at present.

The appearance of one's community is a source of great pride in many sections of the nation. Can the same be said for Monroe? The department of streets and parks is attempting to help the situation and you can help also. For the trees planted in the city last week, this newspaper says thanks, and keep up the good work.

New Businesses

During the fall season of the year, there are new businesses springing up all over the Twin Cities. There is an unusual thing about these businesses, generally, they all succeed. They called church bazaars. The business lasts one day. The articles sold by the ladies of all the churches in the community represent a great amount of work and tireless effort. The articles sold are generally not expensive, but of the very best quality. The money gathered goes to the aid of the church and these whom the church in turn aids.

At the church bazaars, food of the very tastiest quality, and of the best ingredients is sold. The ladies make these cakes, cookies, pies and other things. By their efforts, the ladies serve God. When you buy from the bazaars, you are helping the churches and yourselves. There are bargains galore to be had and it would indeed be a shame to miss them.

The church bazaar, as American as the stars and stripes, is a great series of events in these and other communities each year. To the churches yet to hold their bazaars this fall, this newspaper wishes you great success.

To those who have already held them, congratulations on a job well done, and wishes for even more success next year.

Do They Actually Work For You?

There is a group of people in this nation today who thinking of themselves and their personal benefit, seek to alienate large segments of Americans from other Americans. It is only a small, almost minute group, but the power wielded by them is enormous. They operate on the idea given to the people that they are doing their job in the hopes of "benefiting" certain sections of the American people. They are spreading wrong information and they know it. They spread class warfare. Specifically referred to are some of the labor leaders of the nation.

There is absolutely no doubt whatsoever that in days gone by, the industrialists, many of them, operated their plants without regard to the safety and the benefit of those employed and they are reaping the bitter fruits of their own wretched harvest. The workers of this nation, contrary to the propaganda which would have you believe otherwise, are no different from any other American. They are you, the citizens. They have the same hopes and dreams of all Americans, because they are Americans first, partisans of class warfare last.

The rank and file of the labor organizations of the nation deplore Communism with a ferocity not matched by many other Americans. Why? Because they know how the Communists operate in their unions, and they know that Marx was a false prophet who declared on more than one occasion, that "workers were born to be led by their masters". In every election, the workers of the nation, no matter how they might be employed, show that they are independent. Never before in the history of the nation was so much money poured by labor leaders into the election of 1952. Never before was so much emphasis put on partisan politics as regards one "segment" of the American people.

You hear that the labor leaders are "for" the workers. Consider how they go about this great help. The majority of them support foreign aid, support unlimited immigration, support the "U. N.", and support the "point four" programs. Does that help the worker? If it does, it is unusual help.

Foreign aid builds up foreign industry which hurts the American worker. Unlimited immigration builds up the already crowded working force, the "United Nations" would turn this government over to a group of nations certainly not working in the interests of the American worker as the records clearly prove. The point four programs have seriously hurt sections of the American industry by building foreign markets where none formerly existed. The list is long. Never before in the history of the nation have the pockets of the labor leaders been filled by the fruits of a man's labor. Now, the labor leaders own as much if not more corporate stock than many of the company officers themselves. They are becoming what they many times preach against, the "capitalists".

The facts are clear as new glass. Propaganda to the contrary, think; do these people actually work for you? Nobody works for you better than yourself. The American worker, the giant which has made this nation what it is, continues to show his left leaning leaders that he will work in his own interests.

As other segments of American society, he is an American first, something else last.

Calm Facts Over Wild Statements

The Harry Dexter White case, a real political explosion, was fought purely along party lines until two things happened to throw a hitch into the Democrat camp and produce many "no comment" statements. These things are simple to enumerate. They were first the hysterical and slanderous diatribe of Harry Truman on Monday night of last week, followed by the excellent presentation of facts presented in a calm and fair manner by Herbert Brownell and John Edgar Hoover on Tuesday before Senator Jenner's committee.

The Democrat "fire eaters" can rave and rant, those who slavishly follow partisan lines, but the calm presentation of the facts never fails in the end run. The partisans who supported Truman until Tuesday, are now forced to say "no comment" and "let's get together, the fight's over". The fight isn't over and the subversives are going to be run out of the government no matter who objects.

There is a clear necessity for the Southern Democrats who are real Democrats, to be allowed to head some of the Committees in congress. There is no reason to keep Martin Dies stalked out on some small committee because he is not a Republican. There is a necessity to handle the entire situation in a calm, factual manner with capable men at the helm no matter the party label they wear if they represent their nation first, their party last.

Public Forum—Voice Of All The People

Senator Answers Critic

Monroe, La.

Mr. James Ewing:

Some months ago, you attacked me editorially with regard to the so-called Bricker Resolution. At that time I replied by letter defending my position and pointing out the respects in which I considered you to be in error. You did not see fit to show me the courtesy of printing my reply. This was the first time I have ever had the experience of being editorially attacked by a paper that did not print my reply. I trust that you will not again limit the expression of opinion to your own youthful views on this occasion.

On Sunday, I appeared on your weekly television program at your invitation. You opened the program with a prepared paper which you read for about seven minutes, discussing the corrupt nature of American government, even under the new Republican administration Your paper dealt generally with the fact that our "Ship of State" was almost hopelessly infested with rates, vermin, snakes, and the like.

Then you invited me to take a seat in front of two recording machines to answer some questions, which were calculated to give a false impression that certain things were true when they were actually false.

Inasmuch as I did not agree with your views, I was subjected to an unfavorable editorial on Tuesday. The effect of that editorial is to suggest that it is unfortunate that the State of Louisiana is represented by such a misinformed senator.

Now let us get a thing or two straight. I don't claim to be an expert on everything. That is your prerogative. Nor did I have the choice of the subjects we were to discuss. You were careful not to tell me what you wanted to ask about. Nor did you accord me the privilege of an opening or closing statement to assure the public that the nation would survive with Gods help, even in spite of your gloomy view of the situation.

Nevertheless, I would not have complained about your methods used on your television program. I have appeared on programs before where some of those present have tried to take advantage of me.

I do, however, object to your editorial in which you accuse me of knowing nothing while you assume unto yourself the knowledge of the Almighty concerning the difficult and complicated problems of world affairs.

Let us look to some of the actual issues involved. You asked me why this nation never accepted Chiang Kai shek's offer to send some of his troops from Formosa to Korea. I answered that Chiang's troops were poorly equipped and poorly trained. You argued that Chiang had 700,000 "crack" troops on Formosa. I told you that Chiang had only one first class division on Formosa. That was the basis of your first charge that I know nothing.

My opinion is based upon my two years of service upon the Senate Armed Services Committee. Much of the information is based upon advice of the highest military authorities in this nation, including those in charge of the training mission on Formosa itself. You have mentioned something to the effect that "everybody knows" that I am wrong. The fact is that so much of the advice was classified "top secret" at the time it was given to the committee that "everybody" could not possibly know much of the secret advice given to the members of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Chiang's forces on Formosa have undoubtedly been strengthened with better equipment and more training since I left the Armed Services Committee in January; however, a few months thereafter the fighting stopped in Korea. Nevertheless this nation consistently found it cheaper and more advantageous to arm and train South Koreans to defend their own homes and loved ones than to equip, train and import Chiang's Chinese Nationalists from Formosa. Don't blame me for that advice now, Jim. Just say that you know a lot more about it than did General Ridgeway, General Van Fleet and General Eisenhower.

Your intimate study of General McArthur's views undoubtedly have well prepared you for a career as a military strategist. For my part, one of my chief regrets is that I only had the opportunity to hear that great military man discuss the far eastern military situation for a period of three days while I served as a member of the committee investigating his dismissal from command in Korea.

Now, as to your impression that the U. S. Seventh Fleet was in the Formosa Strait to "shield" Communist China against a possible attack from Formosa. It is my understanding that the Seventh Fleet never made a single move to prevent Chiang's Nationalists from attacking the mainland, and that some raids by Chinese Nationalists were actually carried on against the China mainland while the U. S. Seventh Fleet was in the area. Since President Eisenhower gave his famous order in January that the fleet was not to "shield" Red China, I have not heard of any significant Nationalist raid on the mainland by your "700,000 crack troops." However, you would undoubtedly be the best authority on that subject, so I will take your word for it.

Now, Jim, I was really surprised to learn from you that the United Nations already has the power to come right here to Monroe and deprive you of all your freedoms under the United States Constitution. As an attorney who has given some study to the field of foreign affairs, I had never dreamed such a thing possible, but, in view of your learned opinion in this matter, I am now alarmed.

The people of Monroe are fortunate to have a newspaperman, young in years, who has already given much study and thought to the problems of the world. During these troubled years, they can look forward to a constant stream of profound advice.

RUSSELL B. LONG.

On Sen. Long's Views

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Senator Long certainly gave the Democratic Party a jolt when he complimented President Eisenhower on his knowledge and understanding of military and foreign affairs. The Senator tried unsuccessfully to cover this costly political blunder when he stated that President Eisenhower was not familiar with domestic affairs.

Unwittingly the Senator summed up the situation that led to the big change in the thinking of voters which was physically demonstrated in the last Presidential election. The American people realized that our domestic affairs were in such poor shape because of the incompetence of the Democratic Party with regard to the handling of our military and foreign affairs. The whole inflationary status of our country's economic system which is the proper wording for our domestic affairs is the responsibility of the Democratic Party. The fact that the farmers can no longer be kept in the manner which they have become accustomed is due entirely to the fact that the cash to keep up this program is no longer available in the same generous quantity as it was in the past. The same goes for all the other branches of our economic society in the United States.

The voters thoroughly understood the stand of President Eisenhower when he said that we did not have to have an economy based upon war. Senator Long stated that we were no longer in war and yet the same conditions prevailed. The Senator failed to note that the truce has only been in effect a short while. The Senator gave the Democratic Party another jolt when he gave the present status of the national debt. Certainly the Republicans are not responsible for the present national debt. If memory serves me correctly, more money was spent in the Truman administration than was spent by all Mr. Truman's predecessors in office.

All of our huge national debt can be directly charged to the incompetence of the Democratic Party for the last twenty years. President Roosevelt and President Truman knew little or nothing about military matters or foreign affairs. The voters considered their records when they voted for the man who is cleaning up the mess in Washington. Since the tranquillity of our domestic affairs and the stability of our economic system has been proven to depend upon the competence of our President and his aides with respect to military matters and foreign relations then it is easy to see why the voters disregarded party lines and elected President Eisenhower to clean up the mess in Washington.

The early American concept of government has been restored in the minds and hearts of our citizens and voters.

That we can only achieve a stability in our economic system if and when every part of our economic system is adjusted to meet the law of supply and demand. War entirely disrupts domestic affairs in any nation. There is an unusual demand for every commodity and in some cases the need exists in such extremity that rationing becomes necessary. This causes an unstable mushrooming of the particular part of our production supplying this need. Farming suffered more than any other endeavor because an unlimited market was opened to the farmer by the wars and new farmers were created almost over night. Every government aid was made available to the farmer because our domestic affairs were thrown out of balance due to the turmoil in our military and foreign affairs. The end of the wars necessitated an adjustment in farming and all industry. The real farmers appreciated this situation and they were the ones who voted for President Eisenhower and they are still supporting him and will continue to support him.

The Democrats tried to convince us that we needed an airbase in every major city in Louisiana as well as a military force superior only in numerical force. The Korean war with its shortages of ammunition, Presidential high command, pitiful understanding of foreign affairs and complete blundering by the Democratic President who can't tell the truth even when he is not obligated to speak under oath is solely responsible for the present status of our domestic affairs.

Yes, President Eisenhower is an expert on military affairs and foreign relations. The President, however, did not seek office as did the late President Roosevelt who told the mothers of the United States that no more American boys would die on foreign soil. The military genius of the Democrats failed in Korea, they have failed on the domestic front and the present status of the Korean war proves that they failed on the diplomatic front. Such failures are the sole responsibility for the present state of the farmers' and every other citizen's place in an economic society which is contrary to every proper standing possible under stable conditions.

Mr. Hoover spoke under oath which is the only way for an American to answer questions that may impugn his loyalty and Mr. Hoover respecting the fact that a man's conscience is his only earthly connection with his God, told the truth. Thus it will always be with God fearing men who serve our country so well.

Your Editorials

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Although in all instances I do not agree with your editorials, I still appreciate your point of view and seriously consider it. I have read each one carefully and think they are well worth preserving in your file for future use. Some day I would like for you to write one on the power of the written word as is evidenced in history. Every worthwhile movement had some book or books or pamphlets to introduce it. To enumerate some: The Bible, Koran, The Talmud, Uncle Tom's Cabin, The Adventures of Marco Polo, and finally such editorials as yours which color the thinking of a community. It is my prayer that you will continue to use your effective pen for the good of the people of the south.

DAR Sends Editorials To 3,400 Mailing List

Washington, D. C.

Editor, Morning World:

We are just as anxious to promote the American newspapers in this country as you are to disseminate your editorials.

Enclosed are two of our reprints ("The Dowager Empress" and "Daughters of the American Revolution") which will go to a 3,200 mailing from this committee to every state in the union. Many of our subscribers in this mailing are men and some 30 other organizations look to us for guidance.

Over the week end, I read the copies of your papers and, may I extend the commendations of this committee to an independent newspaper which prints the news impartially, supports what it believes and opposes that which it believes to be wrong without regard to party politics.

Party Ideals Above Men

Farmerville, La.

Editor, Morning World:

As I recall it, your papers, one Shreveport paper and a splendid New Orleans daily, were all the product of a great newspaper man, a statesman and a political leader, who once headed the party in Louisiana as national committeeman upon my nomination and suggestion, and who was a personal friend of my father, both in the newspaper business, and one of them fifty - one years in office, and so I am very much amazed and surprised to read one editorial which practically placed hundreds of thousands of democratic voters in the State of New York in the ranks of Leftists, etc. because they followed young Wagoner in his successful race for mayor of New York and because they were in the ranks of Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. I am wondering if that is the way that we will ever bring party leaders together. Is that the Jeffersonian style? That was not the method followed by Col. Robert Ewing, who was a leader in Democratic ranks in this state as long as he lived, and though twenty-eight years older than I was, I loved to train with him and under him and then after that, two of his sons, leaders in Monroe and Shreveport and in north Louisiana largely followed in his footsteps, so I am a bit surprised at your editorials.

The only thing that has outclassed it is the speeches of a man at a Democratic committee meeting in Baton Rouge recently who suggested that they read the governor of the state out of the party.

I am not in accord with some things this administration has done, but I consider party ideals and principle above men. You cannot read a man out of his party, the right of suffrage and the exercising thereof, no more than you can read a man out of his creed and his church belief in this country. You can tell him that he cannot come back into a certain church building, or suspend or expel him from membership from a little local organization, but you cannot deprive him of his belief and his affinity to any creed or church as an institution, and so it is with the right of suffrage and the right of party affiliations.

So we have two schools of extremists, one wanting to read everybody out of the party where they differ or where the voter went astray and the other attacking any Democrats who agreed with Franklin Roosevelt Jr. or Senator Wagoner's son, and yet we in Louisiana, who are real Democrats and believe in Jefferson ideals are stating that we do not want a two party system and that we want the Democratic Party to prevail, and I belong to that group who believes that the Democratic party is the poor man party, the farmer's party, small business man's party and the party of the laboring man, even if some of our leaders did go astray, because I know that the Republican party has never shown through its leadership and highest officials a sympathetic tendency for the average man, except in two instances, Abraham Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt.

So Mr. Editor, let's try to bring them back together and not be led by factional politicians who are dividing the party further apart every day and let us follow the same old policies of James A. Farley, Col. Robert Ewing, Gov. Newton C. Blanchard, Henry L. Fuqua and many others in this state who always adhered to the Democratic party, the party of the people of the south.

This letter is written in a spirit of friendliness by one who has more or less agreed in many instances with your paper but not in all, and yet respected the founder as the owner of your dailies. Consider again and go softer, Mr. Editor, and don't be influenced by gold spangled commentators, and remember, Mr. Editor, that you can catch more bees with a little cup of honey than you can with a whole barrel of vinegar.

Respectfully,

HARVEY G. FIELDS.

ADDED TO FBI LIST— Thomas Jackson Massingale, who is also known by three aliases, has been added to the Ten Most Wanted Fugitives list by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He is wanted for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for kidnaping.

Massingale On F. B. I.'s List Of Most-Wanted

Thomas Jackson Massingale has been added to the FBI's list of Ten Most Wanted Fugitives.

Shortly after midnight on May 14, 1953, Massingale and two fellow inmates fought their way out of the Kansas State Industrial Reformatory, Hutchinson, Kan., in an escape plotted and led by Massingale. In the early morning hours the trio accosted a guard as he walked past their cell. Wielding a club and a butcher knife, obtained from the prison kitchen where Massingale was assigned, the three inmates released themselves from the cell, forced the guard to disrobe and then bound him hand and foot. With the aid of the guard's .25 caliber pistol they overpowered another guard.

In their flight the convicts were pursued by police patrol cars, which had been alerted to the escape by radio, and to avoid capture they careened the stolen vehicle into a dead-end street near Wichita, Kan., leaving the hostage guard and fleeing on foot across an open field. The next day, their trail was picked up at Santa Rosa, N. Mex., with the recovery of an automobile stolen near the site of the abandoned vehicle at Wichita. Continuing their flight in another stolen car, the trio encountered patrols of the Guadalupe County, N. Mex. Sheriff's office and the New Mexico State Patrol and were forced to abandon their automobile in a fusillade of gunfire from the patrol officers. On the same day, May 15, 1953, two of the escapees were captured near Tucumcari, N. Mex., but Massingale again escaped on foot.

After state charges of kidnaping were filed against Massingale on May 23, 1953, at Hutchinson, Kan., local authorities requested the assistance of the FBI in locating this convict.

In November, 1951, Massingale was arrested in Oklahoma City, Okla., on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, and, upon conviction, was fined. On March 17, 1952, he was arrested in Wichita, Kan., on a robbery charge and, upon conviction of robbery second degree, was incarcerated on October 6, 1952, in the Kansas State Industrial Reformatory, Hutchinson, Kan., to serve a five to 10 years' sentence. He made his escape from this institution. In addition, Massingale has been convicted for reckless driving and vagrancy.

Investigation has reflected that Massingale planned to travel widely, after his escape, through Colorado and Illinois to the east coast and then settle down in hiding. In the past he reportedly commented about a desire to travel to Cuba.

Massingale was born on February 11, 1933, in Washita County, Okla. He is of slender build, weighing 160 pounds and standing 6'2" tall, with brown hair, blue eyes, and a medium complexion. Massingale terminated his education after the tenth grade and has been employed previously as a salesman and cook. This fugitive has a scar extending downward from the left corner of his left eye, cut scars on his chin, right thumb, right index finger and left thumb; and a burn scar on the front of the lower part of his right leg.

Massingale, who used weapons in the course of the jail break, should be considered armed and extremely dangerous. He may have in his possession the knife and .25 caliber pistol used in his escape.

Any person having information which might assist in locating this individual is requested to immediately notify the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Washington, D. C., or the special agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation Division nearest his city.

Theft Of Power Saw Is Reported

Monroe police reported the theft of a Black and Decker heavy duty power saw, valued at approximately $45 from the residence of J. M. McGough, located at 110 Hart Street, West Monroe, sometime between four and seven p.m. Friday.

According to police, Hart stated that some carpenters had been working at the house, and at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, he had seen the saw in the house. When he returned at 7 p.m. the saw was missing.

Winnsboro To Vote On Water Issue Tuesday

WINNSBORO, Nov. 21. (Special) —On Tuesday, November 24, the resident taxpaying voters of the town of Winnsboro, will go to the polls to vote on a $450,000 bond issue for the improvement and extension of the town water works.

The bond issue was approved on May 26, but town officials were unable to sell the bonds at the specified 4 per cent interest. In this election the interest rate will be 5 per cent.

The issue is divided into two propositions of $225,000 each. Proposition number one is for the construction of a new water treatment plant, new water wells, and the extension of existing water mains and water service.

Proposition number two is for the purpose of the construction of an elevated water tank, a ground storage reservoir, installation of fire hydrants, large water mains and fire pumps for fire protection, and the purchase of a necessary site upon which to locate same.

Mayor Robert F. Mulhearn and the Board of Aldermen are urging all property - taxpaying citizens of the town of Winnsboro to vote for this bond issue, as the proposed improvements are vital to the public safety and the general welfare of the community, and work on the projects should be started as soon as possible.

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Ann Landers: I am one of three mothers who think you are nothing but a homebreaker and should not have the right to be published in a newspaper. If you were a decent person you would not be telling kids to leave home before you hear two sides of the story. We are going to start a terrible rumpus and see that you are put out. You have no business advising young teen - agers. If you would allow people to settle their own troubles there would be a lot less heartaches in the world—Fed Up

Dear Ann: I thoroughly agree with the answer you gave to "Mother of Two Teen-Agers."

As a mother of three teen-agers I want you to know that you are doing one wonderful job. Our children and dad and I are discussing problems now and really learning what the children think about life since your column became a daily habit. We never dreamed of discussing them before we "discovered" you. Keep it up. My kids are taking things from you that they would call me "old-fashioned" for saying. Thanks, Ann. — Mrs. T. C.

Dear Ann Landers: After reading the letter from "Mother of Two Teen-Agers" I was ready to burn up. It is women like her who cause a veil of intrigue to be cast around the matter of sex. This leaves youngsters with a curiosity that leads only to fear and experimentation. She, then, blames the results on good people like you, who are trying to help; on newspapers, television, comics, etc., because she won't accept the blame whe e it belongs . . . on herself. As for kids reading your column, if they are old enough to understand the things they read there, they are old enough to know the facts of life. — Just Eighteen

Dear Mrs. Landers: When I was going to school I thought parents were old - fashioned, too, just like "Disgusted With Our Elders" does. Even when I was in high school I had to be in at 9:30 week nights and 11 Saturday nights. Now that I am 24, married and the mother of two children, I sure can see that my parents were right. — Mrs. L. B.

Dear Mrs. Landers: My problem is much the same as yours . . . trying to get obstinate parents to understand that they should not hide the truth from their children; truths that will help children progress mentally and socially. — Mr. H. B. M.

Dear Ann: Tell "Disgusted With Our Elders" for me that it only takes five minutes after that "good night kiss" to get into a jam (if you know what I mean). It happened to me. The boy left for the service and that was that. He refused to marry me. The baby is a boy and I have named him after his father! Tell those foolish, foolish girls not to be as big a fool as I was and that every line the boys hand out has only one ending. — Unwed Mother.

Dear Mrs. Landers: That black sheep, Bob S., ought to take a piece of advice from me. I am 27, have really been around and am ashamed of many things I did, too, but I changed my way of living a year ago. I joined a church and have been very successful. Now I am dating a girl who has been around, too, but has changed. She is unmarried and has a child, but together we are going to join forces and keep going on the upward path. It is the only way. — No Name

Dear Mrs. Landers: You surely dropped the ball on the answer you gave to Bob S. when you told him to change his tactics and when you raked him over the coals. I was running around, too, and woke up married at the age of 23 to a girl who liked the same things. We were married for two years . . . I know now they were the happiest two years of my life. One night at a party I strayed and strayed bad! She gave me all the rope I needed to hang myself and then nothing I could say or promise was good enough; she was through.

I then trod the straight and narrow and became a "good" man. A year after she remarried, I married a "good" girl . . . and I have never been so miserable! I never made a bigger mistake. I'd trade the whole 10 years I have been with her for 24 hours back with my first wife. I'd tell more, but the wife just came in and told me it is not good for me "to stay up so late!" See what I mean?—Clutcher

Auditor Criticizes State Racing Commission

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 21—UP—The Ascension parish school board and the State Racing Commission incurred official criticism in audit reports completed this week.

The school board audit showed a deficit of $25,495 for the year ending June 30, and the racing commission overspent by $2,444 for the same period.

Incurring deficits is illegal.

The Ascension school board had shown a $3,476 surplus for the previous fiscal year. Larry Babin, superintendent of schools for the period covered in this week's report, resigned June 30 and was succeeded by Gordon Webb.

The board spent $12.431 for portable bleachers and $14,263 for chairs and desks without alvertising for bids, as required by law on all purchases over $1,000 not of emergency nature.

During the same period covered by the State Racing Commission audit, Auditor Allison Kolb reported the Fair Grounds Corporation turned over $40,371 to the state treasury for unclaimed winning pari-mutuel tickets for the 1950-53 seasons.

Under an attorney general's ruling, the funds should go to the public administrator of Orleans parish, Kolb said.

The auditor said the "books and records of the commission, as usual, were maintained in excellent condition."

ASSISTANT EDITOR — Jo Rhodes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vance J. Rhodes of Monroe, has been named one of the assistant editors of the Gumbo, the Louisiana State University yearbook. Miss Rhodes is a member of Chi Omega social sorority and of the Newman Club.

Northeast State Host To Parish School Seniors

Northeast State played host this week to seniors from schools in Ouachita Parish in celebrating Library Week and National Book Week.

A phase of Library Week was given to the program of "Librarian For a Day," proclaimed by Gov. Robert F. Kennon.

Northeast participated in this statewide plan by taking visitors behind the scenes and giving them a better understanding of work in the field of library science.

Fourteen seniors from city, parish and parochial schools of the Twin Cities and the Calhoun High School visited the College library, where they spent a day studying and observing the routines under direction of Mrs. W. W. Ward, librarian.

Factors emphasized included ordering, circulating and processing books. Future librarians also were shown how to clean and splice films. Next came the showing of a film on the use of the card catalogue.

Following lunch, the students were divided into groups. Each group was given an initial clue, which led them to a book where a lead to the next volume was found. This game was continued until the final clue was found.

Activities were culminated with refreshments.

Librarians for a Day and the schools which they represented comprised: Earline Mathus and Lucy Ann Jackson of Neville; Betty Van, Joyce Smith and Gwen Osborn of Ouachita High; Barbara Rawls of West Monroe High; Patsy Boone and Vita Zagone of St. Matthew's; Margie Riser of St. Paschal's; Rebecca Foster, Mary Alice Kilpatrick, Louise Humble, Betty Lee White and Nelda Nolan, all of Calhoun High School.

Dorothy Russell Will Be Honored By Chicago Trip

Dorothy Lee Russell, 4-H member of the Calhoun 4-H Club, placed first in the State Food preparation contest and as an award will attend National Club Congress to be held in Chicago the first week of December. In Chicago Dorothy will compete for national honors.

PLACES FIRST IN FOOD PREPARATION—Shown above, Dorothy Lee Russell, who has been awarded a trip to Chicago to the National 4-H Club Congress because of her superior work in the local club.

Dorothy Lee has been a 4-H Club member for seven years and has done an outstanding job in her projects of food preparation, baking, poultry, and gardening. She served as secretary of her club last year and has recently been elected president of the Calhoun Senior Club.

Only 24 club members in the state are eligible to attend National Club Congress, and Ouachita Parish 4-H members are proud to be represented.

While in Chicago, Dorothy will be entertained by many national organizations and firms.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By SUE SHARMAN

"Dracula" starts it's last full week of rehearsal this Monday with show time only ten days away. The opening date for the world famous play of vampires and mystery has been set for Thursday evening, December 2.

And for all the ballyhoo we have had about it, the set is far from being completed as Director Feurstein has hoped it would be early in the show. The work party for Saturday afternoon had not materalized as the column went to press.

Sewing honors for this show go to board member Rus Kettenring's wife, Velma. "Dracula" requires more drapes than have ever been used on Little Theatre stage before and Velma took on the big job and had them finished by this weekend.

RANDOM NOTES . . . Speaking of the Kettenrings, they were in New Orleans over the weekend visiting daughter Ruth who has been ill. Velma ran into Margaret and reports that the Fontelieu's are doing just fine. She also says if you are down in New Orleans and turn on the radio, ten to one the voice you hear will be that of Stocker Fontelieu or Irving Zeidman . . . Glad to hear that Ruby Warner who was hospitalized this last week is back home again. A speedy recovery Ruby . . . The Ted Landhy's returned Friday from a three weeks vacation in their old home town of Nashville, Tenn. Ted got back in time to be paged for Little Theatre duty . . . congratulations to Louise and Dr. Llam who recently moved into their new home on Point Drive. Friends tell us it is oh! so beautiful and that just about every room has a picture window looking onto the bayou where the Klam's have their own dock . . . Lillie Glenn tells us that the Altrusa Club of Monroe-West Monroe, a classified service club of executive and professional women, will sponsor a benefit turkey dinner at Bond's Bakery (Catalpa and Harrison) today from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. for the benefit of Cerebral Palsy children in Northeast Louisiana. Let's go help the girls eat a tasty dinner of turkey (prepared by Thelma Bond), have fun; 'cause all of the proceeds will go for a very worthy cause. The entire proceeds of the event will be used in purchasing recreational equipment, supplies and aid to the cerebral palsied children in the Twin Cities and in northeast Louisiana. Remember the dinner is today, Sunday November 22, 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. . . . And in a very wee small, awh come on folks let's get the set for "Dracula" finished. Show time is drawing near and nearer.

Man Arrested For Natchez Slaying Three Years Old

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 21 (AP)—Police today arrested a man they said was wanted in Natchez, Miss., on a charge of killing Albert Collins, 31, on Oct. 20, 1950.

Detective Dan Mitola identified him as Jesse Buck, 46, Negro. Mitola said Buck told him he shot Collins in self-defense after Collins came at him with a knife in a quarrel. Buck said he then threw the pistol in the Mississippi River and hitchhiked west.

Two patrolmen said they arrested him after seeing the man in a tavern, and then finding his picture in fugitive records at headquarters.

Thanksgiving Service To Be Held Wednesday

WINNSBORO, Nov. 21. (Special)—The Rev. W. H. Bengtson, pastor of Winnsboro First Methodist Church and chairman of the inter - church committee of the annual community - wide Thanksgiving service has announced that the interdenominational Thanksgiving service will be conducted in the Winnsboro High School auditorium Wednesday, November 25, at 7 o'clock p.m.

Rabbi F. K. Hirsch of Monroe will deliver the Thanksgiving message. Rabbi Hirsch has been in the ministry 45 years and was recently honored with a reception in his honor, marking his 25th year in the pulpit of B'Nai Israel in Monroe.

On a rotation plan, a minister or speaker from each of the local churches or religious faiths, speaks to the congregation at the community Thanksgiving service. The public is invited.

The service Wednesday night will begin with a prelude by the Winnsboro High School band, under the direction of Franklin Parish band Director Therrell E. Hassell. The call to worship, "Now Thank We All Our God," will be sung by a mixed school ensemble led by Kendell Hearn. Mayor Robert F. Mulhearn will present a proclamation declaring the special observance as an official act of the town. The American Legion and V. F. W. will present the colors as the band plays the National Anthem.

Boy Scouts will lead the congregation in the pledge of allegiance, followed by the invocation by the Rev. H. K. Stringer of the Temple Baptist Church. The Rev. J. P. Kinnaman of the Free Methodist Church will direct the congregational hymn.

The Rev. C. B. Hall of the First Baptist Church, will lead the responsive reading; and after an offering taken for emergency help for the needy of the community, will give the offertory prayer.

After the sermon by Rabbi Hirsch, a responsive reading for world peace will be led by James C. Wiggins; prayer for peace, the Rev. Edwin Youngkin of St. Mary's Church; special music; benediction, the Rev. Bengtson; recessional, Winnsboro High School band; retiring of the colors by the color guard.

King And Queen Disappoint Crowd In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 21 (AP)—A group of disappointed and bitter Greek-Americans watched a train leave Birmingham early today without seeing King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece.

The reception committee blamed the royal couple's failure to appear on the honorary Greek Consul New Orleans.

The Greek consul, William Helis Jr., replied in New Orleans that no appearance was scheduled in Birmingham and that the King and Queen knew nothing about the waiter two crowded days in New Orleans two crowdel days in New Orleans.

The train carrying the royal couple stopped in Birmingham for 25 minutes. On hand was a welcoming committee. But the King and Queen did not appear.

"The Greek consul in New Orleans should be ashamed of himself," said Gus Gulas, co-chairman of the committee. "Hundreds of people were here. They just stood and waited—and for nothing."

And Mayor J. W. Morgan said, "Our Greek citizens should certainly inform the ambassador of the consul's neglect.

"I personally callel the consul yesterday and sent a long telegram concerning the arrangements."

Helis pictured it differently.

Showing a telegram from Morgan, dated the 16th, Helis said he told Morgan in a later telephone call that if Morgan did not hear from him (Helis) by the evening of the 19th (Thursday), the reception could not be arranged.

Mother And Son Die In Auto Crash

ABERDEEN, Miss., Nov. 21 (AP)—A Prairie, Miss., mother and her six-year-old son were killed today in a head-on automobile smashup on Highway 25 near here today.

The victims were identified by police as Mrs. H. L. Kimbahl and her son, Robert L. Kimbahl. They were riding in a car driven by the woman's husband.

Police said the second car was driven by Dr. P. B. Russell of Memphis, Tenn.

14 Persons Hurt, 5 Seriously, In Two Accidents

LAUREL, Miss., Nov. 21 (AP)—Fourteen persons were injured, five seriously, in two separate accidents within three hours near here, the highway patrol said today.

Investigating officers Jack Anderson and Merrill Pickering said the first accident happened at 9 a. m. on U. S. 84 three miles from Laurel and the second at noon on U. S. 11.

Eight were injured in the first accident, a collision between a pickup truck and an automobile.

They were identified as J. C. Thigpen of Summerland, 16 miles northwest of Laurel in Smith County; L. P. Stewart of Laurel; and six others the highway patrol identified only as Negroes.

Thigpen and Stewart were in serious condition, the patrol said, but the six Negroes, in three different clinics in Laurel, were not seriously hurt.

The second accident, a head-on crash between two cars, injured six.

The injured were Mayor Robert M. Sanders and his son, Robert E., Claude Lindsey and Earl Parker, all of Sandersville, in Jones County; and Billy Pate and Benny Dendy of Heidelberg, in Jasper County.

The patrol said the mayor, his son and Parker were in serious condition. All six were taken to Jones County Hospital in Laurel.

New Iberia Man Dies In Wreck

NEW IBERIA, La., Nov. 21—UP—A 44-year old New Iberia man was killed Saturday morning when his automobile slammed into the rear of a stalled sugar cane truck.

Jack H. Wilson, an employe of Gulf Interstate Co., was pronounced dead on arrival at Iberia General Hospital. He suffered chest injuries.

State police Sgt. J. Norris said charges of negligent homicide would be filed against the truck's owner, Marcus J. Broussard of New Iberia, and the driver, Gill Fontenot, 29.

Wilson was married and the father of an eight-months old daughter.

Tax Bills Now Chief Hurdle To School Program

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 21 (AP)—Mississippi's program to even up the caliber of schools for Negro and white children apparently had only one barrier between it and enactment this week — the tax-increasing bills to finance it.

The program itself broke through stiff opposition in the Senate last week and appeared to be headed for rapid approval when the lawmakers resume Monday, beginning the fourth week of the special session.

Gov. Hugh White predicted the major bills of the 33-measure program designed to give Negroes equal but separate schools in Mississippi will move successfully through both houses in the next two weeks.

The coming legislative week will be brief because of the Thanksgiving holidays.

The big guns pushing the program, in both the House and the Senate, say they will not willingly wait until the January regular session to finance the plan.

"I don't see anything to be gained by waiting," Rep. Tyler Holmes, chairman of the recess committee that wrote the program, commented.

Reps. Ney Gore of Quitman County and James Baxter of Lauderdale County and Sens. George Owen of Pontotoc and Frank Turman of Horn Lake all propose to push for final enactment of the entire program, including the tax bills.

But the question remains whether a three fifths majority can be mustered in the Senate to pass proposed tax increases, including a one-cent hike in the sales taxes; a cent-a-pack cigarette tax increase; and higher oil and gas severance taxes which are expected to yield about 18 million dollars a year.

The question of municipal aid—money for hard-pressed cities—has not been brought into the special session and probably will be put off if the tax bills are delayed until the regular session.

Meanwhile, White said he was studying recommendations for reorganizing the state government and added that he expects to ask the Legislature to consider his suggestions during the regular session.

In the interests of economy, he said, he may ask for dissolution of the present Mississippi Budget Commission, or at least a considerable re-shaping of that department and the creation of a central purchasing agency.

"I am certain that we could save considerable sums with a properly regulated purchasing agency and a budgetary system under which the governor would have control of the budget, with powers to cut back expenses in the danger of a deficit," he said.

Auto Race Brings Huge Traffic Jam In Mexico City

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 21 —UP—The biggest traffic jam in Mexican history tangled up an estimated 50,000 automobiles early Saturday when highways were closed for the Pan American road race.

Police estimated nearly 500,000 persons were delayed getting home as much as 10 hours when race spectators all started coming home at once.

Cars, buses and trucks were jammed in a double lane 40 miles long on the highway between Mexico City and Puebla after the running of Friday's third lap of the cross country race.

A woman gave birth to a girl in a Red Cross ambulance at the top of a chilly 8,000 foot pass. Voluntary Red Cross workers, who had been stationed along the race route to help wrecked race drivers, at first did not know what to do.

But the woman, mother of six other children, calmly gave directions. The birth was normal. The mother was not identified. She did not reach a hospital until well after midnight, six hours after the birth.

Police who estimated 50,000 cars were involved in the tangle said "apparently the large number of people who lined the highway to see the race all started home at once."

The highways were clogged from shortly after dusk until nearly 5 a.m. CST.

'Atomic Clock' Used To Measure Geological Age

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Atomic Age has given government geologists a more accurate way to look back into the prehistoric age.

The geological survey, an agency of the Interior Department, says it has an "Atomic Clock" that tells the age of old rock, fossilized plants or man-made objects by measuring the traces of radio active carbon left in them.

The survey hails this method as "one of the most fascinating achievements of the Atomic Age" and says it has opened "an entirely new approach to the study of the earth's past."

The technique first was worked out several years ago by Prof. W. M. Libby of the University of Chicago. The survey says it has been improved by Dr. Hans Suess, an Austrian-born physical chemist on its staff.

This new method, the survey says, has made age determinations up to 20,000 years "fairly common place." Furthermore, it said it holds promise of dating relics that go back 30,000 years.

Scientists used to believe that the great glaciers last moved across North America and Europe between 20,000 and 25,000 years ago. But the latest figures obtained by the clock place this event 11,000 years in the past.

It has been found that radioactive carbon is manufactured constantly by cosmic ray bombardment of nitrogen in the atmosphere. It then is absorbed by living things as carbon dioxide.

While an organism lives, it keeps a balance between radioactive and ordinary carbon. New hadio-carbon is added as fast as the old vanishes.

But when life ends, no more radiocarbon is added and, as the geological survey puts it: "The carbon clock runs down."

Auditor Criticizes State Racing Commission

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 21—UP—The Ascension parish school board and the State Racing Commission incurred official criticism in audit reports completed this week.

The school board audit showed a deficit of $25,495 for the year ending June 30, and the racing commission overspent by $2,444 for the same period.

Incurring deficits is illegal.

The Ascension school board had shown a $3,476 surplus for the previous fiscal year. Larry Babin, superintendent of schools for the period covered in this week's report, resigned June 30 and was succeeded by Gordon Webb.

The board spent $12,431 for portable bleachers and $14,263 for chairs and desks without alvertising for bids, as required by law on all purchases over $1,000 not of emergency nature.

During the same period covered by the State Racing Commission audit, Auditor Allison Kolb reported the Fair Grounds Corporation turned over $40,371 to the state treasury for unclaimed winning pari-mutuel tickets for the 1950-53 seasons.

Under an attorney general's ruling, the funds should go to the public administrator of Orleans parish, Kolb said.

The auditor said the "books and records of the commission, as usual, were maintained in excellent condition."

Northeast State Host To Parish School Seniors

Northeast State played host this week to seniors from schools in Ouachita Parish in celebrating Library Week and National Book Week.

A phase of Library Week was given to the program of "Librarian For a Day," proclaimed by Gov. Robert F. Kennon.

Northeast participated in this statewide plan by taking visitors behind the scenes and giving them a better understanding of work in the field of library science.

Fourteen seniors from city, parish and parochial schools of the Twin Cities and the Calhoun High School visited the College library, where they spent a day studying and observing the routines under direction of Mrs. W. W. Ward, librarian.

Factors emphasized included ordering, circulating and processing books. Future librarians also were shown how to clean and splice films. Next came the showing of a film on the use of the card catalogue.

Following lunch, the students were divided into groups. Each group was given an initial clue, which led them to a book where a lead to the next volume was found. This game was continued until the final clue was found.

Activities were culminated with refreshments.

Dorothy Russell Will Be Honored By Chicago Trip

Dorothy Lee Russell, 4-H member of the Calhoun 4-H Club, placed first in the State Food preparation contest and as an award will attend National Club Congress to be held in Chicago the first week of December. In Chicago Dorothy will compete for national honors.

Dorothy Lee has been a 4-H Club member for seven years and has done an outstanding job in her projects of food preparation, baking, poultry, and gardening. She served as secretary of her club last year and has recently been elected president of the Calhoun Senior Club.

Only 24 club members in the state are eligible to attend National Club Congress, and Ouachita Parish 4-H members are proud to be represented.

While in Chicago, Dorothy will be entertained by many national organizations and firms.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By SUE SHARMAN

"Dracula" starts it's last full week of rehearsal this Monday with show time only ten days away. The opening date for the world famous play of vampires and mystery has been set for Thursday evening, December 2.

And for all the ballyhoo we have had about it, the set is far from being completed as Director Feurstein has hoped it would be early in the show. The work party for Saturday afternoon had not materalized as the column went to press.

Sewing honors for this show go to board member Rus Kettenring's wife, Velma. "Dracula" requires more drapes than have ever been used on Little Theatre stage before and Velma took on the big job and had them finished by this weekend.

RANDOM NOTES . . . Speaking of the Kettenrings, they were in New Orleans over the weekend visiting daughter Ruth who has been ill. Velma ran into Margaret and reports that the Fontelieu's are doing just fine. She also says if you are down in New Orleans and turn on the radio, ten to one the voice you hear will be that of Stocker Fontelieu or Irving Zeidman . . . Glad to hear that Ruby Warner who was hospitalized this last week is back home again. A speedy recovery Ruby . . . The Ted Landhy's returned Friday from a three weeks vacation in their old home town of Nashville, Tenn. Ted got back in time to be paged for Little Theatre duty . . . congratulations to Louise and Dr. Llam who recently moved into their new home on Point Drive. Friends tell us it is oh! so beautiful and that just about every room has a picture window looking onto the bayou where the Klam's have their own dock . . . Lillie Glenn tells us that the Altrusa Club of Monroe-West Monroe, a classified service club of executive and professional women, will sponsor a benefit turkey dinner at Bond's Bakery (Catalpa and Harrison) today from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. for the benefit of Cerebral Palsy children in Northeast Louisiana. Let's go help the girls eat a tasty dinner of turkey (prepared by Thelma Bond), have fun; 'cause all of the proceeds will go for a very worthy cause. The entire proceeds of the event will be used in purchasing recreational equipment, supplies and aid to the cerebral palsied children in the Twin Cities and in northeast Louisiana. Remember the dinner is today, Sunday November 22, 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. . . . And in a very wee small, awh come on folks let's get the set for "Dracula" finished. Show time is drawing near and nearer.

King And Queen Disappoint Crowd In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 21 (AP)—A group of disappointed and bitter Greek-Americans watched a train leave Birmingham early today without seeing King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece.

The reception committee blamed the royal couple's failure to appear on the honorary Greek Consul New Orleans.

The Greek consul, William Helis Jr., replied in New Orleans that no appearance was scheduled in Birmingham and that the King and Queen knew nothing about the waiter two crowded days in New Orleans two crowdel days in New Orleans.

Police said the second car was driven by Dr. P. B. Russell of Memphis, Tenn.

Man Arrested For Natchez Slaying Three Years Old

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 21 (AP)—Police today arrested a man they said was wanted in Natchez, Miss., on a charge of killing Albert Collins, 31, on Oct. 20, 1950.

Detective Dan Mitola identified him as Jesse Buck, 46, Negro. Mitola said Buck told him he shot Collins in self-defense after Collins came at him with a knife in a quarrel. Buck said he then threw the pistol in the Mississippi River and hitchhiked west.

Two patrolmen said they arrested him after seeing the man in a tavern, and then finding his picture in fugitive records at headquarters.

Thanksgiving Service To Be Held Wednesday

WINNSBORO, Nov. 21. (Special)—The Rev. W. H. Bengtson, pastor of Winnsboro First Methodist Church and chairman of the inter - church committee of the annual community - wide Thanksgiving service has announced that the interdenominational Thanksgiving service will be conducted in the Winnsboro High School auditorium Wednesday, November 25, at 7 o'clock p.m.

Rabbi F. K. Hirsch of Monroe will deliver the Thanksgiving message. Rabbi Hirsch has been in the ministry 45 years and was recently honored with a reception in his honor, marking his 25th year in the pulpit of B'Nai Israel in Monroe.

On a rotation plan, a minister or speaker from each of the local churches or religious faiths, speaks to the congregation at the community Thanksgiving service. The public is invited.

The service Wednesday night will begin with a prelude by the Winnsboro High School band, under the direction of Franklin Parish band Director Therrell E. Hassell. The call to worship, "Now Thank We All Our God," will be sung by a mixed school ensemble led by Kendell Hearn. Mayor Robert F. Mulhearn will present a proclamation declaring the special observance as an official act of the town. The American Legion and V. F. W. will present the colors as the band plays the National Anthem.

Boy Scouts will lead the congregation in the pledge of allegiance, followed by the invocation by the Rev. H. K. Stringer of the Temple Baptist Church. The Rev. J. P. Kinnaman of the Free Methodist Church will direct the congregational hymn.

The Rev. C. B. Hall of the First Baptist Church, will lead the responsive reading; and after an offering taken for emergency help for the needy of the community, will give the offertory prayer.

After the sermon by Rabbi Hirsch, a responsive reading for world peace will be led by James C. Wiggins; prayer for peace, the Rev. Edwin Youngkin of St. Mary's Church; special music; benediction, the Rev. Bengtson; recessional, Winnsboro High School band; retiring of the colors by the color guard.

Shooting And Slashings Follow Petty Quarrels

One Negro was shot Friday night because of hanging his coat on a rack and another was badly slashed because of his refusal to lend a Negro a dime, the Monroe police department reported Saturday morning.

Samuel Williams was shot in the lower region of the abdomen, outside of the White Owl Cafe, located on Ouachita Avenue, about 1 p.m. Friday. According to police, Williams stated that he had gone into the White Owl Cafe, and was hanging his coat on a rack when Robert Lennon, 47, of 810 Calypso, approached Williams and told him that he owned the cafe, and that his permission was necessary for Williams to hang his coat on the rack. The two Negroes got into a heated argument and Lennon asked Williams outside to settle the affair.

Once outside, Williams anl Lennon began fist-fighting, and Williams had Lennon on the ground, apparently winning the battle, when Lennon told Williams to stop striking him, that he had had enough. Williams let the other Negro get up, and had walked away from him when some one yelled to Williams to turn around. As he did so, Lennon fired a pistol four times, at Williams, wounding him in the lower part of the abdomen. Williams then took the pistol away from Lennon, when another gun was nudged into his back, and an unidentified person ordered Williams to drop the gun on the ground and to leave.

Williams was taken to the Charity hospital by police officers and Lennon was arrested for aggravated battery.

Police report stated that a witness to the cutting, Robert Hill, 118 DeSiard Street, stated that gaged in a heated argument. Page the coin, the two men became engagel in a heated argument. Page is wanted by the city police department for aggravated battery.

Monroe Girl Engineer Pupil With Many Men

A blues-singing beauty and a Monroe girl, Miss Manzie Guerriero of 307 Glenmar Street, bears the distinction of being the only girl enrolled in the school of engineering at Southern Methodist University in Dallas. Miss Guerriero alternates her campus routine between such divergent tasks as beating out the right tempo for swing to figuring stress and strain tolerances for a suspension bridge.

With 600 men as classmates, Manzie has sometimes been caught in a situation in which even calculus can't help.

For instance, she once received a bid and a request to send in a $10 registration fee to be initiated into a fraternity.

Despite the predominance of males in her planned professional career as a civil engineer, Miss Guerriero expressed a preference for distaff social organizations.

She is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

"But the boys are all real sweet and nice," she said.

Her current studies, she admitted, probably would not have much application to a conventional career as a housewife. They include hydraulics, dynamics, concrete lab and the history of the United States before 1865.

But she takes an active part in other campus activities. An accomplished blues singer, she plans to have her own show as soon as the college station, KSMU, begins broadcasting. She is also a member of the homecoming committee and Student Union Committee.

Miss Guerriero, who transferred to SMU after two years at Vanderbilt, says that as a coed seeking a CE degree she failed to start out with any extra aptitude.

"The slide rule gave me a lot of trouble my first year," she said. "At first all I was able to get for two times two was three-point-seven."

Doctor Describes Ike's Health As Good For His Age

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (AP)—The physician who has attended President Eisenhower since 1945 said today that the chief executive is as healthy as he was 14 months ago—and that he is not suffering from heart disease.

The report was made by Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder at a conference of the New York Heart Assn.

The main thing troubling the President now, Snyder said, is "a very modest form of what is known as 'tennis elbow.'"

The White House doctor described that to a newsman as an inflammation of an elbow muscle. He said it resulted from a bruise last August and keeps coming back because such presidential activities as handshaking won't give the muscle a chance to rest.

But golfing doesn't bother it, Snyder added.

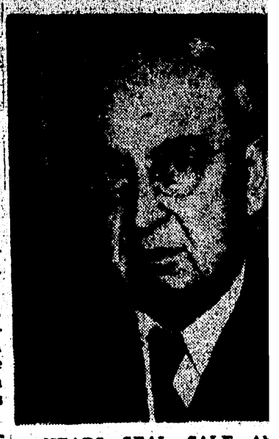

Snyder took note of what he called "reports which have no validity emanating from certain columnists and radio commentators to the effect that the President is suffering from cardiovascular disease."

Cardiovascular pertains to the heart and blood vessels.

"The President's cardiovascular system has been thoroughly examined by specialists—in the Army, Navy and civilian life—at approximately annual intervals since I first made supervision of his health my responsibility in October, 1945.

"In all of these examinations, the findings indicate that our President shows less evidence of the ravages of time and stress than is anticipated in a man of his age."

Joint Fiscal Committee Of Legislature Named To Study Money Problems

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Louisiana legislators who shape money bills organized a joint fiscal committee today to tackle state spending problems before the 1954 Legislature. The public and press were invited to play a part.

Some 27 members of the Senate Finance and House Appropriations committees, the men who handle appropriations before the measures go to flood action, began thrashing out the way they will approach their task.

First action was a decision to name a steering committee to determine how, when and where meetings will be held, and how often.

A special session this summer authorized the two committees to get together before the 1954 session and work in advance on the state budget.

Rep. Bryan Lehman Jr. of St. Charles Parish, House appropriations leader, was named chairman of the new joint group. He described the advance studies as "information seeking."

Sen. Charles Tooke Jr. of Shreveport, Senate finance leader, was named vice chairman of the fiscal group.

Tooke, one of the original organizers, reminded lawmakers that criticism had arisen over the fact the Legislature has too little time to devote to spending measures.

"We have two objectives now," he explained. "We hope with these advance hearings and studies on financial matters to make more time available in the Legislature for consideration of general legislation.

"We hope to offer more opportunity to the public, to civic clubs, to the press and to the department heads to give detailed consideration to our state budget under preparation.

"We have been handicapped in the past in that the public and press have been able to offer constructive criticism on our state spending only in a general way. And because such comments were general, it usually stirred a reaction in the Legislature that they just didn't understand why our decisions were made the way they were.

"We hope these meetings will encourage the public and press to come forth with specific comments on our proposed state budget."

Under state law, the governor must prepare the executive budget with help of his fiscal officers. Gov. Robert Kennon has indicated he will give the new joint fiscal committee a free hand in helping prepare the budget.

The 1954 Legislature must appropriate the money that will operate the government in fiscal years 1954-56.

Tooke, in outlining some of his views for the joint group's consideration, explained:

"We hope the efficiency of this group and the weight which its recommendations will have in the next regular session will determine whether Louisiana needs split sessions of the Legislature."

There has been considerable talk about changing the present meetings of a regular 60-day session every two years.

The committee took under consideration proposals that the steering committee form permanent subcommittees on policy matters, anticipated revenues, capital improvements at state colleges and institutions and administrative operations.

Lawmakers also discussed the possibility of naming special subcommittees to work on assigned problems.

State agencies are working on their budgets now and will submit them by Jan. 1.

Cobb New Head Of Broadcasters

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 21 (AP)—The Louisiana Association of Broadcasters convention today elected William L. Cobb of Alexandria radio station KALB as president. He succeeds Newton Wray, KTBS, Shreveport.

Also elected were Frank H. Ford KENT, Shreveport, vice-president, and Jerry Hamm, KANE, New Iberia, secretary-treasurer.

The convention discussed advertising promotion and heard a report by the Public Affairs Research Council on the Louisiana welfare program.

Seating Ordinance For Buses Upheld By District Judge

BATON ROUGE (AP) — District Judge Charles Holcombe upheld a city ordinance today governing seating of whites and Negroes which a Negro group had attacked as "invalid."

The capital city several months ago saw white bus drivers strike in protest that the city law existing then created trouble in seating passengers.

They contended the law was against requirements of state segregation laws which call for separate seating of the two races.

The formal ordinance allowed Negroes to seat from the rear and whites from the front—which meant Negroes could fill all seats on a first come basis.

Although the races were not allowed to sit side by side, the attorney general held the law violated state segregation requirements.

After some controversy, the City Council revised the ordinance and specifically reserved two front seats for whites and the long rear seat for Negroes. Seating on a first come basis and from front and rear was retained.

The judge held courts should not interfere with municipal administrative acts unless they were "capricious, arbitrary or manifestly unjust."

He said the council had acted fairly and in good faith and the new ordinance was valid.

The United Defense League, a Negro group which organized free rides for Negroes when they boycotted the busses during the short strike, contended through attorneys the old law should be restored. The league argued that the fromer law was not in conflict with segregation and the new version was not approved according to the city plan of government.

Negro Student To Re-Enter LSU In Next Few Days

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 21—UP—A 17-year old Negro student, the first of his race ever to be admitted to Louisiana State University's undergraduate school, awaited legal action Saturday that will permit him to resume his studies at the university "in about a week."

The student, Alexander P. Tureaud Jr., who gained admittance to the university by an injunction, later had his registration canceled by a Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals ruling. The U.S. Supreme Court in turn issued a mandate which stayed execution of the appeals court judgment.

The youth's father, a New Orleans attorney, said that his son should be able to go back to the university at Baton Rouge "in about a week."

"We are waiting for the Supreme Court mandate to be complied with," the youth's father said.

Young Tureaud was ordered admitted to LSU by District Judge J. Skelly Wright on the grounds that equal educational facilities were not available elsewhere in the state.

The appeals court, however, ruled that the case should have been heard by three judges instead of one.

LSU canceled the student's registration on the basis of the appeals ruling. But the Smpreme Court, in effect, permitted the student to resume his studies by staying the execution of judgment of the appeals court ruling, pending a final determination of the case.

SMALL CRAFT WARNED

Dean Asks Reds To Clarify Stand On Peace Talks

PANMUNJOM, Saturday, Nov. 21—UP—U. S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean will give the Communists until early next week to clarify their plan for neutral nations to attend the Korean peace conference before he labels it "propaganda," reliable Allied sources said Saturday.

Dean has said the Communist plan for participation of neutrals at the peace conference is a basis for negotiating arrangements for the talks.

But, the sources said he wants the Communists to prove their good faith by clarifying the suggestion. Otherwise, the sources said, the United Nations will be forced to conclude the communists made the suggestions merely to embarrass the Allies before Asian neutral nations.

Dean will again press the Communist delegation to the preliminary talks on conference arrangements to explain their proposal at Saturday's meeting of the envoys.

The Communists Tuesday proposed that:

1. The Korean conference should be one "between the two sides of equal footing."

2. All conference decisions would require unanimous agreement by both sides, and

Catholic Bishops Condemn Cult Of 'Flesh Deifiers'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (AP) —The Roman Catholic Bishops of the United States said tonight a process of degradation "is viciously at work in our country, where the deification of the flesh continues to enlist new devotees."

"Through its liturgy of advertisement, entertainment, and literature," they said, "this cult bids fair to corrode our national sense of decency."

The Bishops' statement was issued at the close of their annual meeting here. In it they took cognizance of what they termed the "growing depersonalization of man" and reaffirmed "Man's essential dignity and . . . the rights which flow from it."

Seven New Cases Of Polio Reported

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 21—UP—The Louisiana State Department of Health Saturday reported seven new cases of polio in Louisiana, bringing the total for 1953 to 417 cases.

Six of the cases covered in the report, for the week ended Nov. 14, were paralytic and one non-paralytic.

Only five cases were reported the previous week, two of them paralytic and three non-paralytic.

New cases were in Webster, Caddo, Claiborne and East Baton Rouge parishes, the latter reporting four paralytic cases.

The department also reported one new case of meningitis, in DeSoto parish. Total meningitis cases so far this year is 105.

Mitchell Says GOP Trying To Divert Public

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — The American people will weigh the Republican party's record against its promises despite "desperate attempts to divert attention from the real issues," Stephen Mitchell said last night.

The Democratic national chairman quoted his Republican counterpart, Leonard Hall, as saying communism would be the issue in the 1954 elections and asked this question:

"Does Mr. Hall mean that the Republicans are against communism but we are in favor of it?

"If communism were truly an issue between the two parties then somebody would have to be in favor of it and somebody against it," Mitchell told a dinner meeting of Kansas Democrats.

"Does he mean that they are patriots but the Democratic party, composed of more than half the people of this country are something else?

"Does he mean that they are opposed to having spies in government, but we are in favor of them?"

Mitchell said the Harry Dexter White controversy was a "political diversion" to cover up what he called the GOP involvement in scandals in New York and New Jersey and with farm problems.

"Whatever you may think of the administration's judgment in keeping White on the job and under surveillance for a year after he was accused, consider how many times that case was exposed," in congressional committee meetings and campaigns.

"You wouldn't think it could be exposed again," he said.

Ousted Educator To Address LEA's 59th Convention

LAFAYETTE, La., Nov. 21 (AP)—Willard E. Goslin, ousted superintendent of schools at Pasadena, Calif., will be the principal speaker at the 59th annual convention of the Louisiana Education Association (LEA) starting here Monday.

Goslin now chairman of education administration at Peabody Teachers College at Nashville, Tenn., will talk Tuesday night on "The Role of Public Education in America."

He was asked to resign his Pasadena post in 1950 after a proposed school tax increase was defeated and a group of citizens charged he was "too progressive."

Radio Executive Discounts TV As Competition

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Louisiana radio men faced the threat of television here today and one official predicted that radio would remain in a healthier condition than TV in the long run.

Speaking before the sixth annual convention of the Louisiana Association of Broadcasters, Benton Paschall of New Orleans added that "Already, many clients are finding the high cost of really effective television advertising out of their reach."

Paschall, who is vice president and general manager of WNOE, said, "Clients will realize more and more that radio (instead of television) can give them the returns they seek."

Safe Burglars Get $10,000 In Cash

HOLLENDALE, Miss., Nov. 21 (AP) —Safe burglars bored through the side of a grocery store building today and escaped with more than $10,000 in cash, the victim estimated.

Mitchell Showah, owner of the grocery store on U. S. 61 here, discovered his loss at opening time today.

The burglars bored through the side of the building to gain entrance, then chiseled and hammered the strongbox open.

Showah said the burglars took $8,000 in currency ranging in size from $100 to $1 bills, and about $2,000 in change.

Joint Fiscal Committee Of Legislature Named To Study Money Problems

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Louisiana legislators who shape money bills organized a joint fiscal committee today to tackle state spending problems before the 1954 Legislature. The public and press were invited to play a part.

Some 27 members of the Senate Finance and House Appropriations committees, the men who handle appropriations before the measures go to flood action, began thrashing out the way they will approach their task.

First action was a decision to name a steering committee to determine how, when and where meetings will be held, and how often.

A special session this summer authorized the two committees to get together before the 1954 session and work in advance on the state budget.

Rep. Bryan Lehman Jr. of St. Charles Parish, House appropriations leader, was named chairman of the new joint group. He described the advance studies as "information seeking."

Sen. Charles Tooke Jr. of Shreveport, Senate finance leader, was named vice chairman of the fiscal group.

Tooke, one of the original organizers, reminded lawmakers that criticism had arisen over the fact the Legislature has too little time to devote to spending measures.

"We have two objectives now," he explained. "We hope with these advance hearings and studies on financial matters to make more time available in the Legislature for consideration of general legislation.

"We hope to offer more opportunity to the public, to civic clubs, to the press and to the department heads to give detailed consideration to our state budget under preparation.

"We have been handicapped in the past in that the public and press have been able to offer constructive criticism on our state spending only in a general way. And because such comments were general, it usually stirred a reaction in the Legislature that they just didn't understand why our decisions were made the way they were.

"We hope these meetings will encourage the public and press to come forth with specific comments on our proposed state budget."

Under state law, the governor must prepare the executive budget with help of his fiscal officers. Gov. Robert Kennon has indicated he will give the new joint fiscal committee a free hand in helping prepare the budget.

The 1954 Legislature must appropriate the money that will operate the government in fiscal years 1954-56.

Tooke, in outlining some of his views for the joint group's consideration, explained:

"We hope the efficiency of this group and the weight which its recommendations will have in the next regular session will determine whether Louisiana needs split sessions of the Legislature."

There has been considerable talk about changing the present meetings of a regular 60-day session every two years.

The committee took under consideration proposals that the steering committee form permanent subcommittees on policy matters, anticipated revenues, capital improvements at state colleges and institutions and administrative operations.

Lawmakers also discussed the possibility of naming special subcommittees to work on assigned problems.

State agencies are working on their budgets now and will submit them by Jan. 1.

Seating Ordinance For Buses Upheld By District Judge

BATON ROUGE (AP) — District Judge Charles Holcombe upheld a city ordinance today governing seating of whites and Negroes which a Negro group had attacked as "invalid."

The capital city several months ago saw white bus drivers strike in protest that the city law existing then created trouble in seating passengers.

They contended the law was against requirements of state segregation laws which call for separate seating of the two races.

The formal ordinance allowed Negroes to seat from the rear and whites from the front—which meant Negroes could fill all seats on a first come basis.

Although the races were not allowed to sit side by side, the attorney general held the law violated state segregation requirements.

After some controversy, the City Council revised the ordinance and specifically reserved two front seats for whites and the long rear seat for Negroes. Seating on a first come basis and from front and rear was retained.

The judge held courts should not interfere with municipal administrative acts unless they were "capricious, arbitrary or manifestly unjust."

He said the council had acted fairly and in good faith and the new ordinance was valid.

The United Defense League, a Negro group which organized free rides for Negroes when they boycotted the busses during the short strike, contended through attorneys the old law should be restored. The league argued that the fromer law was not in conflict with segregation and the new version was not approved according to the city plan of government.

Negro Student To Re-Enter LSU In Next Few Days

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 21—UP—A 17-year old Negro student, the first of his race ever to be admitted to Louisiana State University's undergraduate school, awaited legal action Saturday that will permit him to resume his studies at the university "in about a week."

The student, Alexander P. Tureaud Jr., who gained admittance to the university by an injunction, later had his registration canceled by a Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals ruling. The U.S. Supreme Court in turn issued a mandate which stayed execution of the appeals court judgment.

The youth's father, a New Orleans attorney, said that his son should be able to go back to the university at Baton Rouge "in about a week."

"We are waiting for the Supreme Court mandate to be complied with," the youth's father said.

Young Tureaud was ordered admitted to LSU by District Judge J. Skelly Wright on the grounds that equal educational facilities were not available elsewhere in the state.

The appeals court, however, ruled that the case should have been heard by three judges instead of one.

LSU canceled the student's registration on the basis of the appeals ruling. But the Smpreme Court, in effect, permitted the student to resume his studies by staying the execution of judgment of the appeals court ruling, pending a final determination of the case.

Dean Asks Reds To Clarify Stand On Peace Talks

PANMUNJOM, Saturday, Nov. 21—UP—U. S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean will give the Communists until early next week to clarify their plan for neutral nations to attend the Korean peace conference before he labels it "propaganda," reliable Allied sources said Saturday.

Dean has said the Communist plan for participation of neutrals at the peace conference is a basis for negotiating arrangements for the talks.

But, the sources said he wants the Communists to prove their good faith by clarifying the suggestion. Otherwise, the sources said, the United Nations will be forced to conclude the communists made the suggestions merely to embarrass the Allies before Asian neutral nations.

Dean will again press the Communist delegation to the preliminary talks on conference arrangements to explain their proposal at Saturday's meeting of the envoys.

The Communists Tuesday proposed that:

1. The Korean conference should be one "between the two sides of equal footing."

2. All conference decisions would require unanimous agreement by both sides, and

3. "The five neutral nations concerned"—the Soviet Union, India, Pakistan, Burma and Indonesia—must participate at the conference.

Doctor Describes Ike's Health As Good For His Age

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (AP)—The physician who has attended President Eisenhower since 1945 said today that the chief executive is as healthy as he was 14 months ago—and that he is not suffering from heart disease.

The report was made by Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder at a conference of the New York Heart Assn.

The main thing troubling the President now, Snyder said, is "a very modest form of what is known as 'tennis elbow.'"

The White House doctor described that to a newsman as an inflammation of an elbow muscle. He said it resulted from a bruise last August and keeps coming back because such presidential activities as handshaking won't give the muscle a chance to rest.

But golfing doesn't bother it, Snyder added.

Snyder took note of what he called "reports which have no validity emanating from certain columnists and radio commentators to the effect that the President is suffering from cardiovascular disease."

Cardiovascular pertains to the heart and blood vessels.

"The President's cardiovascular system has been thoroughly examined by specialists — in the Army, Navy and civilian life—at approximately annual intervals since I first made supervision of his health my responsibility in October, 1945.

"In all of these examinations, the findings indicate that our President shows less evidence of the ravages of time and stress than is anticipated in a man of his age."

Monroe will be called upon for a "declaration of intent" to play or pull out when the Cotton States League directors meet with Al Haraway, the circuit president, here tomorrow at noon at Hotel Virginia. It appears safe to say that Monroe, having already sold better than $16,000 in stock for a proposed company to take over the franchise surrendered here by Shreveport owners, will say, "We are ready to go."

Haraway, the Helena, Ark., cotton planter who heads the circuit, transferred the fall meeting to Monroe from Greenville, with approval of the directors, in hopes that they will be able to further stimulate interest in keeping baseball here. The men, women and business firms who have responded with stock purchases will be offered the final say on organization of a Twin City club at a stockholders' meeting, called by Dr. W. L. Bendel, temporary chairman, for Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at Hotel Virginia.

If the stockholders decide to tackle the organizational task, it will be to the best interest of the club to select to the board of directors men, or women, who are keenly interested in the welfare of the club and who can be counted on to be devoted to the task of furnishing the Twin Cities with the kind of baseball club we want. We could name better than half a dozen men right now who certainly should be on the board because of their tireless efforts in promoting this franchise-saving drive, but we don't think the stockholders need to be told and we won't be accused of trying to influence the voting by naming them. We feel sure the right men for the right jobs will be the choice of the stockholders if they make the organizational effort.

The game Class B football followers of this area have been awaiting all season comes up in the little Tensas parish town of Waterproof Thursday afternoon as the Waterproof Tigers and the Ferriday Bulldogs celebrate Thanksgiving in a battle that will determine the northeast Louisiana "B" champion. Ferriday, for many years a contender, got as far as the state semi-finals last year for the first time, and rules as the district's defending champion, but Waterproof can find plenty of support that the Tigers are in a good position to repeat performances of 1935 and 1936 when Waterproof was successively runner-up for the state championship.

Louis Preis and J. D. Stockstill, ramrods of the Waterproof backfield, and reminding Tiger supporters of those backfield greats Coach Stathum Crosby (now Waterproof principal) showed on those fine teams of the 1930s that lost both state final appearances to the same team, Vinton, by one-point margins. Certainly Waterproof has never had backs like Willie Bennett, Almond Marron, Parker Wiggins, Bob Fife, Robert Lancaster, or Paul Welsh, the backs "Coach" Crosby remembers so well, until Preis and Stockstill came over the horizon.

But Ferriday is going to have plenty to say about how far Waterproof rises. The Bulldogs again show a fine backfield in Guy Hill, Bobby Harmon, and Clyde Webber to match the Tigers' best. Although the Tigers will have a starting lineup that is possibly capable of matching the Bulldogs man for man, Ferriday will show a greater depth in capable replacements.

Rember how Monroe and West Monroe fans had never heard of a guy named Ed Head, a product of Ouachita's Ward 9, until he was cracking the major leagues with the Brooklyn Dodgers? Remember the story, as Head reached success, of "Poco" Taitt, then manager of the Monroe White Sox of the C. S. L., showing such concern when he opined, 'How in the world did we ever miss a guy like Head?' Well, Saul Adler has finally let the story out on how Monroe lost Head, and it seems "Ole Poco," knew all the time how he missed Ed. Adler told the assembly at the Optimist Club's baseball dinner Friday that a young fellow came to his place of business and asked how to go about getting a tryout with Monroe. He said his name was Ed Head.

Adler told the embryo ball player to go see Taitt. Head did just that and was told Monroe "has all the ball players we need." Thus Head went to the Evangeline League where he attracted the Dodgers' attention. Also Friday, Head revealed he brought the subject up again with Adler when he read where Poco had made that remark about how he ever missed a player in his own backyard. Head said he reminded Adler how Taitt had brushed him off.

Then, said Ed, "Saul told me, 'don't ever tell that story now.' " Well, Adler told the story himself, so now we know why Monroe never had Ed Head pitching for those White Sox of the late 1930s.

Illini Thump 'Cats, Win Share Of Big Ten Title

By JERRY LISKA

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 21 (AP)—Illinois used J. C. Caroline as devastating decoy in smashing to 39-14 closing Big Ten victory over Northwestern which earned a title share and Rose Bowl consideration with Michigan State today.

A 21-point third quarter made the game an Illini waltz in which Caroline, the nation's leading rusher, did not score until his four-yard smash for a 33-7 lead late in the third period.

This was a "must" triumph for Illinois because Michigan State had finished last week with a 5-1 league record.

Bouncing back from its only loss of the entire season—a 34-7 licking by Wisconsin last Saturday — Illinois had four different players scoring, end John Ryan and fullback Ken Miller getting two touchdowns each.

Taking no chances, even after three touchdowns in the third period provided them a 39-7 lead, the Illini kept in its regulars until deep into the final quarter.

Northwestern	0	0	7	7—14

Illinois scoring: Touchdowns, Ryan 2, Miller 2, Wallace, Caroline. Conversions, Miller 3.

L. S. U. Squeezes Past Arkansas, 9 To 8

Davis Field Goal Provides Margin For Bayou Tigers

By CARL BELL

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 21 (AP)—Louisiana State's Tigers threatened to run the Arkansas Razorbacks off the field with a terrific offense at the start but needed two dogged goal line stands to preserve a 9-8 intersectional football victory in the mud here today.

Twice in the fourth quarter Arkansas pounded its way to the L.S.U. one, of the drives going 88 yards but was unable to punch over the winning point.

The Tigers took the open kickoff and rolled 68 yards to a touchtouchdown in 12 plays. Jerry Marchand, a bull-like fullback, led the rush and George Brancato scored from the two.

Cliff Stringfield's kick for a point was no good.

Arkansas tied it up 6-6 before the end of the first quarter when tackle Jim Roth blocked and recovered Al Doggett's punt in the L.S.U. end zone.

The visitors from the Southeastern Conference went ahead to stay on freshman Tommy Davis' 21-yard field goal in the opening minutes of the second period.

An intentional safety in the last four minutes gave Arkansas two points but got L.S.U. out of a hole on its five.

A crowd of 22,00 turned out for what looked at first like a scoring jamboree, but rain, which began in the second quarter, chased most of them away and less than 10,000 were on hand to see the Tigers dodge Arkansas lightning in the final period.

Lamar McHan, the Razorbacks multi-talented tailback and Southwest Conference total offense leader, and fullback Henry Moore sparked the power drive that carried from the Arkansas 11 to the L.S.U. one.

McHan had a first down easily on a six-yard end run to the one but fumbled when he was hit. The ball rolled through the end zone and off the field for a touchback.

The next time they got the ball, the Razorbacks stormed back to the two, mainly on a 22-yard run by Moore. On fourth down, McHan was stopped inches from the goal. The Tigers got out to the five in two power plays. Then, rather than to risk a fumble, Doggett loped across the end zone until Red Warren tackled him for a safety.

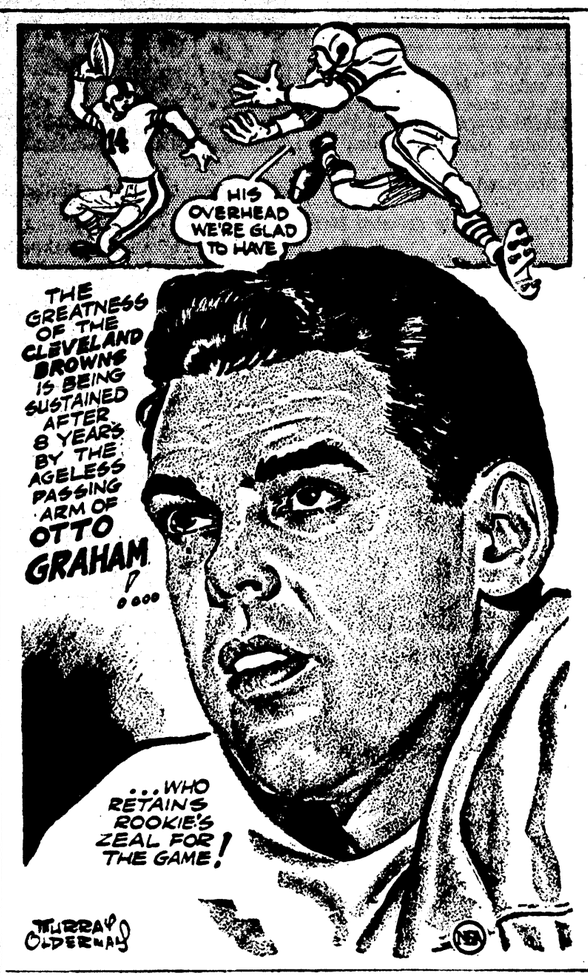

Marchand was the man who wrecked Arkansas offensive. He made 105 of L.S.U.'s 163 yards rushing and caught three passes for 41 more.

Score by quarters:

L.S.U.	6	3	0	0—9
Arkansas	6	0	0	2—8

L.S.U. scoring: touchdowns, Brancato. Field goal, Davis.

Western Division Chase Tops Pro Grid Program

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (AP)—The hot scramble for first place continues in the National Football League's western division Sunday with the champion Detroit Lions favored to hold on to their half-game edge.

The Lions took over undisputed possession of first last Sunday when they beat Green Bay while Los Angeles was tied by the Chicago Cards and San Francisco was knocked off by the unbeaten Cleveland Browns, the eastern division leader.

Last Sunday's games may have been the decisive ones of the western race. None of the three western contenders will meet each other again. If Detroit can win its four remaining contests, nothing Los Angeles or San Francisco does will matter. Detroit leads with 6-2, followed by Los Angeles, 5-2-1, and San Francisco, 5-3.

The Lions journey to Chicago to engage the Bears (2-5-1), who have begun to snap out of their slump. In their last two outings, the Bears tied Green Bay 21-21 and beat Washington 27-24. This marks the first meeting of the Lions and Bears this year. They will play again at Detroit on Dec. 6. Detroit's other two games are with Green Bay (2-5-1 and the New York Giants (2-6-0).

Los Angeles and San Francisco also will be on the road Sunday and meeting rivals for the first time. The Rams take on the Baltimore Colts (3-5) at Baltimore. The 49ers oppose the Packers of Green Bay 2-5-1) at Milwaukee. After Sunday, the Rams final three games will be with the Bears, Baltimore and Green Bay. The 49ers wind up with Baltimore, Green Bay and then Baltimore again.

In the east, where they are virtually playing out the schedule, the Browns (8-0) take on the Steelers (4-4) at Pittsburgh. Paul Brown's veterans beat the Steelers 34-16 two weeks ago.

The runner-up Philadelphia Eagles (5-2-1) meet the winless Chicago Cards (0-7-1) in Philadelphia Saturday night.

Cleveland's last three games are with the Chicago Cards, New York and Philadelphia. The Eagles finish with New York, Washington and Cleveland.

Crowville Beaten By Wisner Rivals To Tune Of 34-0

WISNER, La., Nov. 21 (Special)—The Bulldogs of Wisner High School closed out their football campaign here last night by whipping the Crowville Bulldogs, 34 to 0, in their "rag doll" battle that entitled Wisner to keep the stuffed bulldog mascot another year. It was Wisner's eighth win of the season against only two losses, and the loss capped one of Crowville's toughest campaigns in which the visitors lost eight while winning one and tying one.

Billy Smith scored two touchdowns while Phillip Gordy, Roy Shivor and Goodman added one each. Paul Morgan converted three times and Shivor added one extra point.

Smith counted first on a 12-yard run in the first quarter. Smith also counted the second on a two-yard plunge after Billy Joe Furr had set up the tally with a fancy 35-yard dash.

Gordy went 20 yards for his touchdown in the second quarter. Then after a scoreless third period, Wisner added two more in the fourth when Shivor plunged from the two after setting up his own touchdown with a 30-yard run, and Smith shooting a pass to Goodman for the finad TD on a play that covered 40 yards.

Morgan, Felters, Bass, Hoggatt, and Barfield played outstanding defensive ball for Wisner. Best for Crowville were Riser anl Southern.

Tech's Bulldogs Aim For McNeese Scramble Friday

RUSTON, Nov. 21 (Special)—Still remembering last year's close game with McNeese State College, the Louisiana Tech Bulldogs are not taking lightly their game with the Cowboys next Friday. The game will be played in Lake Charles and will be Tech's last contest of the season.

Newcomers to the Gulf States Conference last year, the McNeese Cowboys came to Ruston for their first G.S.C. contest and gave the Bulldogs a scare. Tech managed to win that one 6-0.

"We know that McNeese has good personnel and probably the fastest starting backfield in the conference," says Tech's head coach Joe Aillet. "The Cowboys are well coached and have a smart football team. We were fortunate to win over McNeese last year 6-0."

With a conference record of our victories and one defeat, Tech is currently tied with Northwestern State College and Southeastern Louisiana College for the GSC lead. The Bulldogs have defeated Northeast State College 61-6, Louisiana Colege 20-6, Southwestern Louisiana Institute 27-7 and Southeastern Louisiana College 12-0.

Only one defeat mars Tech's GSC schedule, a 15-7 loss to a surprisingly strong Northwestern State College team.

Outside the conference Tech has won one and lost two. The Bulldogs outscored Florida State University 32-21 and lost to strong Memphis State College 13-7 and to a powerful Mississippi Southern team 30-0.

Tech had an open date this week.

Wisner Opening Basketball Play With Newellton

—When the curtain rings down on the football season at Wisner High School, it rises almost immediately on the basketball season. The Wisner boys ended their 1953 play on the gridiron in their traditional battle with Crowville last night and begin their basketball campaign with Newellton on December 1.

Both boys' and girls' teams have new coaches this year. The boys will be under the tutelage of Otis Jackson, who comes from West Carroll parish; the girls will have Wilton R. Hoggatt, head football coach as their mentor. Returning lettermen include Paul Morgan, Leslie Bass, Billy Smith, anl Billy Joe Furr. The girls are starting almost from "scratch."

The schedule:

Dec. 1, Newellton, there; 4-5, Fort Necessity tournament; 8, Ogden, there; 10-12, Sicily Island tournament; 15, Sicily Island, there; 18, Central, here; 22, open.

Jan. 5, Newellton, here; 8, Fort Necessity, here; 12, Crowville, there; 14, Mangham, here; 15-16, Central tournament; 19, Ogden, here; 22-23, Holly Rilge tournament; 26, Central, there; 29, Crowville, here.

Feb. 2, Ferriday, here; 5, Fort Necessity, there; 9, Vidalia, here; 12, Ferriday, there; 16, Sicily Island, there; 19, Vidalia, there; 23, Mangham, there.

The date of the Franklin Parish Tournament, to be held here, will be announced later.

Washington U. Falls To State By 25-20

SEATTLE, Nov. 21 (AP)—Stocky Frank Sarno sparked Washington slashing second half comeback attack that gave them a 25-20 victory over Washington today.

The game was the windup of the Pacimic Coast Conference football season for both teams.

Score by quarters:

Washington State	13	0	6	6—25

Oregon State Downs U. Of Oregon, 7 To 0

EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 21 (AP)—Oregon State upset favored Oregon today 7-0 for its fifth straight football victory over the university.

Fullback Tommy Little provided the margin of victory in the early minutes. An Oregon pass bounced off a receiver's shoulder and Little grabbed it on the Oregon 20. No one was near him and he ran over for the touchdown.

Hoad Beats Rosewall In Aussie Net Play

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 21 (AP)—Lew Hoad, one half of Australia's young tennis twins, captured his second straight title today, vanquishing his countryman, Ken Rosewall, 8-6, 4-6, 9-7, 10-8, for the new South Wales singles championship.

Hoad, who will be 19 on Monday, had to battle every step of the way before a capacity crowd of 11,000 to win the gruelling two and a half hour match. It was a much tougher triumph than his victory over Tony Trabert, the U. S. champion, in the semi-finals Thursday. Rosewall had whipped Vic Seixas of the U. S. in the other semi-final match.

Rayville Hornets Leading Parade Toward 'A' Crown

Sikes Resigns Kansas Job On Heels Of Loss

Dr. Franklin D. Murphy, chancellor at the university, said in accepting the resignation:

"We are grateful for the six years of untiring service which he has given to the University of Kansas. He leaves K.U. with the best wishes of the university family and with our feeling of appreciation for his technical skill as manifest by the overall record of his teams."

At the end of the Kansas-Missouri football game, won 10-6 by the Tigers, the Kansas players lifted Coach Sikes onto their shoulders and carried him out onto the field.

The season completed today was the first losing one for a Sikes-coached team. The Jayhawks wound up the 1953 campaign with only two victories against eight losses.

Newellton Trips Lake Providence Panthers 20-13

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La., Nov. 21 (Special)—The Newellton Bears gained possession with a fumbled fourth down Lake Providence punt on the Panther 25-yard line here last night and went on to snap a 13-13 tie and win 20-13.

"Buddy" Emfinger plunged over from the one for the winning touchdown, and Ronnie Doyle added the final point.

Lake Providence grabbed the lead in the second quarter with a 25-yard touchdown pass, Thomas to Schneider, and Gilbert added the point. Late in the second quarter Newellton tied it up when Emfinger scored on a 13-yard run, and Palmer added the point.

Newellton went ahead in the third period by recovering a fumble on the Panther 17, and Emfinger went over from the two.

Then Lake Providence roared back to tie the score once more when Treischmann returned a Bear punt to the Bruin four and plunged over a minute later. It was a battle all the way until the fumbled punt attempt set up the winning TD for the Bruins.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 21 (AP)—Unpredictable Minnesota shattered Wisconsin's dream of a second straight Big Ten title share today by hanging a 21-21 tie on the Badgers, and narrowly missed the winning touchdown in the final minute.

Ten-point underdogs, the four-times beaten Gophers put on a remarkable display of ball possession in the second half. They scored twice and marched 73 yards in the dying minutes of the game, only to lose the ball on the three on a fumble.

Wisconsin quarterback Jim Miller passed for two touchdowns, one on the last play of the first half, and fullback Al Ameche banged over from the three in the fourth quarter to give the Badgers their tie.

Wisconsin needed a victory to tie for the conference championship. The game was a virtual replica of last year's struggle, in which the teams battled to the identical score.

Score by quarters:

Wisconsin	0	14	0	7—21

George Washington Beats Richmond, 35-7

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (AP)—George Washington's alert young football team chopped down Richmond in convincing fashion today 35-7, completely throttling the Richmond offense except for one spectacular pass play.

Score by quarters:

Richmond	0	0	0	7—7
G.W.	7	14	0	14—35

Richmond scoring: touchdown, Elliot. Conversion, W. Thacker.

UTAH STATE WINS

BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 21 (AP)—Earl Lindley and DelRay Campbell powered Utah State to a 19-7 victory over University of Idaho today for the Aggies' eighth win of the season and the Vandals' eighth loss.

Rayville capitalized on the running of 135-pound fullback Keith Amos and a tough line to wallop Oakdale 33-0 Friday night in a quarterfinal game in the Louisiana Class A football playoffs.

It was the first playoff game in class A or B, where most of the district titles already have been decided.

Only district one remains to be settled in Class A. Springhill is unbeaten and untied and Minden unbeaten and once tied in district competition. They will play Thursday.

Rayville, the 3-A champion, was in command all the way against Oakdale. Amos scored three times on short plunges and Robert Moore on a 10-yard run and a 40-yard pass interception return. Oakdale, the 5-A champion, was unable to crack the Rayville line, which blocked a punt and recovered a fumble to set up two of its team's touchdowns.

Morgan City beat Crowley 33-19 to clinch the 4-A title Friday night, while Gonzales used touchdown runs of 60, 46 and 56 yards by Jimmie Laiche to spearhead a 31-12 triumph over Jefferson in a playoff for the 7-A title.

Other district champions are Ruston in 2-A, West Lake in 6-A and Ponchatoula in 8-A.

Other quarter-final pairings are 1-A winner vs. Ruston, Morgan City vs. West Lake and Gonzales vs. Ponchatoula. The Ruston vs. 1-A winner will play Rayville for one finals berth. The Morgan City-West Lake winners vs. the Gonzales-Ponchatoula winner will produce the other.

In Class B, only the south central title is settled, with St. Francis of Houma the winner. The southwest district committee will meet Sunday at Lafayette to consider selecting a winner by playoff or other means. Hanson of Franklin, Sacred Heart of Ville Platte, Franklin and Mt. Carmel of Abbeville are in the running. Waterproof and Ferriday will decide the northeast crown on Thanksgiving. Plain Dealing and Logansport are unbeaten in the northwest and must play off. Kentwood, Port Allen and Varnado are in a southeast playoff.

Generals Surprise W and M By 33 To 7

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., Nov. 21 (AP)—Halfback Carl Bolt scored three touchdowns today to lead Washington and Lee's Generals to a surprising 33-7 Southern Conference football victory over William and Mary's Indians.

The 185-pound junior from Dublin, Va., broke the game open midway in the third quarter when he raced 90 yards with the kickoff after the Indians had tied the score at 7-7.

Score by quarters:

W. & L.	0	7	6	20—33
W. & M.	0	0	7	0— 7

W. & L. scoring: Touchdowns, Bolt 3, Flanders, Heckmann. Conversions, Lafferty, Lindsey 2.

45-Year-Old Sets 24-Hour Distance Running Record

MOTSPUR PARK, England, Nov. 21 (AP)—Wally Hayward, 45-year-old South African runner with a lame foot and varicose veins, completed 159 miles, 562 yards today to set a world 24-hour running record.

"Thank God that's over. Never again, it was awful," the stumpy super endurance runner mumbled when he left little Motspur track draped over the shoulders of his trainer.

During the run — which Hayward said he made simply to see how far a well continued human could go — seven pounds were shed from the 168-pound, 5-foot, 6-inch frame of the Johannesburg building inspector.

Despite his troubles and the aggravation of having to cover the same ground — the tiny 440-yard Motspur cinder track — so often, Hayward added more than seven miles to the old 24-hour run record.

Arthur Newton, 70, one of Hayward's corps of advisers, set the old mark of 152 miles, 540 yards in Hamilton, Canada, 22 years ago. Newton gave the man who beat his old mark a big hug in the center of the track after the race today.

D. C. Reynolds, of Blackheath, England, was second of three finishers today and also broke the old Newton mark. Reynolds, 39, ran 154 miles, 1,226 yards. Forty-eight-year old I. H. Griffiths of Reading, England, stopped often during his run but still piled up 120 miles, 248 yarls. Three other starters called off the race during the night.

Hayward made only one stop of more than 30 seconds during the entire run. Just after topping 100 miles near midnight, he stopped for 29 minutes, took a massage and had a bowl of rice pudding.

North Carolina Whips Virginia By 33-7 Score

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Nov. 21 (AP)—North Carolina's big collection of sophomore backfield speedsters, led by quarterback Len Bullock, ripped Virginia's defense to shreds today as the Tar Heels administered the final humiliation in the Cavaliers' most miserable football season in history, 33-7.

North Carolina	0	7	19	7—33
Virginia	0	0	7	0— 7

North Carolina scoring: Touchdowns, Bullock 2, Keller, Kocornik, Worrell. Conversions, Adler 2, Williams.

Virginia scoring: Touchdown, Stempek. Conversion, Potter.

MENTIONED IN PASSING

Bowl Scouts See Texas Tech Tag Houston, 41-21

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Nov. 21 (AP)— Three Sugar Bowl scouts watched today as Texas Tech's Red Raiders struck with first half effeciency to win their ninth victory of the season by defeating the University of Houston, 41-21.

The west Texans grabbed two first quarter touchdowns before the Cougars could run more than two plays.

They continued to a 27-7 half time advantage but had to roar back for two final period scores after Houston, aided by two partially blocked punts pulled to within six points at 21-27.

The victory gave Tech a 9-1 season record, the Raiders end their regular schedule next Saturday at Lubbock against Hardin-Simmons.

Halfback Bobby Cavazou sparked the Tech offense in the first half, scoring on runs of 29 and 49 yards.

After a fumble recovery on the 16, halfback Ken Stegall rammed over from the one for Houston's first score. Halfback Don Hargrove plunged across from the one i the third period, before halfback Billy Polson put the pressure on the Raiders at 21-27 by taking a pitchout from the five and racing across the goal untouched with six minutes and 44 seconds remaining in the fourth quarter.

Quarterback Jack Kirkpatrick converted three times for Tech, fullback Rick Spinks twice. End Jackie Howton two extra points for Houston and fullback Paul Carr added another.

Score by quarters:

Texas Tech	13	14	0	14—41

Oklahoma Marks Up 41st Straight Win In Big Seven

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 21 (AP)—It's 41 consecutive games without defeat for Oklahoma now in the Big Seven Conference. The Sooners made it by beating Nebraska 30-7 today.

All that was at stake was Oklahoma's conference football streak. It had already won the conference championship and a trip to the Orange Bowl.

After fumbling away an early scoring chance, the Sooners were pushed out in front by a wild pass from center that sailed far over the head of Nebraska's kicker, Ray Novak, and out of the end zone.

Starting late in the first period, the Sooners upped their slim lead with a 98-yard drive in which Bob Burris' 28-yard run was the big wallop. That gave Oklahoma a 9-0 lead.

The Sooners may have felt a little uneasy when Nebraska came back to score and cut the margin to 9-7 but seven plays after the next kickoff, Oklahoma had another score. Jerry Donaghey took it most of the way on a 44-yard run and Merrill Green went over from the five to make it 16-7 and a Sooner cinch at the half.

Score by quarters:

Nebraska	0	7	0	0—7
Oklahoma	2	14	7	7-30

Oklahoma scoring: Touchdowns: Grigg, Green, R. Burris, Woodworth. Conversions: Ging, Leake 2, Santee. Safety: Novak (center Britt passed out of end zone on attempted punt)

Nebraska scoring: Touchdowns: Smith. Conversion: Novak.

L., showing such concern when he opined, 'How in the world did we ever miss a guy like Head?' Well, Saul Adler has finally let the story out on how Monroe lost Head, and it seems "Ole Poco," knew all the time how he missed Ed. Adler told the assembly at the Optimist Club's baseball dinner Friday that a young fellow came to his place of business and asked how to go about getting a tryout with Monroe. He said his name was Ed Head.

Adler told the embryo ball player to go see Taitt. Head did just that and was told Monroe "has all the ball players we need." Thus Head went to the Evangeline League where he attracted the Dodgers' attention. Also Friday, Head revealed he brought the subject up again with Adler when he read where Poco had made that remark about how he ever missed a player in his own backyard. Head said he reminded Adler how Taitt had brushed him off.

Then, said Ed, "Saul told me, 'don't ever tell that story now.' " Well, Adler told the story himself, so now we know why Monroe never had Ed Head pitching for those White Sox of the late 1930s.

Illini Thump 'Cats, Win Share Of Big Ten Title

By JERRY LISKA

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 21 (AP)—Illinois used J. C. Caroline as devastating decoy in smashing to a 39-14 closing Big Ten victory over Northwestern which earned a title share and Rose Bowl consideration with Michigan State today.

A 21-point third quarter made the game an Illini waltz in which Caroline, the nation's leading rusher, did not score until his fourth yard smash for a 32-7 lead late in the third period.

This was a "must" triumph for Illinois because Michigan State had finished last week with a 5-1 league record.

Bouncing back from its only loss of the entire season—a 34-7 licking by Wisconsin last Saturday — Illinois had four different players scoring, end John Ryan and fullback Ken Miller getting two touchdowns each.

Taking no chances, even after three touchdowns in the third period provided them a 39-7 lead, the Illini kept in its regulars until deep into the final quarter.

Illinois	6	12	21	0—39
Northwestern	0	0	7	7—14

Illinois scoring: Touchdowns, Ryan 2, Miller 2, Wallace, Caroline. Conversions, Miller 3.

By CARL BELL

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 21 (AP)—Louisiana State's Tigers threatened to run the Arkansas Razorbacks off the field with a terrific offense at the start but needed two dogged goal line stands to preserve a 9-8 intersectional football victory in the mud here today.

Twice in the fourth quarter Arkansas pounded its way to the L.S.U. one, of the drives going 88 yards but was unable to punch over the winning point.

The Tigers took the open kickoff and rolled 68 yards to a touchtouchdown in 12 plays. Jerry Marchand, a bull-like fullback, led the rush and George Brancato scored from the two.

Cliff Stringfield's kick for a point was no good.

Arkansas tied it up 6-6 before the end of the first quarter when tackle Jim Roth blocked and recovered Al Doggett's punt in the L.S.U. end zone.

The visitors from the Southeastern Conference went ahead to stay on freshman Tommy Davis' 21-yard field goal in the opening minutes of the second period.

An intentional safety in the last four minutes gave Arkansas two points but got L.S.U. out of a hole on its five.

A crowd of 22,00 turned out for what looked at first like a scoring jamboree, but rain, which began in the second quarter, chased most of them away and less than 10,000 were on hand to see the Tigers dodge Arkansas lightning in the final period.

Lamar McHan, the Razorbacks multi-talented tailback and Southwest Conference total offense leader, and fullback Henry Moore sparked the power drive that carried from the Arkansas 11 to the L.S.U. one.

McHan had a first down easily on a six-yard end run to the one but fumbled when he was hit. The ball rolled through the end zone and off the field for a touchback.

The next time they got the ball, the Razorbacks stormed back to the two, mainly on a 22-yard run by Moore. On fourth down, McHan was stopped inches from the goal. The Tigers got out to the five in two power plays. Then, rather than to risk a fumble, Doggett loped across the end zone until Red Warren tackled him for a safety.

Marchand was the man who wrecked Arkansas offensive. He made 105 of L.S.U.'s 163 yards rushing and caught three passes for 41 more.

Score by quarters:

L.S.U.	6	3	0	0—9

L.S.U. scoring: touchdowns, Brancato. Field goal, Davis.

Tech's Bulldogs Aim For McNeese Scramble Friday

RUSTON, Nov. 21 (Special)—Still remembering last year's close game with McNeese State College, the Louisiana Tech Bulldogs are not taking lightly their game with the Cowboys next Friday. The game will be played in Lake Charles and will be Tech's last contest of the season.

Newcomers to the Gulf States Conference last year, the McNeese Cowboys came to Ruston for their first G.S.C. contest and gave the Bulldogs a scare. Tech managed to win that one 6-0.

"We know that McNeese has good personnel and probably the fastest starting backfield in the conference," says Tech's head coach Joe Aillet. "The Cowboys are well coached and have a smart football team. We were fortunate to win over McNeese last year 6-0."

With a conference record of our victories and one defeat, Tech is currently tied with Northwestern State College and Southeastern Louisiana College for the GSC lead. The Bulldogs have defeated Northeast State College 61-6, Louisiana College 20-6, Southwestern Louisiana Institute 27-7 and Southeastern Louisiana College 12-0.

Outside the conference Tech has won one and lost two. The Bulldogs outscored Florida State University 32-21 and lost to strong Memphis State College 13-7 and to a powerful Mississippi Southern team 30-0.

Tech had an open date this week.

Hoad Beats Rosewall In Aussie Net Play

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 21 (AP)—Lew Hoad, one half of Australia's young tennis twins, captured his second straight title today, vanquishing his countryman, Ken Rosewall, 8-6, 4-6, 9-7, 10-8, for the new South Wales singles championship.

Hoad, who will be 19 on Monday, had to battle every step of the way before a capacity crowd of 11,000 to win the gruelling two and a half hour match. It was a much tougher triumph than his victory over Tony Trabert, the U. S. champion, in the semi-finals Thursday. Rosewall had whipped Vic Seixas of the U. S. in the other semi-final match.

Western Division Chase Tops Pro Grid Program

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (AP)—The hot scramble for first place continues in the National Football League's western division Sunday with the champion Detroit Lions favored to hold on to their half-game edge.

The Lions took over undisputed possession of first last Sunday when they beat Green Bay while Los Angeles was tied by the Chicago Cards and San Francisco was knocked off by the unbeaten Cleveland Browns, the eastern division leader.

Last Sunday's games may have been the decisive ones of the western race. None of the three western contenders will meet each other again. If Detroit can win its four remaining contests, nothing Los Angeles or San Francisco does will matter. Detroit leads with 6-2, followed by Los Angeles, 5-2-1, and San Francisco, 5-3.

The Lions journey to Chicago to engage the Bears (2-5-1), who have begun to snap out of their slump. In their last two outings, the Bears tied Green Bay 21-21 and beat Washington 27-24. This marks the first meeting of the Lions and Bears this year. They will play again at Detroit on Dec. 6. Detroit's other two games are with Green Bay (2-5-1 and the New York Giants (2-6-0).

Los Angeles and San Francisco also will be on the road Sunday and meeting rivals for the first time. The Rams take on the Baltimore Colts (3-5) at Baltimore. The 49ers oppose the Packers of Green Bay 2-5-1) at Milwaukee. After Sunday, the Rams final three games will be with the Bears, Baltimore and Green Bay. The 49ers wind up with Baltimore, Green Bay and then Baltimore again.

In the east, where they are virtually playing out the schedule, the Browns (8-0) take on the Steelers (4-4) at Pittsburgh. Paul Brown's veterans beat the Steelers 34-16 two weeks ago.

The runner-up Philadelphia Eagles (5-2-1) meet the winless Chicago Cards (0-7-1) in Philadelphia Saturday night.

Cleveland's last three games are with the Chicago Cards, New York and Philadelphia. The Eagles finish with New York, Washington and Cleveland.

Washington U. Falls To State By 25-20

SEATTLE, Nov. 21 (AP)—Stocky Frank Sarno sparked Washington slashing second half comeback attack that gave them a 25-20 victory over Washington today.

The game was the windup of the Pacimic Coast Conference football season for both teams.

Score by quarters:

Washington State	13	0	6	6—25

Oregon State Downs U. Of Oregon, 7 To 0

EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 21 (AP)—Oregon State upset favored Oregon today 7-0 for its fifth straight football victory over the university.

Fullback Tommy Little provided the margin of victory in the early minutes. An Oregon pass bounced off a receiver's shoulder and Little grabbed it on the Oregon 20. No one was near him and he ran over for the touchdown.

Crowville Beaten By Wisner Rivals To Tune Of 34-0

WISNER, La., Nov. 21 (Special)—The Bulldogs of Wisner High School closed out their football campaign here last night by whipping the Crowville Bulldogs, 34 to 0, in their "rag doll" battle that entitled Wisner to keep the stuffed bulldog mascot another year. It was Wisner's eighth win of the season against only two losses, and the loss capped one of Crowville's toughest campaigns in which the visitors lost eight while winning one and tying one.

Billy Smith scored two touchdowns while Phillip Gordy, Roy Shivor and Goodman added one each. Paul Morgan converted three times and Shivor added one extra point.

Smith counted first on a 12-yard run in the first quarter. Smith also counted the second on a two-yard plunge after Billy Joe Furr had set up the tally with a fancy 35-yard dash.

Gordy went 20 yards for his touchdown in the second quarter. Then after a scoreless third period, Wisner added two more in the fourth when Shivor plunged from the two after setting up his own touchdown with a 30-yard run, and Smith shooting a pass to Goodman for the finad TD on a play that covered 40 yards.

Morgan, Felters, Bass, Hoggatt, and Barfield played outstanding defensive ball for Wisner. Best for Crowville were Riser anl Southern.

Wisner Opening Basketball Play With Newellton

—When the curtain rings down on the football season at Wisner High School, it rises almost immediately on the basketball season. The Wisner boys ended their 1953 play on the gridiron in their traditional battle with Crowville last night and begin their basketball campaign with Newellton on December 1.

Both boys' and girls' teams have new coaches this year. The boys will be under the tutelage of Otis Jackson, who comes from West Carroll parish; the girls will have Wilton R. Hoggatt, head football coach as their mentor. Returning lettermen include Paul Morgan, Leslie Bass, Billy Smith, anl Billy Joe Furr. The girls are starting almost from "scratch."

The schedule:

Dec. 1, Newellton, there; 4-5, Fort Necessity tournament; 8, Ogden, there; 10-12, Sicily Island tournament; 15, Sicily Island, there; 18, Central, here; 22, open.

Jan. 5, Newellton, here; 8, Fort Necessity, here; 12, Crowville, there; 14, Mangham, here; 15-16, Central tournament; 19, Ogden, here; 22-23, Holly Rilge tournament; 26, Central, there; 29, Crowville, here.

Feb. 2, Ferriday, here; 5, Fort Necessity, there; 9, Vidalia, here; 12, Ferriday, there; 16, Sicily Island, there; 19, Vidalia, there; 23, Mangham, there.

The date of the Franklin Parish Tournament, to be held here, will be announced later.

Rayville Hornets Leading Parade Toward 'A' Crown

(By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Rayville capitalized on the running of 135-pound fullback Keith Amos and a tough line to wallop Oakdale 33-0 Friday night in a quarterfinal game in the Louisiana Class A football playoffs.

It was the first playoff game in class A or B, where most of the district titles already have been decided.

Only district one remains to be settled in Class A. Springhill is unbeaten and untied and Minden unbeaten and once tied in district competition. They will play Thursday.

Rayville, the 3-A champion, was in command all the way against Oakdale. Amos scored three times on short plunges and Robert Moore on a 10-yard run and a 40-yard pass interception return. Oakdale, the 5-A champion, was unable to crack the Rayville line, which blocked a punt and recovered a fumble to set up two of its team's touchdowns.

Morgan City beat Crowley 33-19 to clinch the 4-A title Friday night, while Gonzales used touchdown runs of 60, 46 and 56 yards by Jimmie Laiche to spearhead a 31-12 triumph over Jefferson in a playoff for the 7-A title.

Other district champions are Ruston in 2-A, West Lake in 6-A and Ponchatoula in 8-A.

Other quarter-final pairings are 1-A winner vs. Ruston, Morgan City vs. West Lake and Gonzales vs. Ponchatoula. The Ruston vs. 1-A winner will play Rayville for one finals berth. The Morgan City-West Lake winners vs. the Gonzales-Ponchatoula winner will produce the other.

In Class B, only the south central title is settled, with St. Francis of Houma the winner. The southwest district committee will meet Sunday at Lafayette to consider selecting a winner by playoff or other means. Hanson of Franklin, Sacred Heart of Ville Platte, Franklin and Mt. Carmel of Abbeville are in the running. Waterproof and Ferriday will decide the northeast crown on Thanksgiving. Plain Dealing and Logansport are unbeaten in the northwest and must play off. Kentwood, Port Allen and Varnado are in a southeast playoff.

Sikes Resigns Kansas Job On Heels Of Loss

Dr. Franklin D. Murphy, chancellor at the university, said in accepting the resignation:

"We are grateful for the six years of untiring service which he has given to the University of Kansas. He leaves K.U. with the best wishes of the university family and with our feeling of appreciation for his technical skill as manifest by the overall record of his teams."

At the end of the Kansas-Missouri football game, won 10-6 by the Tigers, the Kansas players lifted Coach Sikes onto their shoulders and carried him out onto the field.

The season completed today was the first losing one for a Sikes-coached team. The Jayhawks wound up the 1953 campaign with only two victories against eight losses.

Newellton Trips Lake Providence Panthers 20-13

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La., Nov. 21 (Special)—The Newellton Bears gained possession with a fumbled fourth down Lake Providence punt on the Panther 25-yard line here last night and went on to snap a 13-13 tie and win 20-13.

"Buddy" Emfinger plunged over from the one for the winning touchdown, and Ronnie Doyle added the final point.

Lake Providence grabbed the lead in the second quarter with a 25-yard touchdown pass, Thomas to Schneider, and Gilbert added the point. Late in the second quarter Newellton tied it up when Emfinger scored on a 13-yard run, and Palmer added the point.

Newellton went ahead in the third period by recovering a fumble on the Panther 17, and Emfinger went over from the two.

Then Lake Providence roared back to tie the score once more when Treischmann returned a Bear punt to the Bruin four and plunged over a minute later. It was a battle all the way until the fumbled punt attempt set up the winning TD for the Bruins.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 21 (AP)—Unpredictable Minnesota shattered Wisconsin's dream of a second straight Big Ten title share today by hanging a 21-21 tie on the Badgers, and narrowly missed the winning touchdown in the final minute.

Ten-point underdogs, the four-times beaten Gophers put on a remarkable display of ball possession in the second half. They scored twice and marched 73 yards in the dying minutes of the game, only to lose the ball on the three on a fumble.

Wisconsin quarterback Jim Miller passed for two touchdowns, one on the last play of the first half, and fullback Al Ameche banged over from the three in the fourth quarter to give the Badgers their tie.

Wisconsin needed a victory to tie for the conference championship. The game was a virtual replica of last year's struggle, in which the teams battled to the identical score.

Score by quarters:

Wisconsin	0	14	0	7—21

45-Year-Old Sets 24-Hour Distance Running Record

MOTSPUR PARK, England, Nov. 21 (AP)—Wally Hayward, 45-year-old South African runner with a lame foot and varicose veins, completed 159 miles, 562 yards today to set a world 24-hour running record.

"Thank God that's over. Never again, it was awful," the stumpy super endurance runner mumbled when he left little Motspur track draped over the shoulders of his trainer.

During the run — which Hayward said he made simply to see how far a well continued human could go — seven pounds were shed from the 168-pound, 5-foot, 6-inch frame of the Johannesburg building inspector.

Despite his troubles and the aggravation of having to cover the same ground — the tiny 440-yard Motspur cinder track — so often, Hayward added more than seven miles to the old 24-hour run record.

Arthur Newton, 70, one of Hayward's corps of advisers, set the old mark of 152 miles, 540 yards in Hamilton, Canada, 22 years ago. Newton gave the man who beat his old mark a big hug in the center of the track after the race today.

D. C. Reynolds, of Blackheath, England, was second of three finishers today and also broke the old Newton mark. Reynolds, 39, ran 154 miles, 1,226 yards. Forty-eight-year old I. H. Griffiths of Reading, England, stopped often during his run but still piled up 120 miles, 248 yards. Three other starters called off the race during the night.

Hayward made only one stop of more than 30 seconds during the entire run. Just after topping 100 miles near midnight, he stopped for 29 minutes, took a massage and had a bowl of rice pudding.

North Carolina Whips Virginia By 33-7 Score

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Nov. 21 (AP)—North Carolina's big collection of sophomore backfield speedsters, led by quarterback Len Bullock, ripped Virginia's defense to shreds today as the Tar Heels administered the final humiliation in the Cavaliers' most miserable football season in history, 33-7.

North Carolina	0	7	19	7—33
Virginia	0	0	7	0— 7

North Carolina scoring: Touchdowns, Bullock 2, Keller, Kocornik, Worrell. Conversions, Adler 2, Williams.

Virginia scoring: Touchdown, Stempek. Conversion, Potter.

MENTIONED IN PASSING

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Nov. 21 (AP)— Three Sugar Bowl scouts watched today as Texas Tech's Red Raiders struck with first half effeciency to win their ninth victory of the season by defeating the University of Houston, 41-21.

The west Texans grabbed two first quarter touchdowns before the Cougars could run more than two plays.

They continued to a 27-7 half time advantage but had to roar back for two final period scores after Houston, aided by two partially blocked punts pulled to within six points at 21-27.

The victory gave Tech a 9-1 season record, the Raiders end their regular schedule next Saturday at Lubbock against Hardin-Simmons.

Halfback Bobby Cavazou sparked the Tech offense in the first half, scoring on runs of 29 and 49 yards.

After a fumble recovery on the 16, halfback Ken Stegall rammed over from the one for Houston's first score. Halfback Don Hargrove plunged across from the one i the third period, before halfback Billy Polson put the pressure on the Raiders at 21-27 by taking a pitchout from the five and racing across the goal untouched with six minutes and 44 seconds remaining in the fourth quarter.

Quarterback Jack Kirkpatrick converted three times for Tech, fullback Rick Spinks twice. End Jackie Howton two extra points for Houston and fullback Paul Carr added another.

Score by quarters:

Texas Tech	13	14	0	14—41
Houston	0	7	7	7—21

Houston scoring: touchdowns, Stegall, Hargrove, Polson. Conversions, Howton 2, Carr.

Oklahoma Marks Up 41st Straight Win In Big Seven

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 21 (AP)—It's 41 consecutive games without defeat for Oklahoma now in the Big Seven Conference. The Sooners made it by beating Nebraska 30-7 today.

All that was at stake was Oklahoma's conference football streak. It had already won the conference championship and a trip to the Orange Bowl.

After fumbling away an early scoring chance, the Sooners were pushed out in front by a wild pass from center that sailed far over the head of Nebraska's kicker, Ray Novak, and out of the end zone.

Starting late in the first period, the Sooners upped their slim lead with a 98-yard drive in which Bob Burris' 28-yard run was the big wallop. That gave Oklahoma a 9-0 lead.

The Sooners may have felt a little uneasy when Nebraska came back to score and cut the margin to 9-7 but seven plays after the next kickoff, Oklahoma had another score. Jerry Donaghey took it most of the way on a 44-yard run and Merrill Green went over from the five to make it 16-7 and a Sooner cinch at the half.

Score by quarters:

Nebraska	0	7	0	0—7
Oklahoma	2	14	7	7-30

Oklahoma scoring: Touchdowns: Grigg, Green, R. Burris, Woodworth. Conversions: Ging, Leake 2, Santee. Safety: Novak (center Britt passed out of end zone on attempted punt)

Nebraska scoring: Touchdowns: Smith. Conversion: Novak.

Tennessee Tech Trounces Northeast State, 42-20

Redskins Furnish Eagles Hard Tilt But Get 9th Loss

COOKEVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 21 (Special) — The Eagles of Tennessee Tech, recovered from illness and injuries, snapped a three-game losing streak here tonight as they won their sixth game of the season over a battling little band of Inlians from Northeast Louisiana State College, 42 to 20.

The Eagles, aware that they were drawing a winless team and expecting easy pickings, found themselves with a fight on their hands in a rough and tough contest that saw the invaders continually fighting back and threatening at Tennessee Tech's 17-yard line when the game ended.

A partially blocked Northeast punt and a screen pass that carried for 99 yards and pay dirt were the Tech touchdowns that finally broke the back of the invader.

Glen Glover broke open the scoring for Tech in the first quarter when he went 46 yards with a pitchout, and later in the opening period Tech, helped by two penalties against the Indians, moved to the Northeast 13 from where Joe Mac Reeves broke through to score.

Eleven minutes deep in the second quarter, the Eagles came through with the fancy screen pass, Irwin Mitchell pitching to Johnny Clark, and the Tech halfback raced almost the length of the field.

But with 12 seconds left in the half, Walter Reed brought the Indians into the fight when he plunged over from the one after the Tribe had battled desperately to get in scoring range. Three conversions by Bobby Holloway of Tech and Boatright's conversion behind Reed's tally made the score 21-7 at the half.

Northeast opened strong in the second half, climaxing a 49-yard drive when Cam Detore rushed over from the six. A bad pass from center spoiled the conversion attempt.

Reeves struck back for Tech, scoring from the one after a 54-yard march, and Smith came roaring back with his rushing attack to spark the tribe on a 58-yard march with Smith going over from the two. Billy Milstead converted for Northeast.

Then Glover and David Ransom wrapped up the scoring for Tech, Glover driving over from the one, and Ransom going 18 yards for the last touchdown. Holloway converted once and Taylor twice for the Eagles in the last half.

Crippling injuries in the first quarter weakened the Northeast backfield, but the Indians, despite their ninth loss of the season, showed a hard running fullback in Lloyd Smith and a pass-happy quarterback in Mark Boatright who were constant threats to the Eagles. Smith rushed for better than 100 yards, and Boatright accounted for as many with eleven completions out of 16 tosses. Jim Busby, a freshman end, was Boatright's chief target.

McNeese Tumbles To Southwestern Power, 47 To 13

LAFAYETTE, La., Nov. 21 (AP) — Southwestern Louisiana Institute easily defeated McNeese State 47-1 tonight in a game that left both teams tied for fourth place in the Gulf States Conference football race.

Charley Copes and Louis Roth, each with two touchdowns, paced the SLI attack. Gerald Rooney, Billy Higginbotham and Al McGovern scored the other touchdowns. Higginbotham also made four conversions and Ronney made one.

Jules Derouen scored one touchdown for McNeese and made one conversion. Tommy White scored the other touchdown.

McNeese	0	6	0	7—13
SLI	13	13	14	7—47

McNeese scoring: Touchdowns, Derouen, White. Conversion, Derouen.

29th Win Aims East Texas At Tangerine Tilt

ALPINE, Tex., Nov. 21 (AP)—East Texas State, roared to its 29th straight win here today, whipping Sul Ross State Teachers 27-7.

The East Texas club wrapped up the Lone Star Conference title and then was given the conference board of regents "okay" to play in the Tangerine Bowl. Earlier, East Texas was given a bid.

East Texas was kept pretty much on the ground with high winds eliminating the forward pass and the East Texas stickout quarterback, James Gray.

In place of Gray and his overhead weapon the East Texas power stayed on the ground. Halfback George Riley took up the slack by scoring one touchdown and adding three good conversions.

Riley and companion backs Judd Ramsey and Glyn Johnston led the big push that gained 412 yards. Gray completed three of the club's four successful passes. The net pass gain was 78 yards.

W. V. Seeks To Impress Bowl Scouts With Power

By REESE HART

RALEIGH, Nov. 21 (AP)—West Virginia's big Mountaineers, with an eye cast on a Sugar Bowl bid, broke loose for 27 points in the second period and went on to smother North Carolina State, 61-0, today in a tremendous display of power.

A small crowd of 5,800 saw West Virginia close its best season since 1925 with an 8-1 record. The only blot was o 20-14 loss to South Carolina last week.

Unconfirmed press box reports said West Virginia had been told it might receive a Sugar Bowl bid if it made an impressive showing today. There was no doubt about its impressiveness.

Paced by fullback Tommy Allman, who scored two touchdowns, the Mountaineers put across one touchdown in the first period, added four touchdowns and a safety in the second quarter, scored two touchdowns in the third period, and closed out with two more scores in the final quarter.

The Wolfpack, completely throttled by the hulking West Virginia line, never got a single first down in the first half, and made only 11 yards rushing in that time. It was State's eighth loss against only one win this season.

Score by quarters:

West Virginia	7	27	14	13—61
N. C. State	0	0	0	0—0

Baylor Outlasts S. M. U. To Score 27 To 21 Victory

WACO, Tex., Nov. 21 (AP)—Francis Davidson bombed Southern Methodist out of the Southwest Conference football race today, passing for two touchdowns—one with only a minute and a half to go—to bring Baylor a 27-21 victory in one of the wildest games ever played here.

It was a game in which virtually everything happened. Southern Methodist fumbled five times and lost the ball—and lost the game. There were eight pass interceptions, four by each team, and all in all it was one of the most loosely played but one of the most thrilling battles of any season.

The victory kept Baylor in a tie for first place in the Southwest Conference race with Texas and Rice.

The wild running of Hal O'Brien and Don McIlhenny, a couple of talented sophomores, and the passing of Duane Nutt kept S.M.U. in the game until the final second. But it was Davidson, both passing and intercepting passes, that gave Baylor its glittering triumph.

MAX IN MOTION

Rice Tags T. C. U. For 19-6 Triumph On Power Drives

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 21 (AP)—Rice's stable of fleet, powerful backs made like old-time dray horses today to grind out a 19-6 victory over Texas Christian University and keep the Owls in the running for a spot in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day.

It was Rice's old reliable, Kosse Johnson, leading the seemingly inexhaustible supply of quarterbacks, halfbacks and fullbacks that tore through and around the fired-up T.C.U. team.

Johnson smashed out 126 yards in 25 carries and scored the touchdown that broke apart a tense Southwest Conference game that had Rice's chances of sharing the championship riding on the outcome.

Texas Christian, shooting for its first conference victory of the year, scored first in the second period as Ray McKown dived over from the one. But Rice matched this touchdown moments later in a lightning, three-play drive. Johnson broke open the game in the third and Dicky Moegle put it on ice early in the final quarter.

Little Horton Nesrsta ran seven yards for Rice's first touchdown and Leroy Fenstemaker added the extra point. Johnson plowed over from the two and Moegle sprinted 14.

Maryland Scores Early To Defeat Alabama, 21 To 0

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Nov. 21 (AP)—After Chet Hanulak sprinted 81 yards and Bernie Faloney followed in the first period with a 52-yard scoring pass, Maryland threw up a magnificent defense today to beat Alabama 21-0 to end its 10-game season undefeated before going to the Orange Bowl.

Hanulak's long range touchdown run came on the second Maryland play to set 36,000 fans jumping in misty Byrd Stadium.

Faloney was hurt three plays before he hit end Bill Walker for the second score and again in the second quarter after completing a 21-yard pass to Hanulak, which paved the way for the third score. Faloney left the game during the half because of an injured left knee and substitute Charley Boxold had to finish the game.

Boxold, in for Faloney in the second quarter, found Walker for a touchdown pass that covered 25 yards and then the Maryland defense took over in the last two periods. Quarterback Bart Starr passed Alabama six yards short of a score in the third period and to the 14, 3 and 2 in the last period only to be repulsed by a Maryland defense that blanked six of its 10 opponents and gave up only 31 points all season.

Italian Machines Swap Lead In Mexican Race

DURANGO, Mexico, Nov. 21 (AP)—Italian Lancias and Ferraris traded the lead today in the big sports car division of the Pan-American road race in a fierce speed duel which cost the life of Italy's Felice Bonetto—one of the world's most beloved racing drivers.

Argentina's daring speed demon, Juan Manuel Fangio, took over the lead in total time for the 1,912 miles run from southern Mexico to the U.S. border at El Paso, Tex., after the tragic death of Bonetto, who was 50. The five-day race ends Monday.

The pipe-smoking, gray-haired Bonetto who won the first lap of the world's most dangerous race Thursday, was the third Italian driver to be killed in the first three days of the race. Four spectators were killed on the first day when a speeding car crashed into a group of watchers along the road. Antonio Stagnoli and his co-pilot, Giuseppi Scotuzzi, died as the result of a first day crash.

There were two laps in the race today, a total of 590 miles.

Fangio, driving a Lancia, was first over the finish line at Durango to end the second lap of today's run, 320 miles from Leon. However, the lap was won by Piero Taruffi of Italy, with a Lancia. Taruffi, 51, had won both laps yesterday, and Bonetto was second. Bonetto was leader in elapsed time when today's first lap, from Mexico City to Leon, began.

Humberto Maglioli, in a Ferrari, won the 261-mile leg from Mexico City to Leon as Bonetto's car smashed into an electric light pole in the town of Silao, just short of the end of the lap near Leon. Bonetto's neck was broken and he died at once, said an examining doctor. His body remained in the car an hour as officials kept the road clear of rescue workers because other machines were roaring past constantly at high speed.

Maglioli was timed officially, with the clockings still subject to confirmation, in two hours, 15 minutes, 41 seconds for the Mexico City-Leon lap. Fangio required 2:19:50.

Four Americans in Lincolns still led the big stock car division.

Johnny Mantz of Los Angeles won the second lap in this class from Leon to Durango, on the basis of unofficial figures. However, Chuck Stevenson of Milwaukee was ahead in elapsed time for the race to date, with 14 hours, 17 minutes, 46 seconds.

Kentucky Downs Tennessee First Time In 18 Years

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 21 (AP)—Brilliant Bob Hardy, a babe in arms the last time Kentucky defeated Tennessee, engineered the Bluegrass Wildcats to a 27-21 victory today, their first in 18 years over the Volunteers.

The win, attained in a see-saw thriller, kept Kentucky hot in the running for a post season bowl bid.

Tennessee wonder-boy Jimmy Wade, stopped cold on the ground, took to the air for three key plays that produced scores and seemed for a while destined to keep the Vols moving in a streak which has held Kentucky winless in the series since 1935.

The Wildcats had the guns to come from behind twice, however, and stretched their 1953 comeback streak to seven victories and a tie since losing their first two games.

MSC Loses Early Lead, But Rallies To Top Marquette

EAST LASING, Mich., Nov. 21 (AP)—Michigan State, gunning for a Big Ten Rose Bowl bid, had to shoot the works and come charging from behind to overcome a classy-looking Marquette team 21-15 before a home crowd of 42,170 today.

The game looked at first like a runaway when Michigan State scored on its second play of the afternoon and led 14-0 after the first period. But the M.S.C. lead was only 14-9 at the half and Marquette led 15-14 in the third quarter.

Rugged little Leroy Bolden, 159 pounds of compressed dynamite, butted his way for the last 10 yards for the touchdown that put Michigan State in the lead again 21-15.

The hard-won victory put Michigan State in a tie with Illinois for the Big Ten Rose Bowl selection. Marquette, which showed a brilliant passing game, also was likely to get an extra season bowl offer for looking so good in losing.

Score by quarter:

Detroit Slams Impotent Tulsa By 33-0 Count

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 21 (AP)—Detroit's Titans used crunching ground power today to roll over an impotent Tulsa team 33-0 and keep alive their chances to tie for the Missouri Valley Conference championship.

By defeating Wichita there Thanksgiving Day Detroit can share the title with Oklahoma A. & M., which has finished its conference play with a 3-1 record.

The decisive defeat was the first shutout of a Tulsa team in 49 games. The Golden Hurricane's last whitewashing was by Texas Tech in 1949.

Score by quarters:

Detroit	7	14	6	6—33

LANGLOIS TRIUMPHS

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 21 (AP)—Pierre Langlois, leaving no doubt as to his advantage in experience, battered and pounded young Jesse Turner with an impressive shower of sidearm lefts and overhand rights to win an unanimous decision in their 10-round middleweight bout here tonight. Langlois weighed 157½ to Turner's 155.

6-Man Football

The championship of the Six-Man Touch Football League will be settled here this afternoon when the Mohawks and Bulldogs tangle at 3:15 o'clock on the L.T.I. gridiron to settle their tie for first place.

The regular schedule ended last Sunday when the Mohawks suffered their first defeat, a 6-0 loss at the hands of the Bulldogs that earned them a shot at the league championship.

Both teams have won ix and lost one during the season.

Engineers Defeat Duke 13-10, With Long Closing Run

ATLANTA, Nov. 21 (AP)—Halfback Billy Teas ran a punt back for 48 spectacular yards and a touchdown in the closing minutes today and Georgia Tech jumped back into the bowl picture with a 13-10 victory over Duke's Blue Devils.

Had it not been for the masterful running by the speedy Andrews, N.C., junior, Tech fans would always have argued that the officials had robbed their Yellow Jackets of victory.

Duke grabbed a 10-6 lead in the third quarter. The key play in Duke's drive was a lateral that brought thunderous boos from the sellout crowd of 40,000 when officials allowed it to stand.

The crowd had heard an official's whistle and it was sure halfback Lloyd Caudle had been stopped at the line of scrimmage. But officials allowed his lateral to quarterback Jerry Barger, who went 22 yards to the Tech 20. The Blue Devils scored in five plays, fullback Jack Kistler smashing through from the 4.

That appeared to be the game until Teas made his fancy run behind smashing blocks by his fired-up mates.

Pro Eagles Slug Winless Chicago Cardinals, 38-0

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles, mixing the National Football League's most potent offense with a numbing defensive line, powered to their sixth straight victory tonight, 38-0, over the winless Chicago Cardinals.

Bobby Thomason's aerials, plus the hard running of Jerry Williams Harold (Skippy) Giancanelli, Don Johnson, and Jim Parmer, ripped the Cardinal defenses to shreds. Defensively, the Eagles, led by Charley Bednarik, buffeted the Chicago runners and passers about like so many wooden soldiers.

Frank Ziegler started the scoring parade with a one-yard bolt into the end zone on the 13th play of a 55-yard first period drive. Bobby Walston converted and the Eagles were winging.

Before the first half was over, Thomason flipped 37 yards to Giancanelli for a touchdown, Walston kicked a 27-yard field goal and Williams barged over from the one.

This Philadelphia attack, which in the last six games has generated 227 points, added a 4-yard touchdown by Williams in the third quarter and a two-yard scoring plunge by Johnson in the final seconds.

Philadelphia	14	10	7	7—38

Tennessee Tech Trounces Northeast State, 42-20

COOKEVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 21 (Special) — The Eagles of Tennessee Tech, recovered from illness and injuries, snapped a three-game losing streak here tonight as they won their sixth game of the season over a battling little band of Inlians from Northeast Louisiana State College, 42 to 20.

The Eagles, aware that they were drawing a winless team and expecting easy pickings, found themselves with a fight on their hands in a rough and tough contest that saw the invaders continually fighting back and threatening at Tennessee Tech's 17-yard line when the game ended.

A partially blocked Northeast punt and a screen pass that carried for 99 yards and pay dirt were the Tech touchdowns that finally broke the back of the invader.

Glen Glover broke open the scoring for Tech in the first quarter when he went 46 yards with a pitchout, and later in the opening period Tech, helped by two penalties against the Indians, moved to the Northeast 13 from where Joe Mac Reeves broke through to score.

Eleven minutes deep in the second quarter, the Eagles came through with the fancy screen pass, Irwin Mitchell pitching to Johnny Clark, and the Tech halfback raced almost the length of the field.

But with 12 seconds left in the half, Walter Reed brought the Indians into the fight when he plunged over from the one after the Tribe had battled desperately to get in scoring range. Three conversions by Bobby Holloway of Tech and Boatright's conversion behind Reed's tally made the score 21-7 at the half.

Northeast opened strong in the second half, climaxing a 49-yard drive when Cam Detore rushed over from the six. A bad pass from center spoiled the conversion attempt.

Reeves struck back for Tech, scoring from the one after a 54-yard march, and Smith came roaring back with his rushing attack to spark the tribe on a 58-yard march with Smith going over from the two. Billy Milstead converted for Northeast.

Then Glover and David Ransom wrapped up the scoring for Tech, Glover driving over from the one, and Ransom going 18 yards for the last touchdown. Holloway converted once and Taylor twice for the Eagles in the last half.

Crippling injuries in the first quarter weakened the Northeast backfield, but the Indians, despite their ninth loss of the season, showed a hard running fullback in Lloyd Smith and a pass-happy quarterback in Mark Boatright who were constant threats to the Eagles. Smith rushed for better than 100 yards, and Boatright accounted for as many with eleven completions out of 16 tosses. Jim Busby, a freshman end, was Boatright's chief target.

LAFAYETTE, La., Nov. 21 (AP) — Southwestern Louisiana Institute easily defeated McNeese State 47-1 tonight in a game that left both teams tied for fourth place in the Gulf States Conference football race.

Charley Copes and Louis Roth, each with two touchdowns, paced the SLI attack. Gerald Rooney, Billy Higginbotham and Al McGovern scored the other touchdowns. Higginbotham also made four conversions and Ronney made one.

Jules Derouen scored one touchdown for McNeese and made one conversion. Tommy White scored the other touchdown.

McNeese	0	6	0	7—13

29th Win Aims East Texas At Tangerine Tilt

ALPINE, Tex., Nov. 21 (AP)—East Texas State, roared to its 29th straight win here today, whipping Sul Ross State Teachers 27-7.

The East Texas club wrapped up the Lone Star Conference title and then was given the conference board of regents "okay" to play in the Tangerine Bowl. Earlier, East Texas was given a bid.

East Texas was kept pretty much on the ground with high winds eliminating the forward pass and the East Texas stickout quarterback, James Gray.

In place of Gray and his overhead weapon the East Texas power stayed on the ground. Halfback George Riley took up the slack by scoring one touchdown and adding three good conversions.

Riley and companion backs Judd Ramsey and Glyn Johnston led the big push that gained 412 yards. Gray completed three of the club's four successful passes. The net pass gain was 78 yards.

W. V. Seeks To Impress Bowl Scouts With Power

By REESE HART

RALEIGH, Nov. 21 (AP)—West Virginia's big Mountaineers, with an eye cast on a Sugar Bowl bid, broke loose for 27 points in the second period and went on to smother North Carolina State, 61-0, today in a tremendous display of power.

A small crowd of 5,800 saw West Virginia close its best season since 1925 with an 8-1 record. The only blot was o 20-14 loss to South Carolina last week.

Unconfirmed press box reports said West Virginia had been told it might receive a Sugar Bowl bid if it made an impressive showing today. There was no doubt about its impressiveness.

Paced by fullback Tommy Allman, who scored two touchdowns, the Mountaineers put across one touchdown in the first period, added four touchdowns and a safety in the second quarter, scored two touchdowns in the third period, and closed out with two more scores in the final quarter.

The Wolfpack, completely throttled by the hulking West Virginia line, never got a single first down in the first half, and made only 11 yards rushing in that time. It was State's eighth loss against only one win this season.

Score by quarters:

West Virginia	7	27	14	13—61
N. C. State	0	0	0	0— 0

Baylor Outlasts S. M. U. To Score 27 To 21 Victory

WACO, Tex., Nov. 21 (AP)—Francis Davidson bombed Southern Methodist out of the Southwest Conference football race today, passing for two touchdowns—one with only a minute and a half to go—to bring Baylor a 27-21 victory in one of the wildest games ever played here.

It was a game in which virtually everything happened. Southern Methodist fumbled five times and lost the ball—and lost the game. There were eight pass interceptions, four by each team, and all in all it was one of the most loosely played but one of the most thrilling battles of any season.

The victory kept Baylor in a tie for first place in the Southwest Conference race with Texas and Rice.

The wild running of Hal O'Brien and Don McIlhenny, a couple of talented sophomores, and the passing of Duane Nutt kept S.M.U. in the game until the final second. But it was Davidson, both passing and intercepting passes, that gave Baylor its glittering triumph.

Score by quarters:

Baylor	13	7	0	7—27
S.M.U.	0	14	0	7—21

Southern Methodist scoring: touchdowns, O'Brien, 2, Bernet. Conversions, Bernet 3.

MAX IN MOTION

Rice Tags T. C. U. For 19-6 Triumph On Power Drives

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 21 (AP)—Rice's stable of fleet, powerful backs made like old-time dray horses today to grind out a 19-6 victory over Texas Christian University and keep the Owls in the running for a spot in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day.

It was Rice's old reliable, Kosse Johnson, leading the seemingly inexhaustible supply of quarterbacks, halfbacks and fullbacks that tore through and around the fired-up T.C.U. team.

Johnson smashed out 126 yards in 25 carries and scored the touchdown that broke apart a tense Southwest Conference game that had Rice's chances of sharing the championship riding on the outcome.

Texas Christian, shooting for its first conference victory of the year, scored first in the second period as Ray McKown dived over from the one. But Rice matched this touchdown moments later in a lightning, three-play drive. Johnson broke open the game in the third and Dicky Moegle put it on ice early in the final quarter.

Little Horton Nesrsta ran seven yards for Rice's first touchdown and Leroy Fenstemaker added the extra point. Johnson plowed over from the two and Moegle sprinted 14.

Rice	0	7	6	6—19
T.C.U.	0	6	0	0—6

T.C.U. scoring: touchdown, McKown.

Maryland Scores Early To Defeat Alabama, 21 To 0

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Nov. 21 (AP)—After Chet Hanulak sprinted 81 yards and Bernie Faloney followed in the first period with a 52-yard scoring pass, Maryland threw up a magnificent defense today to beat Alabama 21-0 to end its 10-game season undefeated before going to the Orange Bowl.

Hanulak's long range touchdown run came on the second Maryland play to set 36,000 fans jumping in misty Byrd Stadium.

Faloney was hurt three plays before he hit end Bill Walker for the second score and again in the second quarter after completing a 21-yard pass to Hanulak, which paved the way for the third score. Faloney left the game during the half because of an injured left knee and substitute Charley Boxold had to finish the game.

Boxold, in for Faloney in the second quarter, found Walker for a touchdown pass that covered 25 yards and then the Maryland defense took over in the last two periods. Quarterback Bart Starr passed Alabama six yards short of a score in the third period and to the 14, 3 and 2 in the last period only to be repulsed by a Maryland defense that blanked six of its 10 opponents and gave up only 31 points all season.

Italian Machines Swap Lead In Mexican Race

DURANGO, Mexico, Nov. 21 (AP)—Italian Lancias and Ferraris traded the lead today in the big sports car division of the Pan-American road race in a fierce speed duel which cost the life of Italy's Felice Bonetto—one of the world's most beloved racing drivers.

Argentina's daring speed demon, Juan Manuel Fangio, took over the lead in total time for the 1,912 miles run from southern Mexico to the U.S. border at El Paso, Tex., after the tragic death of Bonetto, who was 50. The five-day race ends Monday.

The pipe-smoking, gray-haired Bonetto who won the first lap of the world's most dangerous race Thursday, was the third Italian driver to be killed in the first three days of the race. Four spectators were killed on the first day when a speeding car crashed into a group of watchers along the road. Antonio Stagnoli and his co-pilot, Giuseppi Scotuzzi, died as the result of a first day crash.

There were two laps in the race today, a total of 590 miles.

Fangio, driving a Lancia, was first over the finish line at Durango to end the second lap of today's run, 320 miles from Leon. However, the lap was won by Piero Taruffi of Italy, with a Lancia. Taruffi, 51, had won both laps yesterday, and Bonetto was second. Bonetto was leader in elapsed time when today's first lap, from Mexico City to Leon, began.

Humberto Maglioli, in a Ferrari, won the 261-mile leg from Mexico City to Leon as Bonetto's car smashed into an electric light pole in the town of Silao, just short of the end of the lap near Leon. Bonetto's neck was broken and he died at once, said an examining doctor. His body remained in the car an hour as officials kept the road clear of rescue workers because other machines were roaring past constantly at high speed.

Maglioli was timed officially, with the clockings still subject to confirmation, in two hours, 15 minutes, 41 seconds for the Mexico City-Leon lap. Fangio required 2:19:50.

Four Americans in Lincolns still led the big stock car division.

Johnny Mantz of Los Angeles won the second lap in this class from Leon to Durango, on the basis of unofficial figures. However, Chuck Stevenson of Milwaukee was ahead in elapsed time for the race to date, with 14 hours, 17 minutes, 46 seconds.

Boilermakers March Over Hoosiers, 30-0

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Nov. 21 (AP)—Purdue's Boilermakers grabbed four fumbles and intercepted four passes from a favored Indiana team today and beat the Hoosiers for the sixth straight time in their ancient Old Oaken Bucket series 30-0.

Score by quarters:

Purdue	7	10	0	13—30

Kentucky Downs Tennessee First Time In 18 Years

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 21 (AP)—Brilliant Bob Hardy, a babe in arms the last time Kentucky defeated Tennessee, engineered the Bluegrass Wildcats to a 27-21 victory today, their first in 18 years over the Volunteers.

The win, attained in a see-saw thriller, kept Kentucky hot in the running for a post season bowl bid.

Tennessee wonder-boy Jimmy Wade, stopped cold on the ground, took to the air for three key plays that produced scores and seemed for a while destined to keep the Vols moving in a streak which has held Kentucky winless in the series since 1935.

The Wildcats had the guns to come from behind twice, however, and stretched their 1953 comeback streak to seven victories and a tie since losing their first two games.

Score by quarters:

Tennessee	0	7	7	7—21
Kentucky	7	6	7	7—27

MSC Loses Early Lead, But Rallies To Top Marquette

EAST LASING, Mich., Nov. 21 (AP)—Michigan State, gunning for a Big Ten Rose Bowl bid, had to shoot the works and come charging from behind to overcome a classy-looking Marquette team 21-15 before a home crowd of 42,170 today.

The game looked at first like a runaway when Michigan State scored on its second play of the afternoon and led 14-0 after the first period. But the M.S.C. lead was only 14-9 at the half and Marquette led 15-14 in the third quarter.

Rugged little Leroy Bolden, 159 pounds of compressed dynamite, butted his way for the last 10 yards for the touchdown that put Michigan State in the lead again 21-15.

The hard-won victory put Michigan State in a tie with Illinois for the Big Ten Rose Bowl selection. Marquette, which showed a brilliant passing game, also was likely to get an extra season bowl offer for looking so good in losing.

Score by quarter:

Michigan State	14	0	7	0—21
Marquette	0	9	6	0—15

Marquette scoring: touchdowns, Braatz, Brehm. Safety, Peterson (tackled Yewcic in M.S.C. end zone). Conversions, Saffidi.

Detroit Slams Impotent Tulsa By 33-0 Count

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 21 (AP)—Detroit's Titans used crunching ground power today to roll over an impotent Tulsa team 33-0 and keep alive their chances to tie for the Missouri Valley Conference championship.

By defeating Wichita there Thanksgiving Day Detroit can share the title with Oklahoma A. & M., which has finished its conference play with a 3-1 record.

The decisive defeat was the first shutout of a Tulsa team in 49 games. The Golden Hurricane's last whitewashing was by Texas Tech in 1949.

Score by quarters:

Detroit	7	14	6	6—33

Detroit scoring: Touchdowns, Riley 2, Burgmeier, Able, O'Neil. Conversions, O'Neil, Zambiasi 2.

LANGLOIS TRIUMPHS

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 21 (AP)—Pierre Langlois, leaving no doubt as to his advantage in experience, battered and pounded young Jesse Turner with an impressive shower of sidearm lefts and overhand rights to win an unanimous decision in their 10-round middleweight bout here tonight. Langlois weighed 157½ to Turner's 155.

Bayou Women's Crown Claimed By Mrs. Miller

Mrs. George Miller, only women's club champion Bayou DeSiard Country Club has ever had, rules again. Mrs. Miller this week sewed up the title once more by defeating Mrs. Clyde Nash, tourney medalist, 5 and 4, in the championship finals. Title consolation went to Mrs. C. B. McMahon with a 3 and 2 victory over Mrs. Stanley Mintz.

Mrs. Ed Hemphill was the first flight winner, beating Mrs. L. E. Ducote, 1 up. Mrs. George Beekman beat Mrs. John Kelso, 3 and 2, for the second flight title, and Mrs. C. C. Boardman won the third flight by stopping Mrs. Allen Barham, 2 and 1.

Mrs. H. G. Prophit defeated Mrs. Charles Garretson, 3 and 2, for first flight consolation, and Mrs. Ed Shaver won second flight consolation by beating Mrs. Frank Davis, 1 up.

Missouri Edges Hapless Kansas To Win 10 To 6

LAWRENCE, Kan., Nov. 21 (AP)—Missouri smacked over a touchdown in the second quarter and scored a field goal in the fourth today to defeat Kansas 10-6. The game featured a free-swinging melee involving players and spectators in the last half minute.

The victory gave Missouri a tie with Kansas State for second place in the Big Seven Conference with four successes and two defeats.

Score by quarters:

Missouri	0	7	0	3—10
Kansas	0	0	0	6— 6

Missouri scoring: Touchdown, B. Schoonmaker; field goal, Merrifield. Conversion, Merrifield.

Vandy Reserve Power Crushes Raiders, 31-13

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 21 (AP)—Vanderbilt had to come from behind today to outscore neighboring Middle Tennessee State 31-13 in a ragged football game, last one of the home season.

The Commodores, playing listless football most of the way, scored first, but trailed 13 to 6 at the half. Superior reserve strength wore down the Blue Raiders in the second half and Vanderbilt tallied twice in each of the last two quarters.

Score by quarters:

Middle Tenn.	0	13	0	6—13
Vanderbilt	6	0	12	13—31

Middle Tennessee scoring: Touchdowns — Rather 2. Conversion—Young.

Princeton Upset by Dartmouth's Soph Back, 34-12

PRINCETONN, N. J., Nov. 21 (AP)—Leo McKenna, a little sophomore quarterback from Concord, Mass., led Dartmouth to a surprising 34-12 rout of favored Princeton today with two touchdowns, a scoring pass and four conversions.

McKenna, only 5-foot-9 and 169 pounds, sneaked over twice from the one and passed 17 yards to John Anderson for another score. He missed only once in five placement attempts.

Bill Beagle, another soph quarterback, passed 23 yards to Dave Thielscher for another touchdown and Lou Turner raced 26 yards down the sidelines for the other.

Score by quarters:

Dartmouth	7	7	7	13—34
Princeton	12	0	0	0—12

Bowl-Bound Uclans Trip Southern Cal, 13 To 0

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21 (AP)—U.C.L.A. hammered out a 13-0 victory over Southern Californi today and to all intents captured the Rose Bowl bid for the Pacific Coast Conference.

The triumph, couplied with the 21-21 tie between Stanford and California, ostensibly sent the Bruins rolling into the New Year's Day game at Pasadena against a Big Ten representative.

The victory gave U.C.L.A. a 6-1 conference record, against Stanford's five victories, one defeat and one tie.

U.C.L.A., performing before 85,366 fans, plus a national television audience of millions, wrapped up the game with a touchdown in the second quarter and clinched it with another in the fourth quarter.

With the game in the Bruin laps, attention of the roaring crowd turned to radio and loud speaker reports from the game at Palto Alto. There was wild hysteria among the Bruin thousands when California tied the score and then when the game ended.

Official vote of the conference must be taken, but it appeared certain that U.C.L.A. would get the bowl assignment, it's third in history.

6-Man Football

The championship of the Six-Man Touch Football League will be settled here this afternoon when the Mohawks and Bulldogs tangle at 3:15 o'clock on the L.T.I. gridiron to settle their tie for first place.

The regular schedule ended last Sunday when the Mohawks suffered their first defeat, a 6-0 loss at the hands of the Bulldogs that earned them a shot at the league championship.

Both teams have won ix and lost one during the season.

Engineers Defeat Duke 13-10, With Long Closing Run

ATLANTA, Nov. 21 (AP)—Halfback Billy Teas ran a punt back for 48 spectacular yards and a touchdown in the closing minutes today and Georgia Tech jumped back into the bowl picture with a 13-10 victory over Duke's Blue Devils.

Had it not been for the masterful running by the speedy Andrews, N.C., junior, Tech fans would always have argued that the officials had robbed their Yellow Jackets of victory.

Duke grabbed a 10-6 lead in the third quarter. The key play in Duke's drive was a lateral that brought thunderous boos from the sellout crowd of 40,000 when officials allowed it to stand.

The crowd had heard an official's whistle and it was sure halfback Lloyd Caudle had been stopped at the line of scrimmage. But officials allowed his lateral to quarterback Jerry Barger, who went 22 yards to the Tech 20. The Blue Devils scored in five plays, fullback Jack Kistler smashing through from the 4.

That appeared to be the game until Teas made his fancy run behind smashing blocks by his fired-up mates.

Duke	3	0	7	0—10
Tech	0	6	0	7—13

Tech scoring: Touchdowns, Rodgers, Teas. Conversion, Rodgers.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles, mixing the National Football League's most potent offense with a numbing defensive line, powered to their sixth straight victory tonight, 38-0, over the winless Chicago Cardinals.

Bobby Thomason's aerials, plus the hard running of Jerry Williams Harold (Skippy) Giancanelli, Don Johnson, and Jim Parmer, ripped the Cardinal defenses to shreds. Defensively, the Eagles, led by Charley Bednarik, buffeted the Chicago runners and passers about like so many wooden soldiers.

Frank Ziegler started the scoring parade with a one-yard bolt into the end zone on the 13th play of a 55-yard first period drive. Bobby Walston converted and the Eagles were winging.

Before the first half was over, Thomason flipped 37 yards to Giancanelli for a touchdown, Walston kicked a 27-yard field goal and Williams barged over from the one.

This Philadelphia attack, which in the last six games has generated 227 points, added a 4-yard touchdown by Williams in the third quarter and a two-yard scoring plunge by Johnson in the final seconds.

Philadelphia	14	10	7	7—38

Philadelphia scoring: Touchdowns, Ziegler, Giancanelli, Johnson, Williams 2. Conversions, Walston 5. Field goal, Walston.

Iowa Surprises Notre Dame In Deadlocked Battle

Irish Fight From Behind Twice To Earn 14 To 14 Tie

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 21 (AP)—Iowa's hard-hitting young Hawkeyes, rocked Notre Dame's national prestige today, holding the country's premier football team to a 14-14 tie and missing what would have been the season's greatest upset by a matter of seconds.

Nonetheless, Notre Dame, rated by far America's top outfit, suffered the first nick in a season that through seven previous games had been all-victorious.

The Hawkeyes, 14-point underdogs, forced the proud Irish to come from behind twice. Bruising touchdown drives produced a 7 - 0 Iowa lead in the first quarter and a 14-7 edge with about two minutes left in the game.

The Irish overcame the first deficit mostly because of the quick-thinking of their big tackle, Frank Varrichione.

The huge Notre Dame lineman screamed and staggered as the final seconds of the second period ticked away and an umpire called an "injured player" timeout with just one second remaining in the half.

Notre Dame, at this point, was on the Iowa 12, Ralph Guglielmi's passes having accounted for 53 yards in a drive that started on the Irish 42.

With time for only one play, and with Varrichione duly replaced, Guglielmi spotted end Dan Shannon untended at the Hawk goal line and threw to him for a touchdown. Don Schaefer kicked the point that gave the Irish a 7-7 deadlock.

Then, after Iowa went ahead 14-7 on Bob Stearnes' four-yard pass to Frank Gilliam with two minutes left in the game, Guglielmi again capped a return Notre Dame march—this one good for 58 yards—with a nine-yard touchdown pitch to Shannon. Six seconds were left in the game when Guglielmi made the connection.

Again Schaefer converted, tying the score. And the game ended 14-14 as the Hawkeyes had time only to return the following kickoff to midfield.

California From Behind For 21-21 Tie With Indians

PALO ALTO, Calif., Nov. 21 (AP)—California's Golden Bears battled the favored Stanford Indians to a 21-21 tie today in a memorable football contest that knocked the Indians out of a possible chance to go to the Rose Bowl.

The deadlock meant the U.C.L.A. Bruins will get the bowl bid by defeating Southern California 13-0.

A capacity crowd of 92,500 saw California come from behind in the fourth period to score after recovering a Stanford fumble. Quarterback Paul Larson placekicked his third conversion of the game for the equalizer.

Both teams scored in the second period, California traveling 68 yards and Stanford 59 yards.

The Indians jumped into a 21-7 lead by scoring twice in the third quarter. The Bears came back in the same period to get back into the game. With seconds to go in the final period, Larson missed a 6-yard field goal attempt that would have put the Bears out in front.

Score by quarters:

California	0	7	7	7—21
Stanford	0	7	14	0—21

California scoring: touchdowns, Whyte, Larson, Talley. Conversions, Larson 3.

Michigan Plays Great Ball To Whip OSU, 20-0

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 21 (AP)—Thrice-beaten Michigan played its best game of the season and ambushed favored Ohio State today, 20-0, before 90,126—the biggest home crowd of the year.

The Wolverines scored two quick touchdowns in the second period and chalked up another in the third, handing Ohio State its first shutout of the season. Stolen passes set up two Michigan scores.

The upset gave Michigan a 3-3 Big Ten conference record for the year, poorest since 1937, and furnished a sweet ending to an otherwise disappointing league season. It was Ohio's third loss in seven Big Ten games.

Michigan	0	13	7	0—20
Ohio State	0	0	0	0— 0

The American Hockey League has three playing-coaches — Frank Udolls of Buffalo, Murray Henderson of Hershey and Pat Egan of Providence.

Fair Play Still Rules In Tuesday Mat Bouts

Another two-match wrestling program is slated for Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night, with newcomer Johnny Silvers, the Oklahoma cowboy, tangling with ex-light heavyweight champion in a one-hour time-limit semi-final, two falls to win; and Al Massey taking on Danny Dusek in the main bout, with a 90-minute time limit, also two falls to win.

Silvers, who has made no previous appearances on the Monroe mat, will find the usual hero-villain grapple routine slightly expensive Tuesday night, for the rules of last week will apply, with every foul committed being signaled by referee Bill Barney to a ringside judge, who will submit the total to promoter Kallio for assessment against the instigator.

JOHNNY SILVERS

Walter Bennett Sr. was the foul judge last week, and had an easy task through the three-fall opening match, when neither Dusek nor Mobley used any illegal tactics.

The latter, who is accustomed to keeping his wrestling legal, and well known for his clean style, will again find the new rule to his favor, though Dusek managed to beat him cleanly last week.

Massey usually wrestles clean too, and was only charged with a pair of fouls last Tuesday when he lost his temper on a "Stinger" Steele hair-pull, and retaliated illegally in voice and action. However, two ringsiders paid his $2 fine, so he didn't suffer financially. Against Dusek, if Danny fights like he did against Rex, big Al should have no provocation to lose his temper.

The Good Fellow's Christmas Fund is again the benefactor of any sums received for foul assessment, so any grappler, when he pulls hair or such, is generously purchasing a nice toy for some under-privileged child.

Fort Necessity Bills Basketball Event Dec. 4-5

FORT NECESSITY, La., Nov. 21 (Special) — The annual Fort Necessity High School Invitational Basketball Tournament will be held here December 4 and 5, and Coach Alton Johnston today reported nineteen teams have already filed entries for the cage event. The meet is open to boys and girls' teams.

Coach Johnston announced boys' teams already registered as Enterprise, Ogden, Mangham, Baskin, Grayson, Central, Winnsboro, Harrisonburg, Gilbert, Wisner, Kelly and Fort Necessity. Girls' teams entered so far are Ogden, Kelly, Central Mangham, Wisner, Gilbert and Winnsboro.

The event, approved by the Louisiana High School Athletic Association, is open to additional entries, and all entries are expected to be in by Tuesday.

First and second place trophies will be awarded as well as a team sportsmanship cup and individual awards to members of the all-tournament teams.

Citadel Hangs 38-14 Defeat On Davidson

DAVIDSON, N. C., Nov. 21 (AP)—The Citadel's Bulldogs, relying on the stout passing arm of quarterback Rierson and the Broken Field running of halfback Bufort Blanton, rolled over Davidson's Wildcats 38-14 today.

It was The Citadel's first Southern Conference victory of the year.

Score by quarters:

The tourney, approved by the Louisiana High School Athletic Association, is open for boys and girls' teams Certified officials will work the games, and first, second and third place trophies will be awarded.

Fair Grounds Set For 81st Season On Thanksgiving

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 21 (AP)—The historic Fair Grounds, hoping for another banner season, opens its 81st season of thoroughbred racing Thursday with the traditional $7,500 Thanksgiving Day Handicap topping the inaugural program.

At the end of the 80th season last March, the Fair Grounds had new records in attendance—more than 611,000—and in betting—more than $30,500,000.

Fans this season will find more than 1,000 new grandstand seats and a new clubhouse balcony from which to watch the races and 50 more pari-mutuel machines to use in betting on them.

The purses during the 82-day meeting, amounting to more than $1,400,000, will feature the $50,000 New Orleans Handicap and the $40,000 Louisiana Derby, both run near the end of the season.

Track officials said they are expecting another top year, but declined to predict that last season's records would be topped, despite improvements made during the summer months.

Gar Moore, the track's general manager, said the added facilities would enable the track to handle crowds of 15,000 and upward easily.

Teague Pichon, representing the Louisiana racing commission, said with the high purses offered and the many improvements he could see no reason why this should not be another banner year.

Many of racing's top stables already have their top horses on the grounds and stable accommodations have been stretched to the limit.

Rados Leads Penn Staters To 17-0 Margin Over Pitt

Rados' adroit passing and quarterbacking resulted in all the scoring for the Lions who knocked repeatedly at Pitt's door throughout a dreary afternoon before 42,277 fans in this 53rd game of the series.

End Jimmy Garrity kicked a 15-yard field goal in the second quarter after Rados hit fullback Bill Straud with a 50-yard pass. Straub headed down the sidelines for a touchdown only to be grounded from behind by fleet-footed Henry (Model-T) Ford.

Seconds later, Rados handed off to halfback Lenny Moore on a trap play and the brilliant sophomore from Reading, Pa., scooted down the sidelines for 79 yards and a touchdown.

Penn State took the second half kickoff and drove 63 yards for its second touchdown with Buddy Rowell hitting off left tackle from a foot out for the score.

'Cats, Hoosiers, Bruins, Dukes Top Cage Threats

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (AP)— Duquesne . . . Indiana . . . Kentucky California. . .take your pick. One of these institutions of higher education should produce the No. 1 college basketball team in the nation.

The east already is beating the drums for the Iron Dukes of Duquesne. The Southeast is just as loud in its praise for the returning Wildcats of Kentucky. In the west they're hailing Nibs Price's Golden Bears as something special. And in the midwest they'll give you points and take Indiana's Hurryin' Hoosiers to sweep to a second straight national college championship.

While the drums beat loudest for these four, others are just as optimistic. The east boasts such fine teams as LaSalle of Philadelphia, Niagara of Buffalo and Holy Cross. North Carolina State, L.S.U., Louisville, Maryland and Western Kentucky are strong southern representatives. Kansas, Kansas State, Dayton, Bowling Green and Minnesota are among the midwest stalwarts. The southwest has potent fives in Oklahoma A and M., Rice, T.C.U. and Wyoming. California will receive strong regional competition from Santa Clara and Oregon State.

Basketball observers are convinced Duquesne can't miss winning the eastern title. Even Coach Dudie Moore, usually a cautious soul, admits the advance outlook is the best he has ever enjoyed. Duquesne lost only three men from last year's high ranking outfit. The 1954 squad will again be built around Dick Ricketts, 6-7, Jim Tucker, 6-8, and Fletcher Johnson, 6-5. A fine array of sophomores is headed by Sihugo Green, who figures to win a regular berth without too much trouble.

Kentucky, a name long synonymous with collegiate basketball, appears ready to establish its customary lofty rating. Headed by co-captains Cliff Hagan and Frank Ramsey and surrounded by a bevy of outstanding sophomores and freshmen, the Wildcats may be Kentucky's greatest outfit since the 1948 Olympic champions.

Only two national college basketball champions ever repeated. Oklahoma A. and M. did it in 1946 and Kentucky in 1949. Coach Branch McCracken's Indiana Quintet may be the third.

The team that won a record number of 17 straight Big Ten conference games in between two-point losses to Kansas State and Minnesota, will have all but one of its entire squad back. That includes All-American candidates Don (6-9) Schlundt and Bob (6-3) Leonard. Also back are such key operatives like Dick Farley, Charles Braak and Burke Scott.

Southerners Tack 14 To 0 Upset On Georgia Bulldogs

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 21 (AP)—A flashy Mississippi Southern junior grabbed a deflected Zeke Bratkowski pass today and zig-zagged 46 yards for a second period touchdown that started Southern's 14-0 upset of favored Georgia.

Lightning Laurin Pepper snatched the pass from the Georgia quarterback that was intended for John Carson, after a Southern defender had batted it into the air.

The victory was Southern's second over a Southeastern Conference foe. The Hattiesburg, Miss., school blasted Alabama 25-19 in its opening game.

The first Southern touchdown came late in the second period and the Southerners held that lead. In the last quarter, they added another when fullback Bucky McElroy smashed one yard. A 40-yard pass and run play from Southern quarterback Jim Davenport to halfback Jim Brashier set up the score on the four-yard line.

McElroy converted on both tries.

Pepper and McElroy ground out more than 170 yards rushing for Southern while Davenport and Bill Jarrell threw key passes to keep the offense rolling.

Marion's Quintet Registers Ninth Straight Victory

MARION, La., Nov. 21 (Special)—Notching their ninth consecutive victory without defeat, the Marion High School quintet downed Downville, 51 to 33, here last night to complete a double header sweep for Marion as the local girls nosed out the visiting sextet, 33-32.

Bobby Wheelis sparked the triumph for Coach Glen Post's charges as he dunked 17 points through the nets with Ardis Phillips close on his heels with 14. "Tuffy" Antley led Downsville with nine.

Perry Murray and Phillips showed good floor play, and Wheelis was outstanding on rebounds, but they expect to get one of their more severe tests of the season when they meet an invasion from Huttig, Ark., High here Tuesday night. Huttig will visit for a boys and girls' double header.

Viva Wheelis was high scorer for Marion in the girls' contest last night, registering 23 points, but she was tied for individual scoring honors by Miss Benford of Downsville, who also hit for 23.

Furman Drops Wake Forest By 21 to 19

WAKE FOREST, N. C., Nov. 21 (AP)—A two-touchdown Wake Forest rally in the first four minutes of the second half went for naught as Furman drove 73 yards for a score in the final period to grab a 21-19 victory in a football thriller played before a crowd of 5,000 today.

Score by quarters:

Auburn Smashes Clemson, 45-19, To Notch Win No. 7

CLEMSON, S. C., Nov. 21 (AP)—Auburn's bowl-hungry Plainsmen overwhelmed Clemson 45-19 today to win their seventh football game of the season, their highest victory total in 17 years.

Auburn, which closes its season against Alabama next week, kept alive its hopes for a bid to the Sugar, Cotton or Gator bowls by turning two Clemson passes into Plainsmen touchdowns in the opening minutes. After that, it was a steady stream of Auburn touchdowns, two in each of the first three periods and one in the fourth period.

The victory was Auburn's fifth in succession, the first time in 21 years an Auburn team has accomplished that feat. Only an early-season tie with Mississippi State and a loss to Georgia Tech mar the team's record through nine games.

Score by quarters:

Auburn	12	14	13	6—45

DeSiard's 4-Ball Golf Tournament Gains Semi-Finals

The Bayou DeSiard Men's Four-Ball Handicap Tournament advanced to the semi-finals yesterday with teams composed of Curtis Nichols, Bill Carpenter, Ed Hemphill, Bill Jones, Curtis Cook, H. G. Prophit, E. S. "Shep" Girault and Jack Rogers still in the running for the championship trophy.

The semi-final pairings send Nichols-Carpenter against Hemphill-Jones and Cook-Prophit against Girault-Rogers.

Nichols and Carpenter gained the semi-finals by defeating Jack Masur and Ed Shaver, 1 up. Hemphill and Jones advanced over P. B. Snodgrass and Dr. D. L. Anderson, 1 up; Cook and Prophit beat C. B. McMahan and W. C. Crowell, 4 and 3; and Girault and Rogers eliminated McVea Oliver and Bobby Guerriero, 6 and 5.

The semi-final matches will be played this week with the finals to be completed not later than next Sunday.

FINALE FOR FOURTEEN

LAST CHANCE

Tulane's 14 football seniors who play their final game Nov. 28 against L.S.U. have never had the pleasure of a varsity football victory over the Tigers. Since the last Tulane win in the series (46-0 in 1948), L.S.U. has won 21-0 in 1949, tied 14-all in 1950, won 14-13 in 1951 and won 16-0 in 1952.

Lake Charles Rules 'AA' Grid In Southwest Zone

By JAMES SAGGUS
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Lake Charles is southwest district champion and three teams are tied for the southeast title today after outstanding performances by two of the top backs in double-A football.

Quarterback Jerry Lewis passed for three touchdowns and ran for another in guiding Lake Charles to a 33-20 victory over Sulphur and the southwest championship, first for Lake Charles since 1948.

Halfback Jimmy Taylor scored twice in sparking Baton Rouge to a 19-7 victory over city-rival Istrouma, with the mild upset bringing prospects of a two-game playoff among Istrouma, Baton Rouge and Terrebonne of Houma to decide the district entry in the state playoff.

Other games Friday night saw Haynesville beat Bossier City 33-0; Class A Neville beat Ouachita 13-0 for the Monroe city title; St. Aloysius trounce Fortier 26-0 in a New Orleans game; and Terrebonne roll over New Iberia 37-0.

In Thursday games, Warren Easton and Redemptorist in New Orleans tied 0-0 and Bogalusa edged Catholic of Baton Rouge 2-0. Jesuit and de la Salle were playing last night and Nicholls takes on Holy Cross today in New Orleans games.

The Southwest district title is the second settled. Byrd of Shreveport has already clinched the north championship. Jesuit and Warren Easton will settle the New Orleans crown next week.

Lake Charles scored two touchdowns in the second period against Sulphur to take a permanent lead. Both touchdowns were on Lewis' passes to end Charles Mackey, with the first covering 11 yards and the second 41. After halftime, Lewis scored on a three-yard crack at tackle and threw to end Glen Craig The final Lake Charles touchdown came when Claude Mason took a pitchout from Lewis and passed 37 yards to end Tommy Ragussa.

Jerry McWilliams spearheaded Neville over Ouachita, setting up both touchdowns. Alton McCready passed to James Portman in the first period and Mike Cage ran 16 yards in the third for the scores.

Sulphur scored late in the second quarter on a seven-yard run by Jimmy Deaton, in the third on a one-yard plunge by Wayne Bourgeois and in the fourth quarter on an 87-yard kickoff return by Larry Dronet.

Taylor scored against Istrouma on a one-yard plunge in the first period after setting it up with a 43-yard run. He counted in the third on a five-yard crack to give Baton Rouge a 12-0 lead. Istrouma came back with George Guidry running the final 24 yards, but Baton Rouge iced it on Jasper Brook's 22-yard scoring run in the final quarter.

Terrebonne rolled over New Iberia easily, scoring in the first quarter on a pass from Ken King to Floyd Roody. After King scored on a one-yard sneak in the first period, Roy Marcel, Larry Boudreaux, Andrew Robichaux and Merlin Schexnaildre added other touchdowns.

St. Aloysius had unexpected tough opposition from Fortier, but broke the deadlock in the third period on touchdown runs of 31 and 58 yards by Jimmy LaCava. In the final quarter Eddie Arms and Bob Neyrey got scores.

Haynesville got the jump on Bossier City in the second quarter when Don Nichols cracked over from the nine. After halftime, Tony Hartsell scored on a one-yard smash. Ronnie Johnson threw twice to Howard Gryder and Jerry Bice ran 13 yards.

No Relief In 9 Games; Finishes Year In Glory

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (AP)—Columbia's Dick Carr played his ninth straight complete game today and was returned the winning pitcher on his own efforts as the Lions concluded the football season with a 27-13 victory over Rutgers.

Carr, the only major college player who has gone through a full season without relief in this year of one platoon football, accounted for all four Columbia touchdowns with his passes.

KENNEDY COMES BACK

Tulane's Lester Kennedy, whose long passing almost upset L.S.U. in the 14-13 struggle of 1951, will get his second chance against the Tigers Nov. 28 at Baton Rouge. Les missed last year's game because of a broken wrist.

Mobley Has Field Day As Louisiana College Triumphs

MEMPHIS, Nov. 21 (AP)—Louisiana College overran Southwestern 41-7 here today with halfback Frank Mobley scoring three of the Tigers six touchdowns and booting four extra points.

Halfbacks Wade and Lewis Alexander got a touchdown each to make it 34-0 at the half. Then quarterback Harold Cark squeezed over on a sneak in the final period.

Southwestern's only score was set up when linebacker Jim Gillin intercepted one of Louisiana College's rare passes on the Tigers 30. Jim Higgason, on a handoff through tackle, went all the way on the next play.

Harvard Upsets Favored Yale 11 By 13-0 Margin

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 21 (AP)—An inspired line and Dick Clasby, a fiery triple-threat-back, led Harvard to a 13-0 upset triumph over favored Yale and a triple tie for Big Three honors today.

A near capacity crowd of 65,000 in the Bowl saw the Crimson forward wall outplay its highly rated and heavier rivals and Clasby, winding up a brilliant career, pass, run and kick the Elis dizzy.

Long runs brought Harvard both of its touchdowns in its first victory over Yale since 1948 and 24th in this ancient series which goes back to 1875. Yale has won 40, tied seven.

Dexter Lewis put Harvard in front in the second quarter with a 22-yard spring and John Culver burst off tackle for 31 yards in the third period. Joe Ross converted after the second score.

Iowa Surprises Notre Dame In Deadlocked Battle

Irish Fight From Behind Twice To Earn 14 To 14 Tie

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 21 (AP)—Iowa's hard-hitting young Hawkeyes, rocked Notre Dame's national prestige today, holding the country's premier football team to a 14-14 tie and missing what would have been the season's greatest upset by a matter of seconds.

Nonetheless, Notre Dame, rated by far America's top outfit, suffered the first nick in a season that through seven previous games had been all-victorious.

The Hawkeyes, 14-point underdogs, forced the proud Irish to come from behind twice. Bruising touchdown drives produced a 7 - 0 Iowa lead in the first quarter and a 14-7 edge with about two minutes left in the game.

The Irish overcame the first deficit mostly because of the quick-thinking of their big tackle, Frank Varrichione.

The huge Notre Dame lineman screamed and staggered as the final seconds of the second period kicked away and an umpire called an "injured player" timeout with just one second remaining in the half.

Notre Dame, at this point, was on the Iowa 12, Ralph Guglielmi's passes having accounted for 53 yards in a drive that started on the Irish 42.

With time for only one play, and with Varrichione duly replaced, Guglielmi spotted end Dan Shannon untended at the Hawk goal line and threw to him for a touchdown. Don Schaefer kicked the point that gave the Irish a 7-7 deadlock.

Then, after Iowa went ahead 14-7 on Bob Stearnes' four-yard pass to Frank Gilliam with two minutes left in the game, Guglielmi again capped a return Notre Dame march—this one good for 58 yards—with a nine-yard touchdown pitch to Shannon. Six seconds were left in the game when Guglielmi made the connection.

Iowa	7	0	0	7—14
Notre Dame	0	7	0	7—14

Notre Dame scoring: Touchdowns, Shannon 2. Conversions, Schaefer 2.

California From Behind For 21-21 Tie With Indians

PALO ALTO, Calif., Nov. 21 (AP)—California's Golden Bears battled the favored Stanford Indians to a 21-21 tie today in a memorable football contest that knocked the Indians out of a possible chance to go to the Rose Bowl.

The deadlock meant the U.C.L.A. Bruins will get the bowl bid by defeating Southern California 13-0.

A capacity crowd of 92,500 saw California come from behind in the fourth period to score after recovering a Stanford fumble. Quarterback Paul Larson place-kicked his third conversion of the game for the equalizer.

Both teams scored in the second period, California traveling 68 yards and Stanford 59 yards.

The Indians jumped into a 21-7 lead by scoring twice in the third quarter. The Bears came back in the same period to get back into the game. With seconds to go in the final period, Larson missed a 9-yard field goal attempt that would have put the Bears out in front.

Score by quarters:
California	0	7	7	7—21
Stanford	0	7	14	0—21

California scoring: touchdowns, Whyte, Larson, Talley. Conversions, Larson 3.

Michigan Plays Great Ball To Whip OSU, 20-0

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 21 (AP)—Thrice-beaten Michigan played its best game of the season and ambushed favored Ohio State today, 20-0, before 90,126—the biggest home crowd of the year.

The Wolverines scored two quick touchdowns in the second period and chalked up another in the third, handing Ohio State its first shutout of the season. Stolen passes set up two Michigan scores.

The upset gave Michigan a 3-3 Big Ten conference record for the year, poorest since 1937, and furnished a sweet ending to an otherwise disappointing league season. It was Ohio's third loss in seven Big Ten games.

Ohio State	0	0	0	0—0

Fair Play Still Rules In Tuesday Mat Bouts

Another two-match wrestling program is slated for Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night, with newcomer Johnny Silvers, the Oklahoma cowboy, tangling with ex-light heavyweight champion in a one-hour time-limit semi-final, two falls to win; and Al Massey taking on Danny Dusek in the main bout, with a 90-minute time limit, also two falls to win.

Silvers, who has made no previous appearances on the Monroe mat, will find the usual hero-villain grapple routine slightly expensive Tuesday night, for the rules of last week will apply, with every foul committed being signaled by referee Bill Barney to a ringside judge, who will submit the total to promoter Kallio for assessment against the instigator.

Walter Bennett Sr. was the foul judge last week, and had an easy task through the three-fall opening match, when neither Dusek nor Mobley used any illegal tactics.

The latter, who is accustomed to keeping his wrestling legal, and well known for his clean style, will again find the new rule to his favor, though Dusek managed to beat him cleanly last week.

Massey usually wrestles clean too, and was only charged with a pair of fouls last Tuesday when he lost his temper on a "Stinger" Steele hair-pull, and retaliated illegally in voice and action. However, two ringsiders paid his $2 fine, so he didn't suffer financially. Against Dusek, if Danny fights like he did against Rex, big Al should have no provocation to lose his temper.

The Good Fellow's Christmas Fund is again the benefactor of any sums received for foul assessment, so any grappler, when he pulls hair or such, is generously purchasing a nice toy for some under-privileged child.

Fort Necessity Bills Basketball Event Dec. 4-5

FORT NECESSITY, La., Nov. 21 (Special) — The annual Fort Necessity High School Invitational Basketball Tournament will be held here December 4 and 5, and Coach Alton Johnston today reported nineteen teams have already filed entries for the cage event. The meet is open to boys and girls' teams.

Coach Johnston announced boys' teams already registered as Enterprise, Ogden, Mangham, Baskin, Grayson, Central, Winnsboro, Harrisonburg, Gilbert, Wisner, Kelly and Fort Necessity. Girls' teams entered so far are Ogden, Kelly, Central Mangham, Wisner, Gilbert and Winnsboro.

The event, approved by the Louisiana High School Athletic Association, is open to additional entries, and all entries are expected to be in by Tuesday.

First and second place trophies will be awarded as well as a team sportsmanship cup and individual awards to members of the all-tournament teams.

Citadel Hangs 38-14 Defeat On Davidson

DAVIDSON, N. C., Nov. 21 (AP)—The Citadel's Bulldogs, relying on the stout passing arm of quarterback Rierson and the Broken Field running of halfback Bufort Blanton, rolled over Davidson's Wildcats 38-14 today.

It was The Citadel's first Southern Conference victory of the year.

Score by quarters:
Citadel	7	7	12	12—38
Davidson	7	7	0	0—14

Citadel scoring: touchdowns, Rierson, Tyson, Blanton 2, Harvey, Allen. Conversions, Hutchinson, Bowden.

Davidson scoring: touchdowns, Smith, Thacker. Conversions, McCall, G. Davis.

Downsville Cagers Will Host Holiday Basketball Tourney

DOWNSVILLE, La., Nov. 21 (Special) — Downsville High School will be host to the three-day Holiday Basketball Tournament to be held here December 31 and January 1-2, according to announcements by Bill Hamilton and Sybil Leachman, Downsville cage coaches, who will be in charge of the event.

The tourney, approved by the Louisiana High School Athletic Association, is open for boys and girls' teams. Certified officials will work the games, and first, second and third place trophies will be awarded.

Fair Grounds Set For 81st Season On Thanksgiving

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 21 (AP)—The historic Fair Grounds, hoping for another banner season, opens its 81st season of thoroughbred racing Thursday with the traditional $7,500 Thanksgiving Day Handicap topping the inaugural program.

At the end of the 80th season last March, the Fair Grounds had new records in attendance—more than 611,000—and in betting—more than $30,500,000.

Fans this season will find more than 1,000 new grandstand seats and a new clubhouse balcony from which to watch the races and 50 more pari-mutuel machines to use in betting on them.

The purses during the 82-day meeting, amounting to more than $1,400,000, will feature the $50,000 New Orleans Handicap and the $40,000 Louisiana Derby, both run near the end of the season.

Track officials said they are expecting another top year, but declined to predict that last season's records would be topped, despite improvements made during the summer months.

Gar Moore, the track's general manager, said the added facilities would enable the track to handle crowds of 15,000 and upward easily.

Teague Pichon, representing the Louisiana racing commission, said with the high purses offered and the many improvements he could see no reason why this should not be another banner year.

Many of racing's top stables already have their top horses on the grounds and stable accommodations have been stretched to the limit.

Rados' adroit passing and quarterbacking resulted in all the scoring for the Lions who knocked repeatedly at Pitt's door throughout a dreary afternoon before 42,277 fans in this 53rd game of the series.

End Jimmy Garrity kicked a 15-yard field goal in the second quarter after Rados hit fullback Bill Straud with a 50-yard pass. Straub headed down the sidelines for a touchdown only to be grounded from behind by fleet-footed Henry (Model-T) Ford.

Seconds later, Rados handed off to halfback Lenny Moore on a trap play and the brilliant sophomore from Reading, Pa., scooted down the sidelines for 79 yards and a touchdown.

Penn State took the second half kickoff and drove 63 yards for its second touchdown with Buddy Rowell hitting off left tackle from a foot out for the score.

Score by quarters:
Penn State	0	10	7	0—17

Boston U.'s Aerials Defeat Temple, 20-0

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21 (AP)—Tom Gastall's passing led Boston University to a 20-0 victory over Temple University today. The B. U. quarterback scored one touchdown and passed for another in his team's fourth win against three defeats and a tie.

Score by quarters:
Boston U.	0	7	13	0—20

SIXTY YEARS AGO

The Tulane-L.S.U. football series began in November, 1893, when T. L. (Nervy) Bayne, a Tulane law student, arranged the game, helped coach both teams and also served as umpire. Tulane won, 34-0.

'Cats, Hoosiers, Bruins, Dukes Top Cage Threats

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (AP)— Duquesne . . . Indiana . . . Kentucky California. . .take your pick. One of these institutions of higher education should produce the No. 1 college basketball team in the nation.

The east already is beating the drums for the Iron Dukes of Duquesne. The Southeast is just as loud in its praise for the returning Wildcats of Kentucky. In the west they're hailing Nibs Price's Golden Bears as something special. And in the midwest they'll give you points and take Indiana's Hurryin' Hoosiers to sweep to a second straight national college championship.

While the drums beat loudest for these four, others are just as optimistic. The east boasts such fine teams as LaSalle of Philadelphia, Niagara of Buffalo and Holy Cross. North Carolina State, L.S.U., Louisville, Maryland and Western Kentucky are strong southern representatives. Kansas, Kansas State, Dayton, Bowling Green and Minnesota are among the midwest stalwarts. The southwest has potent fives in Oklahoma A and M., Rice, T.C.U. and Wyoming. California will receive strong regional competition from Santa Clara and Oregon State.

Basketball observers are convinced Duquesne can't miss winning the eastern title. Even Coach Dudie Moore, usually a cautious soul, admits the advance outlook is the best he has ever enjoyed. Duquesne lost only three men from last year's high ranking outfit. The 1954 squad will again be built around Dick Ricketts, 6-7, Jim Tucker, 6-8, and Fletcher Johnson, 6-5. A fine array of sophomores is headed by Sihugo Green, who figures to win a regular berth without too much trouble.

Kentucky, a name long synonymous with collegiate basketball, appears ready to establish its customary lofty rating. Headed by co-captains Cliff Hagan and Frank Ramsey and surrounded by a bevy of outstanding sophomores and freshmen, the Wildcats may be Kentucky's greatest outfit since the 1948 Olympic champions.

Only two national college basketball champions ever repeated. Oklahoma A. and M. did it in 1946 and Kentucky in 1949. Coach Branch McCracken's Indiana Quintet may be the third.

The team that won a record number of 17 straight Big Ten conference games in between two-point losses to Kansas State and Minnesota, will have all but one of its entire squad back. That includes All-American candidates Don (6-9) Schlundt and Bob (6-3) Leonard. Also back are such key operatives like Dick Farley, Charles Braak and Burke Scott.

Southerners Tack 14 To 0 Upset On Georgia Bulldogs

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 21 (AP)—A flashy Mississippi Southern junior grabbed a deflected Zeke Bratkowski pass today and zig-zagged 46 yards for a second period touchdown that started Southern's 14-0 upset of favored Georgia.

Lightning Laurin Pepper snatched the pass from the Georgia quarterback that was intended for John Carson, after a Southern defender had batted it into the air.

The victory was Southern's second over a Southeastern Conference foe. The Hattiesburg, Miss., school blasted Alabama 25-19 in its opening game.

The first Southern touchdown came late in the second period and the Southerners held that lead. In the last quarter, they added another when fullback Bucky McElroy smashed one yard. A 40-yard pass and run play from Southern quarterback Jim Davenport to halfback Jim Brashier set up the score on the four-yard line.

McElroy converted on both tries.

Pepper and McElroy ground out more than 170 yards rushing for Southern while Davenport and Bill Jarrell threw key passes to keep the offense rolling.

Score by quarters:

Miss. Southern	0	7	0	7-14

Mississippi Southern scoring: Touchdowns, Pepper, McElroy. Conversions, McElroy 2.

Marion's Quintet Registers Ninth Straight Victory

MARION, La., Nov. 21 (Special) —Notching their ninth consecutive victory without defeat, the Marion High School quintet downed Downville, 51 to 33, here last night to complete a double header sweep for Marion as the local girls nosed out the visiting sextet, 33-32.

Bobby Wheelis sparked the triumph for Coach Glen Post's charges as he dunked 17 points through the nets with Ardis Phillips close on his heels with 14. "Tuffy" Antley led Downsville with nine.

Perry Murray and Phillips showed good floor play, and Wheelis was outstanding on rebounds, but they expect to get one of their more severe tests of the season when they meet an invasion from Huttig, Ark., High here Tuesday night. Huttig will visit for a boys and girls' double header.

Viva Wheelis was high scorer for Marion in the girls' contest last night, registering 23 points, but she was tied for individual scoring honors by Miss Benford of Downsville, who also hit for 23.

Furman Drops Wake Forest By 21 to 19

WAKE FOREST, N. C., Nov. 21 (AP)—A two-touchdown Wake Forest rally in the first four minutes of the second half went for naught as Furman drove 73 yards for a score in the final period to grab a 21-19 victory in a football thriller played before a crowd of 5,000 today.

Score by quarters:
Furman	7	7	0	7—21
Wake Forest	6	0	13	0—19

Furman scoring: touchdowns, Barefoot, West, Boyle. Conversions, Pringels 2, Popson.

Wake Forest scoring: touchdowns, George 2, Frederick. Conversion, George.

Auburn Smashes Clemson, 45-19, To Notch Win No. 7

CLEMSON, S. C., Nov. 21 (AP)—Auburn's bowl-hungry Plainsmen overwhelmed Clemson 45-19 today to win their seventh football game of the season, their highest victory total in 17 years.

Auburn, which closes its season against Alabama next week, kept alive its hopes for a bid to the Sugar, Cotton or Gator bowls by turning two Clemson passes into Plainsmen touchdowns in the opening minutes. After that, it was a steady stream of Auburn touchdowns, two in each of the first three periods and one in the fourth period.

The victory was Auburn's fifth in succession, the first time in 21 years an Auburn team has accomplished that feat. Only an early-season tie with Mississippi State and a loss to Georgia Tech mar the team's record through nine games.

Score by quarters:
Auburn	12	14	13	6—45
Clemson	0	6	13	0—19

DeSiard's 4-Ball Golf Tournament Gains Semi-Finals

The Bayou DeSiard Men's Four-Ball Handicap Tournament advanced to the semi-finals yesterday with teams composed of Curtis Nichols, Bill Carpenter, Ed Hemphill, Bill Jones, Curtis Cook, H. G. Prophit, E. S. "Shep" Girault and Jack Rogers still in the running for the championship trophy.

The semi-final pairings send Nichols-Carpenter against Hemphill-Jones and Cook-Prophit against Girault-Rogers.

Nichols and Carpenter gained the semi-finals by defeating Jack Masur and Ed Shaver, 1 up. Hemphill and Jones advanced over P. B. Snodgrass and Dr. D. L. Anderson, 1 up; Cook and Prophit beat C. B. McMahan and W. C. Crowell, 4 and 3; and Girault and Rogers eliminated McVea Oliver and Bobby Guerriero, 6 and 5.

The semi-final matches will be played this week with the finals to be completed not later than next Sunday.

FINALE FOR FOURTEEN

Holy Cross Defeats Favored Rams, 20-7

WORCESTER, Mass., Nov. 21 (AP)—Senior quarterback Bill Haley scored twice on sneaks today while directing a blistering first-half attack that enabled Holy Cross' crippled football forces to defeat favored Fordham, 20-7.

Score by quarters:
Fordham	0	0	0	7— 7
Holy Cross	14	6	0	0—20

Fordham scoring: Touchdown, Yalch. Conversion, Yalch.

LAST CHANCE

Tulane's 14 football seniors who play their final game Nov. 28 against L.S.U. have never had the pleasure of a varsity football victory over the Tigers. Since the last Tulane win in the series (46-0 in 1948), L.S.U. has won 21-0 in 1949, tied 14-all in 1950, won 14-13 in 1951 and won 16-0 in 1952.

Lake Charles Rules 'AA' Grid In Southwest Zone

By JAMES SAGGUS
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Lake Charles is southwest district champion and three teams are tied for the southeast title today after outstanding performances by two of the top backs in double-A football.

Quarterback Jerry Lewis passed for three touchdowns and ran for another in guiding Lake Charles to a 33-20 victory over Sulphur and the southwest championship, first for Lake Charles since 1948.

Halfback Jimmy Taylor scored twice in sparking Baton Rouge to a 19-7 victory over city-rival Istrouma, with the mild upset bringing prospects of a two-game playoff among Istrouma, Baton Rouge and Terrebonne of Houma to decide the district entry in the state playoff.

Other games Friday night saw Haynesville beat Bossier City 33-0; Class A Neville beat Ouachita 13-0 for the Monroe city title; St. Aloysius trounce Fortier 26-0 in a New Orleans game; and Terrebonne roll over New Iberia 37-0.

In Thursday games, Warren Easton and Redemptorist in New Orleans tied 0-0 and Bogalusa edged Catholic of Baton Rouge 2-0. Jesuit and de la Salle were playing last night and Nicholls takes on Holy Cross today in New Orleans games.

The Southwest district title is the second settled. Byrd of Shreveport has already clinched the north championship. Jesuit and Warren Easton will settle the New Orleans crown next week.

Lake Charles scored two touchdowns in the second period against Sulphur to take a permanent lead. Both touchdowns were on Lewis' passes to end Charles Mackey, with the first covering 11 yards and the second 41. After halftime, Lewis scored on a three-yard crack at tackle and threw to end Glen Craig. The final Lake Charles touchdown came when Claude Mason took a pitchout from Lewis and passed 37 yards to end Tommy Ragussa.

Jerry McWilliams spearheaded Neville over Ouachita, setting up both touchdowns. Alton McCready passed to James Portman in the first period and Mike Cage ran 16 yards in the third for the scores.

Sulphur scored late in the second quarter on a seven-yard run by Jimmy Deaton, in the third on a one-yard plunge by Wayne Bourgeois and in the fourth quarter on an 87-yard kickoff return by Larry Dronet.

Taylor scored against Istrouma on a one-yard plunge in the first period after setting it up with a 43-yard run. He counted in the third on a five-yard crack to give Baton Rouge a 12-0 lead. Istrouma came back with George Guidry running the final 24 yards, but Baton Rouge iced it on Jasper Brook's 22-yard scoring run in the final quarter.

Terrebonne rolled over New Iberia easily, scoring in the first quarter on a pass from Ken King to Floyd Roody. After King scored on a one-yard sneak in the first period, Roy Marcel, Larry Boudreaux, Andrew Robichaux and Merlin Schexnaildre added other touchdowns.

St. Aloysius had unexpected tough opposition from Fortier, but broke the deadlock in the third period on touchdown runs of 31 and 38 yards by Jimmy LaCava. In the final quarter Eddie Arms and Bob Neyrey got scores.

Haynesville got the jump on Bossier City in the second quarter when Don Nichols cracked over from the nine. After halftime, Tony Hartsell scored on a one-yard smash, Ronnie Johnson threw twice to Howard Gryder and Jerry Bice ran 13 yards.

No Relief In 9 Games; Finishes Year In Glory

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (AP)—Columbia's Dick Carr played his ninth straight complete game today and was returned the winning pitcher on his own efforts as the Lions concluded the football season with a 27-13 victory over Rutgers.

Carr, the only major college player who has gone through a full season without relief in this year of one platoon football, accounted for all four Columbia touchdowns with his passes.

Rutgers	0	13	0	0—13
Columbia	7	7	6	7—27

Rutgers scoring: Touchdowns, Iannucci, Mastrolia. Conversion, Duncan.

KENNEDY COMES BACK

Tulane's Lester Kennedy, whose long passing almost upset L.S.U. in the 14-13 struggle of 1951, will get his second chance against the Tigers Nov. 28 at Baton Rouge. Les missed last year's game because of a broken wrist.

Mobley Has Field Day As Louisiana College Triumphs

MEMPHIS, Nov. 21 (AP)—Louisiana College overran Southwestern 41-7 here today with halfback Frank Mobley scoring three of the Tigers six touchdowns and booting four extra points.

Halfbacks Wade and Lewis Alexander got a touchdown each to make it 34-0 at the half. Then quarterback Harold Cark squeezed over on a sneak in the final period.

Southwestern's only score was set up when linebacker Jim Gillin intercepted one of Louisiana College's rare passes on the Tigers 30. Jim Higgason, on a handoff through tackle, went all the way on the next play.

Louisiana College	20	14	0	7	—41
Southwestern	0	7	0	0	— 7

Louisiana College scoring: Touchdowns, Mobley 3, L. Alexander, W. Alexander, Clark. Conversions, Mobley 4, W. Alexander 1.

Southwestern scoring: Touchdown, Higgason. Conversion, Street.

Harvard Upsets Favored Yale 11 By 13-0 Margin

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 21 (AP)—An inspired line and Dick Clasby, a fiery triple-threat-back, led Harvard to a 13-0 upset triumph over favored Yale and a triple tie for Big Three honors today.

A near capacity crowd of 65,000 in the Bowl saw the Crimson forward wall outplay its highly rated and heavier rivals and Clasby, winding up a brilliant career, pass, run and kick the Elis dizzy.

Long runs brought Harvard both of its touchdowns in its first victory over Yale since 1948 and 24th in this ancient series which goes back to 1875. Yale has won 40, tied seven.

Dexter Lewis put Harvard in front in the second quarter with a 22-yard spring and John Culver burst off tackle for 31 yards in the third period. Joe Ross converted after the second score.

Harvard	0	6	7	0	—13

Harvard scoring: touchdowns, Lewis, Culver. Conversion, Ross.

South Carolina Routs Little Wofford, 49-0

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 21 (AP)—South Carolina's 18th-ranked football team called on its reserves to keep down the score in outclassing little Wofford College 49-0 today.

Many Communities Are Isolated By Snowfall

In New York City, the smoke, fumes and haze which has plagued the city for five days caused a 25-automobile accident in which 20 persons were injured. The "smaze" turned to "smog" when a shaft of cold air hit the city, and it made matters even worse.

Meanwhile, a new storm developed in the Southwest.

The northern storm dumped up to 10 inches of snow on eastern South Dakota and seven inches on sections of Minnesota. At least three fatal traffic accidents were attributed to the storm.

U. S. weather forecasters said the storm was centered Saturday over northern Minnesota and was heading into Canada. Light snow still fell in the eastern Dakotas and northern Minnesota, and light showers fell in the upper Mississippi Valley.

The storm system pushed a wave of cold air as far south as the Ohio River. At Vandalia, Ill., the temperature dropped from a high of 68 Friday to a low of 30 Saturday.

Airline service in North Dakota had been cancelled, but most main roads were open despite strong winds and drifting show.

In Minnesota, 32 communities were cut off from telephone service. Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. reported 460 poles down, 446 toll circuits out and thousands of wire breaks.

All Minnesota highways were open, but some were reported treacherous.

In South Dakota, 290 utility poles were knocked down, 10,000 line breaks were reported and 41 telephone exchanges were isolated. About 1,500 rural telephone patrons went without service.

A band of snow eight inches deep stretched from Pickstown to Watertown, S. D., and farther east a freezing rain glazed the landscape with an inch-thick coating of ice.

In Nebraska, nine highways still were blocked with drifted snow.

In the Southwest, a storm centered in the Texas Panhandle was moving rapidly eastward, and was expected to bring more rain and snow to Kansas. Snow was falling in northern Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado, with visibility cut to a quarter mile in places.

A jet trainer with two Air Force men aboard was missing in the Albuquerque, N. M., vicinity. The plane presumably crashed Friday night when the storm dumped two inches of snow on the area and reduced visibility almost to zero.

Many Communities Are Isolated By Snowfall

In New York City, the smoke, fumes and haze which has plagued the city for five days caused a 25-automobile accident in which 20 persons were injured. The "smaze" turned to "smog" when a shaft of cold air hit the city, and it made matters even worse.

Meanwhile, a new storm developed in the Southwest.

The northern storm dumped up to 10 inches of snow on eastern South Dakota and seven inches on sections of Minnesota. At least three fatal traffic accidents were attributed to the storm.

U. S. weather forecasters said the storm was centered Saturday over northern Minnesota and was heading into Canada. Light snow still fell in the eastern Dakotas and northern Minnesota, and light showers fell in the upper Mississippi Valley.

The storm system pushed a wave of cold air as far south as the Ohio River. At Vandalia, Ill., the temperature dropped from a high of 68 Friday to a low of 30 Saturday.

Airline service in North Dakota had been cancelled, but most main roads were open despite strong winds and drifting show.

In Minnesota, 32 communities were cut off from telephone service. Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. reported 460 poles down, 446 toll circuits out and thousands of wire breaks.

All Minnesota highways were open, but some were reported treacherous.

In South Dakota, 290 utility poles were knocked down, 10,000 line breaks were reported and 41 telephone exchanges were isolated. About 1,500 rural telephone patrons went without service.

A band of snow eight inches deep stretched from Pickstown to Watertown, S. D., and farther east a freezing rain glazed the landscape with an inch-thick coating of ice.

In Nebraska, nine highways still were blocked with drifted snow.

In the Southwest, a storm centered in the Texas Panhandle was moving rapidly eastward, and was expected to bring more rain and snow to Kansas. Snow was falling in northern Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado, with visibility cut to a quarter mile in places.

A jet trainer with two Air Force men aboard was missing in the Albuquerque, N. M., vicinity. The plane presumably crashed Friday night when the storm dumped two inches of snow on the area and reduced visibility almost to zero.

GIFTS BY AVON

Exquisite beauty hardly describes the 1953 catalog of "Gifts by Avon" being shown to thousands of women using and giving Avon Cosmetics and toiletries this Christmas.

The ever-popular Cotillion is shown in magnificent new packaging. Distinctive new bottles and jars offer this superb fragrance in gifts unsurpassed in beauty and charm.

Fabulous Golden Promise is found in gifts from bath powder or cologne to the breathless "Golden Promise De Luxe." These dramatic gifts in this treasured scent will delight the "one and only" on your list.

The tender beauty of Forever Spring, the fidelity To A Wild Rose, or the original Quaintance offer gifts of subtle beauty.

Sheer glamor describe the two fitted evening bags in velvet or brocade and would make any woman feel exquisite. Other gifts of evening accessories are stylishly smart.

The many small gifts, adorably wrapped, will fill your many needs.

Gifts for "Young Hearts", girls or boys, are excitingly wrapped in gay boxes certain to delight the child you love.

Fathers, uncles or beaus will all be pleased with Avon gifts of everyday essentials in original and smart boxes.

Prices for Avon gifts start well under $1.00 and are unsurpassed in the beauty and glamor wanted by Christmas shoppers of good taste.

Write the Avon Manager, c-o P. O. Box 474, Monroe, to have an Avon representative call on you.

ON TV TODAY
READ ABOUT it here and then see it at 12:15 on KNOE-TV! Talk about durability . . . this solid brick home with masonry walls (that give a resounding "thud" when you hit 'em) will be here for centuries! But don't wait that long just to prove us right, or wrong . . . move in and revel in all 2395 sq. feet of this magnificent home with it's 3 spacious bedrooms (all with double closets), it's tremendous Roman brick fireplace, it's life-time roof, it's central heating, it's 11x26' kitchen with tile splashboard, it's tile bath with tub and shower stall, and last, but not least, it's double garage and it's 200x175 corner lot. Let us show you today!

I CAN'T TALK
. . . BUT brother If I could, I'd tell everyone that passed what an unusual buy I am and what outstanding features I possess! Features like: a 57½x150 foot lot . . . a 65,000 btu floor furnace . . . an attic fan with auto. time switch & shutters . . . a matchless kitchen with "loads" of cabinet space and dining space . . . wallpaper is in excellent condition and the oak floors fairly glisten. The best feature of all: I'm priced at only $8500 and only $700 down buys me. 1301 S. 1st is my home.

A WOMAN SCREAMED!
. . YOU mean it's only $12,500? My answer was a calm and collected . . . Yes! But it's hard to hide our excitement everytime we show this pace-setting home on Azalea Drive, and for good reasons. For here is what $12,500 buys: 1456 sq. feet of space; a brand new brick with aluminum frame windows; General Electric central heat; tile bath with shower; Roman brick fireplace and planting box; "cabinets with a kitchen built around them"; a garage and an 8x14 store room. The lot is 112½x100. It's vacant and you can move right in!

MEAT & SOME PEOPLE
. . . LIKE to be sandwiched in. But if you're hankerin' for a roomy lot and a reasonably priced 5-room home "to boot," here's your answer at 209 Circle Drive in West Monroe! The lot is 75x245 with some good sized trees and the home is only 4 years old in perfect condition with 2 bedrooms, separate living & dining room and nice size kitchen. It's priced at only $7250. See it today!

IT'S ALL HERE
. . IN ONE neat package and it couldn't be any neater for it's only a year young with these unrivaled features: 6 rooms, 2 bedrooms (one has walk-in closet) and a den. There's a separate living and dining room; 2 floor furnaces; roomy kitchen with breakfast area; 100x150' lot with 4 large trees providing plenty of shade; it's only 2 blocks from the new Highland grammar school in Sunshine Heights and it's already financed. Here is true value located at 1408 Cedar St. and priced at $11,810. Let us show you today.

CAPTURED!
. . ELUSIVE, I'll admit! But for the moment we've got our hands on a "buy" at 1209 College Ave. with a host of exciting features. Such as: sparkling pecan floors; built-in book cases on each side of fireplace in living room; 36" attic fan with auto. shutters; situated right on bus line; lot size: 55x175 and the front yard is in St. Augustine. Has a garage with metal overhead door and a roomy storage room. It's priced at $9665 and the down payment is only $965!

100 G. I.
IF YOU'RE a qualified veteran, pay the closing costs and move in. Or, if you desire FHA financing . . . $850 down including closing costs turns the key to this newly re-decorated 5-room home at 309 Riverbend in W. Monroe. It's loaded with desirable features, such as: both bedrooms are tile, has separate living and dining room; garage with storage; copper plumbing and that ain't all! Wanta' see the rest?

SKIN DEEP? HA!
THIS BEAUTY is solid! And it has much more than beauty to offer: located in one of Monroe's choice neighborhoods at 306 Hilton on the northside with these distinctive features: 6 spacious rooms, 3 bedrooms (all bedrooms have built-in bureau drawers in closets); cavernous living room, separate dining room; "woman" planned kitchen with a place for everything; relaxing breezeway on back of the house; attached garage with storage in attic and an oddity these days . . . a separate laundry room. $4,000 down turns the key! Call today for appointment.

WHAT A PRESENT
. . . THIS BRAND new solid brick home would make for the "little woman"! Here's a unique home for the modern-minded that's breath taking at first sight, and for good reasons: the roof is white crushed marble; the interior walls are masonry; the living room has wall-to-wall carpet and unsurpassed Roman brick fireplace and chimney. the dining area is pine - paneled; it has 2 roomy bedrooms and a comfortable den; central heating and a tile bath. It was built by a contractor for his own home, so you can imagine the painstaking work involved. It's on Sandel Drive in Spanish City and we'd be glad to show you today.

RIGHT IN THE MIDDLE
JUST A block to Sherrouse grammar school, just 2 blocks to bus line, grocery, drug store and cleaners. Not only does this home have an excellent location but it also possesses these outstanding features: 6-rooms, 2 bedrooms and a large (12x24) den. Separate living and dining room; 2 floor furnaces and 42" attic fan with aut. shutters; wallpaper is in excellent condition and the home is only 5 years young. It's located at 508 D'Arbonne and priced at $11,604.

GONE SUBURBAN!
. . . THE owner (who's a contractor) is completing his new home in the country and if you want an excellent buy in a 6-room brick home on a corner lot let us show you 4008 Lee Ave. It's a perfect delight with 2 bedrooms and den; separate living and dining room; a step-saver kitchen; roomy breezeway with carport and storage; bath has colored fixtures and shower . . . there's also a utility room and attic fan. It's less than a year old and priced at $12,984 with FHA financing available.

WARNING—MEN
. . . IF you're in no mood to move into a new home on Bayou DeSiard, don't dare let the "little woman" near this listing. But, if she should go in it and come back raving . . . don't be too hard on her for she'll have good reasons. Such reasons as: brand new brick with 3 bedrooms (all with double sliding door closets); 2 tile baths; aluminum frame windows; central heating; a hall lined with "extra" closets; mahogany paneled living room and den; double carport; separate dining area; covered patio and a delightful kitchen. The roof is white crushed marble . . . you can't miss our sign on Lakeshore Drive.

ON TV TODAY
READ ABOUT it here and then see it at 12:15 on KNOE-TV! Talk about durability . . . this solid brick home with masonry walls (that give a resounding "thud" when you hit 'em) will be here for centuries! But don't wait that long just to prove us right, or wrong . . . move in and revel in all 2395 sq. feet of this magnificent home with it's 3 spacious bedrooms (all with double closets), it's tremendous Roman brick fireplace, it's life-time roof, it's central heating, it's 11x26' kitchen with tile splashboard, it's tile bath with tub and shower stall, and last, but not least, it's double garage and it's 200x175 corner lot. Let us show you today!

I CAN'T TALK
. . . BUT brother If I could, I'd tell everyone that passed what an unusual buy I am and what outstanding features I possess! Features like: a 57½x150 foot lot . . . a 65,000 btu floor furnace . . . an attic fan with auto. time switch & shutters . . . a matchless kitchen with "loads" of cabinet space and dining space . . . wallpaper is in excellent condition and the oak floors fairly glisten. The best feature of all: I'm priced at only $8500 and only $700 down buys me. 1301 S. 1st is my home.

A WOMAN SCREAMED!
. . YOU mean it's only $12,500? My answer was a calm and collected . . . Yes! But it's hard to hide our excitement everytime we show this pace-setting home on Azalea Drive, and for good reasons. For here is what $12,500 buys: 1456 sq. feet of space: a brand new brick with aluminum frame windows; General Electric central heat; tile bath with shower; Roman brick fireplace and planting box; "cabinets with a kitchen built around them"; a garage and an 8x14 store room. The lot is 112½x100. It's vacant and you can move right in!

MEAT & SOME PEOPLE
. . . LIKE to be sandwiched in. But if you're hankerin' for a roomy lot and a reasonably priced 5-room home "to boot," here's your answer at 209 Circle Drive in West Monroe! The lot is 75x245 with some good sized trees and the home is only 4 years old in perfect condition with 2 rooms, separate living & dining room and nice size kitchen. It's priced at only $7250. See it today!

IT'S ALL HERE
. . IN ONE neat package and it couldn't be any neater for it's only a year young with these unrivaled features: 6 rooms, 2 bedrooms (one has walk-in closet) and a den. There's a separate living and dining room; 2 floor furnaces; roomy kitchen with breakfast area; 100x150' lot with 4 large trees providing plenty of shade; it's only 2 blocks from the new Highland grammar school in Sunshine Heights and it's already financed. Here is true value located at 1408 Cedar St. and priced at $11,810. Let us show you today.

CAPTURED!
. . ELUSIVE, I'll admit! But for the moment we've got our hands on a "buy" at 1309 College Ave., with a host of exciting features. Such as: sparkling pecan floors; built-in book cases on each side of fireplace in living room; 36" attic fan with auto. shutters; situated right on bus line; lot size: 55x175 and the front yard is in St. Augustine. Has a garage with metal overhead door and a roomy storage room. It's priced at $9665 and the down payment is only $965!

100 G. I.
IF YOU'RE a qualified veteran, pay the closing costs and move in. Or, if you desire FHA financing . . . $850 down including closing costs turns the key to this newly re-decorated 5-room home at 309 Riverbend in W. Monroe. It's loaded with desirable features, such as: both bedrooms are 14 x14'; has separate living and dining room; garage with storage; copper plumbing and that ain't all! Wanta' see the rest?

SKIN DEEP? HA!
THIS BEAUTY is solid! And it has much more than beauty to offer; located in one of Monroe's choice neighborhoods at 306 Hilton on the north side with these distinctive features: 6 spacious rooms, 3 bedrooms (all bedrooms have built-in bureau drawers in closets); cavernous living room, separate dining room; "woman" planned kitchen with a place for everything; relaxing breezeway on back of the house; attached garage with storage in attic and an oddity these days . . . a separate laundry room. $4,000 down turns the key! Call today for appointment.

WHAT A PRESENT
. . . THIS BRAND new solid brick home would make for the "little woman"! Here's a unique home for the modern-minded that's breath taking at first sight, and for good reasons: the roof is white crushed marble; the interior walls are masonry; the living room has wall-to-wall carpet; and unsurpassed Roman brick fireplace and chimney; the dining area is pine - paneled; it has 2 roomy bedrooms and a comfortable den; central heating and a tile bath. It was built by a contractor for his own home, so you can imagine the painstaking work involved. It's on Sandel Drive in Spanish City and we'd be glad to show you today.

RIGHT IN THE MIDDLE
JUST A block to Sherrouse grammar school, just 2 blocks to bus line, grocery, drug store and cleaners. Not only does this home have an excellent location but it also possesses these outstanding features: 6-rooms, 2 bedrooms and a large (12x24) den. Separate living and dining room; 2 floor furnaces and 42" attic fan with aut. shutters; wallpaper is in excellent condition and the home is only 5 years young. It's located at 508 D'Arbonne and priced at $11,604.

GONE SUBURBAN!
. . . THE owner (who's a contractor) is completing his new home in the country and if you want an excellent buy in a 6-room brick home on a corner lot . . . let us show you 4208 Lee Ave. It's a perfect delight with 2 bedrooms and den; separate living and dining room; a step-saver kitchen; roomy breezeway with carport and storage; bath has colored fixtures and shower . . . there's also a utility room and attic fan. It's less than a year old and priced at $12,984 with FHA financing available.

WARNING—MEN
. . . IF you're in no mood to move into a new home on Bayou DeSiard, don't dare let the "little woman" near this listing. But, if she should go in it and come back raving . . . don't be too hard on her for she'll have good reasons. Such reasons as: brand new brick with 3 bedrooms (all with double sliding door closets); 2 tile baths; aluminum frame windows; central heating; a hall lined with "extra" closets; mahogany paneled living room and den; double carport; separate dining area; covered patio and a delightful kitchen. The roof is white crushed marble . . . you can't miss our sign on Lakeshore Drive.

CLASS BELLS RING

POW WOW TIPS

FRATS HAVE FUN

Life At Northeast

Northeast State has become more colorful with the expansion of the college to senior status. Each day seems to be overflowing with a variety of activities. Along with added curricula, students enjoy a calendar packed with social, cultural and athletic features. Shown today are college students in typical collegiate scenes.

BAYOU OUTING

BAYOU OUTING: Bayou DeSiard lends picturesque beauty to the campus and provides a delightful setting for outdoor activities. Boating on the bayou are Ronald Gunter, Ginger Henry, Bettye Moore and L. C. Carpenter.

Chuck Cabot Will Play At Country Club

Members of the Country Club and their families and out-of-town guests are looking forward to Wednesday evening, November 25, when huck Cabot and his nationally famous orchestra and entertainers will play for the Thanksgiving Eve dance. Cabot is famous for his recordings, "Down the Lane." "Rag, Rag, Raggedy Moon' and "On the Beach at Bali-Bali," Accredited as one of the country's top dance bands, the well blended vocal corps, glee club ensembles, comedy and musical novelties add much to the sparkle of the famous band. Dancing from 9 until 1 a.m. It promises to be an evening with the ultimate in dancing and listening pleasure.

ARRANGING FLOWERS for the Founder's Day event were (left to right) Mrs. S. E. Huey, Mrs. Harry Lemert and Mrs. A. Scott Hamilton who was in charge of the decorations.

Friday social engagements sometimes are the bane of a busy woman's life. Especially if one is past 40, she may feel more like flopping into an easy chair than going to a party.

Mrs. Noe Gives Inspiring Talk To Alpha Delta Kappa

Members of Alpha Delta Kappa heard Mrs. James A. Noe give an inspiring address at their regular dinner meeting at the Hollywood restaurant Monday night. She was presented by program chairman, Mrs. Bob Burns.

Mrs. Noe, a former teacher, said, "I speak to teachers almost in reverence because of the tremendous influence they have over children and their great responsibility for developing the characters of those children. As I look back over the school years of my own children, the things that were most important in their training are very clear. Poor spelling, for instance, can be corrected later, but seldom can traits of character and attitudes be changed after early life. Teachers must teach youths to discipline themselves, to serve mankind, to be honest, to assume responsibility for their own actions and for the welfare of society. In addition to the 3 R's, on which they so diligently dwell, teachers must include another R—that of Human Relations. They must prepare their pupils to perpetuate our American democracy; to be thinking people; to know the reasons for life and to see fine examples in the lives of great individuals. Teachers must plant the desire deep in the heart of every child to become part and parcel of this country and teach him that he must never let the government of our country disappear. Other great democracies have fallen; on our children rests the responsibility of perpetuating ours.

Teachers should throw light on the Ten Commandments; lead children to be ethical; instill a firm, sincere, belief in God; make clear that service to God and man is the rent we pay for the space we occupy in this world."

During the business session Mrs. Austin Miller, president, announced the time and place of the luncheon to be held by Alpha Delta chapters of Louisiana in Lafayette at the Louisiana education meeting. Mrs. W. S. Stewart invited members to a Christmas party in her home on December 21.

Hostesses for the evening were Miss Frances Barnes and Mrs. Marvin Hill.

Mer Rouge Garden Club Holds November Meeting

The Mer Rouge Garden Club held the November meeting Tuesday evening, with the president, Mrs. F. A. Tolar presiding over the business session.

Reports were heard from the several committee chairmen and announcement was made of the Flower Show to be held in De Ridder on March 27 and 28. The president displayed ribbons awarded the club at the Morehouse Parish Fair. A blue ribbon was awarded the coffee table arrangement which was arranged by the committee. It was of yellow roses placed in an antique silver sugar bowl. An arrangement of red pyracanthus berries in a black flask, entered by Mrs. Clarence Clark, under the auspices of the Garden Club, was awarded second place.

Following the business session the club enjoyed a most interesting and informative lecture on "Birds of Our Community", by Mrs. M. W. Phillips.

The hostesses, Mrs. F. A. Tolar, Mrs. Loys Huckaby, Mrs. A. H. Davenport and Mrs. R. H. Odom served the 27 members present Russian tea and cookies.

Engagement Announced

Of interest in this vicinity is the announcement today of the engagement of Miss Eleanor Ebeling by her father, Mr. William Ebeling of New York City, to Thomas F. Norsworthy, son of Mrs. Susie Norsworthy of Mer Rouge and T. J. Norsworthy of Crossett, Ark.

Mr. Norsworthy who resides in New York, is a former resident of Mer Rouge. The wedding will be a prominent event of December 28 in New York.

Mer Rouge Garden Club Holds November Meeting

The Mer Rouge Garden Club held the November meeting Tuesday evening, with the president, Mrs. F. A. Tolar presiding over the business session.

Reports were heard from the several committee chairmen and announcement was made of the Flower Show to be held in De Ridder on March 27 and 28. The president displayed ribbons awarded the club at the Morehouse Parish Fair. A blue ribbon was awarded the coffee table arrangement which was arranged by the committee. It was of yellow roses placed in an antique silver sugar bowl. An arrangement of red pyracanthus berries in a black flask, entered by Mrs. Clarence Clark, under the auspices of the Garden Club, was awarded second place.

Following the business session the club enjoyed a most interesting and informative lecture on "Birds of Our Community", by Mrs. M. W. Phillips.

The hostesses, Mrs. F. A. Tolar, Mrs. Loys Huckaby, Mrs. A. H. Davenport and Mrs. R. H. Odom served the 27 members present Russian tea and cookies.

WORKING FOR BAZAAR—Members of the Quota Club have met each Thursday evening to work for their bazaar to be held at the Red Cross building on Nov. 30 and Dec. 1. Seated Mrs. Bess James, general chairman Mrs. John Collins, Mrs. Helen Blanchard, on the hostess committee and Mrs. Helen Agnew, chairman of the candy committee.

Nov. 30-Dec. 1 Dates For Quota Club Bazaar

The Monroe Quota Club will hold their annual bazaar at the Red Cross building on Monday November 30 and Tuesday December 1 from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m.

The Quota Club, affiliated with the Quota International Inc. is a classified service club composed of women in executive capacities. The purpose of the club is to give service to the country and community.

One of the recent projects of the Monroe Club is the Nurse's Scholarship Fund to which the proceeds of the bazaar will go. Mrs. Helen Blanchard, chairman of the ways and means committee reports that members have been busy with babazaar plans for several months.

The general chairman is Mrs. Bess James. Her committees are: hostesses, Mrs. Vance Breard and Mrs. Blanchard; cashier, Mrs. Emma Keene; publicity, Miss Freeda Mickel; food, Mrs. Vivian Murray; handwork, Mrs. Emma Keene assisted by Mrs. Helen Agnew and Mrs. Tuanton Veazey.

Lunch will be served each day from 11 o'clock until 2. On Monday, delicious hot tamale pies made by Miss Freeda Mickel, Mrs. Lucy Sartor and Mrs. Vivian Murray will be served and Tuesday will be Gumbo Day. Many unusual pieces of handwork will be on sale. Christmas cards, jewelry, aprons, cakes, pies, preserves and candy.

Miss Alpha Quave Harry Chadick Pledge Troth

In a quiet home ceremony at three o'clock Saturday, November 7, Miss Alpha Quave of Louisiana Baptist Children's Home was married to Mr. Harry L. Chadick, son of Mrs. R. L. Chadick and the late Mr. Chadick of Monroe. Rev. James C. Houston, pastor of New Light Baptist Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony performed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Stroud on Lee Avenue.

The bride, given in marriage by D. C. Black, was wearing a light blue faille jacket dress with rhinestone touched velveteen colar, slim skirt, and elbow-length sleeves. Her accessories were navy and she carried a white Bible topped with a corsage of white split carnations. She was attended by Miss Willie Mae Futrell, as maid of honor, who chose a dress of pink moire faille, using black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Mr. Norman Lindsey served the groom as best man.

Mrs. Edward Stroud served as mother of the bride. For the occasion she wore a two-piece dress of navy and white crepe with navy and white accessories.

Mrs. R. L. Chadick, mother of the groom, was attired in a black dress with black and white accessories. She wore a corsage of white asters.

A reception was held in the home immediately following the ceremony. The tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and groom, was placed at one end of the bride's table while the punch bowl surrounded by a lovely arrangement of red roses and greenery was placed on the opposite end. Mrs. Grady Grafton presided at the punch bowl while Mrs. Fred Salley served the cake.

The bride is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and attended Louisiana College and Northeast Louisiana State College. The groom is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School, attended Hines County Junior College, Raymond, Miss., and Northeast State College, and has served three years with the armed forces in Germany. The couple will make their home in Bethel, Alaska where the groom is employed by Civil Aeronautics Administration.

Get into the habit of using a tray on which to carry food from the kitchen to the dining room. You'll be surprised how much time and energy this simple device will save you.

Why Waste Your Charm On A Bore?

After a long, painful apprenticeship during which I studied, experimented and practiced I have concluded I don't want to be, after all, a good conversationalist.

As every magazine - reading American knows, a good conversationalist is the person who scarcely converses at all. He just asks adroit questions and listens—or pretends to listen — to the flood of words thereby evoked. Even the experts concede that the modern purpose of being a good conversationalist isn't to make good conversation. It is a form of therapy —to make the talker feel good because someone is apparently interested in him, and this in turn makes him like the good listener.

I am quitting the league of good conversationalists — not because I'm against listening to other people talk — but because since I've become a good conversationalist I've never heard so much boring talk in my life.

If anyone were to ask me, I'd say the old system of give and take, even though it included punchline killing and attempts at topping, produced a better quality of talk merely because it was competitive.

The way the present system works out is that the born bore never reads the articles about how to become a good conversationalist, so he never asks questions. He just responds fulsomely. And all those people who might offer something sprightly, worthy, amusing or witty just go around delivering the grim straight lines.

In the course of my long days as a student of good conversation, I have accumulated a long list of surefire questions which can get the bores started on long, complicated monologues.

Unless you really mean it, I've learned, never drop in such questions as "Where did you get it?" "How much did the baby weigh?" "How on earth did you lose so much weight?" "Was the food any good?" or "And what are you doing with yourself these days?" Sometimes even meaningless questions just designed for politeness, like "What's new?" can get a bore rolling.

Anyway, I'm resigning from the conversationalist ranks, I'm throwing away my list of charm questions, and from now on, when a bore braces me with a long, rambling account on a dull subject, I'm going to snap him off short. I've got a long list of subjects I can bore anyone with, and I'm going to do it for awhile.

Dr. P. Buchanan Lectures To Delta Rho Delta

"Asia, Vast and Vital" was the topic chosen by Dr. Percy Buchanan for his lecture to the local Delta Rho Delta members at the Virginia Hotel Cameo Room on November 9th. Dr. Buchanan is particularly fitted for this subject, having made an extensive study of Asiatic affairs as well as having spent much of his life in the far east. He is professor of history and director of the Institute of Asiatic Affairs at the University of Oklahoma.

The son of Missionaries, he was born in Japan and attended grade school there. He came to the United States to continue his education, and holds a bachelor of music degree from Maryville, Tenn. Conservatory of Music and a B.A. Degree from Maryville College. Later he received a degree in Theology at Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va., and M. A. and Ph. D. Degrees at Princeton, where he studied Asiatic languages and literature.

Dr. Buchanan was a Missionary in Japan from 1925 to 1940. He was a special lecturer in Japanese at Princeton from 1940 to 1942, and from 1942 to 1945 he served as Director of the Intelligence Language School, Washington, D.C. In 1945-46 he was in Tokyo as head of counter-intelligence training in occupied Japan, and was visiting professor of Oriental history in 1947-48 at the University of Colorado. He came to Oklahoma University in 1948.

Dr. Buchanan spent the summer of 1951 at the front lines in Korea, and with a group of students from Oklahoma University, he spent the summer of 1953 traveling and living in the homes of natives in the Philippines, Thailand, Malaya, Java, Hong Kong and Japan. His vast knowledge of the history of Asia and the customs of its people, and his ability to share this knowledge with his audience, makes Dr. Buchanan one of the most interesting lecturers heard by Delta Rho Delta.

Dr. Buchanan is a member of the Oriental Society and Far East Association, and is active in Presbyterian church work. A singer, he also writes music and has written several books and dictionaries on Japanese.

He is a graduate of Start High School and is attending Northeast State College in Monroe.

Shoes Respond To Daily Care

Attention to details frequently marks the difference between the well-groomed woman and the indifferently groomed one. Judging from the appearance of many women's shoes, they are one detail too often forgotten.

Neglect of shoes is as hard on the purse as it is on one's grooming rating. By giving your shoes regular attention, you will add to their life and keep them attractive.

Before wearing a new pair of leather shoes, give them a protective coat of polish to discourage scuffing. Daily polishing will add greatly to the life of the shoes.

Nickelson-Hood Vows Are Pledged In Home Ceremony

Miss Margie Irene Hood and Charles Nickelson exchanged wedding vows in an impressive candlelight ceremony at five o'clock Sunday, November 8, in the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. A. H. Johnson, pastor of the Emmanuel Baptist Church in Ruston, officiated at the double ring ceremony attended by relatives and close friends of the couple.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. J. S. Hood and the late Mr. Hood. Mr. Nickelson's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Nickelson of Arcadia.

Southern similax and fern decorated the improvised altar. Tall candelabra with cathedral tapers entwined with maiden-hair fern were placed on each side of the altar which was also decorated with baskets of white chrysanthemums.

Rev. Ted Lann rendered a concert of prenuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Ted Lann as she sang "Always" and "The Bridal Chorus." The candles were lighted by Mrs. Danny Gilbert who wore a navy blue suit with white accessories.

The bride given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Garland Hood of Ruston, was attired in a wedding suit of mauve wool. She wore navy accessories with a white hat and matching gloves. Her corsage was of white carnations with white satin streamers.

Mrs. James Fallin, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She was wearing a becoming model of grey and black taffeta. Her corsage was pink roses.

Mrs. Hood chose for her daughter's wedding, a navy blue suit with navy accessories. Her corsage was red carnations.

A reception followed in the home. White candles and chrysanthemums decorated the hall. Mrs. Homer Oakley served cake and coffee. The bride's book was presided over by Mrs. Dick Dring.

MRS. CHARLES RICHARD DILLON

Miss Edwardean Kihneman Weds Charles R. Dillon

The marriage of Miss Edwardean Kihneman and Charles Richard Dillon was solemnized Saturday at 5:30 o'clock in the Christ Episcopal Church of Little Rock, Arkansas with the Reverend J. Dodge Alves officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Kihneman of Bastrop and Mr. Dillon is the son of Mrs. Frances Mabbitt and the late Werdna Dillon of Morrilton, Ark.

The church was decorated with baskets of white chrysanthemums and burning tapers in bronze candelabra. Palms were used in the background. The church organist rendered a concert of nuptial music.

The bride, entered with her father who gave her in marriage. Her wedding gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin was fashioned with a fitted bodice and long sleeves ending in lily points over her hands. Her shoulder length veil fell from a satin and lace cloche trimmed in seed pearls. She carried a prayer book marked with an orchid showered with stephanotis.

Matron of honor was Mrs. John Scritchfield of Austin, Texas, sister of the bride. Her dress was of pale blue net over taffeta. She carried a crescent of white carnations.

James N. Smith of Little Rock, served as best man. Sanford Wilbourn Jr. and Robert Smith also of Little Rock, were groomsmen.

A reception was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was centered with a large arrangement of white chrysanthemums. Pouring the punch was Mrs. Alma Cobb of Eldorado Ark., aunt of the bride. Mrs. James M. Smith, sister of the bridegroom, served the cake. Others assisting were Mrs. Robert Smith and Mrs. Sanford Wilbourn. Mrs. Glenn Knight of Dumas, Ark. was in charge of the bride's book. Mr. William Beard furnished the music during the reception.

Mrs. Kihneman chose for her daughters wedding a costume suit of palomino wool with matching accessories. Her corsage was a purple orchid. Mrs. Mabbitt was wearing a navy blue wool suit with a corsage of pink carnations.

For her wedding trip to the East the bride wore a suit of white wool. Her hat was cerise trimmed with pearls and her accessories were black.

Mrs. Dillon attended Centenary College in Shreveport and Southern Methodist University in Dallas. She was graduated from Patricia Stevens School of Modeling in Dallas.

Mr. Dillon is a graduate of the University of Arkansas.

On their return from their wedding trip they will be at home in Little Rock, Arkansas.

FIRE BALL

You'll help allay fear of flash fires during the holidays with one of the new glass balls filled with carbon tetrachloride. The fire ball may be attached to the top of your Christmas tree as a precaution in the event of a spark from Junior's electric trains or excessive heat sets the tree aflame. the heat melts the fusible metal, splashing the chemical over the tree to extinguish a flash fire in a split second, say the manufacturers.

MRS. ARTHUR C. VANCIL before her recent marriage was Jean Doncer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Doncer 1206 Cole Avenue. Mr. Vancil's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Vancil of Jacksonville, Arkansas. They are at home at 2609½ Gordon Ave.

Make sure that the handles of your saucepans and skillets never stick out over the edge of your range when you are cooking. You can easily brush against such carelessly placed handles so that you tip the utensils and burn yourself with the hot food in them.

Silver Tea Highlights Weeks Social Activities

One of the loveliest affairs of the season was a silver tea for the MacDowell fund given by the Music Guild Wednesday afternoon in the ballroom of the Virginia Hotel. Members of the Guild and guests thrilled to music by Eloy Fominaya, accompanied by Eloise Stanhope and vocalist Ann Whitsitt Eubank, accompanied by Mrs. Earl C. Whitsitt. The program read as follows:

MacDowell, Mrs. J. Norman Coon.

Suite Populaire Spagnole, DeFalla.

Idyl, MacDowell.

Romance, Wienioskl.

Mr. Fominaya

Aria Vissi D'Arte Vissi d'armore (Tosca) Pucinni.

Aria O Mio Babino Caro, Pucinni.

Song of the Open Road, Frank LaForge.

Ecstacy, Rummel.

Mrs. Eubank

To a Wild Rose, MacDowell

The Green Cathedral, Carl Hahn.

Thy Beaming Eyes, MacDowell.

Choral Ensemble

Presiding at the punch bowls were Mrs. Leon Noland, Jr. and Mrs. Wilbur Bullock. The lace covered tables were decorated with arrangements of purple chrysanthemums and yellow candlesticks. Mrs. Doyle Hamilton and Mrs. Robert Bliss passed among the guests with silver trays of tiny sandwiches and dainty cakes.

If you want to be absolutely sure that your cakes (made with shortening) will turn out of the baking pan easily, grease the bottom of the pan, then line with waxed paper and grease the paper before turning in the batter. Lining a cake pan with waxed paper in this way will not interfere with the browning of the undercrust.

News From The Public Library

New books continue to arrive at the Ouachita Parish Public Library and are immediately processed and made ready for circulation. Among the new titles added during the past week, there are books to appeal to almost every type of reader. First there are four books with a historical background. "The Valiant Virginians" by James Warner Bellah is an enthralling account of three young men who were members of the Virginia Cavalry. In this book we have a magnificent account of the first six battles of the Civil War and the men who took part in them. "Bridle the Wind" by Julia Davis is the story of Lucy and Angus McLeod who disagreed over the matter of slavery, but finally realized that their love could endure in spite of their opposite beliefs. "The Southerners" by Edna Lee is a long and continually exciting novel covering the period in time that stretches from the early 1900's to World War II. It ranges from the bright glitter of Atlanta Society to the grime of the cotton mills. It is a story rich in style, history and people and the central character is an exciting woman, Jess Kildaire. "Time of the Gringo" by Elliott Arnold is one of the most exciting novels of the year, rich with the elegant atmosphere of Old Sante Fe, tense with desert marches, battles and absorbing intrigues and overpowering with a near tragic love story. Beneath the dramatic, vari-colored surface of this historical novel there is a deeper meaning; that self-government and freedom come from the people themselves, and are not the gifts of tyrants and rabble-rousers.

In this week's new books there are several novels with a modern setting. "The White Orchid" by Henrietta Mason is a new and intriguing novel of a young woman who went as a governess to the six daughters of a French planter to an island in the South Seas. Here she found adventure such as she had never dreamed of finding. "Love and Mrs. Candy" is another of Robert Tallant's hilarious stories of life in the French quarter in New Orleans. "The Man Who Came Home" by Louis Paul is the story of an American who came home after twenty years abroad in the diplomatic service. How he solved the problems which he found in his own home town, makes an exciting story that you will want to read. "The Marmot Drive" by John Hersey has its setting in the Connecticut countryside. Although Mr. Hersey has managed to provide a discussion of many of the problems of our day and time, it is still an interesting book to read.

Novels of suspense are becoming increasingly popular. "The Secret Masters" by Gerald Kersh is a brilliant suspense novel of this type It deals with the intrigues of a few men who wanted the world for themselves. Another novel of suspense is "Dark Enchantment" by Dorothy NcCardle, who writes so well that she almost makes us believe in magic spells and enchantments.

Mystery fans will be glad to know that we have a new title by Erle Stanley Gardner. It is another Perry Mason story and is called "The Case of the Green-Eyed Sister." Theodore Du Bois also has a new title "The Listener." This is a crime club selection and should be good. For readers of western stories there is also one new title "Adobe Walls" by W. R. Burnett. This is a novel of the last Apache rising. These books and many others are available from the Ouachita Parish Public Library.

'Jane Eyre' Reviewed At Recent Club Meeting

The Review Club met on November 16 in the home of Mrs. E. P. Cudd. Arrangements of autumn flowers and leaves decorated the living room. A new member Mrs. H. D. Touchstone was welcomed into the club.

Mrs. C. P. Gray, Jr. reviewed Jane Eyre by Charlotte Bronte, another of the 19th century novels in the clubs course of study for the year. Mrs. Jamar Adcock gave some interesting facts about the life of Miss Bronte.

After the meeting refreshments were served to Mrs. Jamar Adcock. Mrs. C. B. Braun, Mrs. J. K. Brothers Jr., Mrs. W. T. Davis, Mrs. A. T. Givens, Mrs. C. P. Gray Jr., Mrs. Durwood Griffin, Mrs. D. W. Griffith, Mrs. Dewitt Henry, Mrs. J. C. Loftin, Mrs. L. N. Waddell and Mrs. H. D. Touchstone.

Girl Scout News

Made up of girls living in the same neighborhood, but attending three different schools, newly-registered troop 3 might well call its program, "an adventure in friendship." The troop held its investiture service last week at the home of Davida Harvey. Each new Scout received her pin from the leader, Mrs. J. A. Bowers.

Linda Robinson, who started in Scouting in Troop 11 in 1948, was presented with a five-year membership pin by Miss Annis Klie, Girl Scout executive director, Carmela Danna will have special reason to remember the day she was invested as a Scout, because it was her birthday.

After the ceremony the girls served refreshments which they themselves had prepared. Mrs. William Roy, council president Mrs. Andy Conoway, Mrs. C. P. Danna, and Mrs. Harvey were guests.

Friday, the thirteenth, was anything but an unlucky day for the school children of the Twin Cities, all of whom enjoyed an unexpected holiday. Such a pretty day, too! We know of at least two troops that decided it was a good time for a backyard cook out, Troops 4 and 57, both in the back yards, of their leader's homes. Troop 4's was to be foil cooking — don't know what 57 did.

Also holding an investiture for new members recently was Troop 37, which has for leaders, Mrs. C. E. Wilds, Mrs. Sam Cook, and Mrs. Edna Shaughnessy. This group seems to be off to a good start, with plans for second class rank, community service, and of course, lots of fun.

For service, the girls are planning to plant and care for a shrub on the grounds of the new Lady of Fatima school. For fun, they had a gala Hallowe'en party and cookout during Girl Scout week. To show that they are mindful of the first part of their promise, these Scouts attended church together in uniform on Girl Scout Sunday.

The four new girls who received their pins are, Elissa Lozano, Rose Mary Masters, Mary Louise Thomas, and Connie Trout.

Girls registering in Troop 37 are: Joan Battaglia, Virginia Conti, Gail Dyer, Delores Fontana, Martha Lucas, Diane Macknick, Sarah Shaughnessy, Maria Varino, Rosalie Varino, Veronica Wilds, and Cecie Wood, Mrs. W. K. Dyer serves as troop committee chairman for this group.

Another troop that registered promptly for its second year is Troop 33, whose new leaders are Mrs. H. K. Touchstone, Jr., and Mrs. Allen Barham. Receiving their new membership cards and their Brownie pendants to show a year's belonging are: Laura Allen, Sally Barham, Linda Crow, Jeanne Foster, Nancy Gimler, Minta Goyne, Anne Hemphill, Nancy Johnson, Mary Lee Milstead, Lea Skains and Helen Touchstone. Tommie Dixon is a new member of the troop.

Add Holiday Touch To Hairdo

Traditionally, women allow themselves a lot more license in preening during the winter. The brisk weather, the holiday spirit and the festive parties invite elaborate grooming.

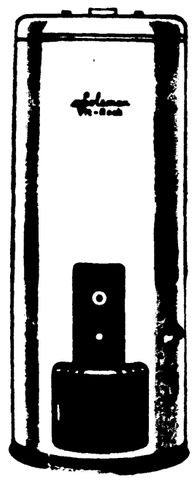

While many go all out for the social season, others tend to stop short at the hairline. Come an invitation to a coronation and these women would retain their simple coiffures.

If you belong to this group, hurrah for your individualism! Your hairdo will provide a refreshing contrast to the intricate coifs of other women.

While it is fine to keep your hair refreshingly simple, you don't want it to be forgotten. Set off the sleek lines dramatically. An arrangement of wide velvet ribbon, a rhinestone clip or perhaps a sprig of holly would be effective.

For a really smart note, wear your flowers in your hair instead of as a corsage. A rare green orchid set behind gentle blonde waves would be exquisite.

Silver Tea Highlights Weeks Social Activities

One of the loveliest affairs of the season was a silver tea for the MacDowell fund given by the Music Guild Wednesday afternoon in the ballroom of the Virginia Hotel. Members of the Guild and guests thrilled to music by Eloy Fominaya, accompanied by Eloise Stanhope and vocalist Ann Whitsitt Eubank, accompanied by Mrs. Earl C. Whitsitt. The program read as follows:

MacDowell, Mrs. J. Norman Coon.

Suite Populaire Spagnole, DeFalla.

Idyl, MacDowell.

Romance, Wienioski.

Mr. Fominaya

Aria Vissi D'Arte Vissi d'armore (Tosca) Pucinni.

Aria O Mio Babino Caro, Pucinni.

Song of the Open Road, Frank LaForge.

Ecstacy, Rummel.

Mrs. Eubank

To a Wild Rose, MacDowell

The Green Cathedral, Carl Hahn.

Thy Beaming Eyes, MacDowell.

Choral Ensemble

Presiding at the punch bowls were Mrs. Leon Noland, Jr. and Mrs. Wilbur Bullock. The lace covered tables were decorated with arrangements of purple chrysanthemums and yellow candlesticks. Mrs. Doyle Hamilton and Mrs. Robert Bliss passed among the guests with silver trays of tiny sandwiches and dainty cakes.

If you want to be absolutely sure that your cakes (made with shortening) will turn out of the baking pan easily, grease the bottom of the pan, then line with waxed paper and grease the paper before turning in the batter. Lining a cake pan with waxed paper in this way will not interfere with the browning of the undercrust.

News From The Public Library

New books continue to arrive at the Ouachita Parish Public Library and are immediately processed and made ready for circulation. Among the new titles added during the past week, there are books to appeal to almost every type of reader. First there are four books with a historical background. "The Valiant Virginians" by James Warner Bellah is an enthralling account of three young men who were members of the Virginia Cavalry. In this book we have a magnificent account of the first six battles of the Civil War and the men who took part in them. "Bridle the Wind" by Julia Davis is the story of Lucy and Angus McLeod who disagreed over the matter of slavery, but finally realized that their love could endure in spite of their opposite beliefs. "The Southerners" by Edna Lee is a long and continually exciting novel covering the period in time that stretches from the early 1900's to World War II. It ranges from the bright glitter of Atlanta Society to the grime of the cotton mills. It is a story rich in style, history and people and the central character is an exciting woman, Jess Kildaire. "Time of the Gringo" by Elliott Arnold is one of the most exciting novels of the year, rich with the elegant atmosphere of Old Sante Fe, tense with desert marches, battles and absorbing intrigues and overpowering with a near tragic love story. Beneath the dramatic, vari-colored surface of this historical novel there is a deeper meaning; that self-government and freedom come from the people themselves, and are not the gifts of tyrants and rabble-rousers.

In this week's new books there are several novels with a modern setting. "The White Orchid" by Henrietta Mason is a new and intriguing novel of a young woman who went as a governess to the six daughters of a French planter to an island in the South Seas. Here she found adventure such as she had never dreamed of finding. "Love and Mrs. Candy" is another of Robert Tallant's hilarious stories of life in the French quarter in New Orleans. "The Man Who Came Home" by Louis Paul is the story of an American who came home after twenty years abroad in the diplomatic service. How he solved the problems which he found in his own home town, makes an exciting story that you will want to read. "The Marmot Drive" by John Hersey has its setting in the Connecticut countryside. Although Mr Hersey has managed to provide a discussion of many of the problems of our day and time, it is still an interesting book to read.

Novels of suspense are becoming increasingly popular. "The Secret Masters" by Gerald Kersh is a brilliant suspense novel of this type It deals with the intrigues of a few men who wanted the world for themselves. Another novel of suspense is "Dark Enchantment" by Dorothy NcCardle, who writes so well that she almost makes us believe in magic spells and enchantments.

Mystery fans will be glad to know that we have a new title by Erle Stanley Gardner. It is another Perry Mason story and is called "The Case of the Green-Eyed Sister." Theodore Du Bois also has a new title "The Listener." This is a crime club selection and should be good. For readers of western stories there is also one new title "Adobe Walls" by W. R. Burnett. This is a novel of the last Apache rising. These books and many others are available from the Ouachita Parish Public Library.

'Jane Eyre' Reviewed At Recent Club Meeting

The Review Club met on November 16 in the home of Mrs. E. P. Cudd. Arrangements of autumn flowers and leaves decorated the living room. A new member Mrs. H. D. Touchstone was welcomed into the club.

Mrs. C. P. Gray, Jr. reviewed Jane Eyre by Charlotte Bronte, another of the 19th century novels in the clubs course of study for the year. Mrs. Jamar Adcock gave some interesting facts about the life of Miss Bronte.

After the meeting refreshments were served to Mrs. Jamar Adcock, Mrs. C. B. Braun, Mrs. J. K. Brothers Jr., Mrs. W. T. Davis, Mrs. A. T. Givens, Mrs. C. P. Gray Jr., Mrs. Durwood Griffin, Mrs. D. W. Griffith, Mrs. Dewitt Henry, Mrs. J. C. Loftin, Mrs. L. N. Waddell and Mrs. H. D. Touchstone.

Girl Scout News

Made up of girls living in the same neighborhood, but attending three different schools, newly-registered troop 3 might well call its program, "an adventure in friendship." The troop held its investiture service last week at the home of Davida Harvey. Each new Scout received her pin from the leader, Mrs. J. A. Bowers.

Linda Robinson, who started in Scouting in Troop 11 in 1948, was presented with a five-year membership pin by Miss Annis Klie, Girl Scout executive director, Carmela Danna will have special reason to remember the day she was invested as a Scout, because it was her birthday.

After the ceremony the girls served refreshments which they themselves had prepared. Mrs. William Roy, council president Mrs. Andy Conoway, Mrs. C. P. Danna, and Mrs. Harvey were guests.

Friday, the thirteenth, was anything but an unlucky day for the school children of the Twin Cities, all of whom enjoyed an unexpected holiday. Such a pretty day, too! We know of at least two troops that decided it was a good time for a backyard cook out, Troops 4 and 57, both in the back yards, of their leader's homes. Troop 4's was to be foil cooking — don't know what 57 did.

Also holding an investiture for new members recently was Troop 37, which has for leaders, Mrs. C. E. Wilds, Mrs. Sam Cook, and Mrs. Edna Shaughnessy. This group seems to be off to a good start, with plans for second class rank, community service, and of course, lots of fun.

For service, the girls are planning to plant and care for a shrub on the grounds of the new Lady of Fatima school. For fun, they had a gala Hallowe'en party and cookout during Girl Scout week. To show that they are mindful of the first part of their promise, these Scouts attended church together in uniform on Girl Scout Sunday.

The four new girls who received their pins are, Elissa Lozano, Rose Mary Masters, Mary Louise Thomas, and Connie Trout.

Members of the Altrusa Club give many volunteer hours to the Cerebral Palsy School which they sponsor. Much of the equipment of approved construction for the therapy of the children has been made and donated by members of the Palsy Association. Miss Ann Mickel, Miss Lillie Glenn and Miss Mary Lee Frost are shown painting one of the work tables that has just been given to the school.

Mrs. Robert Brooks of Ruston, a trained teacher of speech and experience with palsied children, has a class from 9 until 12 and 1 till 2 each week day in a room in the Selman Field School. She is shown here with a flannel board which the children have made and on which they learn to place pictures, as they identify them.

Cerebral Palsy School Sponsored By Altrusa Club

The Monroe-West Monroe Altrusa Club was organized in 1938 and was the first classified service club in the Twin Cities. Its main purpose is to provide a channel through which women leaders in business and the professions can work together to help solve the community problems. Their big project this year has been the organization of the Northeast Louisiana Cerebral Palsy Association. Under their sponsorship the first school was opened on November 2 in a room provided by Ouachita parish in Selman Field School. Through the year they plan to more fully equip the school with the things necessary to the development of the palsied children in Northeast Louisiana.

Bonhomie Book Club Meets With Mrs. E. L. Hoskins

"Mrs. GFWC looks at World Affairs" was the theme of the Bonhomie Book Club which portrayed in a light vien as Mrs. George Forman reviewed the book "Foolish Immortals" written by Paul Gallico.

The main events of the novel were in New Israel the old land of new hopes and industry. Mrs. Forman traced the events from desires of wealthy Hannah Bascomb at the age of 76 who feared only two things — death and taxes, to Joe Sears smart, fast and an experienced operator at making an easy dollar. Sears needed a big idea for some fast money and armed himself with Biblical facts on longevity. Ben-Isaac Levi a Polish Jew became Sears accomplice to sell Hannah Bascomb on a scientific tour through the Holy Land to find the Tree of Life. Clary Adams a distant niece and companion - secretary of Hannah's keeps Joe Sears in conflict with his greed to make easy money and fear of exposure.

The tense drama of foolish mortals searching for different things against a background of old Palestine and the New Israel made a moving story.

Mrs. O. Willis, president of Bonhomie Book Club welcomed Mrs. James McGlothlin as a new member. A report of the Americanism Essay sponsored by the club was made by Mrs. R. B. Pilaut with two more schools interested in "What America Means to Me" also a letter of request for rules of the essay was received from Rayville.

Other business discussed was by Mrs. Warren Breard regarding a club rummage sale to enable more community participation. The sale will be held Saturday November 21st with four members assisting Mrs. Breard.

The Bonhomie Book Club met in the home of Mrs. E. L. Hoskins with several members absent as they were observing Parent-School Week activities. A salad course was served to Mrs. Alton McCready, Mrs. Gladyse Collins, Mrs. Willis, Mrs. Pilaut, Mrs. Breard, Mrs. James Taylor, Mrs. McGlothlin, Mrs Forman and Mrs. Hoskins, hostess.

THIRD BIRTHDAY—Lena Fay Hellouse Woolsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Woolsey, was entertained at a birthday party in the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Woolsey on Tennessee street.

Catholic Newcomers Have Luncheon

Mrs. Harry Bell, Jr., Mrs. Blanche Parrisey, and Mrs. W. O. Higgins were hostesses Wednesday to the Catholic New Comers Club. The group met for luncheon at a local restaurant.

The tables were decorated with bowls of yellow and white mums. The head table was adorned with a large fruit filled "Horn of Plenty."

Guest speaker for the occasion was Father Dave Dabria who gave a talk on the importance of having religious reading material in the home.

Plans were made for the clubs annual project of filling Christmas baskets.

Three guests were present: Father Dabria, Mrs. Lula Moore and Miss Marjery Braud.

Games of bridge and canasta followed the business meeting.

Members present were: Mrs. Jo Ann Usery, Mrs. Jerome Braud, Mrs. Floyd Southwell, Mrs. McCarthy, Mrs. Beatle Eason, Mrs. Elizabeth Atkinson, Miss Aline Lasseigne, Mrs. Harry Bell, Mrs. Doris Faler, Mrs. Paul Goldman, Mrs. W. O. Higgins, Mrs. Genevieve Murphy, Mrs. Charles Wilds, Mrs. Blanche Parrisey, Mrs. R. J. Choudrant Home Demonstration Holds Meeting

CHOUDRANT — The Choudrant Home Demonstration Club held their regular meeting Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Irma Engel.

Arrangements of fall foliage and large bowls of rose colored chrysanthemums were used at vantage points throughout the living room.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. J. M. Britt, president.

"Developing Personality" was discussed by Mrs. Bertha Bryson of Ruston. Her talk began with the child from the cradle through adulthood.

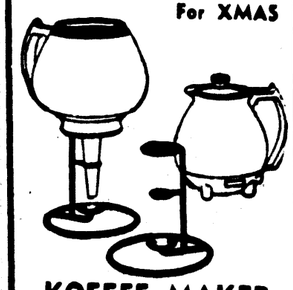

Members were presented yearbooks for 1954.

New officers are Mrs. W. L. Aswell, president, Mrs. O. H. Futrel, vice - president and Mrs. Irma Engel, secretary - treasurer. They will be in charge of the December meeting which will be held in the home of Mrs. O. H. Futrel with a traditional Christmas party.

Following a social hour games were played under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Kinman and refreshments served: Mrs. J. M. Britt, Mrs. Bertha Bryson, Mrs. Fannie Frost, Mrs. E. A. Hammons, Mrs. Gladys Aulds, Mrs. W. V. Hogan, Mrs. Fred Taylor, Mrs. Velma Bagwell, Mrs. Reita Terry, Mrs. W. L. Aswell, Mrs. W. D. Davis, Mrs. Ruth Kinman, Mrs. Levi Harris, Mrs. O. W. Literary Club Meets With Mrs. L. Cheek

The November meeting of the Mangham Literary Club was in the home of Mrs. Leo Cheek with Mrs. Theo Jones education hostess.

Mrs. Theo Jones, education chairman and leader for the night welcomed Mrs. L. Lyle parish librarian as a guest. The program topic was "Shining Personality in Education." Mrs. Lyle was invited by the club to discuss this for it is felt that she is a "shining personality in the field of education." Most interestingly she told why she stopped teaching and became a librarian. The story in short being she discovered that she truly loved the work and one only has to listen to her a few minutes to realize she still does. That fact coupled with her efficiency and enthusiasm makes her librarian of which the parish can justly be proud.

Mrs. Lyle commented on the various changes that have been made in the methods of teaching through the years and the beneficial results.

Highlighting her speech, Mrs. Lyle told humorous little stories which she recalled from her teaching experiences remarking that if she had kept a note book of all the sayings of "her children" she could have written a "best seller."

Mrs. Lois Barfield had prepared a talk on "Teaching Can be a Calling Too" by Franklin Frey. Due to unavoidable circumstances Mrs. Barfield was unable to attend the meeting and by her request Mrs. Evelyn Boughton graciously consented to take her place.

Mrs. Boughton mentioned the influence of Christian background in education the opportunities in a religious education and the importance of teaching by example.

The club collect was repeated in unison led by Mrs. Jones.

A brief business session followed. The main topic under discussion being the chicken-spaghetti supper sponsored by the club which was to he held in the school cafeteria on Friday night before the home-coming game. Names were exchanged in anticipation of the Christmas Party on December 8 in the home of Mrs. Bob Bell Jr.

Refreshments were served the members and guest.

If you are making chocolate fudge and the candy hardens in the bowl so it cannot be poured, try adding a tablespoon of milk or a couple of tablespoons of corn syrup to it and then beat hard until smooth and pour into pan at once.

To remove every bit of batter from a bowl, when you are making cake or cookies, you'll find a rubber spatula is the best utensil you can use for this purpose. A spatula of this sort will also do a good job of cleaning off the beater of an electric mixer.

Smart New Mandarin Robe Easy To Make

Corduroy has moved from the back yard to the boudoir.

Once considered purely a sturdy, little boy fabric, corduroy has taken on feminine airs. Now it is available in fine wale and glowing colors, and is at home in the daintiest setting.

The beguiling mandarin lounging robe sketched here is done in moss-green corduroy, with Oriental styling suggested in the application of gay rickrack trim. The straight lines and collarless neckline make it universally becoming as well as easy to sew.

One of the characteristics which endears corduroy to the home seamstress is its disciplined behaviour under the needle of a sewing machine. Even a beginner will achieve professional results if she follows these suggestions from local sewing center experts.

When cutting, place the corduroy on a flat surface with the pile side up, and let the wales guide you in cutting a straight line. When it is necessary to cut on a fold or cut double, the fabric may be folded lengthwise with the pile inside. Always be sure that the nap of the corduroy runs in the same direction throughout the garment.

When stitching, use mercerized thread in the same tone as the fabric, a No. 14 sewing machine needle and light tension. Set your stitch regulator for about 12 stitches to the inch.

Although corduroy has acquired new and elegant airs, it has lost none of its famous ability to "take it." Carefree washability is assured by fast colors and new finishes. For best results, wash corduroy in lukewarm suds. Instead of wringing or twisting, roll in a towel, shake out and hang on a wooden or plastic hanger to dry. Finally, brush with nap gently to restore its pile. This laundering technique will make ironing unnecessary.

Create Own Spark To Basic Dresses

Fashion fads fade in a flash but basics go on forever.

To spark her basic-built wardrobe, the smart girl includes one or two high fashion notes. To extend it, she accessorizes carefully.

Many girls do not care to invest heavily in accessories to vary their costumes. Their reason is that one might just as well buy other dresses with the money.

But the girl on a budget does not have to buy expensive accessories to be chic. If she is willing to give a little time to hunting, she can find numerous bits with which to enhance her dresses.

For example: Leopard belts are costly but leopard buttons are not. Besides, a few of these buttons arranged on a plain belt or at the neckline will have a very individual look.

One may use a handsome collection of scarves to set off her costumes. In fact, she might use them exclusively so that they seem almost a trademark.

Should this be your wont, while buying the different designs and shapes that appeal to you, quickly increase your collection by making some from remnants.

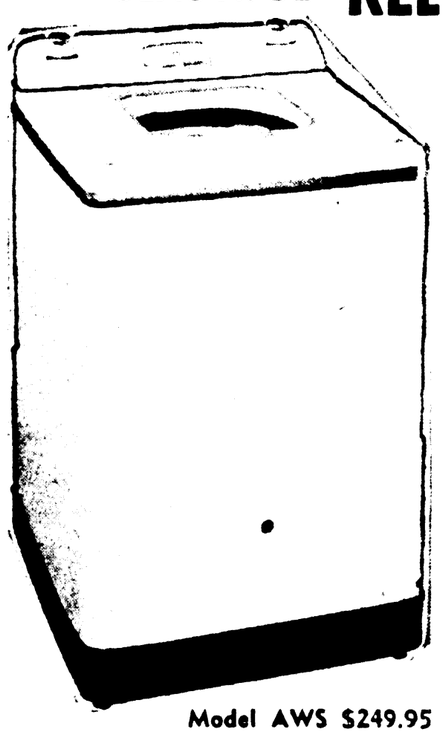

Once your friends become aware of your enterprise, they will gladly contribute their sewing scraps. For the largest piece, you will need a 21-inch square. Use the styles you now own as patterns; handroll them and in minutes you will have added to your accessories without spending a penny.

Literary Club Meets With Mrs. L. Cheek

The November meeting of the Mangham Literary Club was in the home of Mrs. Leo Cheek with Mrs. Theo Jones education hostess.

Mrs. Theo Jones, education chairman and leader for the night welcomed Mrs. L. Lyle parish librarian as a guest. The program topic was "Shining Personality in Education." Mrs. Lyle was invited by the club to discuss this for it is felt that she is a "shining personality in the field of education." Most interestingly she told why she stopped teaching and became a librarian. The story in short being she discovered that she truly loved the work and one only has to listen to her a few minutes to realize she still does. That fact coupled with her efficiency and enthusiasm makes her librarian of which the parish can justly be proud.

Mrs. Lyle commented on the various changes that have been made in the methods of teaching through the years and the beneficial results.

Highlighting her speech, Mrs. Lyle told humorous little stories which she recalled from her teaching experiences remarking that if she had kept a note book of all the sayings of "her children" she could have written a "best seller."

Mrs. Lois Barfield had prepared a talk on "Teaching Can be a Calling Too" by Franklin Frey. Due to unavoidable circumstances Mrs. Barfield was unable to attend the meeting and by her request Mrs. Evelyn Boughton graciously consented to take her place.

Mrs. Boughton mentioned the influence of Christian background in education the opportunities in a religious education and the importance of teaching by example.

The club collect was repeated in unison led by Mrs. Jones.

A brief business session followed. The main topic under discussion being the chicken-spaghetti supper sponsored by the club which was to be held in the school cafeteria on Friday night before the home-coming game. Names were exchanged in anticipation of the Christmas Party on December 8 in the home of Mrs. Bob Bell Jr.

Refreshments were served the members and guest.

If you are making chocolate fudge and the candy hardens in the bowl so it cannot be poured, try adding a tablespoon of milk or a couple of tablespoons of corn syrup to it and then beat hard until smooth and pour into pan at once.

To remove every bit of batter from a bowl, when you are making cake or cookies, you'll find a rubber spatula is the best utensil you can use for this purpose. A spatula of this sort will also do a good job of cleaning off the beater of an electric mixer.

Smart New Mandarin Robe Easy To Make

Corduroy has moved from the back yard to the boudoir.

Once considered purely a sturdy, little boy fabric, corduroy has taken on feminine airs. Now it is available in fine wale and glowing colors, and is at home in the daintiest setting.

The beguiling mandarin lounging robe sketched here is done in moss-green corduroy, with Oriental styling suggested in the application of gay rickrack trim. The straight lines and collarless neckline make it universally becoming as well as easy to sew.

One of the characteristics which endears corduroy to the home seamstress is its disciplined behaviour under the needle of a sewing machine. Even a beginner will achieve professional results if she follows these suggestions from local sewing center experts.

When cutting, place the corduroy on a flat surface with the pile side up, and let the wales guide you in cutting a straight line. When it is necessary to cut on a fold or cut double, the fabric may be folded lengthwise with the pile inside. Always be sure that the nap of the corduroy runs in the same direction throughout the garment.

When stitching, use mercerized thread in the same tone as the fabric, a No. 14 sewing machine needle and light tension. Set your stitch regulator for about 12 stitches to the inch.

Although corduroy has acquired new and elegant airs, it has lost none of its famous ability to "take it." Carefree washability is assured by fast colors and new finishes. For best results, wash corduroy in lukewarm suds. Instead of wringing or twisting, roll in a towel, shake out and hang on a wooden or plastic hanger to dry. Finally, brush with nap gently to restore its pile. This laundering technique will make ironing unnecessary.

Create Own Spark To Basic Dresses

Fashion fads fade in a flash but basics go on forever.

To spark her basic-built wardrobe, the smart girl includes one or two high fashion notes. To extend it, she accessorizes carefully.

Many girls do not care to invest heavily in accessories to vary their costumes. Their reason is that one might just as well buy other dresses with the money.

But the girl on a budget does not have to buy expensive accessories to be chic. If she is willing to give a little time to hunting, she can find numerous bits with which to enhance her dresses.

For example: Leopard belts are costly but leopard buttons are not. Besides, a few of these buttons arranged on a plain belt or at the neckline will have a very individual look.

One may use a handsome collection of scarves to set off her costumes. In fact, she might use them exclusively so that they seem almost a trademark.

Should this be your wont, while buying the different designs and shapes that appeal to you, quickly increase your collection by making some from remnants.

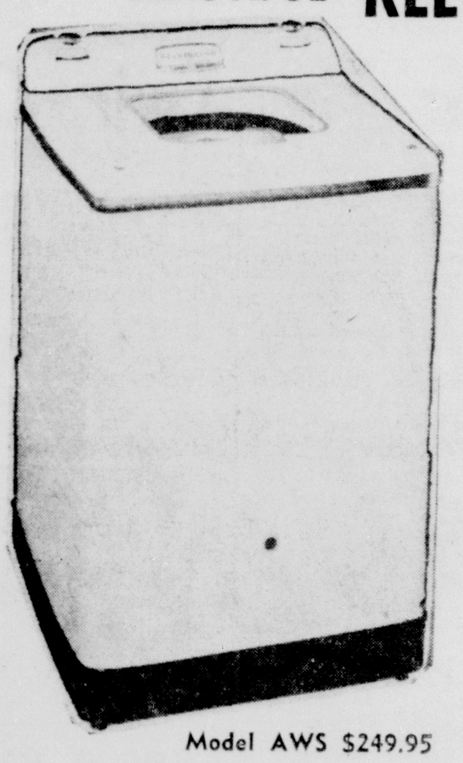

Once your friends become aware of your enterprise, they will gladly contribute their sewing scraps. For the largest piece, you will need a 21-inch square. Use the styles you now own as patterns; handroll them and in minutes you will have added to your accessories without spending a penny.

It's Digging Time

This autumn weather makes us all want to dig in the dirt. So let's plan our digging and we will get beauty as well as pleasure from it.

The Extension bulletin "Plan your Planting," by Miss Bertha Lee Ferguson, will help you with planning — call 3-2251 and get it. On page 11 of this bulletin is a picture of the attractive combination carport, breezeway and terrace which provides utility and beauty at the home of Mrs. A. T. Stout, of Logtown.

On page 14 of this bulletin is the picture of the spacious outdoor living room at this same home. There are several other drawings showing where to put the patio, drives and screen planting. Also where to plant blooming flowers and bulbs. Miss Ferguson says, "Flowers are the frosting on the cake," and without blooming plants the surroundings are bare looking. She states clumps of flowers in the shurbbery border add color and interest. Certain perennials and bulbs are especially good tucked in nooks and crannies of the shrubbery border. But don't put them in single rows along the edge of the border. Group them several together and the effect will be much better. Flower borders along the boundary are good especially when you do not need to screen out an unsightly view.

You may be interested in a separate flower garden — an area to the side or back, connecting with the outdoor living room. The cut flower garden or rose garden shouldn't be set out in the open lawn. You will find this bulletin interesting as well as helpful.

If you are interested in growing Belles of Ireland, you can get the seed on local market this year.

Inside Gardening

Maybe you are an apartment dweller and have neither home nor yard — you can have flowers. Paper-white narcissus are especially suited to indoor culture and will provide a succession of blooms if plantings are made at intervals of approximately ten days, from early November until the end of February. Narcissus bloom in about five weeks following planting. Best results are obtained when the bulbs are planted in bowls of pebbles with just the tips of the bulbs showing about the surface. Add sufficient water so that it just touches the bottom of the bulbs, and store in a cool lark place. After a mass of roots develop, the bowl, with the bulbs undisturbed, should be moved to a draft-free location having a temperature of approximately 60 degrees F.

Holiday Eats

While visiting with the Fondale —Logtown group this week, I was shown some beautiful fruit cakes and obtained the recipes from Mrs. J. B. Filhiol, Sr., Mrs. W. J. Lowe, and Mrs. Bill Luton. These recipes and others will be mailed to the 22 Home Demonstration Club presidents as soon as they are mimeographed. If you want one, you can see her.

Presidents of the clubs are: Bosco, Mrs. P. M. Jeter; Cadeville, Mrs. J. H. Henry; Cheniere, Mrs. Elaine Newton; Claiborne, Mrs. C. D. Henderson; Colony, Mrs. Louie Bower; Cypress, Mrs. N. Pinton; Drew, Mrs. P. M. Donald; Eureka, Mrs. B. O. Avant; Fairbanks, Mrs. J. P. McKnight; Lakeview, Mrs. Merle Johnson; Lamkin, Mrs. Irvin Waller; Lenwil, Mrs. L. A. Manhart; Swartz, Mrs. W. J. Roper; Thrifty Homemaker, Mrs. Kenneth Lee; Watson, Mrs. T. R. Jones; and Woodlawn, Mrs. H. H. Roberts.

You might try this Japanese Fruit Cake recipe for Thanksgiving. (I'm using it) Thelma Roark furnished us this recipe. Thelma says her boys think it the best cake of all.

Japanese Fruit Cake: 3 cups flour, 2 cups sugar, 1 cup milk, 1 cup butter, 4 eggs, 1 tablespoon, baking powder, ½ teaspoon vanilla, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 cup crystalized cherries whole (½ red and ½ green), 1 cup pineapple, cut in wedges, 1 pint pecans. Filling: 1 cocoanut grated, juice of 2 medium size oranges, juice of 1 lemon, 1 cup hot water, 2 cups sugar, and 2 tablespoons corn starch.

For Cake: Cream butter, sugar, and add eggs one at a time, add milk ond vanilla. Mix nuts and fruits. Sift together all dry ingredients and mix with nuts and fruits. Add batter and mix. Cook in 8 inch cake tins which have been lined with waxed paper at 250 degrees F.

Filling: Mix orange, lemon juices and hot water. Mix sugar and corn starch then add liquid mixture. Cook over a slow fire until it begins to thicken then add grated cocoanut. Cook until it is thick enough to spread easily. Let cook and put between cooled cakes.

Best Club Of 1953

The score sheet committee composed of Mrs. A. T. Stout, Ouachita Council President, Mrs. J. B. Filhoil, Sr., Logtown, Mrs. Ira Waller, Lamkin (but will be a Thrifty Homemaker next year), Mrs. Elaine Newton, Cheniere, Mrs. Louie Bowers, Colony, Mrs. John Anding, Lenwil, Mrs. Lee Wilder, Cadeville, had a job compiling the records Tuesday of 20 Home Demonstration Clubs participating in the contest for best Home Demonstration Club of 1953. But they had to wait until Saturday for the results. Mr. George Tyner made this announcement at the Council Meeting on the 21st. (At the time of the entry of this article the agent didn't even know which club won). A silver coffee service from Tyner-Petrus Co. has been the award given the Best Club for the past three years. Winners were: Drew in 1950, Woodlawn — 1951 and Claiborne — 1952.

Music Students Presented In Recital At Northeast

The recital room in the Fine Arts Building at Northeast State College was filled to capacity on Monday night, when the 1953 Hewitt Piano Contest winners, sponsored by the Music Teachers Association of Monroe and West Monroe, were presented in recital. The appreciative audience was unusually enthusiastic in their appraisal of the outstanding talents of the performers, representative of advancing musical growth in this area.

Introductory to the recital, president Lila Scogin reviewed the history of the J. Paul Hewitt Interlochen Scholarship Contest, since its inception four years ago. She traced the rapid growth of the project since the initial contest, won by Philip Ambrose of Monroe, up to the present time. For the past two years, the coveted Interlochen Scholarship award has been won by youthful Mary Ann McLauren of Ruston, a piano student of Mr. A. D. Cazedessus of Louisiana Tech. Miss McLauren, a high school student of unusual achievements, made an outstanding record at the National Music Camp in Michigan, as a result of winning the Interlochen Scholarship for two successive years. The contest, which has been enlarged to embrace all of the northeast Louisiana area as well as southeast Arkansas and northwest Mississippi, offers keen competition each year. Miss McLauren has given outstanding evidence of her musical capabilities on every occasion.

Second place in third division: Leta Gwen Horan of McGee, Ark., a pupil of Mrs. G. W. Griffin, "The Humming Bird," by MacDowell, and Music Box.

Third place in third division: Billie Jean Rumbelow of Winnsboro, pupil of Mrs. Ira Hickson, "The Woodpecker" by Pickens.

First place in third division: Sylvia Chambless of Oak Grove, pupil of Mrs. Ellis Womack, "Trois Ecoaises," by Chopin.

Third place in second division: Patricia Smith, pupil of Mrs. W. E. Williams, "Dance of the Jacks," by Poldini.

Second place in second division: Harriet Kincaid of Winnsboro, pupil of Mrs. C. L. Moore, Jr., "Toccato" from "Sonata in A Major," by Paradies.

Second place in first division, Beverly Granberry of Bastrop, pupil of Mrs. J. B. Spier, 1951 Interlochen Scholarship winner, Rustle of Spring.

First place in first division, Mary Ann McLauren of Ruston, pupil of Mr. A. D. Cazedessus, Interlochen Scholarship winner, Rhapsody in D Minor, by Brahms.

Following the recital, Mr. J. Paul Hewitt expressed his gratification of the growing interest in the music contests each year, and announced the forthcoming 1954 nationwide $2,000 Steinway scholarship sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs, a new contest for serious music students.

Interlochen Scholarship award winner Mary Ann McLauren gave highlights of her past two year's experiences at the National Music Camp in Michigan, stating recreational and music education facilities for music students, from five years to university age. She gave her experiences and impressions as being the most rewarding and inspirational musical experiences of her entire life.

A brief business session for members of the association only followed the program. Those present were: Mrs. Florence Ziegler Allbritton, Mrs. Wilbur Bullock, Mrs. R. G. Luckett, Mrs. E. Everett Lawson, Mr. J. F. Monroe, Mrs. Harvey Nelson, Mrs. Thelma Oseland, Miss Lila Scogin, Mrs. John Sholars, Mrs. W. E. Williams.

YWCA Activities

Y-VES' CLUB

A corsage always adds that "special touch" to one's costume as well as to one's spirit and especially at a holiday time. Mrs. V. S. Garnett was the guest for the Y-ves' Club meeting to teach the members how to make "Christmas Corsages." Mrs. William Hochstetler and Mrs. Kenneth Dollard were hostesses for the meeting. During the business discussion with the president of the group, Mrs. B. E. McWilliams, presiding, various types of classes: bridge, public speaking, flower arranging, and others planned. Mrs. Paul Johnson, program chairman and her committee composed of Mrs. Carl Davis and Mrs. J. B. Woodburn presented the members with their club yearbooks. Two new members: Mrs. Martha Cushman and Mrs. Lora Carson and the following guests: Mrs. Charles Stringfellow, Mrs. Edward Morrison, Mrs. W. S. Rice of Jennings, La., Mrs. Johnny Brown, and Mrs. Bob Persful were welcomed to the group. The following members were present: Mrs. Kay Hood, Mrs Emery Bishop, Mrs. Bill Eason, Mrs. Merle Edwards, Mrs. Margaret Johnson, Mrs. Ollie Walker, Mrs. Margaret Van Fossen, Mrs. Wilma Schoonover, Mrs. Jean Ritter, Mrs. Gerda Gorman, Mrs. Dorothy Kight, Mrs. LaVania Woodburn, Mrs. Mary Eason and Mary Anne, Mrs. Dot Perkins, Mrs. Cay McWilliams, Mrs. Ben Patterson, Mrs. Dolly Corder, Mrs. Frances Hochstetler, Mrs. Dora Lee Kilpatrick, and Mrs. Kenneth Dollard. Plans for a "Friendship Card Party,', and the Christmas party for the husbands and wives were discussed. The next program will be on December 2 with Mrs. Monroe Trimble giving a demonstration on "Christmas Gifts' Wrapping."

YRG'S

On Monday night the YRG'S met for their regular supper "get-together." Ernestine Hickingbottom gave the devotional taken from Ecclesiastes 11:1 "Cast your bread upon the waters for thou shalt find it after many days." The thought for the week is: "Because I believe in peace, I will work and pray for it today." Royce Dosher and Billie Moore were appointed for the service project of getting the Christmas package for a "soldier on the high seas at Christmastime" in cooperation with the Red Cross. The group also voted to send a Christmas package to the Veteran's Hospital at Alexandria, also a project of the Red Cross. Mrs. Marcille Hester, a former YRG, was introduced and welcomed. A new member and YRG: Bonnie Rieps was introduced. On Monday night, November 23 Mrs. J. Norman Coon will be a guest for the YRG meeting. The group was dismissed with the Mizpah Benediction.

Y-TEENS

Carolyn Bradley opened the meeting of the Jolly Y Janes' Club with the devotional. Mr. W. L. Perpins of the Commerce Department at NLSC was the guest speaker. His talk was on "personality development and getting along with people." He emphasized the importance of the relationships and things we are doing now and their influence on our future relationships and success. Plans for the Y-Teen holiday party were discussed. Miss Sharp announced that the Y-Teen rally will be held at the Missouri Pacific Booster Hall on Decer ber 5 and the annual Y-Teen Recognition Ceremonial will be held at the First Methodist Church on December 6th at 3:00 p.m.

The Blue Sharps' Club of Y-Teens met at Lenwil School. Julia Dillard gave the devotional. The club is sponsoring a Thanksgiving party for the seventh grade at the school on Wednesday, November 25.

On Wednesday morning all girls at the West Monroe High School interested in Y-Teens met in Mrs. Helen Hood's study hall to organize Y-Teens. There were 135 girls who attended this meeting and four clubs: eighth grade, freshman, sophomores and the seniors, juniors clubs were organized.

The YWCA (Young Women's Christian Association) is one of the agencies of your Twin City Community Chest.

Liberty Club Elects Officers

New officers for the coming year were elected at the November meeting of the Liberty Home Demonstration Club which met in the home of Mrs. Lillian Foster.

Mrs. J. C. Taylor was elected president and Mrs. A. Sanford, secretary - treasurer.

Leaders are: Mrs. Lillian Foster, home management; Mrs. A. L. White, house furnishing; Mrs. J. E Gross, garden vegetables; Mrs. Loyd Coon, garden - landscaping; Mrs. J. E. Gross, poultry; Mrs. Eunice Griggs, food preparation; Mrs. Evie Foster; food preparation; Mrs. Howard Butler, nutrition; Mrs. A. L. White, clothing; Mrs. Eunice Griggs, citizenship and civil defense; Mrs. Ata Richardson, safety and health; Mrs. Authur Kilpatrick, consumer education; Mrs. Ester Calhoun, recreation; Mrs. Lillian Foster, song; Mrs. J. C. Taylor, family life.

Mrs. A. L. White talked to the club on the selection of linens. Mrs. White demonstrated her talk by presenting a number of practical ideas on material, color and designing of linens.

The club has as their guest Mrs. S. W. Tullos.

Morning Coffee And Shower Honor Shirley Shepherd

TALLULAH, — Miss Shirley Shepherd, bride-elect of Robert P. Grimes, whose wedding on November 29 is an interesting event of the fall season, was delightfully complimented when Mrs. J. E. Neill and Mrs. J. E. Neill Jr., entertained with a morning coffee. White chrysanthemums, magnolia foliage and gleaming white candles, attractively arranged in the reception rooms carried out the white and green color scheme. On the tea table with its white linen cover was a centerpiece of tiny chrysanthemums and silver platters of delectable refreshments. Mrs. John Carpenter presided at the handsome coffee service.

Those enjoying the morning with Miss Shepherd were her mother, Mrs. G. T. Shepherd, Mrs. R. P. Grimes, Mrs. R. T. Alexander, Mrs. John Carpenter, Mrs. Ralph Loe, Mrs. Earl Johnson, Mrs. J. G. Wyly Jr., Mrs. Z. L. Chambless, Mrs. L. S. Grace, Mrs. Dave Kaufman, Mrs. Claude Grimes, Mrs. B. G. Hammond, Mrs. Warren Patrick, Mrs. W. F. Patton, Mrs. Frank McDonald, Mrs. M. A. Phillips and Mrs. E. B. Schicker.

Mrs. M. J. Shauberger and Mrs. M. J. Shauberger Jr. also entertained with a kitchen shower, honoring Miss Shepherd, who was most attractive in a mulberry colored suit with which she wore wine and navy accessories and a corsage of yellow mums, presented by the hostesses.

A yellow and white color theme was effectively used, the refreshment table being covered with a white cut work cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums. Mrs. J. B. Morris of Delhi, presided serving coffee, small hot ham biscuits, doughnuts, cream puffs and mints.

Little Rita Clark, in the costume of a colored mammy, presented Miss Shepherd with a huge pie covered with yellow flowers. When the pie was opened, it was found to contain many practical articles for the future bride's kitchen.

The guests included Miss Shepherd, Mrs. G. T. Shepherd, Mrs. Joe M. Clark, Mrs. J. W. Davis, Mrs. Claude Keller, Mrs. Irma Keller, Mrs. J. G. White, Mrs. Jim Parker, Mrs. W. F. Patton, Miss Hazel Jean Moberley, Miss Faye Rogan, Mrs. J. W. Carpenter, Mrs. R. T. Alexander, Mrs. Earl Johnson, Mrs. Rod Lawson of Houston, Texas, Mrs. B. G. Hammond, Mrs. Warren Patrick, Mrs. Z. L. Chambless, Mrs. J. B. Morris, Mrs. W. A. Keller and Mrs. R. P. Grimes.

For Cake: Cream butter, sugar, and add eggs one at a time, add milk ond vanilla. Mix nuts and fruits. Sift together all dry ingredients and mix with nuts and fruits. Add batter and mix. Cook in 8 inch cake tins which have been lined with waxed paper at 250 degrees F.

Filling: Mix orange, lemon juices and hot water. Mix sugar and corn starch then add liquid mixture. Cook over a slow fire until it begins to thicken then add grated cocoanut. Cook until it is thick enough to spread easily. Let cook and put between cooled cakes.

Best Club Of 1953

The score sheet committee composed of Mrs. A. T. Stout, Ouachita Council President, Mrs. J. B. Filhoil, Sr., Logtown, Mrs. Ira Waller, Lamkin (but will be a Thrifty Homemaker next year), Mrs. Elaine Newton, Cheniere, Mrs. Louie Bowers, Colony, Mrs. John Anding, Lenwil, Mrs. Lee Wilder, Cadeville, had a job compiling the records Tuesday of 20 Home Demonstration Clubs participating in the contest for best Home Demonstration Club of 1953. But they had to wait until Saturday for the results. Mr. George Tyner made this announcement at the Council Meeting on the 21st. (At the time of the entry of this article the agent didn't even know which club won). A silver coffee service from Tyner-Petrus Co. has been the award given the Best Club for the past three years. Winners were: Drew in 1950, Woodlawn — 1951 and Claiborne — 1952.

Music Students Presented In Recital At Northeast

The recital room in the Fine Arts Building at Northeast State College was filled to capacity on Monday night, when the 1953 Hewitt Piano Contest winners, sponsored by the Music Teachers Association of Monroe and West Monroe, were presented in recital. The appreciative audience was unusually enthusiastic in their appraisal of the outstanding talents of the performers, representative of advancing musical growth in this area.

Introductory to the recital, president Lila Scogin reviewed the history of the J. Paul Hewitt Interlochen Scholarship Contest, since its inception four years ago. She traced the rapid growth of the project since the initial contest, won by Philip Ambrose of Monroe, up to the present time. For the past two years, the coveted Interlochen Scholarship award has been won by youthful Mary Ann McLauren of Ruston, a piano student of Mr. A. D. Cazedessus of Louisiana Tech. Miss McLauren, a high school student of unusual achievements, made an outstanding record at the National Music Camp in Michigan, as a result of winning the Interlochen Scholarship for two successive years. The contest, which has been enlarged to embrace all of the northeast Louisiana area as well as southeast Arkansas and northwest Mississippi, offers keen competition each year. Miss McLauren has given outstanding evidence of her musical capabilities on every occasion.

Second place in third division: Leta Gwen Horan of McGee, Ark., a pupil of Mrs. G. W. Griffin, "The Humming Bird," by MacDowell, and Music Box.

Third place in third division: Billie Jean Rumbelow of Winnsboro, pupil of Mrs. Ira Hickson, "The Woodpecker" by Pickens.

First place in third division: Sylvia Chambless of Oak Grove, pupil of Mrs. Ellis Womack, "Trois Ecoaises," by Chopin.

Third place in second division: Patricia Smith, pupil of Mrs. W. E. Williams, "Dance of the Jacks," by Poldini.

Second place in second division: Harriet Kincaid of Winnsboro, pupil of Mrs. C. L. Moore, Jr., "Toccato" from "Sonata in A Major," by Paradies.

Second place in first division, Beverly Granberry of Bastrop, pupil of Mrs. J. B. Spier, 1951 Interlochen Scholarship winner, Rustle of Spring.

First place in first division, Mary Ann McLauren of Ruston, pupil of Mr. A. D. Cazedessus, Interlochen Scholarship winner, Rhapsody in D Minor, by Brahms.

Following the recital, Mr. J. Paul Hewitt expressed his gratification of the growing interest in the music contests each year, and announced the forthcoming 1954 nationwide $2,000 Steinway scholarship sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs, a new contest for serious music students.

Interlochen Scholarship award winner Mary Ann McLauren gave highlights of her past two year's experiences at the National Music Camp in Michigan, stating recreational and music education facilities for music students, from five years to university age. She gave her experiences and impressions as being the most rewarding and inspirational musical experiences of her entire life.

A brief business session for members of the association only followed the program. Those present were: Mrs. Florence Ziegler Allbritton, Mrs. Wilbur Bullock, Mrs. R. G. Luckett, Mrs. E. Everett Lawson, Mr. J. F. Monroe, Mrs. Harvey Nelson, Mrs. Thelma Oseland, Miss Lila Scogin, Mrs. John Sholars, Mrs. W. E. Williams.

YWCA Activities

Y-VES' CLUB

A corsage always adds that "special touch" to one's costume as well as to one's spirit and especially at a holiday time. Mrs. V. S. Garnett was the guest for the Y-ves' Club meeting to teach the members how to make "Christmas Corsages." Mrs. William Hochstetler and Mrs. Kenneth Dollard were hostesses for the meeting. During the business discussion with the president of the group, Mrs. B. E. McWilliams, presiding, various types of classes: bridge, public speaking, flower arranging, and others planned. Mrs. Paul Johnson, program chairman and her committee composed of Mrs. Carl Davis and Mrs. J. B. Woodburn presented the members with their club yearbooks. Two new members: Mrs. Martha Cushman and Mrs. Lora Carson and the following guests: Mrs. Charles Stringfellow, Mrs. Edward Morrison, Mrs. W. S. Rice of Jennings, La., Mrs. Johnny Brown, and Mrs. Bob Persful were welcomed to the group. The following members were present: Mrs. Kay Hood, Mrs Emery Bishop, Mrs. Bill Eason, Mrs. Merle Edwards, Mrs. Margaret Johnson, Mrs. Ollie Walker, Mrs. Margaret Van Fossen, Mrs. Wilma Schoonover, Mrs. Jean Ritter, Mrs. Gerda Gorman, Mrs. Dorothy Kight, Mrs. LaVania Woodburn, Mrs. Mary Eason and Mary Anne, Mrs. Dot Perkins, Mrs. Cay McWilliams, Mrs. Ben Patterson, Mrs. Dolly Corder, Mrs. Frances Hochstetler, Mrs. Dora Lee Kilpatrick, and Mrs. Kenneth Dollard. Plans for a "Friendship Card Party,', and the Christmas party for the husbands and wives were discussed. The next program will be on December 2 with Mrs. Monroe Trimble giving a demonstration on "Christmas Gifts' Wrapping."

YRG'S

On Monday night the YRG'S met for their regular supper "get-together." Ernestine Hickingbottom gave the devotional taken from Ecclesiastes 11:1 "Cast your bread upon the waters for thou shalt find it after many days." The thought for the week is: "Because I believe in peace, I will work and pray for it today." Royce Dosher and Billie Moore were appointed for the service project of getting the Christmas package for a "soldier on the high seas at Christmastime" in cooperation with the Red Cross. The group also voted to send a Christmas package to the Veteran's Hospital at Alexandria, also a project of the Red Cross. Mrs. Marcille Hester, a former YRG, was introduced and welcomed. A new member and YRG: Bonnie Rieps was introduced. On Monday night, November 23 Mrs. J. Norman Coon will be a guest for the YRG meeting. The group was dismissed with the Mizpah Benediction.

Y-TEENS

Carolyn Bradley opened the meeting of the Jolly Y Janes' Club with the devotional. Mr. W. L. Perpins of the Commerce Department at NLSC was the guest speaker. His talk was on "personality development and getting along with people." He emphasized the importance of the relationships and things we are doing now and their influence on our future relationships and success. Plans for the Y-Teen holiday party were discussed. Miss Sharp announced that the Y-Teen rally will be held at the Missouri Pacific Booster Hall on December 5 and the annual Y-Teen Recognition Ceremonial will be held at the First Methodist Church on December 6th at 3:00 p.m.

The Blue Sharps' Club of Y-Teens met at Lenwil School. Julia Dillard gave the devotional. The club is sponsoring a Thanksgiving party for the seventh grade at the school on Wednesday, November 25.

On Wednesday morning all girls at the West Monroe High School interested in Y-Teens met in Mrs. Helen Hood's study hall to organize Y-Teens. There were 135 girls who attended this meeting and four clubs: eighth grade, freshman, sophomores and the seniors, juniors clubs were organized.

The YWCA (Young Women's Christian Association) is one of the agencies of your Twin City Community Chest.

Liberty Club Elects Officers

New officers for the coming year were elected at the November meeting of the Liberty Home Demonstration Club which met in the home of Mrs. Lillian Foster.

Mrs. J. C. Taylor was elected president and Mrs. A. Sanford, secretary - treasurer.

Leaders are: Mrs. Lillian Foster, home management; Mrs. A. L. White, house furnishing; Mrs. J. E Gross, garden vegetables; Mrs. Loyd Coon, garden - landscaping; Mrs. J. E. Gross, poultry; Mrs. Eunice Griggs, food preparation; Mrs. Evie Foster; food preparation; Mrs. Howard Butler, nutrition; Mrs. A. L. White, clothing; Mrs. Eunice Griggs, citizenship and civil defense; Mrs. Ata Richardson, safety and health; Mrs. Authur Kilpatrick, consumer education; Mrs. Ester Calhoun, recreation; Mrs. Lillian Foster, song; Mrs. J. C. Taylor, family life.

Mrs. A. L. White talked to the club on the selection of linens. Mrs. White demonstrated her talk by presenting a number of practical ideas on material, color and designing of linens.

The club has as their guest Mrs. S. W. Tullos.

Morning Coffee And Shower Honor Shirley Shepherd

TALLULAH, — Miss Shirley Shepherd, bride-elect of Robert P. Grimes, whose wedding on November 29 is an interesting event of the fall season, was delightfully complimented when Mrs. J. E. Neill and Mrs. J. E. Neill Jr., entertained with a morning coffee. White chrysanthemums, magnolia foliage and gleaming white candles, attractively arranged in the reception rooms carried out the white and green color scheme. On the tea table with its white linen cover was a centerpiece of tiny chrysanthemums and silver platters of delectable refreshments. Mrs. John Carpenter presided at the handsome coffee service.

Those enjoying the morning with Miss Shepherd were her mother, Mrs. G. T. Shepherd, Mrs. R. P. Grimes, Mrs. R. T. Alexander, Mrs. John Carpenter, Mrs. Ralph Loe, Mrs. Earl Johnson, Mrs. J. G. Wyly Jr., Mrs. Z. L. Chambless, Mrs. L. S. Grace, Mrs. Dave Kaufman, Mrs. Claude Grimes, Mrs. B. G. Hammond, Mrs. Warren Patrick, Mrs. W. F. Patton, Mrs. Frank McDonald, Mrs. M. A. Phillips and Mrs. E. B. Schicker.

Mrs. M. J. Shauberger and Mrs. M. J. Shauberger Jr. also entertained with a kitchen shower, honoring Miss Shepherd, who was most attractive in a mulberry colored suit with which she wore wine and navy accessories and a corsage of yellow mums, presented by the hostesses.

A yellow and white color theme was effectively used, the refreshment table being covered with a white cut work cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums. Mrs. J. B. Morris of Delhi, presided serving coffee, small hot ham biscuits, doughnuts, cream puffs and mints.

Little Rita Clark, in the costume of a colored mammy, presented Miss Shepherd with a huge pie covered with yellow flowers. When the pie was opened, it was found to contain many practical articles for the future bride's kitchen.

The guests included Miss Shepherd, Mrs. G. T. Shepherd, Mrs. Joe M. Clark, Mrs. J. W. Davis, Mrs. Claude Keller, Mrs. Irma Keller, Mrs. J. G. White, Mrs. Jim Parker, Mrs. W. F. Patton, Miss Hazel Jean Moberley, Miss Faye Rogan, Mrs. J. W. Carpenter, Mrs. R. T. Alexander, Mrs. Earl Johnson, Mrs. Rod Lawson of Houston, Texas, Mrs. B. G. Hammond, Mrs. Warren Patrick, Mrs. Z. L. Chambless, Mrs. J. B. Morris, Mrs. W. A. Keller and Mrs. R. P. Grimes.

lant Bulbs To Bloom On pring Beauty Time-Table

n selecting spring flowering lbs to plant this fall, the time flowering is as important as the e and color of the blooms. The rlier the flowers bloom, after the g winter, the more beautiful ey will be, even though later in year they would attract small tice.

Tiny snowdrops will give as eat a thrill when they appear er the first spring thaws, as ll the magnificent peonies three nths later. A small group visi- from a window will richly re- rd you. After blooming, they n disappear and if the bulbs e not disturbed they will bloom many years without attention. Next after the snowdrops, how g depending upon the weather, llas and glory of the snow hionadoxas) appear, both blue d flowering so freely they car- t the ground with color. Scillas read by self-seeding. Weeks ear- r than violets, they are far su- rior for gardens, because their liage quickly disappears after ey flower and their tiny bulbs fer no competition to companion nts.

Crocuses blossom after the scillas with blue, yellow and white flowers. They come in white, blue and purple, and a mixture gives a pleasing effect.

From the time snowdrops appear until the crocuses blossom may cover a period of three to six weeks, depending on the weather; they are called "minor" bulbs because their flowers are small; but they are precious because they are early.

Soon after the crocuses come the daffodils, first "major" flowers of spring and with them as a rule the earliest wild flowers begin to bloom, and some garden perennials.

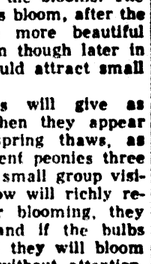

Before the daffodils have faded, early tulips begin to flower, bring to the garden for the first time a complete rainbow range of colors. They are followed in order by the Darwin tulip hybrids of the Triumph and Mendel classes, and finally the bulb season reaches a climax in the flowering of the tall late tulips of the Darwin, Cottage and Breeder types, which bring to the garden a color display that will not be surpassed in variety.

Cold Frame Gardening

If you do not have a cold frame, en knock together some boards d make four sides for a frame some kind to ow plants in ring the winter nths. A tobac- cloth covering ll protect many nts enough to ep them grow- g through our dest weather. ring the se- rest cold spells u can lay rds over the top and leave some cks for light or take the boards during the days. A frame like s should be located in the warm- t spot you have. A sunny spot ainst a building away from the nds is most desirable.

Our winters are so mild and sun- in the south that we have little uble in growing the hardier nts in a frame. Most gardeners e to plant "winter annuals" in ptember in the open and then me more again in November. rkspur, nigella, Chinese forget- enot, Johnny jump-ups, Califor- a poppies and a good many oth- hardy annuals like these will t come up from November and ecember seed sown out in the en until very early spring. Fall wn seed will nearly always beat ring sown seed in coming up d will give you plants that bloom nsiderably earlier than those nted in the spring. The plants t develop into good sized indi- uals from seed planted in Sep- nber will out-do all others if ey can survive the winter, but metimes they develop tops that e too subject to the cold and get zen and destroyed. It is like at some one said about gam- ng in general. "You pays yo pney an' you takes yo chances." If you have a cold frame of me sort, you can almost elimi- e the chances of losing hardy nuals, however. By sowing some each kind now and then some re in late January, you can ve the crop fairly well assured early spring. As the little nts begin to develop, the larg- t ones can be lifted out and put a place by themselves in the me to develop, the largest s can be lifted out and put in place by themselves in the me to develop and the others t to grow where they are. In bruary before the big push of ring activities, these hardy nts can be set right into the rden where they will develop ll further into surprisingly fine rge specimens. This is the way which some gardeners are able grow such fine larkspur every ar.

There is really quite a long list worthwhile hardy annuals in the ed catalogues we receive each ar. If you wait till spring to nt them, you will always be dis- pointed. The sudden heat in arch and April stunts these nts by causing them to sudden- start to make buds before they e really grown. Plants from ll sown seed, however, will be ature and ready to flower. In e lower south where they have t discovered many heat resistant nuals for their gardens, peo- ple rely heavily on winter annuals for the spring show in their flower beds. We in the cooler aress could do more with them if we wanted to even though we do have quite a few good perennials.

Almost everybody plants some larkspur every year in the fall. The following is a list of more good hardy annuals which are well worth trying: California poppies (Escholtzia Californica), alyssum, annual baby's breath (Gypsophila elegans), annual bartonia, bachelor's button, calendula, Collomia biflora, Chinese forgetmenot, Centaurthus macrosiphon, calliopsis, candytuft, Chinese delphinium, many kinds of perennial pinks which will bloom the first year from early sown seed, godetia, annual lupines (hard to transplant, so grow in little pots), nigella, Silene Armeria, Silene pendula (one of the very best annuals) pink hawks-beard (Crepis rubra) (sow where it is to grow) scarlet flax, petunias, opium poppies, Shirley poppies, and Echium plantagineum — another "top notcher."

California poppies and the pink hawks-beard should be planted where they are to bloom or planted in little pots like the annual lupines and then moved into the garden from the frame. Hawks-beard is not long lasting but is a very handsome pink dandelion in effect. Your columnist watched this plant growing among the new plants at ew Gardens in London some years back and was astonished that so beautiful and showy a little plant should fold up in a day or two when the warm weather and drouth hit it. Nevertheless, it is worth planting. Set the plants in the bare spots which will soon be filled up by the leaves of perennials after late April. It might be worthwhile to save the seeds for your next year's crop each spring.

Your frame will keep you in flowers all winter if you will dig a few plants like petunias and pansies and set them in the frame. In Europe, many plants have always been grown in frames and set out under bell - shaped plant protectors called cloches. Just recently, a small glass protector about the size of a small cold frame has been put on the market in this country. A good many plants can be accommodated under one of these little greenhouses. In the sunshiny weather down south here, the main problem with any kind of frame or cloche is that the sun may cook our plants in the day unless air is let in. Those who have grown plants under the new protectors say that the cracks left between the pains of glass allow the heat to escape and do not materially affect the protection from cold during the nights. We southerners will just have to experiment with these devices and see what they will do for us.

QUIZZING THE GARDENER

Q—What do you recommend for winter window-box fillers?

A—The trimmings of evergreen trees or shrubs about the yard will supply greens for winter. Soak the soil well and push in the branches, packing the soil about them, or purchase small balled and burlapped arborvitae and other low-cost evergreens.

Note On Questions

Henry Pree is unable to answer directly individual questions from readers. However, with each column he will answer the most interesting and most frequently asked questions.

The Home Shift With

Mildred Swift

The Pilgrims celebrated Thanksgiving for the haven of a country with new ideas, for their safe arrival and for their first harvest. Washington proclaimed Thanksgiving as a day of thanks for the democracy. Lincoln announced a day for giving thanks for harvest — and present day Thanksgiving is a combination of all these; thanks for a free country, for bounty and good living, and so the day has evolved. One thing that has always been associated with Thanksgiving is good eating, and the eating is better than ever. Food supplies are good and food prices reasonable—many of them below last year's prices.

Thanksgiving Turkey

Most of the turkeys in the markets are frozen, so that's the kind most of you will be cooking. A very large bird will take 2 or 3 days to thaw in your refrigerator. For rapid thawing place the bird in cool running water until pliable enough to handle. This takes 2 or 3 hours. Just don't let the bird stand in water after thawing. Or—you can thaw at room temperature around 70 degrees F and allow one hour per pound. Of course, you know to cook immediately after thawing.

There are two ways you can cook your turkey, on a rack in a shallow pan, (no cover) or wrapped in aluminum foil. Since all turkeys are tender now, there is no need cooking in water or steam. The first method gives a little drier meat, which is the way lots of us like our turkey. In case you don't have a roasting chart handy here's one for you. Turkey on rack in shallow pan:

7 to 10 lbs., 300 degrees F., 30 minutes per lb.

10 to 15 lbs., 300 degrees F., 20 minutes per lb.

15 to 18 lbs., 300 degrees F., 18 minutes per lb.

18 to 20 lbs., 300 degrees F., 15 minutes per lb.

20 to 23 lbs., 300 degrees F., 13 minutes per lb.

Turkey wrapped in aluminum foil:

8 to 10 lbs., 20 minutes; 11 to 14 lbs., 18 minutes; 15 to 18 lbs., 16 minutes; 19 to 24 lbs., 15 minutes; Moderately hot, 400 degrees F.

Boil giblets and neck for liquid for dressing and use the drippings in the bottom of the roasting pan for gravy. Allow one half pound of dressed weight per person.

Something New

Look for a new package when you buy brown or confectioners' sugar. The sugar will be the same but the package carries an inner liner that folds down to seal, a tuck-in flap on the outer package for better keeping.

This is not new but it seems that some have forgotten to prick baking apples and potatoes with a fork before putting them in the oven, so the skins won't burst. Helps them keep their shape, too.

I've found that parsley keeps crisp and fresh for a long time when its sealed in a jar with a small amount of water and kept in the refrigerator.

Honors for Ouachita

Dorothy Lee Russell, 4-H Club member from Calhoun High School will board the train Thanksgiving Day—Chicago bound for National 4-H Club Congress. Twenty-three other club members from Louisiana won this award—an all expense trip to the Congress. Dorothy Lee placed first in the state in the Food Preparation Contest. The young club member lives out from Calhoun and this is her first trip to the big city of Chicago. We'll hear from her on the radio when she returns and I'm sure she'll have some glamorous news for us.

Around the Yard

When you're out riding this afternoon go up Second Street to the corner of Arkansas (217), and see one of the largest dogwoods in the Twin Cities. See if you don't think Miss Dogwood's fall outfit is every bit as beautiful as her spring one.

Then — turn over to Third Street and notice the red Sweet Gum in the yards between 1901 and 1903. The frost has been kind to many of our trees. The drouth hurt others so they lost their fall glory.

Don't go home from your drive until you see the ginkgo tree, a solid mass of gold, in the Layton's yard, 1133 South Grand. You'll want to plant one this winter after seeing it.

Dates to Remember

If church and civic groups will call and give me dates and information about bazaars, suppers, etc., I'll be glad to remind the women through this column.

Last Tuesday my television show went on an hour earlier due to a network show that came on at that time. This coming Tuesday, we'll be on at the same old time, 2:45, same station KNOE-TV. Subject: Planting shrubs. You're invited to tune in.

See you next Sunday.

Ground Moles Aid In Ruining Garden

Ground moles are enemies of gardeners, not because they eat bulbs and plant roots, but because they unwittingly aid rodents that do. R. K. Davis, extension wildlife conservationist at Ohio State Univeristy, recently asserted that the mole's bad reputation comes from cutting through obstructions in his tunneling, and because his tunnels, once established, are used by a lot of bad company.

Field mice and other rodents that actually do the gnawing use mole tunnels as highways for their burglary operations. Moles do not eat plant roots and bulbs, said the specialist. They are insectivorous, feasting upon ants, millipedes, centipedes, sow bugs, earthworms and snails, to name a few. They may even feed upon some of man's insect pests, but are not as efficient as insecticides, said Davis.

Although trapping is most effective to get rid of moles, it requires patience, according to Davis. Research has not discovered good repellents as yet. There is more hope for poisons than repellents. A number of poisons have been tested at the university, of which thallium - treated peanuts were most effective.

Plant Winter Beauty

With autumn planting on the schedule for many home owners the old gardener suggests serious consideration of an old rule, "plant for the winter, summer will take care of itself."

Sam Hemming, writing in the American Nurseryman, says: "Planting for winter effects need not preclude color and other types of arrangements, nor does it mean that the planting must be evergreen. One should think in terms of winter appearance to make the best of his planting."

Broadleaf evergreens like the mountain laurel, hybrid rhododendron and Japanese hollies can be used to provide a background of winter green, while the many yews, leucothoe, pieris and the junipers are needed to provide a variety of shades in green and bronze to add interest to the composition.

Notes From The Garden Center

The Ruston Garden Club has presented to the garden center the the new "Christmas Idea Book" by Dorothy Biddle and Dorothea Blom.

This book is sparkling with Christmas ideas and your house will glow and gleam too if you follow these wonderful suggestions.

Last Tuesday a group of ardent gardeners enjoyed hearing Mrs. John Devine of Tallulah speak on garden Trends. From time to time there will be in the center garden specialists in various phases of garden work.

All gardeners or potential gardeners are invited to take advantage of the wonderful storehouse of knowledge these specialists are sharing with the public. The dates will be announced in this column.

Arrangements this week were made by the Green Thumb Garden Club of Ruston. Mrs. John Devine, Tallulah and Mrs. V. S. Garnett of Monroe served as judges.

Awards are as follows: first place, Mrs. Dan O'Neal for a distinctive vertical arrangement in a woven bottle container, using sea oats and pompom chrysanthemums in autumn tints.

Three outstanding flower shows were staged in Monroe last week. Congratulations to the Home Gardener Club, the Welcome Garden Club and the Flora Group for their fine work.

Home Gardener Club Has Flower Show

The "Autumn Memories" Flower Show presented by the Home Gardener Club was a great success A large crowd attended the show where all the entries were shown to a great advantage. The following members were awarded ribbons.

The tri-color ribbon for the outstanding arrangement and the coveted sweepstakes ribbon were both won by Mrs. J. A. Funston. Other winners were:

Plant Bulbs To Bloom On Spring Beauty Time-Table

In selecting spring flowering lbs to plant this fall, the time flowering is as important as the e and color of the blooms. The rlier the flowers bloom, after the g winter, the more beautiful ey will be, even though later in e year they would attract small tice.

Tiny snowdrops will give as eat a thrill when they appear er the first spring thaws, as ll the magnificent peonies three nths later. A small group visi- from a window will richly re- rd you. After blooming, they n disappear and if the bulbs e not disturbed they will bloom many years without attention. Next after the snowdrops, how g depending upon the weather, llas and glory of the snow hionadoxas) appear, both blue d flowering so freely they car- t the ground with color. Scillas read by self-seeding. Weeks earr than violets, they are far suprior for gardens, because their liage quickly disappears after ey flower and their tiny bulbs fer no competition to companion nts.

From the time snowdrops appear until the crocuses blossom may cover a period of three to six weeks, depending on the weather; they are called "minor" bulbs because their flowers are small; but they are precious because they are early.

Soon after the crocuses come the daffodils, first "major" flowers of spring and with them as a rule the earliest wild flowers begin to bloom, and some garden perennials.

Before the daffodils have faded, early tulips begin to flower, bring to the garden for the first time a complete rainbow range of colors. They are followed in order by the Darwin tulip hybrids of the Triumph and Mendel classes, and finally the bulb season reaches a climax in the flowering of the tall late tulips of the Darwin, Cottage and Breeder types, which bring to the garden a color display that will not be surpassed in variety.

Southern Gardener

By WILLIAM LANIER HUNT

Cold Frame Gardening

If you do not have a cold frame, en knock together some boards d make four sides for a frame some kind to ow plants in ring the winter onths. A tobac- cloth covering ll protect many ants enough to ep them grow- g through our oldest weather. ring the se- rest cold spells u can lay ards over the top and leave some cks for light or take the boards during the days. A frame like s should be located in the warmt spot you have. A sunny spot ainst a building away from the nds is most desirable.

Our winters are so mild and sun- in the south that we have little uble in growing the hardier ants in a frame. Most gardeners e to plant "winter annuals" in ptember in the open and then me more again in November. arkspur, nigella, Chinese forgetenot, Johnny jump-ups, Californa poppies and a good many oth- hardy annuals like these will t come up from November and ecember seed sown out in the en until very early spring. Fall wn seed will nearly always beat ring sown seed in coming up d will give you plants that bloom nsiderably earlier than those nted in the spring. The plants t develop into good sized indiuals from seed planted in Sepnber will out-do all others if ey can survive the winter, but metimes they develop tops that e too subject to the cold and get zen and destroyed. It is like at some one said about gamng in general. "You pays yo oney an' you takes yo chances." If you have a cold frame of me sort, you can almost elimie the chances of losing hardy uals, however. By sowing some each kind now and then some ore in late January, you can ve the crop fairly well assured early spring. As the little ants begin to develop, the largt ones can be lifted out and put a place by themselves in the ame to develop, the largest es can be lifted out and put in place by themselves in the ame to develop and the others ft to grow where they are. In bruary before the big push of ring activities, these hardy ants can be set right into the rden where they will develop ll further into surprisingly fine rge specimens. This is the way which some gardeners are able grow such fine larkspur every ear.

There is really quite a long list worthwhile hardy annuals in the ed catalogues we receive each ar. If you wait till spring to ant them, you will always be dispointed. The sudden heat in arch and April stunts these ants by causing them to suddenstart to make buds before they e really grown. Plants from ll sown seed, however, will be ature and ready to flower. In e lower south where they have t discovered many heat resistant rennials for their gardens, people rely heavily on winter annuals for the spring show in their flower beds. We in the cooler areas could do more with them if we wanted to even though we do have quite a few good perennials.

Almost everybody plants some larkspur every year in the fall. The following is a list of more good hardy annuals which are well worth trying: California poppies (Escholtzia Californica), alyssum, annual baby's breath (Gypsophila elegans), annual bartonia, bachelor's button, calendula, Collomia biflora, Chinese forgetmenot, Centranthus macrosiphon, calliopsis, candytuft, Chinese delphinium, many kinds of perennial pinks which will bloom the first year from early sown seed, godetia, annual lupines (hard to transplant, so grow in little pots), nigella, Silene Armeria, Silene pendula (one of the very best annuals) pink hawks-beard (Crepis rubra) (sow where it is to grow) scarlet flax, petunias, opium poppies, Shirley poppies, and Echium plantagineum — another "top notcher."

California poppies and the pink hawks-beard should be planted where they are to bloom or planted in little pots like the annual lupines and then moved into the garden from the frame. Hawks-beard is not long lasting but is a very handsome pink dandelion in effect. Your columnist watched this plant growing among the new plants at Kew Gardens in London some years back and was astonished that so beautiful and showy a little plant should fold up in a day or two when the warm weather and drouth hit it. Nevertheless, it is worth planting. Set the plants in the bare spots which will soon be filled up by the leaves of perennials after late April. It might be worthwhile to save the seeds for your next year's crop each spring.

Your frame will keep you in flowers all winter if you will dig a few plants like petunias and pansies and set them in the frame. In Europe, many plants have always been grown in frames and set out under bell - shaped plant protectors called cloches. Just recently, a small glass protector about the size of a small cold frame has been put on the market in this country. A good many plants can be accommodated under one of these little greenhouses. In the sunshiny weather down south here, the main problem with any kind of frame or cloche is that the sun may cook our plants in the day unless air is let in. Those who have grown plants under the new protectors say that the cracks left between the pains of glass allow the heat to escape and do not materially affect the protection from cold during the nights. We southerners will just have to experiment with these devices and see what they will do for us.

QUIZZING THE GARDENER

Q—What do you recommend for winter window-box fillers?

A—The trimmings of evergreen trees or shrubs about the yard will supply greens for winter. Soak the soil well and push in the branches, packing the soil about them, or purchase small balled and burlapped arborvitae and other low-cost evergreens.

Note On Questions

Henry Pree is unable to answer directly individual questions from readers. However, with each column he will answer the most interesting and most frequently asked questions.

The Home Shift With

Mildred Swift

The Pilgrims celebrated Thanksgiving for the haven of a country with new ideas, for their safe arrival and for their first harvest. Washington proclaimed Thanksgiving as a day of thanks for the democracy. Lincoln announced a day for giving thanks for harvest — and present day Thanksgiving is a combination of all these; thanks for a free country, for bounty and good living, and so the day has evolved. One thing that has always been associated with Thanksgiving is good eating, and the eating is better than ever. Food supplies are good and food prices reasonable—many of them below last year's prices.

Thanksgiving Turkey

Most of the turkeys in the markets are frozen, so that's the kind most of you will be cooking. A very large bird will take 2 or 3 days to thaw in your refrigerator. For rapid thawing place the bird in cool running water until pliable enough to handle. This takes 2 or 3 hours. Just don't let the bird stand in water after thawing. Or—you can thaw at room temperature around 70 degrees F and allow one hour per pound. Of course, you know to cook immediately after thawing.

There are two ways you can cook your turkey, on a rack in a shallow pan, (no cover) or wrapped in aluminum foil. Since all turkeys are tender now, there is no need cooking in water or steam. The first method gives a little drier meat, which is the way lots of us like our turkey. In case you don't have a roasting chart handy here's one for you. Turkey on rack in shallow pan:

7 to 10 lbs., 300 degrees F., 30 minutes per lb.
10 to 15 lbs., 300 degrees F., 20 minutes per lb.
15 to 18 lbs., 300 degrees F., 18 minutes per lb.
18 to 20 lbs., 300 degrees F., 15 minutes per lb.
20 to 23 lbs., 300 degrees F., 13 minutes per lb.

Turkey wrapped in aluminum foil:

8 to 10 lbs., 20 minutes; 11 to 14 lbs., 18 minutes; 15 to 18 lbs., 16 minutes; 19 to 24 lbs., 15 minutes; Moderately hot, 400 degrees F.

Boil giblets and neck for liquid for dressing and use the drippings in the bottom of the roasting pan for gravy. Allow one half pound of dressed weight per person.

Something New

Look for a new package when you buy brown or confectioners' sugar. The sugar will be the same but the package carries an inner liner that folds down to seal, a tuck-in flap on the outer package for better keeping.

This is not new but it seems that some have forgotten to prick baking apples and potatoes with a fork before putting them in the oven, so the skins won't burst. Helps them keep their shape, too.

I've found that parsley keeps crisp and fresh for a long time when its sealed in a jar with a small amount of water and kept in the refrigerator.

Honors for Ouachita

Dorothy Lee Russell, 4-H Club member from Calhoun High School will board the train Thanksgiving Day—Chicago bound for National 4-H Club Congress. Twenty-three other club members from Louisiana won this award—an all expense trip to the Congress. Dorothy Lee placed first in the state in the Food Preparation Contest. The young club member lives out from Calhoun and this is her first trip to the big city of Chicago. We'll hear from her on the radio when she returns and I'm sure she'll have some glamorous news for us.

Around the Yard

When you're out riding this afternoon go up Second Street to the corner of Arkansas (217), and see one of the largest dogwoods in the Twin Cities. See if you don't think Miss Dogwood's fall outfit is every bit as beautiful as her spring one.

Then — turn over to Third Street and notice the red Sweet Gum in the yards between 1901 and 1903. The frost has been kind to many of our trees. The drouth hurt others so they lost their fall glory.

Don't go home from your drive until you see the ginkgo tree, a solid mass of gold, in the Layton's yard, 1133 South Grand. You'll want to plant one this winter after seeing it.

Dates to Remember

If church and civic groups will call and give me dates and information about bazaars, suppers, etc., I'll be glad to remind the women through this column.

Last Tuesday my television show went on an hour earlier due to a network show that came on at that time. This coming Tuesday, we'll be on at the same old time, 2:45, same station KNOE-TV. Subject: Planting shrubs. You're invited to tune in.

See you next Sunday.

Ground Moles Aid In Ruining Garden

Ground moles are enemies of gardeners, not because they eat bulbs and plant roots, but because they unwittingly aid rodents that do. R. K. Davis, extension wildlife conservationist at Ohio State Univeristy, recently asserted that the mole's bad reputation comes from cutting through obstructions in his tunneling, and because his tunnels, once established, are used by a lot of bad company.

Field mice and other rodents that actually do the gnawing use mole tunnels as highways for their burglary operations. Moles do not eat plant roots and bulbs, said the specialist. They are insectivorous, feasting upon ants, millipedes, centipedes, sow bugs, earthworms and snails, to name a few. They may even feed upon some of man's insect pests, but are not as efficient as insecticides, said Davis.

Although trapping is most effective to get rid of moles, it requires patience, according to Davis. Research has not discovered good repellents as yet. There is more hope for poisons than repellents. A number of poisons have been tested at the university, of which thallium - treated peanuts were most effective.

Plant Winter Beauty

With autumn planting on the schedule for many home owners the old gardener suggests serious consideration of an old rule, "plant for the winter, summer will take care of itself."

Sam Hemming, writing in the American Nurseryman, says: "Planting for winter effects need not preclude color and other types of arrangements, nor does it mean that the planting must be evergreen. One should think in terms of winter appearance to make the best of his planting."

Broadleaf evergreens like the mountain laurel, hybrid rhododendron and Japanese hollies can be used to provide a background of winter green, while the many yews, leucothoe, pieris and the junipers are needed to provide a variety of shades in green and bronze to add interest to the composition.

Notes From The Garden Center

The Ruston Garden Club has presented to the garden center the the new "Christmas Idea Book" by Dorothy Biddle and Dorothea Blom.

This book is sparkling with Christmas ideas and your house will glow and gleam too if you follow these wonderful suggestions.

Last Tuesday a group of ardent gardeners enjoyed hearing Mrs. John Devine of Tallulah speak on garden Trends. From time to time there will be in the center garden specialists in various phases of garden work.

All gardeners or potential gardeners are invited to take advantage of the wonderful storehouse of knowledge these specialists are sharing with the public. The dates will be announced in this column.

Arrangements this week were made by the Green Thumb Garden Club of Ruston. Mrs. John Devine, Tallulah and Mrs. V. S. Garnett of Monroe served as judges.

Awards are as follows: first place, Mrs. Dan O'Neal for a distinctive vertical arrangement in a woven bottle container, using sea oats and pompom chrysanthemums in autumn tints.

Second place went to Mrs. Leslie Puddy, for a lovely composition using fruit and flowers in a brass bowl with a candle in the center perfect for a Thanksgiving table.

Thrid place winner was Mrs. Walter Connell with a beautiful arrangement in tints and tones of red, using red castor bean pods self foliage in a low green container.

Three outstanding flower shows were staged in Monroe last week. Congratulations to the Home Gardener Club, the Welcome Garden Club and the Flora Group for their fine work.

Home Gardener Club Has Flower Show

The "Autumn Memories" Flower Show presented by the Home Gardener Club was a great success A large crowd attended the show where all the entries were shown to a great advantage. The following members were awarded ribbons.

The tri-color ribbon for the outstanding arrangement and the coveted sweepstakes ribbon were both won by Mrs. J. A. Funston. Other winners were:

Class 1, As The Forest Grows (Line) 1. Mrs. Ruby Pettit, 2. Mrs. E. D. Prentice, 3. Mrs. Frank Williams.

Class 2, Mellow Mood Composition (Mass). 1. Mrs. J. A. Funston, 2. Mrs. K. R. Young, 3. Mrs. Milton Ford.

Class 3, The Glory of Autumn. (a) Fresh Material — 1. Mrs. M. J. Hortman, 2. Mrs. E. M. Henderson, 3. Mrs. Frank Williams. (b) Dried Material — 1. Mrs. E. D. Prentice, 2. Mrs. L. N. Copes.

Class 4, Reaping The Harvest (using fruits, flowers vegetables) 1. Mrs. K. R. Young, 2. Mrs. M. W. Montgomery, 3. Mrs. L. D. Rogers.

Make the 5 minute Bendix TV test... before you buy any set!

- ☐ TUBES Every Bendix TV set has 21 to 24 tubes or more for clearer, sharper pictures . . . not 16 or 17 as in ordinary sets.
- ☐ UHF All Bendix TV sets have Cascade tuners. That means as easily as buttoning a shoe, you clip in a tuner and get the new UHF stations.
- ☐ VHF Check your VHF Bendix picture with any other set on the floor. Look for picture clarity...picture tones and contrasts...see for yourself how sharp everything is in focus. Turn the knobs yourself!
- ☐ DISTANCE Bendix TV has long been famous as the most powerful in bringing the finest TV picture to homes in far away, fringe areas.
- ☐ CABINETS All Bendix TV sets are in natural woods. Not metal. No imitation materials. Here's TV furniture you'll be proud to have in your home.
- ☐ INTERFERENCE All Bendix TV sets have perfected what is known as a "suicide circuit for interference." Any electrical interference that could mar the sound or the picture is stopped before it starts!

The Rev. William Allison, pastor of St. Francis de Sales Church, Echo, La., addressed the high school student body on Friday, November 20, on The Christian Vocation of Youth. Father Allison delivered the address in connection with a holy hour that he conducted for the pupils of St. Matthew's High School. It will be recalled that Father Allison was assistant pastor at the school last year, and he also served as athletic director and instructor in the school. Students and faculty were happy indeed to have Father with them again, even though it was for just a brief visit.

The faculty of St. Matthews' attended the teachers' institute in Alexandria last week, and at the same time were the guests of their sisters located in Avoyelles parish.

Among speakers at the convention were the Most Reverend Bishop Charles Pascal Greco, the Reverend William Clasby of Barksdale Field, Leon Bell of Xavier University, New Orleans and Sister Petrine of the Sisters of Notre Dame, New Orleans. Sessions were held in Providence Academy Gymnaisum.

Bible Words to Live by

2 CORINTHIANS 5:19—"God was in Christ reconciling the world to himself . . ." (RSV)

These powerful and penetrating words of St. Paul have proved spiritually satisfying to people in every situation. Our condition is one of lostness. We have been separated from our Creator and from each other. As we stand alone we tremble with fear because we can do nothing to help ourselves. There is an evil power over us which incites us to every kind of division. When we examine ourselves we find in us nothing but sin and death and meaninglessness.

But into this turbulence comes a quiet word, a throbbing word, which causes us to catch our breath. Now in our stillness we hear God calling us back to himself. No more need we be frustrated by our sense of guilt—God has given us freely the justification we need to return to his fellowship. No more need we fear the finality of death—God has broken death's bands and eternal life is our destiny. No more need we wander like a rudderless ship on an endless sea—God has revealed in Christ that the meaning of life is love.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
224 Auburn Ave.

"Soul and Body" is the subject of the lesson - sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, November 22, 1953.
The Golden Text is: "The light of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light" (Matt. 6:22).
Among the citations which comprise the lesson - sermon is the following from the Bible: "Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations" (Ps. 90:1).
The lesson - sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Soul is the substance, Life and intelligence of man, which is individualized, but not in matter. Soul can never reflect anything inferior to Spirit" (p. 477).

Baptists Plan Largest Budget Ever At Edgewood

Although a small church with only 150 resident members, Edgewood Baptist Church of West Monroe has adopted a budget for 1954 of $15,051.00 which is nearly double this year's budget. Sunday the members will be working hard to subscribe this budget in one day and all evidence points to a great success. The canvass committee is composed of W. A. Bennett, Sr., chairman, Mrs. David Brown, D. E. Walker and Mrs. W. J. Brown. Rev. O. P. Bazer is pastor of the church.

The budget will include a sum of $2,101.00 for home and foreign missions of which $1,500.00 is slated to go to the cooperative program which embraces most all of Southern Baptist Work. In the past year the church has not only made great strides forward financially, but also in membership increase. There have been 107 additions to the church in the last twelve month period.

The church is located adjacent to the new West Monroe High School in one of the fastest growing and most progressive areas of the twin cities.

In keeping step with a growing community, the church is in the process of making plans for a long range permanent building program that will take care of the anticipated growth of the church.

Daily vacuum cleaning is the way to keep any rug or carpet looking its best and, moreover, in the best of condition.

Today's YOUR GUIDING STAR Messages:

0. Deut. 28:13. You shall tend upward only, and not downward.
1. II Sam. 11:25. Do not let this matter trouble you; strengthen your attack and overthrow it.
2. Job 42:2. Know that thou canst do all things, and that no purpose of thine can be thwarted.
3. Prov. 25:15. With patience a ruler may be persuaded, and a soft tongue will break a bone.
4. I Sam. 1:23. Do what seems best to you.

Spirit of social injustice, Philip Lisotta.

Spirit of spiritual darkness, Mary Lea Cascio.

A poor woman, Sylvia Danna.

The scene is the living room in the home of the man of the world, and the time is the present.

Miss Marietta Spatafora, program chairman of the club is the direcor of the play. Her co-directors are Miss Yvonne Mansour and Miss Ida Anzelmo.

Stage managers are Charles Breard and Philip Lisotta.

The Rev. William Allison, pastor of St. Francis de Sales Church, Echo, La., addressed the high school student body on Friday, November 20, on The Christian Vocation of Youth. Father Allison delivered the address in connection with a holy hour that he conducted for the pupils of St. Matthew's High School. It will be recalled that Father Allison was assistant pastor at the school last year, and he also served as athletic director and instructor in the school. Students and faculty were happy indeed to have Father with them again, even though it was for just a brief visit.

The faculty of St. Matthews' attended the teachers' institute in Alexandria last week, and at the same time were the guests of their sisters located in Avoyelles parish.

Among speakers at the convention were the Most Reverend Bishop Charles Pascal Greco, the Reverend William Clasby of Barksdale Field, Leon Bell of Xavier University, New Orleans and Sister Petrine of the Sisters of Notre Dame, New Orleans. Sessions were held in Providence Academy Gymnaisum.

Bible Words to Live by

These powerful and penetrating words of St. Paul have proved spiritually satisfying to people in every situation. Our condition is one of lostness. We have been separated from our Creator and from each other. As we stand alone we tremble with fear because we can do nothing to help ourselves. There is an evil power over us which incites us to every kind of division. When we examine ourselves we find in us nothing but sin and death and meaninglessness.

But into this turbulence comes a quiet word, a throbbing word, which causes us to catch our breath. Now in our stillness we hear God calling us back to himself. No more need we be frustrated by our sense of guilt—God has given us freely the justification we need to return to his fellowship. No more need we fear the finality of death—God has broken death's bands and eternal life is our destiny. No more need we wander like a rudderless ship on an endless sea—God has revealed in Christ that the meaning of life is love.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
224 Auburn Ave.
"Soul and Body" is the subject of the lesson - sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, November 22, 1953.
The Golden Text is: "The light of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light" (Matt. 6:22).
Among the citations which comprise the lesson - sermon is the following from the Bible: "Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations" (Ps. 90:1).
The lesson - sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Soul is the substance, Life and intelligence of man, which is individualized, but not in matter. Soul can never reflect anything inferior to Spirit" (p. 477).

Baptists Plan Largest Budget Ever At Edgewood

Although a small church with only 150 resident members, Edgewood Baptist Church of West Monroe has adopted a budget for 1954 of $15,051.00 which is nearly double this year's budget. Sunday the members will be working hard to subscribe this budget in one day and all evidence points to a great success. The canvass committee is composed of W. A. Bennett, Sr., chairman, Mrs. David Brown, D. E. Walker and Mrs. W. J. Brown. Rev. O. P. Bazer is pastor of the church.

The budget will include a sum of $2,101.00 for home and foreign missions of which $1,500.00 is slated to go to the cooperative program which embraces most all of Southern Baptist Work. In the past year the church has not only made great strides forward financially, but also in membership increase. There have been 107 additions to the church in the last twelve month period.

The church is located adjacent to the new West Monroe High School in one of the fastest growing and most progressive areas of the twin cities.

In keeping step with a growing community, the church is in the process of making plans for a long range permanent building program that will take care of the anticipated growth of the church.

Daily vacuum cleaning is the way to keep any rug or carpet looking its best and, moreover, in the best of condition.

Today's YOUR GUIDING STAR Messages:

0. Deut. 28:13. You shall tend upward only, and not downward.
1. II Sam. 11:25. Do not let this matter trouble you; strengthen your attack and overthrow it.
2. Job 42:2. Know that thou canst do all things, and that no purpose of thine can be thwarted.
3. Prov. 25:15. With patience a ruler may be persuaded, and a soft tongue will break a bone.
4. I Sam. 1:23. Do what seems best to you.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Why not break out in some new colors? It may help you get out of the rut you are in.

Find Ways To Climb Out Of Ruts Caused By Habit

We are all apt to get into ruts of habit and mildew in them for lack of enough energy and verve to make us change things, shake them up, once in a while.

While habits are comfortable in a way, and many of the habits of the family are dear and enriching because of their associations and memories, in many details of everyday life we would profit by a little change.

Most women do feel this urge once in a while as evidenced by the way they suddenly begin moving the furniture about as though pushed desperately by some inner compulsion. However, once the furniture shoving urge is satisfied, we often go ahead preparing potatoes and vegetables and meats in the same manner, and having the same desserts over and over again.

We respond happily and gaily to variety, to a change of pace, to a bit of new color or a new dish on the table. With all of the splendid cook books available this should present no problem and will provide the cook with a lot of fun.

The addition of candlelight, which creates an atmosphere of leisure and quiet, and a new kitchen concoction, may persuade the family to linger at the dinner table with joy, with good conversation and fine digestion.

Maybe you have worn the same colors for years and years. Why not surprise your family, your friends, and most of all yourself, by breaking out in a new one?

If you have used the same hairdo for many, many years, the chances are that it is not the most becoming one for you? Anyway, why not have fun experimenting?

It is a good idea to jog ourselves out of many of the old habits. How long has it been since you, as an individual or as a family group, have taken up some new interest, some hobby or new sport or activity?

The things I have suggested today may seem unimportant and superficial, and in a way they are, but they may be diagnostic as to whether you have a youthful or an old attitude toward life.

In many instances the dreary sameness with which people allow their daily lives to become colored is the result of fatigue or worry. A change will help with both of them. Then too, most often we allow dullness in daily living because we have simply fallen into a rut without realizing it.

If you are a victim of worry and want help, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 64, "Worry," to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Mother Nature

By WALT DISNEY
(Guest Columnist)

If you ever get bored with your tasks or the humdrum of routine, just try wrestling with nature and getting her infinite variety coherently on film.

I've been watching shows and putting them on the screen all my life. But none has been more wonderful than the one nature stages every day in her vast arena.

Yet few ever catch the briefest glimpse of it.

That's because Mother Nature, the most versatile of all producers, is so cagey about letting us in on her performances. She gives out no programs. She doesn't care a whoop about human audiences.

Her plots are often hard to fathom; her whodunits tough to solve. Comedy and raw passions seem all mixed up at times. Still, nothing except our own most vital human affairs grip the imagination so firmly as nature in operation.

The point is to understand what's going on — from our very doorstep to the farthest wilderness.

It takes the patience and experience of the trained naturalist with his prying cameras to make things clear for us.

During the five years we have been making the "True Life Adventures" we have learned that almost every kind of creature life can be excitingly and informatively brought to the screen.

Audience response has given us great personal and professional satisfaction.

"The Living Desert," the first full length feature in the series, has convinced us anew how strong the love of nature continues to be, no matter how city-bound and house - bound many of us have become. Along with preceding "True-Lifes," it tells us too, that the movie camera can be a wonderful instrument in bringing nature's fascinating facts to millions who otherwise might never see or know them.

The material comes to us fresh and raw and untampered with, right from the field.

Since it deals with animal motive as well as behavior, every "True-Life Adventure" must tell a coherent story. It must tell it in the form of drama — either about one species or a way of life.

The material we finally use is sifted from many thousands of feet of film submitted by the naturalists and scientists who collaborate with us. Our job at the studio is to coordinate it in sequence, to make it readily understandable to audiences of all ages.

"The Living Desert" represents two years of patient observation by a number of naturalist - cameramen in the cactus jungles and the sandy wastelands. It took many more months to put it all together.

The same procedure is being followed with other features in preparation. "The Vanishing Prairie" is the story of our western plains life, bird and animal, which played an important part in pioneer times. From Africa we will have "King of the Beasts and the Elephant Story," and "The Northern Tundra" depicts the great grizzly bear and his neighbors in the subarctic. "Secrets of Life" peers deep into the mysteries of insect societies, and "Between the Tides" features marine life alongshore.

The subject matter seems limitless. It will engage a big part of our production energies for years to come. And nothing, I can assure you, has ever seemed more pleasantly exciting and more challenging in a lifetime of picture making.

It may seem like reaching for something hidden to say that a spiritual lift can come from delving into the tooth-for-a-tooth tumult of primitive existence. But we have found it so — and many have commented upon it. Courage, striving for the species beyond the individual, family devotions, rudimentary morals, along with the ferocities and the battle to survive, we find constantly in nature's endless performance. These things, we like to believe, are what audiences recognize and what gives their appeal to our "True-Life Adventures."

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes. A woman not only has to win and hold a husband, but has more of a problem with in-laws, home, children and keeping on good terms with neighbors. A man's success depends more on his ability to do the job. Much research shows that a woman has to do better work than a man to hold the same job. However, getting along with others is the biggest job in life for both.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. It helps some, however. One hundred and thirty-four government employes were given tests of ability to reason out problems logically. Some were trained in logic; some were not. Three-fourths of the untrained made scores as high as the trained. Nine Doctors of Philosophy who had no training in logic made higher scores than those with lower degrees who were trained. Seems to depend mostly on natural brains.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Yes. These traits have been found by Chicago Social Research Associates—psychologists who measure men's probable success or failure as executives. They find those who have failed when promoted to higher responsibilities almost always have an unconscious feeling that they want some other job or want to be some other person. These psychologists have been more successful in selecting successful executives than the combined judgments of both colleagues and superiors.

Betty Hutton's New Voice

NEW YORK (NEA) — For the first time in her pretty, blond life, Betty Hutton is proud of her singing voice. Her new singing voice. "I never really sang before," she says- "I could shout and could clown and put over a song, but I had no voice. I knew it, better than anybody else."

And then came what she now calls a "blessing in disguise." She lost her voice, completely. Doctors said that she'd misused it so much that two tremendous growths had formed on her vocal cords—nodes, they called them—and they'd have to be cut out.

"I had no choice," she said. It took two operations and then she had to learn how to talk all over again, before she could even think of singing. Since the operation, she's been under the supervision of vocal coaches, who've taught her how to use her voice properly.

"Now I have a real voice," she says, with a big smile. "I can sing my old songs—but sing them right—and for the first time in my life I can sing ballads, too."

Her two postoperative records, for Capitol, show the new Betty. They still have the old bounce, but there's more voice to the bounce. Now that she "can really sing," she'd like to take a shot at a Broadway musical.

Betty characterizes her old voice as "a whisky tenor." If that's true, you could call her new voice a cognac contralto. Whisky may have more kick, but cognac is a mite smoother.

On the Classics: It took 15 recording dates to bring together the new RCA-Victor recordings of "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci." Jussi Bjoerling, who sings on both, traveled all the way from Sweden for the sessions. . . . A reader corrects my statement that Epic's new "Tales From the Vienna Woods" is the first version with the original zither solo on records. He says, in fact, there were four earlier ones—an old 78 r.p.m. done by the German Polydor firm, and by Brunswick, Decca and Mercury in the U. S. You can't be too careful with zithers these days.

"I never really sang before," she says- "I could shout and could clown and put over a song, but I had no voice. I knew it, better than anybody else."

And then came what she now calls a "blessing in disguise." She lost her voice, completely. Doctors said that she'd misused it so much that two tremendous growths had formed on her vocal cords—nodes, they called them—and they'd have to be cut out.

"I had no choice," she said. It took two operations and then she had to learn how to talk all over again, before she could even think of singing. Since the operation, she's been under the supervision of vocal coaches, who've taught her how to use her voice properly.

"Now I have a real voice," she says, with a big smile. "I can sing my old songs—but sing them right—and for the first time in my life I can sing ballads, too."

Her two postoperative records, for Capitol, show the new Betty. They still have the old bounce, but there's more voice to the bounce. Now that she "can really sing," she'd like to take a shot at a Broadway musical.

Betty characterizes her old voice as "a whisky tenor." If that's true, you could call her new voice a cognac contralto. Whisky may have more kick, but cognac is a mite smoother.

On the Classics: It took 15 recording dates to bring together the new RCA-Victor recordings of "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci." Jussi Bjoerling, who sings on both, traveled all the way from Sweden for the sessions. . . . A reader corrects my statement that Epic's new "Tales From the Vienna Woods" is the first version with the original zither solo on records. He says, in fact, there were four earlier ones—an old 78 r.p.m. done by the German Polydor firm, and by Brunswick, Decca and Mercury in the U. S. You can't be too careful with zithers these days.

LITTLE BOY LOST— Bing Crosby and Christian Fourcade get acquainted in this warm and human scene from Paramount's "Little Boy Lost", which is showing now at the Paramount Theatre. The film, concerning a father's search for the child he has never seen, was produced and directed by William Perlberg and George Seaton. Claude Dauphin is co-starred.

Paramount Film Has Wonderful, Human Story

Last night's audience at the Paramount Theatre lost its heart to "Little Boy Lost." Making its initial bow, this Bing Crosby starrer is that kind of film. It is a warm, wonderful, human, moving affair that concerns a man and his search for a missing child.

Bing Crosby is the man, a foreign correspondent, who while covering France before the Nazi invasion, married a French girl. They had a child but were separated at the time of its birth. Now, seven years later Crosby returns to France to search for the boy. The wife is dead, having been killed by the Gestapo while working for the underground.

Eventually the trail leads to a spindly - legged youngster in a French orphanage, a lad the reporter first feels could by no stretch of the imagination be his own offspring. However, a bond builds between them, but Crosby decides against bringing the boy back to America with him unless he can definitely prove the blood tie.

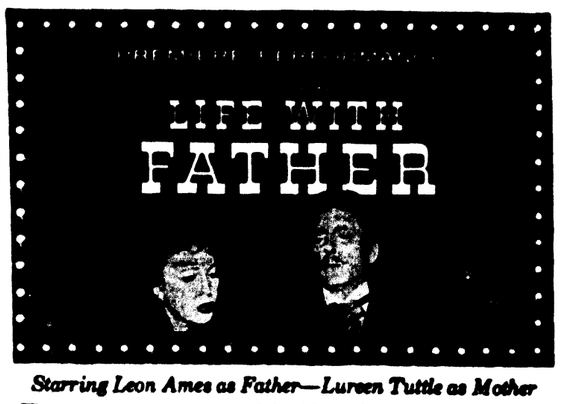

Slowly he realizes he seeks the son more as an emotional bridge with his dead wife than for the child's own sake. The story tells of Bing's gradual awakening to this fact and his subsequent action. Not until the last second of the final scene is this compelling dilemma solved.

The elements inserted in "Little Boy Lost" are rich in feeling and sincerely portrayed, maintaining a logical hold on the interest. It is not without smartly placed musical interludes which permit Bing to rise from the serious factors on hand to sing a few songs. The tunes he handles were written by Johnny Burke and Jimmy Van Heusen and they hit the spot.

Lending fine support to Bing's excellent acting performance are Claude Dauphin, as the friend who aids him in his search, and Christian Fourcade, who is nothing short of wonderful as the little lost boy.

Martin And Lewis To Host TV Show Thanksgiving Eve

Comedians Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis will host a two-hour all-star television show over the ABC-TV Network, on Thanksgiving Eve, Wednesday Nov. 25, from 10 p. m. to 12 midnight, in a salute to America's letter carriers participating in the national fund to aid victims of muscular dystrophy.

The two hours of continuous entertainment will feature a record list of stars and personalities — topped by Bing Crosby — who will visit with Martin and Lewis and perform their specialities. Among them will be June Allyson, Dick Powell, Jane Wyman, Jeff Chandler, Phil Harris and Spike Jones and his orchestra.

Scores of other stars in the movie, television, radio and stage worlds are expected to join in making The Martin and Lewis Thanksgiving Party the most successful simulcast ever staged. Martin and Lewis, together with Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, are honorary chairmen of the drive. About 100,000 postmen will make the Martin and Lewis Letter Carriers' March through the country after Thanksgiving Day, gathering funds for the hundreds of thousands of vicitms of muscular dystrophy, a disease most often affecting children.

It is hoped that letter carriers will raise $5 million for research into the presently incurable disease, and for local aid to hundreds of thousands of victims and their families.

Although the program will include appeals for funds by top stars, no pledges will be accepted via telephones. All solicitations will be made by mail.

'The Golden Blade' Blazes With Romantic Adventure

The world of reckless romance and swashbuckling adventure is recreated in spectacular fashion at the Jim Theater where Universal-International's "The Golden Blade" opens today with Rock Hudson and Piper Laurie in the starring roles. The glory of Bagdad is captured in glowing Technicolor and the exotic excitement of Arabian Nights times is sparked by the most magnetic team the screen has seen in many seasons.

This is a big show for rough-and-ready Rock and redheaded Piper, and an even bigger treat for their fans. As the legendary vengeance-bent Harun, the fabulous new motion picture idol shows all the dash, athletic prowess and romantic ardor his earlier pictures promised. And Piper, his saucy and shapely partner in peril, matches Rock's bold strides with a wide emotional range — from the carefree Princess Khairuzan disguised as a gamin of the regally dignified gran lady in dsitress.

Their escapades get underway when Rock journeys to Bagdad to seek his father's killers and uncovers the magic sword of Damascus — a blade that almost proves his undoing before it leads him through harrowing jeopardy and finally to the throne of Bagdad. During the course of this rousing excursion, Princess Piper has frequent opportunity for broad high - jinks as she and Rock turn the tables on villains Gene Evans and George MacReady.

Especially provocative in a feature role is Kathleen Hughes, the young lady whose single scene in "It Came From Outer Space" evoked such enthusiastic whistles. The boys will be whistling louder at her characterization of the seductive Bakhamra.

"The Golden Blade" is wonderful romantic escape in the grand manner and adds immeasurably to the stature of Hudson and Miss Laurie, Nahtan Juran's direction and Richard Wilson's production pulled out all stops to give this one spectacular scope.

TV Has Its Own Marilyn Monroe

Blonde and bouncy, Marion walked out of an RKO film contract without making a picture, then landed the lead opposite Dan Duryea in "World for Ransom."

But she's missed many a role, she says, because:

"Casting directors seem to think I'm too sexy for living rooms."

Leo Guild has discovered a Non-Dragnet cocktail.

One drink and you care nothing about the facts.

Inside on disappearance of Revlon Theater is that the sponsors quarreled with MCA over the caliber of stars. They expected big names like Joan Crawford, who headed the first playlet, but got minor-league names.

There's a large dose of irony in TV ratings in Boston and a couple of other cities where "Cowboy G-Men" is topping Hopalong Cassidy. Russell Hayden, who costars with Jackie Coogan in the show, plays the supporting role of Lucky in the old Hopalong movies that still pop up on home screens.

The four half-hour dramatic shows, filmed four months ago for Lux Video Theater by Gross-Krasne, will be repeated during the month of December.

THIS HAS GOTTA GO DEPT.: The cups, plaques, trophies and other doubtful honors bestowed on TV performers smack in the middle of almost every program for anything from service to humanity to being kind to crocodiles.

TV audiences may soon give cups, too—right in the middle of the glass screen.

Stars who spout commercials. It wasn't too bad in radio, but seeing Loretta Young with a box of soap flakes in her mitt makes me wonder why top stars let themselves be talked into gross commercialism.

Martin And Lewis To Host TV Show Thanksgiving Eve

Comedians Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis will host a two-hour all-star television show over the ABC-TV Network, on Thanksgiving Eve, Wednesday Nov. 25, from 10 p. m. to 12 midnight, in a salute to America's letter carriers participating in the national fund to aid victims of muscular dystrophy.

The two hours of continuous entertainment will feature a record list of stars and personalities — topped by Bing Crosby — who will visit with Martin and Lewis and perform their specialities. Among them will be June Allyson, Dick Powell, Jane Wyman, Jeff Chandler, Phil Harris and Spike Jones and his orchestra.

Scores of other stars in the movie, television, radio and stage worlds are expected to join in making The Martin and Lewis Thanksgiving Party the most successful simulcast ever staged. Martin and Lewis, together with Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, are honorary chairmen of the drive. About 100,000 postmen will make the Martin and Lewis Letter Carriers' March through the country after Thanksgiving Day, gathering funds for the hundreds of thousands of vicitms of muscular dystrophy, a disease most often affecting children.

It is hoped that letter carriers will raise $5 million for research into the presently incurable disease, and for local aid to hundreds of thousands of victims and their families.

Although the program will include appeals for funds by top stars, no pledges will be accepted via telephones. All solicitations will be made by mail.

IN STARRING ROLE—Richard Widmark stars as the one-track-minded professional soldier who moulds a group of gawky Army recruits into tough fighting men in "Take the High Ground!" the new M-G-M attraction starting Thursday at the Jim Theatre.

'The Golden Blade' Blazes With Romantic Adventure

The world of reckless romance and swashbuckling adventure is recreated in spectacular fashion at the Jim Theater where Universal-International's "The Golden Blade" opens today with Rock Hudson and Piper Laurie in the starring roles. The glory of Bagdad is captured in glowing Technicolor and the exotic excitement of Arabian Nights times is sparked by the most magnetic team the screen has seen in many seasons.

This is a big show for rough-and-ready Rock and redheaded Piper, and an even bigger treat for their fans. As the legendary vengeance-bent Harun, the fabulous new motion picture idol shows all the dash, athletic prowess and romantic ardor his earlier pictures promised. And Piper, his saucy and shapely partner in peril, matches Rock's bold strides with a wide emotional range — from the carefree Princess Khairuzan disguised as a gamin of the regally dignified gran lady in dsitress.

Their escapades get underway when Rock journeys to Bagdad to seek his father's killers and uncovers the magic sword of Damascus — a blade that almost proves his undoing before it leads him through harrowing jeopardy and finally to the throne of Bagdad. During the course of this rousing excursion, Princess Piper has frequent opportunity for broad high - jinks as she and Rock turn the tables on villains Gene Evans and George MacReady.

Especially provocative in a feature role is Kathleen Hughes, the young lady whose single scene in "It Came From Outer Space" evoked such enthusiastic whistles. The boys will be whistling louder at her characterization of the seductive Bakhamra.

"The Golden Blade" is wonderful romantic escape in the grand manner and adds immeasurably to the stature of Hudson and Miss Laurie, Nahtan Juran's direction and Richard Wilson's production pulled out all stops to give this one spectacular scope.

TV Has Its Own Marilyn Monroe

Blonde and bouncy, Marion walked out of an RKO film contract without making a picture, then landed the lead opposite Dan Duryea in "World for Ransom."

But she's missed many a role, she says, because:

"Casting directors seem to think I'm too sexy for living rooms."

Leo Guild has discovered a Non-Dragnet cocktail.

One drink and you care nothing about the facts.

Inside on disappearance of Revlon Theater is that the sponsors quarreled with MCA over the caliber of stars. They expected big names like Joan Crawford, who headed the first playlet, but got minor-league names.

There's a large dose of irony in TV ratings in Boston and a couple of other cities where "Cowboy G-Men" is topping Hopalong Cassidy. Russell Hayden, who costars with Jackie Coogan in the show, plays the supporting role of Lucky in the old Hopalong movies that still pop up on home screens.

The four half-hour dramatic shows, filmed four months ago for Lux Video Theater by Gross-Krasne, will be repeated during the month of December.

THIS HAS GOTTA GO DEPT.: The cups, plaques, trophies and other doubtful honors bestowed on TV performers smack in the middle of almost every program for anything from service to humanity to being kind to crocodiles.

TV audiences may soon give cups, too—right in the middle of the glass screen.

Stars who spout commercials. It wasn't too bad in radio, but seeing Loretta Young with a box of soap flakes in her mitt makes me wonder why top stars let themselves be talked into gross commercialism.

Egg yolks, covered with cold water, will keep fresh in the refrigerator for several days.

Soap Queen Is 'Hostess With The Mostest'

ST. LOUIS — Having fun is Mrs. Thomas M. Sayman's main purpose in life, but she says to do that she has to keep busy.

A successful business executive and an active member of more than 30 civic, charity and social organizations, Mrs. Sayman is best known for her entertaining.

Whether it is an informal luncheon for a foreign ambassador or a card party for 400, it's all the same to Mrs. Sayman.

Her large mansion in St. Louis' west side, she insists, is a factor in her success.

St. Louisans who haven't seen the 20 - room house have heard about the elaborate furnishings.

A particular attraction is the entrance hall, described by one guest as large enough to hold a five room house. The hall has marbleized walls, black paper on the ceiling and gray satin drapes at the windows.

But Mrs. Sayman doesn't just turn over her house, she gives her time and energy, too. She always seems to work harder than anyone else, her friends say.

Mrs. Sayman became president of the Sayman Products Co., a soap manufacturing firm, upon her husband's death in 1937. Sayman and she had been a team for years—he as president and she as vice president of the firm.

"Being the president of a company doesn't envolve complete leisure, as some people might think,' Mrs. Sayman says. "'There are always important things to do if you're really interested in the company."

Even so, she finds time to work with the League of Women Voters, the Grand Opera Guild of St. Louis, the Young Women's Christian Association, the Boy Scouts and a great many charities, both local and national.

"I don't entertain so much just from the social standpoint," Mrs. Sayman explains. "I belong to worthwhile organizations. They hold meetings at my house. When they have outside guests, I help with the entertainment."

She insists it doesn't mean work for her. She gives her staff credit for that. Three employes "live in." Others help out on big parties.

She has fun meeting the prominent people who come to St. Louis.

Her most exciting occasion was a wedding luncheon for Vice President Alben Barkley and the former Mrs. June Hadley after their marriage here Nov. 19, 1949. About 60 guests attended, but hundreds of onlookers crowded around outside. That was one time her house wasn't the attraction.

Routine Helps Unsightly Nails

If you are willing to spend a few minutes every day, you can do a great deal toward making you fingernails lovely. Since nails take four to seven months to grow, don't expect quick results.

Use nail enamel from the outset. Even though you may not want to call attention to your nails now, the enamel will help to protect them. Incidentally, the claim that nails should be allowed "breathe" is false; nails do n "breathe."

Set aside a certain time ea day, perhaps right after your bat for massage. Massage a nail crea into the base of each nail wi the cushion of your thumb. Usi a gentle, but firm, rotary motio continue massaging until you fe warmth beneath the cuticle.

It is important to develope a co sciousness of your nails so th you can protect them from brea king.

Routine Helps Unsightly Nails

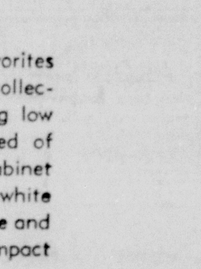

If you are willing to spend a few minutes every day, you can do a great deal toward making you fingernails lovely. Since nails take four to seven months to grow, don't expect quick results.

Use nail enamel from the outset. Even though you may not want to call attention to your nails now, the enamel will help to protect them. Incidentally, the claim that nails should be allowed "breathe" is false; nails do "breathe."

Set aside a certain time day, perhaps right after your for massage. Massage a nail cr into the base of each nail the cushion of your thumb. U a gentle, but firm, rotary mo continue massaging until you warmth beneath the cuticle.

It is important to develope a sciousness of your nails so you can protect them from br king.

Big Snowdrift Offer

COUPON INSIDE
TAKE IT TO YOUR GROCER
—NOTHING TO MAIL

Real Money Saver— Never Offered Before

Look for these special cans of Snowdrift. It's the pure, vegetable shortening made by the Wesson Oil People to give you shortening as fine and delicate as Wesson Oil itself. The coupon in the can will save you money, too, on America's favorite salad oil—Wesson Oil. Snowdrift's creaminess is extra help for you. Saves you work in cake beating. Cuts in quicker for flakier pie crust.

Snowdrift— The Wesson Oil Shortening

CREAMY CHOCOLATE ICING

(Quick, no cooking, never fails)

Sift 1 lb. confectioners' sugar. Blend with ½ cup Snowdrift and ½ teaspoon salt, until smooth. Stir in 1½ teaspoons vanilla, 4 to 5 tablespoons cream or evaporated milk and 3 squares melted unsweetened chocolate. Enough for large 2-layer cake.

We say, "Taste Snowdrift icing by itself." See how all the rich chocolaty flavor is yours to enjoy. The light, delicate magic you get in Snowdrift comes from the skill of its makers—the Wesson Oil People, who give you shortening as fine and delicate as Wesson Oil itself. That's why you are sure of good taste in all foods you bake and fry with Snowdrift.

What's more — Snowdrift's creaminess makes the icing ideal for decorating, because it keeps spreadable for days.

WHY, IF IT ISN'T THAT FASCINATIN' COBRA JOHNNY! WHERE IN THE WIDE WORLD DID YOU GET SUCH AN AMAZIN' NAME?

HEH HEH! YANKEE G.I.s GAVE ME THE HANDLE!... YOU DOLLS REALLY WANT TO KNOW THE STORY?

WE'RE JUS' PININ' T'HEAR ALL ABOUT IT...

MY POP AND I WOULD COME WITH EMPTY BASKETS AND CHARMING PIPES AND TELL THE AIRMEN WE'D LURE THE COBRAS OUT OF THE THATCHED ROOFS FOR A FEE! THE KIDS WOULD CALL US FAKES—THEN POP WOULD START TO PLAY AND OUT WOULD COME FOUR OR FIVE BIG ONES...

...I'D SCOOP 'EM UP, IN THE BASKETS, THE GUYS WOULD GRATEFULLY PAY US—AND WE'D BLOW!... THEN IN A MONTH WE'D COME BACK AND REPEAT THE OFFER!

THE GEES WOULD SAY WE WERE AROUND ONLY LAST MONTH...THEN POP WOULD PLAY AND OUT WOULD COME THE HOODS! THE YANKS WOULD HOWL 'RACKET'—THEY'D SAY WE'D TRAINED THE SAME COBRAS TO GO BACK INTO THE EAVES...

POP WOULD OPEN THE BASKET AND TELL THE LADS THEY WERE FREE TO PICK UP ANY OF THE COILIES AND PROVE IT WAS THE SAME ONE HE'D LURED OUT THE PREVIOUS MONTH... AS THE BASKET BOY, I GOT MY NAME!

AND SPEAKING OF COBRAS IN THE HOUSE—I SEE---

EEEEEK

...WHAT'S THE MATTER, GIRLS? I WAS GOING TO SAY—I SEE THAT SNAKE OF A LIEUTENANT OF MINE COMING! HE'S SMILING!..THAT MEANS BAD NEWS FOR ME!

I BRING THESE JEWELS TO YOU, GREAT KING.

THANK YOU, KIND SIR. I LIKE THEM.

WHAT ARE JEWELS?

CAN'T YOU COME AND SEE MOMMY AND DADDY?

THEY MIGHT BE TOO SURPRISED IF THEY SAW ME. I'LL TRY TO COME BACK TO-MORROW. NOW-EAT ALL YOUR SUPPER, CONLEY.

WHAT DID YOU DO TODAY, CONLEY?

OH, MISTER MAN AND I PLAYED I WAS KING, AND HE BROUGHTED ME SOME JEWELS.

MISTER MAN... HIS IMAGINARY PLAYMATE AGAIN.

WE'LL BE GOING BACK TO THE CITY SOON, CONLEY-LOTS OF LITTLE BOYS AND GIRLS TO PLAY WITH THERE.

OH, DEAR... HE REALLY BELIEVES THERE IS SUCH A PERSON.

MOST CHILDREN IMAGINE PLAYMATES, BUT I THINK THIS IS GETTING TO BE TOO MUCH. NOW HE DOESN'T WANT TO GO HOME.

HMM-IS HIS PLAYMATE IMAGINARY?

OH, YES, DADDY. MISTER MAN SAID HE WOULD COME AGAIN TOMORROW TO PLAY GAMES WITH ME.

The PHANTOM

By LEE FALK and WILSON McCOY

ANOTHER DAY, AND LITTLE CONLEY HAS ANOTHER VISIT FROM HIS SECRET PLAYMATE, "MISTER MAN."

I BRING THESE JEWELS TO YOU, GREAT KING.

THANK YOU, KIND SIR. I LIKE THEM.

WHAT ARE JEWELS?

CAN'T YOU COME AND SEE MOMMY AND DADDY?

THEY MIGHT BE TOO SURPRISED IF THEY SAW ME. I'LL TRY TO COME BACK TO-MORROW. NOW ~ EAT ALL YOUR SUPPER, CONLEY.

WHAT DID YOU DO TODAY, CONLEY?

OH, MISTER MAN AND I PLAYED. I WAS KING, AND HE BROUGHTED ME SOME JEWELS.

MISTER MAN ~ HIS IMAGINARY PLAYMATE AGAIN.

WE'LL BE GOING BACK TO THE CITY SOON, CONLEY ~ LOTS OF LITTLE BOYS AND GIRLS TO PLAY WITH THERE.

OH, DEAR ~~ HE REALLY BELIEVES THERE IS SUCH A PERSON.

MOST CHILDREN IMAGINE PLAYMATES, BUT I THINK THIS IS GETTING TO BE TOO MUCH. NOW HE DOESN'T WANT TO GO HOME.

HMM ~ IS HIS PLAYMATE IMAGINARY?

OH, YES, DADDY. MISTER MAN SAID HE WOULD COME AGAIN TOMORROW TO PLAY GAMES WITH ME.

HMM ~ GO TO SLEEP, DARLING.

THE NEXT MORNING ~~

WOULD ONE OF YOU FINE FELLERS WATCH MY POSTER WHILE I GO FETCH A LADDER?

I DON'T DO NOTHIN' FER NOBODY FER NOTHIN', YE SHIF'LESS SKONK

WHAR??

ONWROP TH' FOOL THING!! TIME'S A-WASTIN'!!

A BODACIOUS CHORUS GAL!!

LAND O' GOSHEN!! AIN'T SHE PURTY? I SHORE WISH MY OL' HEIFER HAD A TRIM LEETLE FIGGER LIKE THAT

BY DOGGIES!! I BEEN SLINGIN' STICKUM FER THUTTY YEARS, BUT I NEVER SEEN NOBODY HANDLE TH' PASTE BRESH LIKE YE DONE, MA'AM--

ONCE IN THE OPEN WE'LL ROUND UP OUR HORSES AND TAKE ROCKY FORSHAW BACK TO SGT. EARLY'S OUTPOST, TIM!

BUT WE'VE GOT TO AVOID HIS TWO PALS, SPUD — WE HAVE ONLY THIS GUN WITH ONE BULLET!

THE VOICES ARE QUIETER, PINHEAD! MAYBE THE PATROLMEN ARE LEAVING THE CAVE BY WAY OF THE OTHER TUNNEL!

I'LL GO OUT AND WAIT FOR 'EM AT THE OTHER EXIT!

GIVE ME TIME TO REACH THE SPOT, PUDGY — THEN YOU MOVE IN ON 'EM FROM THEIR REAR...

HMPH — AN UNWELCOME STRANGER! WHEN HE DISAPPEARS FROM VIEW, WE SHALL ENTER THE CAVE, KASHNA....

I CAN PICK 'EM OFF AS FAST AS THEY STEP OUT! HM — I WONDER WHERE ROCKY FORSHAW IS? DID HE WALK OUT ON PUDGY AND ME?

WAIT, TIM! I JUST SAW A MAN'S HEAD BOB UP BEHIND A ROCK! IT'S AN AMBUSH!

QUICK — WE'LL PULL BACK INTO THE CAVE!

A MOST UNEXPECTED BUT HAPPY REUNION, PATROLMEN!...

Copr. 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

WE'VE CAUGHT ROCKY FORSHAW, THE MAN WHO SHOT BIG BEN FARWELL. BUT HIS GANG HAS US SURROUNDED!

AND WE HAVE JUST ONE BULLET LEFT!

AH, BUT THERE ARE PLENTY OF ANCIENT PISTOLS HERE WITH GUNPOWDER AND LEAD BALLS! AND ONLY I, ZACK HARDY, KNOW HOW TO LOAD AND FIRE THEM!
